New Relief Maps Are Proving Of Great Value To Prospective Settlers

When the motorist consults his road map or the teacher in the schoolroom refers to the wall map, it is ordinarily a flat map. It shows the roads, railroads, rivers, lakes, cities, towns and the other features, all placed upon a flat surface. Hills and mountain ranges, valleys and prairie lands are not distinguished except perhaps by conventional signs or lines which assist the mind in its endeavor to picture the real aspect of the country.

Mountains, hills or ridges, if shown at all, may be indicated by shading or a system of fine radiating lines to represent shadow, or by a series of lines of equal elevations above sea level called contour lines. The latter method gives actual elevations of the land and is thus a much more precise method than the former as it conveys definite information to anyone experienced in "reading" the contour lines and gives an accurate mental picture of the configuration or relief of the ground.

Relief maps have thickness as well as length and breadth and are built up upon them the valleys and rivers and streams, the steep hillsides, the gentle slopes and plateaus. One can see at a glance where railways have to be located to get easy grades, where roads require to be diverted to avoid steep hills, what areas can be drained and the direction in which the outlet will be found, why some rivers are navigable while others will furnish water power and many other things of interest. The engineer can more intelligently explain clearly projects unfamiliar with maps.

In the opening up of a new country, relief maps lend invaluable help in that the layman and the prospective settler, often unaccustomed to the proper interpretation of contour lines, may obtain from them a clear mental understanding of the "lay" of the land before-hand, its proper drainage, the grades involved in hauling to market and so on

It was out of their need of some such means for illustrating the topography of territory where road construction is still age, clearing of lands and other development work is progressing that settlement that the Topographical Survey's Branch of the Department of the Interior began the making of these maps on a small scale. Where there was some specific purpose in view, and almost any little or no market for them at present. Their use in the classroom is growing rapidly, and requests for them are coming in from all parts of the Dominion. Their importance in that they have on a Dominion or America's business to become acquainted with its lands and have them greatly enlarged.

French Reclaiming Mines

Have Rebuilt 2,000 Miles of Galleries Destroyed by Germans

The task of reconstruction in the Nord and Pas de Calais among the coal mines destroyed by the Germans is being pushed on with feverish activity, according to the Paris correspondent of The Times, and every day brings the moment nearer when coal will once more be in full swing.

The report of the work accomplished during 1921 shows wonderful results. In the Nord the four groups have been linked up again; pumping operations are virtually terminated at Aniche, Thivencelle and Vimy; and at Escarpelle the lower stages of all pits will be dry by the end of this year.

The Amaury, d'Aremberg, Tempe, Hornu and Blaise-Borne pits are now in full swing, and the remaining five pits will be cleared by June of next year. In Pas de Calais, at Bourges Courrieres, Lens and Liévin, many pits are already dry, and in others the water is fast disappearing from the bottom so that by the present over 600,000,000 cubic feet of water have been pumped out.

Reconstruction of pit bottoms is proceeding apace, considering the appalling havoc wrought by the enemy. Nearly 2,000 miles of galleries had to be rebuilt, of which 600 miles had been abandoned during German occupation and 1475 miles systematically flooded. The reconstruction of the bottom is the all important task, and it can only be carried out step by step. The advance varies between forty and twenty inches a day

Is the Earth Pear-Shaped?

Director of French Observatory Suggests Using Wireless to Find Out

Many of us think that the people who live at the antipodes are topsy-turvy. But are the latitudes and longitudes correct in their belief that the world is round?

That it is a place we know, because we can see it for ourselves when a ship sinks below the horizon. But it is not shaped like an orange, as many suppose. Indeed, it is not a strictly accurate expression to call it round.

Recent research seems to show that it is not even a true ellipsoid, as we have had to believe for the last hundred years. But one thing is certain, we need no longer be exact in our calculations of a degree of longitude, as we had to do when we were dependent upon the chronometer alone.

If all nations will establish wireless stations, according to early reports, and transmit the chronometer times established by the transmitting station, a network of observations will be cast around the earth, and by working out the results its shape can be found.

This would be valuable as well as interesting; many calculations, not only of a scientific kind of boundaries and navigation, would be affected by it. And if it were found that the earth is pear-shaped, we should know whether the shape of the earth alters from time to time, and how its axis behaves generally.

The Traffic in Titles

London Poet Says There Is Regular Schedule of Rates

The London Morning Post in the course of an article on the sale of honors declares it is a scandal that there is only one man in office at present who is there in a regular schedule of rates. The price of a knighthood, it says, ranges from £3,000 to £4,000, and a baronetcy from £20,000 to £25,000. The prices of honors are considerably greater. It adds that baronetcies are appreciated with the people to buy honors.

It would be interesting to know just what the evidence is. Similar statements have been made before this, but the whole question of the distribution of titles is involved in some mystery. The titles are supposed to come from the King. It is natural to believe that the King is misled up in any traffic in honors for sale; but the King acts, no doubt, on the advice of his ministers and the ministers in making nominations are not likely to overlook the needs of the party campaign funds. Perhaps that is what is meant by the charge that there is a traffic in honors.

It is no longer a problem of much importance to Canada. So far as this country is concerned the traffic is ended, and if we are not much the better for the ending of it, we are certainly none the worse.—From the Wood stock Sentinel-Review.

Exploration Ship Coming Back Home

Steamer Quest Is Not Suited for Antarctic Work

It is expected that the Quest, the exploration ship carrying the adventurous party commanded by the late Sir Ernest Shackleton will return to Southampton in September next. The vessel put in at Cape Town on her way home after carrying out the work of scientific observation and exploration which was originally intended. En route to this country she will visit Trinidad Island, in the South Atlantic. Commander Wild, who is in charge of the party, is bringing with him a film of birds and animal life, of which new specimens have been found, and complete geological and biological data gathered of unknown islands. "I am quite satisfied with the results of the expedition, but would like to have done more," he declared in an interview at Cape Town. "Future plans are uncertain, but we are not returning south. We may carry out some work in the Pacific, searching for lost islands. The ship is rather underpowered for Antarctic exploration." The Quest is lady in need of an overhaul, and is leaking slightly as a result of collisions with the ice. The crew agree that, although a small vessel is much handier for navigating icefields, this has been carried beyond the limit in the case of the Quest. The men are suffering severely from sea sickness, even seasoned sailors like Commanders Wild and Worsley being unable to appear abroad for days of miles ahead.

It is doubtful whether half the stock will ever come back. It is certain that some of them will never reach their destination. But in the blasting ice they crept along the land white road, surrounded by a cloud of dust that is forever over them throughout the long, dry days.

Some of the trees are scorched yel low—there is only enough water in the dam to last two weeks. Where that is finished 600 head of stock will have to be driven daily to a windmill, below which I have scanned a series of troughs all filled with water in readiness. The "hands"—or fields—that should be green with verdure are just bare, brown, empty acres.

And yet in all this there is a wonderful appeal. A strange fascination. I am at grips with something really big. Six hundred head of stock—and myself—are threatened. We have got to pull through. South African Farmer in the London Daily Mail.

Real Drought in Orange Free State

Only a Few Odd Showers in Twelve Months

Drought is on the land—such a drought as has never been known in the history of this country. From north to south, from east to west, for a thousand miles and more, a pitiless sun blazes down from a steely blue, cloudless sky on to a land that is scorched white—a barrel, shriveled, up, lifeless waste of white.

Here is a sun that burns. At sunrise this morning the thermometer on the east side of my house stood at a little under forty degrees. One hour and a half afterward it registered seventy two degrees, and so on it increased, until by midday it went to 107.

In twelve months there have been a few odd showers in what is usually our rainy season. That is now over. The last rain that fell was at the beginning of January.

Already the [illegible] winter still remain [illegible] after nine months of [illegible].

For hundreds of miles [illegible] through a bare, weedless, lifeless desert. For [illegible] of miles there is not a vestige of grass or a drop of water

Farm after farm is without a sign of life. The dams are bone-dry, the wells and boreholes have given in [illegible] the [illegible] bring [illegible] the road—with sheep and cattle and horses, in the hope of finding water and grazing somewhere ahead. But deeds of miles ahead.

It is doubtful whether half the stock will ever come back. It is certain that some of them will never reach their destination. But in the blasting sun they crept along the land white road, surrounded by a cloud of dust that is forever over them throughout the long, dry days.

A Famous Sniper

Man Who Organized Corps for War Services Dies in London

The recent death, in England, of Major H Hesketh Pritchard, remembered who was famous as the creator of "Dan G," and who had also other claims to distinction. Perhaps the most noteworthy of these is the fact that he was responsible for the organization of the corps of British snipers who rendered such valuable service during the war. He had many qualifications for this work, not the least of which was his remarkable eyesight. Pritchard had been a keen sportsman all his life, and was the holder of many trophies for rifle shooting.

Although he was in search of pleasurable amusement, of course fruitlessly, when the war broke out he instantly enlisted, and served through it, retiring his [illegible]. He early perceived the need of the snipers, and proceeded to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN START

Shipments of seed grain to the new government cleaning plant at Edmonton have commenced. The first farmer to take advantage of the new government seed cleaning plan was S. H. S. Lynch of Claymore Alberta. He has notified the crops commission or the department of agriculture that he is shipping a consignment of Kitchener seed wheat to the new plant. Other farmers have intimated that they intend taking advantage of the marketing plan.

Over 200 inspections of registered seed grain have been made by the college of agriculture and by the field crops branch of the department of agriculture. All the grain promises to be of a very high quality, the registered wheat probably running as high as 45 bushels the acre 125 bushels and the barley 80 bushels to the acre.

The cleaning plant and other machinery in the new government plant will all be installed within the next 20 days. Farmers are now beginning to order seed for next spring. The government plant is at 9627 105a Ave, Edmonton, to where consignments of seed grain should be made.

The Agricultural School OPENS 31st October

The Agricultural Schools of the Province commence their term on October 31st. Though there are six of these schools in Alberta only four will operate this year, the schools at Youngstown and Gleichen being temporarily closed on account of general agricultural depression in their districts and the policy of economy which has been adopted by the provincial government. The schools at Olds, Claresholm, Raymond and Vermilion will remain open as usual. Applications from students to enter the schools at each of these schools will be considerably greater than in 1921.

While many of the young men and girls of the province who are ambitious to obtain an education are making their school plans. Many are commencing or continuing their high school course, but hundreds of young men and women do not enter the high school and many others have completed their high school training. The crisis of one year's has practically [illegible] the education. Unless they intend a school or special training they have received all the education or equipment which our system of education has to offer. Realizing this and knowing full well that the success of the Province of Alberta depends chiefly upon agricultural pursuits the Department of Agriculture decided to appeal to schools in 1913 and has gradually developed them since that time.

The Vermilion School of Agriculture is maintained to serve that portion of the Province of which Edmonton is the centre, east to the Saskatchewan boundary and the Peace River country. It gives the farm boys and girls of that district a real opportunity to obtain an education which will be of practical service to them during their lives on the farm. Roughly speaking its aims are —

1 To give practical instruction in the best farming methods
2 To brighten the home life on the farm and to remove many of the inconveniences
3 To give the farmers' sons and daughters a chance to improve their general education

This great educational opportunity is open to all boys and girls regardless of their previous school training. A fair knowledge of reading and writing is sufficient for admission and the student who has had only a partial public school training is given an equal chance with those who may have attended the high school in no other province of Canada has the country boy or girl such a chance for free instruction in things pertaining to the farm and farm home.

The dates of opening and closing are so arranged that the time spent at school does not materially interfere with the regular work at home. School opens October 31st after all the fall work is finished and closes March 31st, before the rush of spring work commences. The five intervening months are often greatly wasted by the boy who remains through the winter on the farm. This time could be profitably spent at the agricultural school and not only will a student leave the school in the spring with more agricultural knowledge and a better general education but he will also go back to the farming business with more energy and interest and enthusiasm than the boy who has remained at home during the winter with dormant mind.

The matter of expense is one which is uppermost in all our minds and especially in the minds of our farmers at the present time. Most people realize the advantage of more education but at present the great question is: "What will it cost?" The expense of attending the Agricultural School is the only cost to students being for board and room while in attendance and for certain school supplies which are essential. The Agricultural Schools of Alberta are the only schools of a provincial nature to our knowledge that do not charge tuition fees. Boys and girls who can afford to pay for board and lodging can attend any of the Agricultural Schools' terms; there is little further expense.

The age for admission to the courses for both boys and girls is sixteen years. It is not advisable to admit them at an earlier age as it is questionable whether they would appreciate the work of the courses or grasp it fully. There is no limit to the age beyond sixteen years at which one might enter. Each year one or two students at thirty and upwards register for the full course in agriculture and appreciate the instruction and behind the possibility to a greater or less extent the younger students. The School of Agriculture extends an open invitation to men who have gotten beyond the medium school age and who feel that a few months or even a year at an agricultural school would be of advantage to them. The institution is for the benefit of any one who wish to take advantage of the courses in Home Economics are also cordially welcome.

The Course in Home Economics for Girls
The home is woman's domain and hence expert knowledge in that station in which every young woman should be proficient. When we look into the home's many problems we find that there are many of them and that a school can only bring all the work of the home includes a large number of subjects.

The aim is not here to work in all those which stand out more prominently in all [illegible] cooking and sewing. The course in Home Economics emphasizes these subjects, and gives extensive practice and instruction in them. There are other subjects which cannot be neglected and attention is also given to such things as [illegible] sanitation, home nursing, household management, psychology and physical culture.

A water lifting apparatus which seems to flout the familiar law that water cannot be raised by suction to the terrestrial storey of the round globe, may be harnessed for use by man, is an invention of Lincoln A. He would probably not mind being called the grandfather of war munitions in North Kensington.

Schools Fair and Vermilion Schools Field Day

The Annual School Fair held on Wednesday, 20th, at the Exhibition grounds was successful in some respects but not thoroughly satisfactory. The weather was fine and this year the Annual Field Day of the Vermilion schools was held in conjunction with the school Fair and the result a lively atmosphere on the Fair grounds, and provided a good talented and occupation for the children during the time that the exhibits were being arranged and judged. Unfortunately the weather was not favorable for a good attendance. However, a large number of visitors from the country districts were present and to them this event must be a real treat, and the children concerned did their part in the exhibits under a number of classes. The exhibits were quite numerous and showed a good deal of interest in the work and sewing were exceptionally good, there being a splendid entry. Vegetables were also numerous and well displayed. Unfortunately the attendance of the public was not what it might have been, there being a splendid turnout on Wednesday afternoon when the children were in attendance. Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a serious sick that man was restored to health, strength and happiness

He tells his own story in the letter:

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Laverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had an awful appetite. I lost 20 pounds in weight. I became very nervous and could not feel good in any home or among some of my friends. I suffered from indigestion. My doctor gave me medicine but it was no good. I was then told to try Fruit-a-tives. The doctors and some of my friends were strong against me taking Fruit-a-tives, but I got a box and started to take them. Before I had taken them long I found I was getting better. I kept on taking them and now I feel good. I have gained 20 pounds in weight. I am now able to do all my own work. I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Fruit-a-tives. I am glad to recommend them to everyone."

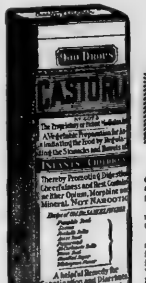
Castoria, or Something Else?

FLETCHER'S CASTORIA is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations.

It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

Fletcher's Castoria having been prepared solely for our little-ones, should not be confused with ordinary cure-alls or preparations primarily compounded for grown-ups. The child's organism, so delicate and tender, requires specially prepared medicines and foods, the one no less than the other, as mother-love well knows, and mother-love can not be deceived.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

What is the Matter with Baby?

It cries fretfully, is restless and does not sleep well, its bowels do not move or it has diarrhoea, it does not eat or it has flatulence and vomits easily. You know baby is sick. You want to help baby get well safely and quickly.

If you are wise you will use Fletcher's Castoria, the wonderful remedy for babies' ills, that was discovered by a family doctor and that has been used for over thirty years.

When you have learned the value of Fletcher's Castoria you will never be without it, you will tell other mothers what a useful remedy it is. You will be able to keep baby well and happy by using it to keep its stomach sweet and its digestive organs acting naturally. You will call Fletcher's Castoria the Children's Comfort and the Mother's Friend.

Don't say tomorrow - try it today. And above all things don't try to relieve baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

Freedom Of The Seas Is Involved In U. S. Seizure Of British Boat

Washington—Unless the defendants take an appeal from the decision of the Federal Court in Boston and permit a higher tribunal to pass upon the claim of the United States prohibition navy to jurisdiction over the seas beyond the three-mile limit, the British Government is expected here to take up the subject diplomatically with the State Department.

It was the protest the British embassy has confined itself to requests for information as to the facts reported with the arrest, seizure and searches of vessels under the British flag by prohibition agents and Portmade no appearance in the resulting legal proceedings. A complete lack of sympathy with the operations of the rum runners on the part of the British officials is said to have caused the assumption of this attitude but now that cases have begun to emerge from the court dockets, throwing the weight of judicial decisions behind the claim of extended high seas jurisdiction, it is understood that there is to be a change in the course of the London Government.

It is the British contention that the issues raised by the court decision in Boston in the case of the British schooner Grace and Ruby, which was held for trial, dwelling beyond the three-mile limit, are far more grave and important than any mere question of the punishment of a few smugglers of the enforcement of domestic prohibition laws.

In the British view there is involved the great question of freedom of the high seas. If it is possible to any nation to extend its jurisdiction beyond the old recognized limits as its own pleasure and without reference to the other maritime powers it will be regarded by the British as hardly important that some under-tanning should be found to the extent of the powers claimed.

Foreign Goods Must Be Stamped

Ottawa—Imported articles of every kind, including books and plates, and also wooden or other lead pencils imported into Canada, must be stamped in such a manner as to indicate the country of their origin. Regulations to this effect have been passed by the Government as provided for in the tariff act.

Shipping Grain Via Vancouver

Calgary—More grain is being shipped from Alberta farms to the Pacific coast this year than last, due to the better transportation facilities afforded. The grain is of the finest quality. No. 1 Hard and No. 1 Northern are in especial demand.

Premier-Elect Moves Dead

Nome, Alaska—Premier-elect Scott Bonner, operating gold mines between Chignik and Sedanka Creek, west of Nome, was drowned while attempting to land from his motor boat here.

Japs Are Ordered Out Of Russia

Chang Chun, Manchuria—The conference here between Japan, the Soviet Government of Moscow and the Far Eastern Republic of Siberia appeared to have reached a deadlock, with the Russian demand that Japan evacuate the northern half of the island of Sakhalien immediately. Japan refuses to do this until she has been indemnified for the massacre of Japanese at Nikolaievsk in 1920. Adolph Joffe, Envoy from Moscow, told a flat ultimatum on the conference table when he notified the Japanese delegates that the Moscow Government would refuse to sanction the proposed trade agreement between Japan and the Far Eastern Republic so long as "one Japanese soldier remains on Russian soil." Joffe continued with the declaration that Japan must immediately evacuate Sakhalien as well as Vladivostok.

RUSSIA WOULD SUPPORT TURKS

WILL LEND MORAL SUPPORT, IF NOT FORCE OF ARMS

Moscow.—Russia intends to support the Turks morally, and perhaps will give them munitions if they should be needed, but it is considered in Moscow as extremely unlikely that Russian troops will be sent to assist the Kemalists if they attempt to take Constantinople.

While perusing the Turks to the Allies as the holders of Constantinople, nevertheless it is understood Soviet leaders have decided to take no steps which might bring them in a real war with Great Britain.

The Russian staff might give advice either from a distance or on the ground, but no troops will be sent if it stated here.

Whole wheat bread will replace throughout France the pure white loaves and rolls that since the war have received such a warm welcome [illegible] the French palate [illegible] This is due directly to the fact that this year's wheat harvest in France is estimated much below the yield of last year when there was a bumper crop of 83,000,000 quintals

Early Morning Fire First Street South Wipes Out $14,000.00 In Property

Alberta Livery Razed to Ground-9 Head of Horses Cremated. Barr & Wotherspoon's Smithy and A. H. Iverson's Residence Destroyed. Alberta Hotel Saved Through Heroic Work of Fire Brigade - East Wall Was Mass of Flames

With Lurid Tongues of Flames Leaping Skyward Fire Was Most Spectacular

Vermilion, Alta. Sept. 23— Fire which started in the north end of the Alberta Livery Barn owned by A. H. Iverson, First Street south just east of the Alberta Hotel about 1:30 o'clock this morning, resulted in the destruction of some $14,000 worth of property and the cremating of nine head of horses before the fire was finally controlled by the splendid work of Chief Burns and his firemen. The buildings burned were the livery barn and contents, Barr & Wotherspoon's machine and blacksmith shop, and the home of Mr. Iverson. The entire east side of the Alberta Hotel was badly burned and all sashes destroyed the damage amounting to several hundred dollars at least.

The alarm was turned in by Norman Ganton who was on his way home from work in the C.N.R. roundhouse. He saw smoke in the north end of the building and to make sure entered the barn and switched on the electric lights, he then awoke Bill Johnson who slept in the premises and after turning in the alarm went to the house of Mr. Iverson near by and woke the family. Though a comparatively still night so rapid was the headway of the fire that within a few minutes of the waking of the siren at the power plant, the flames had enveloped half of the large barn and the interior had become a seething raging furnace. Immediately following the alarm it was impossible to enter the premises. Shortly after the firemen had two special streams playing on the fiery mass the roof collapsed with a terrific crash, flames spurting hundreds of feet in the air. The intense heat ignited the east wall of the Alberta Hotel, a large three-storey frame building, and for some time the two hose streams piled up and down and across the blazing side eventually beating the fire out. The pressure was magnificent, the long streams of water easily overtopping the high building. The few minutes that efforts were concentrated on saving the hotel saw the blacksmith and machine shop of Barr & Wotherspoon fall under the grip of the fire fiend. This shop lay in the line of the fire farther east, the light air prevailing being south-east. The heat almost from the first around these premises had been so great as to prevent any organized effort towards removing the contents and the shop was burned to the ground. The welding outfit and a few small tools alone were salvaged. At the same time the frame cottage residence of Mr. Iverson located to the rear of the smithy was also consumed, most of the furniture was saved, the range being about the only thing it was impossible to get out in time—it did not take more than three-quarters of an hour for the three buildings destroyed to become charred ruins and debris.

The harness shop opposite the livery and a laundry bore the brunt of the intense heat without catching fire, though somewhat blistered and scorched. A number of the lights were cracked and broken.

Shortly after three o'clock Fire Chief Burns had reduced everything to a point of safety and guards were placed for the rest of the night. Telephone wires running up the lane were put out of commission and two poles considerably burned.

Second Barn on Same Site

The first Alberta Livery was destroyed by fire about 14 years ago and the building burned this morning stood on the same site. It was constructed of frame with corrugated iron sheeting on the walls and roof and covered an area of 50x120 feet with a long shed lean-to on the east side. The barn proper had three rows of stalls, feed room, inside well and offices, with hay mow the size of the entire building. Its value was placed at some $8,000.00. The owner A.H. Iverson with his men and teams was absent at Marshall where they are putting up hay. Mrs. Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Robinson and baby were the occupants of the home when aroused by Mr. Ganton. When Johnson, who slept in a room off the office in the barn, was awakened he had just sufficient time to grab a pair of pants and odd boots and beat it—all his other possessions were lost including $20 in cash. Retiring at 9 p.m. Mr. Johnson says he heard nothing until awakened shortly after 1 a.m., having then only time to make a hurried exit. From him the information was obtained that nine head of horses were tied in the stalls when he retired for the night, only one belonging to the barn. The loft contained two loads of hay. Besides harness, tools, and other small stuff there were two or three vehicles and sleighs—the hearse of Hunt Bros was saved being in the lean-to shed. When Chief of Police H.C. Oakley made his rounds at midnight there was no evidence of fire around the barn. It is presumed that it originated in the hay mow, the hay end being handy to the lane and that some party or parties were sleeping there.

There will be a number of individual losses in horses, harness etc. Barr & Wotherspoon suffer a loss estimated roughly between $3000.00 and $4000.00 and several customers will be losers on work left in for repairs. Mr. Iverson further suffers in the destruction of his home to the extent of another $2000. Regarding insurance Wotherspoon & Barr carried protection for about 25 per cent. of the loss sustained. Owing to Mr. Iverson's absence from town it has not been possible to learn the amount of protection, if any, carried by him on the destroyed premises. The losses to those burned out is a very heavy one.

Mr. Wotherspoon has moved his welding outfit into H. Compton's smithy, where those wishing work done will find him.

COMMUNICATION

Manville Branch G.W.V.A Sep. 22.

The Editor—Will you please, thru the columns of your paper, warn your district against a young man professing to be a returned soldier, who is travelling the country, soliciting subscriptions, supposedly for the purpose of founding a "Crippled Soldiers' Home." This man was in Manville last week and I have been warned by the Provincial Command of the G.W.V.A. that they have no knowledge of such an institution and advising us to hold the man, when located, and communicate with the Police.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Yours truly,

SEVERELY INJURED BY LOANED BULL

Mary Lake Farmer Attacked By Animal While Leading From Corral

David Gouin, a farmer about fifty years of age, who resides in the Mary Lake district, was attacked by an Ayrshire bull loaned him by a neighbor on Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock and so severely injured that it was necessary to bring him in to the Vermilion municipal hospital. On examination by Dr Graham it was found that the unfortunate man had sustained two breaks to his right wrist, several ribs were fractured, bruises to his back and face and other injuries of an internal nature. The victim of the bull's attack was only saved from death by his brother Joseph, who was in the house preparing breakfast and was attracted to the spot by the noise of the dog which was viciously attacking the animal. He grabbed the hoed stick to which David still clung and pushing it repeatedly was able to beat off the infuriated animal. After his brother had reached the safety of the house he managed to get the bull into the stable and tie it up.

The brothers are bachelors and came here from Spokane, Wash., three years ago settling in the Mary Lake district where they have farmed a half section of land ever since.

The animal was taken home by the owner's hired man, Mr Dixon, its owner, and who brought Gouin into the hospital in his car, says that the bull was considered a most quiet and tractable animal and had never evinced any signs of viciousness before.

Allied Policy May Pave Path To Peace

Turk Nationalist Assembly Reported to Have Endorsed Kemal's Action for Armistice Parley With Allied Generals—Turkish Troops Withdraw in Chanak Area

BRITAIN MAY REFUSE TURK DEMANDS

Constantinople, Oct. 2. — The allied policy at the Mudania conference, it was learned this afternoon, will be decided upon at a meeting in Constantinople of the allied generals, admirals, high commissioners and military attaches in extraordinary council.

The Turkish Nationalist assembly at Angora has unanimously approved the action of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, and has authorized the dispatch of delegates to Mudania and later to the peace conference according to reports reaching here.

Turks and Greeks Clash

A band of 500 Turkish irregulars crossed the border of Thrace at Sidikli, to the northwest of Sidikri (forty miles west of Constantinople) and attacked the Greek outposts. They were being forced to withdraw when reinforcements arrived and the Turks were thrown back across the boundary.

Further clashes continue between Turkish irregulars and Greeks. In one of these Fort Strabja (on Greek and enemy Turk) were killed.

The Greek commander has informed the Allies that the Greeks will not be responsible for the neutrality of the zone which was recently delineated to defend the Tchatalja.

The Greek army in Thrace for the moment is absorbed in the excitement of revolution and its reorganization is proceeding. It is uncertain, however to what extent the recent political upheaval will suffice to remove the morale of the troops.

Situation Less Acute

With an armistice conference definitely fixed for to-morrow at Mudania the peril of war between Great Britain and Turkey appeared less imminent today.

Great Britain's recession from the neutral zone controversy caused no little surprise and disappointment here, but it was generally admitted that this step was the only thing that could have served Mustapha Kemal Pasha's hand. It is pointed to as an other evidence of Britain's extraordinary patience and wanton desire to avoid war.

Up to the time of the issuance of the official Harrington communique not much should be made of the situation looked favorably either. It is not forthcoming that the fact of its issuance coupled with the timely arrival of reinforcements from Italy of present and of Turks from striking at Chanak.

New Difficulties Ahead

New difficulties await the French at the armistice conference. It is known that the Bolsheviks will insist upon the British withdrawing from the Asiatic shores of the Dardanelles and the immediate evacuation of Thrace by the Greeks.

They will probably also demand the right to cross the straits to permit the Greeks as well as guarantee against the use of Turkish waters for Greek warships and transports. The powers to which Soviet Russia looks to furnished the Bolsheviks with a pretext for accusing the British of ignoring their pledges regarding the free use of neutral waters by the Soviets.

Says She Hasn't Felt So Well In Years

Mrs. Margaret Wilson, [illegible] Ont., writes: "After having a bad attack of la grippe I felt so run down that I could scarcely drag myself around. I had no appetite and my stomach was disordered that nothing agreed with me. Every meal I would have severe pains in the stomach and bowels, and at times I could scarcely draw a good breath. I also suffered with dizziness and felt that nearly all my strength and energy left me. My nerves were a wreck, too, and I could never get a good night's sleep.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was so run down that I simply had to drag myself to and from my work. My appetite was a dreadful burden to me. I often suffered with dull headaches, and felt unfit for anything. But since taking Tanlac everything is different. I have a wonderful appetite, sound digestion and am enjoying splendid health. In fact, I have not felt so strong and well in years as I do now. Tanlac has done me the best of anything I have ever taken, and I would recommend it to all good Canadians."

Can Summon Parliament For Emergency Session If Situation Warrants

Ottawa—Unless developments in the Near East should necessitate the calling of an emergency sitting, it is unlikely that the cabinet will meet this week. No cabinet meeting has yet been called and none is in prospect at the moment.

As far as can be ascertained, the action of the Government in the event of hostilities in the Near East would be confined to the immediate calling of an emergency session of Parliament. Members could be summoned to Ottawa in the least possible delay.

The Prime Minister is understood to be in receipt of cabled information from the British Government daily and this, taken in conjunction with the news despatches enables him to follow the trend of events carefully.

London, Ont.—Believing that some action should be taken by Canada to give Great Britain full support in any crisis which might arise in the Near East, The Provincial Synod of the Province of the Church of England in Canada also here, passed the following resolution: "The Provincial Synod now in session at London desires to go on record as expressing its sense of loyalty and devotion to the Mother Country and strongly urges the Dominion Government to assure the Government of the Mother Country of loyal co-operation in whatever crisis might demand."

Orillia, Ont.—Speaking at a Liberal Conservative picnic here, Hon. G. H. Ferguson expressed regret that Canada should have been humiliated and the story of her war record discounted by the action of the Government at Ottawa in sending a quibbling answer when asked by the British Government not to send men or money, but to let the world know that the Dominion would stand behind the Motherland country in her difficult situation.

BANDITS MAKE BIG HAUL

ROB SAFES OF BANKS AT MOOSOMIN AND CEYLON, SECURING CONSIDERABLE BOOTY

Regina—A gang of bandits blew the safes of the Union Bank at Moosomin and the Bank of Montreal at Ceylon, making a clean get-away with $11,000 cash, and $16,000 in securities. The securities stolen from the Ceylon bank on from the bank at Ceylon and $7,500 in cash in the Moosomin robbery. The robberies were carefully planned, the bandits placing sentries at points of vantage to stop any possible interference while the operators were at work with nitro glycerine on the vaults and safes.

Moosomin is the main point at its line on the C.P.R. main line, and Ceylon is about three miles west and six miles south of the city on the Red Ville-Lestock branch of the C.N.R.

Both both buildings were damaged over $2,500 being the loss to the building and equipment at Moosomin and over $7,000 at Ceylon.

The bandits severed telephone and telegraph cable leading into both of the towns, and at Moosomin bound John McDonald, C.P.R. night operator, taking him to the bank, so that he would not be able to give an alarm. No other person was molested during the raids.

Three C.P.R. trains were stalled for some time at Moosomin during the night, while Mr. McDonald was held by the bandits. After the safe in the bank had been looted, and there a commercial travelers and the night clerk of the Queen's Hotel were held up by the bandits, Mr. McDonald then dispatched the trains.

The United Farmers' Government will have on the Western trade. With the duty being increased approximately 100 per cent. on implements imported from the United States, the cost of farming will be greatly increased. This will mean that the farmers will be forced to pay more for their implements, and will naturally look to the Government for relief. The Government will be forced to take some action to protect the farmers from the unfair competition of the United States manufacturers. The United Farmers' Government will have to do something to relieve the situation, or practically settling the price on our farm products

Safety Vault Defies Burglars

Great Storehouse in London, England, is Wonderfully Constructed

One of the most wonderful storehouses of treasured possessions is in London, England, and is known as the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit.

For a fee of from a guinea upwards anyone can store his or her belongings in the Deposit which is so constructed and guarded that no burglar, how ever clever he may me, could ever hope to break into it.

The jewels, rates which the Deposit contains are protected more elaborately even than the Crown Jewels or the bullion at the Bank of England.

The basement of the building is divided into a series of strong rooms, each of which holds 500 safes. No safe can be opened except in the presence of the depositor and an official of the Deposit.

The strong rooms weigh 500 tons apiece, and their locks are set to open only at a given hour in the day.

Each strong room is detached from its neighbors so that an armed patrol can walk below above and around it without reducing every movement in the vicinity.

In addition to these precautions the whole of the outer shell of the Deposit is specially reinforced with armor plating. A prize until proposition.

Some of the safes contain incredible sums running into millions. The diamond necklace of Helium Garden, nearly degree millions of pounds worth of precious gems in the course of a year.

Probably $125,000,000 is not too high an estimate of the value of the contents of the building at the present time.

THE VERMILION STANDARD

VOL. XIV NO. 22. VERMILION, ALBERTA, OCTOBE R 11, 1922. $1.50 A YEAR

Bro. Horton of the Vegreville Observer, one of the most astute and level-headed publishers in the weekly field of the West to-day, rises up in the issue of his paper under date of October 4th to refer to the demise of the Mannville Empire after a long and lingering illness, and to summarize the effects of the dual newspaper situation in the town of Vermilion. It is here reproduced for the consideration of our readers:

"The Mannville Empire has ceased to exist. Mr. Letson, who conducted its precarious career for several years, left recently for Nova Scotia and expects to remain there for the rest of his natural life. His newspaper plant at Mannville has been purchased by the Rev. Mr. Edwards of Vermilion and removed to that town. It is reported that Mr. Edwards is about to establish another newspaper at Vermilion, using the Mannville Empire plant as a nucleus.

"It is none of our business, of course, but we cannot see why one town Vermilion requires a second weekly paper. The Vermilion Standard, owned and edited by S. R. P. Cooper, is above the average weekly newspaper and, unless we are greatly mistaken, it could easily stand more support from its citizens. A second newspaper might easily make it impossible for either plant to survive.

"However, this is a reasonably free country and it is up to anyone to try his luck. Mr. Edwards has had some editorial experience in "The Link" a small paper published on behalf of the veterans of the Great War."

Mayor Morrison Officiates at Laying of Corner Stone of Town Fire Hall

CEREMONY BEFITTING OCCASION

At 10:30 o'clock Monday morning the first public ceremonies of the kind held in the town of Vermilion for a number of years took place when His Worship Mayor Morrison laid the corner stone of the new town hall building the new in course of erection on the same site as the old Hall destroyed in the big conflagration which wiped out the entire business section of the town in April 1918. When the preceedings opened quite a number of citizens had assembled among whom were several mass farmer officials on the place. Mayor Morrison who was a patient at the hospital was fortunately sufficiently recovered to attend the public function, and Councillor Brimacombe, Ex Mayor and first chief magistrate of Vermilion also was present.

His worship the mayor on arrival was physical condition placed a red blue speaking to any extent. He was pleased however to note that the first mass of Vermilion was well, as not often in the West did one familiar faces remain for any extended time. The speaker took a brief historical surroundings the foundation and growth of a town should be made familiar to those who were growing up and to posterity, he hoped Mr. Brimacombe would see fit to write a paper on our early history. He then called upon Councillor Brimacombe

Mr. Brimacombe said that he was very much pleased to accept the invitation to be present at the laying of the corner stone of the new town hall. He was pleased with the enthusiasm which he observed. He was pleased to see such a large number present. He felt sure that the new building would stand as a monument to the present generation which he represented. He was pleased to see the ladies

Montreal.—An imposing ceremony took place at McGill University, when a memorial in the form of a stained glass window of three lights, to the memory of three of the teaching staff of the faculty of medicine who were killed in the Great War, was unveiled in the medical building. The window is dedicated to Lieut.-Col John McCrae, Canadian author of the poem, "In Flander's Fields," to Lieut.-Col. R. P. Campbell and to Lieut.-Col. H. B. Yates. General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, performed the unveiling, while the dedication address was given by Rev. Canon Almond, former chaplain of the Canadian corps.

BANDITS ADD MURDER TO LIST OF CRIMES

MAKE GETAWAY AFTER RUNNING GUN FIGHT WITH POLICE PATROL

Regina Bandits operating in Southern Saskatchewan added murder and two robberies to the long list of crimes now placed to their credit when Paul Mattoff, an employee of the Regina Wine and Spirits Quebec, was shot and instantly killed in the C.P.R. station at Bienfait.

While the conductors rounded up the members of the getaway gang, Mattoff was removed from the car to the local store. The bandits then went south and in a big sedan fled. On the road between Bienfait and Pinkerton they robbed and shot the second time. While the car passed over the latter's body the bandits fired rifle and revolver shots at the police patrol and the running gun fight was continued at close quarters as far as Estevan.

Within a short time the entire town is believed to have broken up and robbed from summer resorts at Hooker Point on the international boundary to the south. It is claimed, by which Mattoff was attempting to escape when killed.

It came into his hands while on active service in Picardy and was presented from a ruined building behind the lines. Across the top of the document is written "Republique Francaise" and directly underneath in print "Empire Francaise" lined out.

The Editor sat in his office,—whence all but he had fled, and he wished that every last dead beat was in his grate—stone dead His mind then wandered far away to the time when he should die and his loyal editorial soul go scooting to the sky, when he'd roam the fields of paradise and sail o'er jasper seas and all things glorious would combine in his every sense to please. He thought how then he'd look across the great gulf, dark and drear, that's yawn between his happy soul and those who swindled here, and when for water they would call, and in agony they'd caper, he'd shout to them. Just quench your thirst with the DUKE that's on your paper."

Those who were not present at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute last week certainly missed a treat. After the regular business, Mrs H. A. Edwards gave a paper on "Agricultural" treating this most interesting subject in a very thoughtful manner during the afternoon. Mrs Hudson and Mrs James Walker sang and needless to say both were thoroughly enjoyed. It was a pleasure to hear Mrs Hudson again and Mr. Walker is always a favorite. Keen Interest Was Taken By Saskatchewan Farmers In The Better Farming Train

The Saskatchewan better farming train brought its highly successful tour to a conclusion recently, said Mr. Williams, agricultural agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company expressed the belief that this was the biggest pat operated, with the big gest attendance, also got bigger and better results than any of its predecessors. Much credit is being accorded to the company for its invaluable co-operation in the enterprise.

"Many ideas," said Professor Winters, of the Animal Husbandry Department of the Colleges of Agriculture, who was on the train through the whole trip, "will be built as a result of the visit of the Better Farming Train. At almost every point visited, one or more farmers indicated their intention to build a silo at once as possible and the models exhibited were the subject of much attention, and always produced many questions.

Another matter which was forcibly brought to my attention during the trip was the greatly increasing popularity of sweet clover. The tendency to grow such crops and to build silos means much. It shows that a change in farming methods is being made, which will make for more permanent agriculture, greater prosperity and consequent contentment of the farming population. Much interest has also been shown in the various feeds and balanced rations recommended, indicating that dairying and the feeding of stock for market is steadily taking a larger place in our agricultural operations."

Professor Potts, who was lecturing on dairying and who was in charge of the dairy exhibit, said at the end that in the southern and eastern parts of the province there is a very noticeable increase in the interest taken in cow testing work, and one result of the tour of the train, he was convinced, will be that a very large number of dairymen will now adopt this method and many others, formerly doubters, are now convinced of the value of this system.

There was one point to which it was found necessary to call attention continually, according to George Marcray, who was in charge of the field husbandry car, and that is the necessity of inoculating sweet clover seed. This crop is useful, he stated, in many ways, one in supplying a place in the rotation, and the other in enriching the soil. If not inoculated, there will almost invariably be no nodules on the roots and no nitrogen will be stored, so that those who do not inoculate will not enrich the soil but further deplete it, and they therefore miss half the point of growing this crop.

Lubrication, ignition and carbon were troubles were the chief difficulties upon which farmers sought the assistance of Mr. Josephson in the farm mechanics car, and he believed that an unprecedented number of power users benefitted by bringing the repair forge of skilled women will be found in different lines of service from those in which men excel, and the first essential to the selection of the "dozen greatest" is a definition of the fields in which women achieve greatest success. And this has not yet been specified.—From the Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Prospectors Bottle With Grizzly

Bear Weighed 1,000 Pounds and Measured Twelve Feet

Two prospectors, Edward Forsam and J Kennedy, after an exciting battle shot a grizzly bear in the White Creek district near Terrace, B.C., which measured 15 feet standing erect.

The animal weighed 1400 pounds, the skin alone weighing 100 pounds and measuring 12 foot long and nine feet wide.

Its footprint was 14 inches long and 9 inches wide. The bear fought the prospectors and it took five bullets to kill him and when he fell he was but ten feet away from Kennedy who had become entangled in the brush. It is one of the biggest bears ever shot in the district.

Who Christianized Britain?

Presbyterian Minister Says It Was Not Augustine of Aeronsthen

That Christianity was brought to England A.D. 55 by Joseph of Arimathea, and that the British Israel Society in England was now making investigations on what was supposed to be the site of his church, was one of the interesting statements made recently by Rev. P J. Hartley, minister of Pleasant Heights Presbyterian Church, Calgary, in an address to the Winnipeg branch of the British-Israel association in the Odd Fellows' Temple. He gave a resume of the British-Israel position that the British people are the literal descendants of the lost tribes, quoting widely from the Bible and history.

Another equally interesting statement was that Jerusalem, the prophet, came to Ireland with a daughter of King Zedekiah and that she married the son of the then Irish king. Another daughter, Mr. Hartley said, founded the House of Orange, from which sprang William the Third of England. He mentioned that Professor Odium, of Vancouver, the well-known writer on British Israel history, was at present in Japan investigating the origin of the white race in Japan, which was supposed to be descended from the tribe of Manasseh, and which, he stated, was very much like in type the Anglo-Saxon race. In connection with the teaching of Christianity in Britain, he said that at the ecumenical at Nicea in 325 there was a British bishop and elders.

What is Greatness!

Service of Men Differs from that of Women

Efforts to define, on a list of the twelve greatest women in America, are futile, of course, because few can agree on what constitutes greatness in a woman. The greatness of gifted men find exercise in war, in government, in finance, in literature, in industry, in science, in literature and in many other directions. Greatness of women is found in other directions, because their service to humanity is essentially different from that of men. There is no sex in greatness, but the service of men to their fellows must always differ from that of women. Men and women work well together in business and in the affairs, but always at different tasks. No man can create the home atmosphere which is the finest thing in the world. It takes a woman to do that. Nor can any woman measure up to the requirements of war and the erection of great buildings and the building of great cities. It takes men to do that. So it is that the greatness of gifted women will be found in different lines of service from those in which men excel, and the first essential to the selection of the "dozen greatest" is a definition of the fields in which women achieve greatness. And this has not yet been specified.—From the Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Two Masters

A Korean who had been in mission service for a number of years was at last discovered to have two wives—a very common practice in Korea. It was the duty of the mission board to admonish the bigamist and persuade him to put away his second wife The Korean consented to the settlement to the effect that his course was sinful. The Bible was ransacked, but felt a reference to polygamy. Finally a devout Korean brother produced a text that he announced was indisputable evidence that two wives were contrary to Bible theology, and thereupon read: "No man can serve two masters."

Good News from Quebec

Officials of the Provincial Department of Agriculture state that they have not received for years better conditions for crops in the province than those which have prevailed since the middle of May. The hay crop, the basis of the dairying prosperity of the province, is assured, meaning that the farmers will have at their disposal a crop valued at $75,000,000

The Horse and the Tractor

Breaking Farm Horses to Drill Big Business

Numerous as are tractors on American farms, the major part of the nation's crop is still produced by horse power, and in the opinion of many who are making a close study of the relative merits of tractor and horse in farm work, the horse is going to have a place on the farm, if not permanently, at least for some time to come. Best results can be obtained, they believe, by using both tractor and horses. So, while learning how to handle the tractor, farmers are still using just the same old job of breaking in horses.

An iowa farmer has worked out a method of breaking the big draft horse colt with a rope, which many of his brother farmers are finding the easiest and simplest way to learn to establish mastery, and teach the young horse how to obey and work.

His method appeals to them because it is quick and easy, and also humane. Just a rope and halter are needed. The rope is fastened to the bridle, then arranged so that it passes through a loop on either side of the halter, and down the forelegs, where it is attached to leather bands on either foot.—By Forman L. Clark, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Tomb of Viking Queen

Ship Buried in Clay Has Been Wonderfully Preserved

A romantic picture of Viking life has been revealed by a plowman's discovery of the tomb of a Viking girl at Oseberg, in South Norway.

The ship was discovered several years before the way, but its workmanship and contents were so wonderful that experts are still bringing to fresh fresh details of its history.

The vessel seems to have been brought inland to be the tomb of the Viking queen. She is believed to have been the mother of the first queen of all Norway, who reigned 1,100 years ago. Her burial place was on deck.

The ship and its cargo have withstood the ravages of time through being buried in soil like pottery clay. It was discovered in a shed at Christiania University.

Wonderful fabrics were found round the body of the queen, and the body of a little maid was discovered close by with a spinning wheel.

May Cut Second Panama Canal

Present One Will Soon be Inadequate For World's Commerce

It is being proposed that the American continent should be cut through again.

The present Panama Canal is used by an ever-increasing number of ships, and all the authorities are agreed that in fifteen years' time it will be quite inadequate for the world's commerce.

This being the case, either the present canal must be greatly widened or a second canal must be cut and the present opinion of the experts leans to the cutting of a new canal.

This would have to be much larger than the present waterway, and such a gigantic undertaking would occupy a number of years, so it is suggested that work should be begun at once.

But two old controversies have broken out with renewed vigor. The first is as to where the new canal should be cut and the second as to whether a canal with locks or a sea-level channel is the better.

There is a possibility that, instead of making a second canal at Panama, the Nicaragua route may be followed. This was the original idea of the Americans before they took over the French works at Panama, and as far back as 1826 a survey was undertaken there on behalf of a British company.

Owing to climatic causes ships would have to spend forty-three hours more on the Nicaraguan route than by way of Panama, but instead this distance to San Francisco and New York from the ends of the Nicaraguan Canal would be 500 miles shorter than from the ends of the Panama Canal.

Shipment of Bighorn Sheep from Custer Station Reaches

Park wardens at Banff National Park, Canadian Rockies, have been instructed to capture eight Bighorn or Rocky Mountain sheep, six ewes and two rams, to be presented to the people of South Dakota. Some time ago Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, applied to the Commissioner of Canadian National Parks for eight animals to stock the South Dakota State Game Park, as he considered that the Canadian National Parks were the only available sources from which healthy Bighorn sheep could now be obtained. This will be the second shipment of Bighorn sheep this year to the United States. In February twelve head, eight ewes and four rams, were presented to the Montana National Bison Range, Dixon, Montana.

Used Bayonet to Save European

Natural Policeman Rescued Traveller From Infuriated Leopard.

The first instance of a leopard being harpooned has just been recorded. A leopard had been fired at and wounded at a small station on the Uganda railway. In the rush to escape for a European, bore him to the ground and began mauling him.

A native policeman, who was standing near, immediately fixed his bayonet and charged. He caught the leopard in the chest and killed it instantly. Then with a brave he pitchforked to body off the European.

The white man is in Nairobi Hospital, but is not very seriously injured.

The motion picture films exported from the United States each year would, if placed end to end, reach a distance of 4,000 miles.

Indications Point To Canada Leading The World As A Wheat Producer

Senator Calder, of New York, recently declared his conviction that the United States would soon fall behind Canada in the production of wheat. "The Dominion," he stated, "will develop several times the wheat acreage of the United States." Herbert Hoover, the United States Secretary of Commerce, but a short while previously had been responsible for the statement that the United States would in ten years become a wheat importing nation. In 1921 the United States was the world's first wheat producer, whilst Canada had risen from the third place she held the year before, to that of second among the wheat producing countries of the world.

"The peak of wheat acreage in the United States," Senator Calder said, "was 75,610,000 acres, reached in 1919, an increase of 5% per cent. over the wheat acreage of 1910. Canada, in the same year, had 19,135,000 acres seeded to wheat, an increase of 115 per cent. over the 1910 figure." But that figure was by no means a peak for Canada, but merely a step in a series of gratifiants. The 1921 acreage was 23,381,254 in Canada, or an increase of more than 21 per cent. over 1919. In addition to this the prairie provinces, where the greatest expansion in acreage is taking place, will have, according to the estimate of the Western Agricultural Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, an increase of nearly 10 per cent. over last year, not all, but a large section of which, will be devoted to wheat.

The production of wheat in the United States increased from 635,000,000 bushels in 1910 to 833,000,000 bushels in 1920, an increase of approximately 25 per cent. In the same period Canada's wheat production increased from 148,000,000 bushels to 393,193,300 bushels, or an increase of 70 per cent. The value of the wheat crop in the United States during the decade increased by 100 per cent. or from $560,000,000 to $1,197,000,000. In the same time the value of Canada's wheat crop increased by 400 per cent. or from $99,520,000 in 1910 to $437,842,000 in 1920.

It must be borne in mind when considering these figures and noting the lengths to which the United States has over Canada in wheat production, that the former has to all intents and purposes reached its zenith of production—in fact the tendency is for a decline—whilst the Dominion, in view of the minute portion of her area under cultivation, and the wonderful possibilities of development, may be from almost as having merely entered the lists. Whilst in the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta there are less than 121,000,000 acres under private ownership, there are 300,000,000 under cultivation, there are approximately 22,000,000 acres of a surveyed total of 200,000,000 acres available for homestead entry. In addition to these surveyed areas, there are tracts which have been only partly surveyed and which contain more than 250,000,000 acres.

The biggest factor in increasing Canada's wheat acreage in the past, and one whose effect will be felt to an increasing extent in the future, is this very availability of large tracts of land upon which hinges the price of farm wheat lands, and which determines the price at which wheat can be grown. The average price per acre of land devoted to wheat growing in the United States has been returned at $82, whilst the average in Canada of settled wheat land has been unofficially estimated at $40 per acre. That this is not a just estimate for all purposes is evident when it is considered that the average price of settled farm lands in Saskatchewan and Alberta, most of which are wheat lands, is less than $25 per acre, and in addition there are those large tracts which may be acquired for a lesser sum or for the price of filing on them.

The future of Canadian wheat it also pregnant by its excellent quality, which is beyond question. This has been attested by ten years of unintentional advertising at the hands of the wheat championship of the world to be wrested from Canada last year by the State of Minnesota, only by means of seed of Canadian origin.

How long will it be before Canada is leading the world in the production of wheat? At the present time she occupies the second place in this regard, and a country of less than nine million people is accounting for approximately one-quarter the world's yield of the United States, a land of more than one hundred and nine million. In the last decade Canada's wheat production increased by 70 per cent., and granted the agricultural implements, whose sales are so closely bound up with all the attractions she has to offer, and the settlement of a further portion of her vacant acreage, the present decade should see not least a hundred per cent. increase and Canada the granary not alone of the British Empire, but of the entire world.

Canada Can Undersell Manchurian Millers

News from Orient is Very Encouraging to Exporters

Latest flour and grain news reaching Vancouver from Manchuria is encouraging to Canadian exporters to the Orient, though not very cheering to Japanese who have invested in Manchurian flour mills. There are forty-five milling companies operating in that country, with a capacity of nineteen million sacks. Forty per cent. of the mills are owned by Japanese. Of late the output has dropped one-third and it is said that if the conditions continues much longer the mills will be closed.

The reason given for the depression is that the Manchurian wheat is exported finely, thus making the price to the home mills very high and permitting Canadians and Americans to send large quantities to the wheat provinces and undersell the Manchurian millers.

Canadian Birch Popular

Competing Keenly With American Variety in United Kingdom

It is stated that in the United Kingdom lumber market Canadian birch is proving not only popular but is competing keenly with the American variety. Canadian exporters are laying their wood down in England at prices lower than the American.

This is regarded as a healthy sign, inasmuch as it is considered that Canadians, especially in the export of birch and similar broadly used woods, could meet the world in a price way. The same time the value of Canada's users of plywood will shortly begin making their own veneers. This is due to the fact that the differential between the price of logs and the plywood would thus be a most profitable operation for the manufacturers.

A Curious Relic

Last of Japanese Notice Boards Issued in 1867

A curious relic of the day when Christianity was prohibited as a superstitious sin in Japan is to view at the Arts and Crafts Far East exhibition at the Agricultural Hall

It is the last series of the old notice boards issued by the council of state in 1867, a crude wooden "slate" painted in black Japanese lettering. The notice reads:

1. Prohibition of Christianity is to be observed strictly as heretofore.
2. Superstition is strictly forbidden.

This old regulation was the last to appear before the state consented to recognise the teachings of Christianity.

The World's Gold

American Financiers Concerned Over Amount in United States

The approximate amount of gold money known to exist in the world is 9,000 million dollars. Of this amount the United states now holds more than forty per cent more than any single nation ever before had in its possession at one time. For the last year all has been income and no outgo. The presence of such riches might be expected to cause national satisfaction, but as a matter of fact it is giving American financiers a great deal of concern. They fear that the presence of so much gold may bring about another period of inflation and high prices.—Dallas Parker.

A Mammoth at Niagara

Geologists say that 150,000 years ago there were animals in America which had teeth three feet long and more than twelve inches thick. Such a tooth was drawn out of the sand at Niagara Falls by a dredger the other day, and scientists are being made to find the owner of it. The belief of scientists is that the skeleton of a mammoth lies somewhere near by, but how far down it is impossible to guess. They think, however, that probably the head is not very deep down, and that the dredge broke the skull when it fished the tooth up.

The first big electric sign that startled Broadway's white way in New York was put up in 1891.

Speculation Is Rife Over Political Situation In Great Britain

London.—Nothing is as busy as ever but on actual developments in the political situation there are seemingly none. There is indication that Premier Lloyd George's conservative following are remaining loyal to him, but it is unsure the rank and file where classification is as obvious

What would happen if the National Government be held next month should decide to forsake the coalition is one of the main puzzling factors. Although it is estimated that nearly 200 Conservative candidates in the general election will renounce the coalition. Though this may be so, there are conservatives who, though tired of the present composition of the Government, see clearly that a mere withdrawal from the coalition will by no means restore a Conservative majority at the polls.

"It would be a great mistake to think of the premier as an unbalanced force to be thrown aside with ignorant contempt," declares the Standard, one of the principal metropolitan newspapers which is the Conservative organ apart from the coalition newspapers.

The same journal also is concerned over what spectacle the Conservatives will present in the event of the country's rejecting the coalition and of the coalition's entire disappearance from the political scene.

London.—Checks for $50,000,000 are rare, even in these days of big finance, but a check for that amount will be turned over to the United States' Government on account of Great Britain's interest for one year, it is asserted by officials here. This interesting slip of paper, which will probably be preserved as a historical relic after it has served its purpose, will be drawn on the British treasury account with J. P. Morgan and Company of New York.

MANY HOGS SOLD BY VERMILION FARMERS

What is believed to be the largest number of hogs that has passed through the local stockyards since the month of August, 1918 was shipped to three packing plants at Edmonton last Friday afternoon. According to reports 546 hogs were marketed on Thursday, October 19th. Fully seventy per cent. of these hogs were sold by the Ruthenian and Russian settlers in the localities lying north and northwest of town. No less than eight buyers were on the street and the competition was keen. The buyers started off with $7.85 per cwt., but by 4 o'clock the prices had reached $8.20 per cwt. Approximately $6,000 was paid out for these 546 hogs. Most farmers in the district of Vermilion have gone in strong for the production of hogs during the past eighteen months. Many of them claim that the income from hogs is the chief source of revenue this fall.

At a special sitting of the district court held on Tuesday the appeal of J. Stewart Ewing of Mannville, Alta. a conviction found by Justice Cundal and Wilkinson on the charge of the theft of a shirt was considered and the conviction quashed. Fairy was charged some time ago at Mannville on the theft of a shirt, one the property of Louis Gee. The appeal being on the appeal before His Honor Judge Taylor took note of the date number of witnesses being present on behalf of the prosecution and the accused. His Court did not think there was sufficient evidence to warrant the findings in the matter and would therefore allow the appeal and quash the conviction. Legal counsel for the appellant Mr. Mc Lean and Jones on behalf of the Crown. Latter was present.

IN THE plump kernels of wheat and barley Nature plants the seeds of human energy, which man himself must utilize in order to enjoy a harvest of health.

Those nutritious grains are carefully selected and scientifically converted into crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts, which provides the nutritive and mineral elements that Nature intended for the use of man.

The 20-hour baking process partially pre-digests the starch and makes Grape-Nuts a rich and delicious food which digests easily and assimilates quickly.

Try a dish of crisp and crunchy Grape-Nuts with good rich milk for breakfast or lunch. Grape-Nuts also makes delicious pudding for your dinner. It is wonderfully sustaining and satisfying these brisk November days.

What Men Admire Most in Women is Perfect Health —the Sign of Strength

Mothers, Advice for You!

London, Ont.—"I wish I could tell all the women in the world who suffer with womanly trouble, what a wonderful medicine Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription is. My mother-in-law was during my first confinement threatened and my whole family were quite alarmed about her condition. The doctor said he seemed to reach my trouble at all. My husband urged me to try Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription and of course him I did. Before I had used the second bottle I noticed an improvement and always felt as though I had perfect health. I had no further trouble from that time on. I afterwards took Favorite Prescription whenever in a nervous, run-down condition and it always strengthened and built me up."—Mrs Lily Stoddart, 418 Dufferin St.

Protecting the Caliphate

Reasons For Stand Taken By Britain To Keep Straits Open

The old traditional policy of Great Britain in the Near East has three justifications, or as its enemies would say, excuses. The first and greatest was fear of Russia. As things were then, possibly as they are now, if the Turks did not control the Bosphorus the Russians must, with the possibility of a desperate fight, attack upon the pathway to India. The Crimean War was fought upon this issue and it fairly brought Britain to the verge of war over it before the Berlin conference.

The other justifications were the keeping open of the Straits, and the protection of the Caliphate as a counterpoise both from within and from the east religious influence over a large portion of the British Empire. It was Gladstone who established that "the policy of supporting a government corrupt, decadent and savage as the Turkish was (as did not at long price) a moral expense for any material advantages it might offer. He preached something like a holy war against the Turk, and the echoes of his eloquence are not done reverberating yet.

However much conditions may have been changed since the Russian revolution and the Great War, it remains essential to the British Empire to keep the Straits open and to protect the Caliphate. Winning Tribune.

She Is As Happy As A Girl Says Mrs. Devost

Since Tanlac has restored my health I feel as bright and happy as a girl," said Mrs. Frank Devost, 27 Lauzier Ave., Sherbrooke, PQ. "Before I took Tanlac I was in such a poor state of health my husband had promised for us to break up housekeeping and go to boarding, for I was unable to look after my household duties. For three years my appetite has been poor, and my stomach so disordered that I suffered agonies from indigestion. I also suffered from nervousness and kept on dizziness. I lost weight and strength until it didn't look like I could keep going much longer.

"But Tanlac has restored my appetite and I never feel a touch of indigestion. I sleep soundly and never suffer from headaches, nervousness or dizziness. I have gained ten pounds in weight and I feel a different person altogether and can truly say, etc. Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Become the great movement of wheat within which is now in operation as a world wide [illegible] a [illegible] appreciated. It is necessary to bear in mind the location of those countries which produce wheat in excess of their own needs—made and also the location of those countries which do not produce enough wheat to meet their needs. It should also be realized that the [illegible] are not standing [illegible] a few months of the year only, but that it is continuously in operation. The movement is not however steadily from all exporting regions to [illegible] countries, each exporting country making heavy shipments [illegible] months immediately following harvest, and little shipments during the remainder. One year to all [illegible] month [illegible] in the year, a country [illegible] in some exporting country there is a comparatively [illegible] movement of wheat during every month [illegible] country. It is well [illegible] to bear in mind that generally speaking the months [illegible] and central Europe are the great wheat importing months, that during [illegible] are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Italy [illegible] and the greatest [illegible] of the year [illegible] supplied by European countries [illegible] Australia, South Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, New York, New England, Eastern Canada.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HAVE BEEN INFORMED LATELY OF SEVERAL FAMILIES IN OUR DISTRICT WHO ARE IN VERY BAD CIRCUMSTANCES, AND BADLY IN NEED OF CHILDREN'S CLOTHING, ETC. WILL YOU HELP? MRS. H. WEWER, CONVENOR OF THE RELIEF COMMITTEE, WILL BE VERY GLAD TO RECEIVE ANY DONATIONS.

Of the [illegible] the immediate wheat Great Britain is the greatest. The reason for this is to be found in the fact that the British are bread eating people, the population of the British Isles is large, and the quantity of wheat produced per capita in the country very small. Consequently the great bulk of wheat consumed must be imported. On account of this great demand for wheat Great Britain has become the great wheat market of the world, and as the requires a continuous supply she depends from practically all the wheat exporting countries of the world at any particular time where the cash [illegible] Hence it is readily seen that [illegible] she is by means entirely dependent on Canadian wheat, and that Canada must enter into competition with all the other exporting countries on the British and European markets indefinitely as is also easily seen that the price of Canadian wheat is controlled very rigidly controlled by the world supply or prospects of supply of wheat available to European purchasers.

While about 45 per cent of Canadian export wheat came to Great Britain considerable quantities are exported also to United States, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Japan and China. It is likely however, due to the Fordney McCumber Tariff Bill recently passed in the United states imposing a duty on wheat of 30 cents per bushel, that in the immediate future Canada can wheat will find its way into United States markets to a very much less extent than [illegible] heretofore has been the case. On the other hand there seems to be a growing demand for Canadian wheat in Japan and China, as those countries are apparently developing a taste for wheat. On account of the location of our foreign markets there are three main and several directions of the movement of Canadian Export wheat one east to British and other European markets one south to United States and the other west to Asiatic markets.

The above is intended to bring before you in a general way Canada's position in and to relate it to the world's movement of wheat. Let us now give some consideration to the [illegible] of the movement of Canadian wheat from the [illegible] to the foreign market where it is [illegible]

DEWBERRY
(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. Kirk of the Methodist Mission has arranged for Dr. Tuttle of Edmonton principal of Alberta College South (Methodist) to address a series of meetings on Sunday Nov. 12th as follows: Morning, Wetaskiw; afternoon, Hazeldean and evening, Greenlawn with a final lecture and social gathering on the evening of Monday 20th at Hazeldean Large attendance is expected.

Seven ten days are a little deadly- of Mr and Mrs. Fred Rahn, about 7 years old, had her arm broken and suffered other exceedingly minor injuries from being caught in a well-boring machine at work on their place. It appears that the operator was working the alone and descended to fire a blast to remove boulders. After touching the match he shouted at the horse to go ahead so that he would be pulled up out of the well away from danger of the explosion not knowing that while he was down the little girl had come out and sat down on the machine It would seem that the operator of experience he risked his own life by going down to light the fuse and the child as well Treatment was given at the [illegible] Hospital

Fred Collins, councillor for Div 1, Elkwlyn Municipality, which corresponds roughly with the Dewberry district attended the Calgary Convention as a delegate. Who can guess how he voted on the anti-prohibition resolution and apart from explaining the question what proportion of Elkwlyn's sentiment he voiced in so doing? That majority of 1 against the reversal will be too near a squeak to be passed up lightly by prohibitionists.

We wonder what is the meaning of that excavation for basement of a new dwelling on the farm of a certain homesteader who has a mixed-crowd of Skinners' Corners who has hitherto stayed in the house next How about it Neighbor? This looks suspicious.

The reason we refrained from saying anything about the crop yield was because we heard some had a little rumor we thought our dope was long enough for a starter Well of course it was one of those very plausible rumors we ever ran in our 17 successive years at Dewberry and the cat crop about the allotment, due largely to the heaviest spring frost we ever saw after oats were up — June 7th Still, there are some feed oats and a little seed but we will have to import some of both this time. With wheat it was somewhat the same. Seed was plentiful much better and owing to lateness of fall frost everything ripened so that although the yield is light the grade at our was possibly up to the average. with the grade running from 1 to 4 but mostly 2 and 3 Then the following approximate yields of wheat have come under our immediate notice Mr. Schaad threshed 1,000 bushels; A. Ibert & Sons, 1500 bush.; R. Ibert & Sons, 500—2250 bush.; W. Schaad, 800—1200; Kraat, 700—1200; J. Dyer, 55—1200 & Davidson, 60—1200. Potatoes average light but both these and wheat were fair on breaking The writer had about 65 bus. Early things on 1/4 acre of ground that he put among them on for four years. Considerable corn also was sacred up. We have noted the following 1922 breaking: Ismail Bros., 112 acres; Ibert & Sons 30; Kraat, 80; J. Dyer, 50; P. Tulick, 40; J. Herman, 30; P. Clark, 20

District Convention Teachers

The annual convention of the Vermilion Teachers' association opened on Thursday morning last in the assembly hall of the Vermilion school of agriculture with an attendance of over sixty teachers, representing practically all of the schools in the important district of Vermilion and Alexandra

The convention was opened by inspector Parker who explained how the organization of the convention came about, the policy of the department now being that each district hold its own convention. The president of the association, A. W. Prime, then announced charge of the convention and called on Mayor Morrison and Chairman Hall to welcome to the town of Vermilion Mayor Morrison extended to the delegates the hearty greetings of the town of Vermilion He then took up the new course of study with which the convention would be largely occupied to deal during its discussion of the subject matter of the program. The mayor read a few extracts from the introduction and suggested a resolution from the convention asking the department to explain the meaning of the section "Not only," said Mr. Morrison "Is the introduction containing in parts but is grammatically incorrect and in better production should surely be expected from the learned commission dealing with the course of study. He said if was still overloaded, which was the principal fault with the old course he read a few extracts from the introduction and suggested a resolution from the convention asking the department to explain the meaning of the section "Not only," said Mr. Morrison "Is the introduction containing in parts but is grammatically incorrect and in better production should surely be expected from the learned commission dealing with the course of study. He said if was still overloaded, which was the principal fault with the old course he would have been better for the commission to have given fewer subjects so that the pupils could thus more thoroughly master them instead of having their brains with a whole area of work which would result in a smattering of many subjects and a thorough in a master of none At the same time while the new course was open to criticism in many points it was clear it was not without merits and that it would probably be developed during the school year. It was, in a word, a tentative, in advance of the old course but, as he had pointed out the commission had done its best to meet the wishes of the teacher body and it was the duty of conventions like these to express their views fearlessly and frankly and in this would assist those in charge in arriving at a course of study that would be ideal and acceptable to all

W. P. Pilkie chairman of the Vermilion school board followed with an address of welcome on behalf of the school board. He hoped the teachers would profit by the discussion and trusted all would have a good time.

The replies to the address of welcome were by Messrs. E. Moore of Kitscoty and Chas. R. Merritt of the Flowerdale school, Lloydminster. Both thanked the new course of study and were pleased to them on for four years. Considerable discussion also occurred up. We have noted the following 1922 breaking: Ismail Bros., 112 acres; Ibert & Sons 30; P. Kraat, 80; J. Dyer, 50; P. Tulick, 40; J. Herman, 30; P. Clark, 20 thought in general it might be an improvement. One speaker said the language in which the course was couched was most unfortunate.

In the afternoon, papers were read on "School Fairs" prepared by W. J. Bean of the school of agriculture; the "New Course in Composition" by A. W. Crumb, of Islay, and the "Curtis Tests in the Rural Schools" by Chas. R. Robinson, of Lloydminster. The line of criticism was pretty much as that taken in the forenoon.

On Thursday evening the delegates held a dance at the Pavilion which was largely attended, and very much enjoyed.

VERMILION, Nov. 7.—The Teachers' Convention closed Friday afternoon with the election of the following as officers for the ensuing year:—

Hon. President—J. W. G. Morrison.

President—A. W. Prime, Vermilion
1st Vice — A. C. Crosby, Vermilion
2nd Vice — F. E. Moore, Kitscoty
Sec'y Treas — Rebecca Hughes, Lloydminster
Auditor — E. J. Kibblewhite, Verp

Executive: The officers and the following additional members Miss Gilchrist, Islay; A. W. Crumb, Islay; C. R. Robinson, Lloydminster, Miss Bawden, Vermilion, Miss Crouch.

Mr. Hamilton was received from the Lloydminster Board of Trade to meet in that town next year The matter was referred to the executive for their consideration

Prior to the election of officers the retiring president cleaned up the programme of papers and which included an address by H. Parker, of Greenlawn on the subject: "The New Course in Arithmetic" and a paper by Miss Scott of the Vermilion School of Agricul- ture on "Home Economics in the Public Schools—the balanced meal". Mrs. R. B. Gunn, one of the members of the examination re- mained over the course of study was to have given a paper on the subject "The New Course in Citizenship" but unfortunately had been taken ill the day before and was obliged to leave for home. The paper however was read by Mrs. Elmer Murray, and was much appreciated. A. C. Crosby, principal of the Vermilion High School, gave a paper on "The Defects in Class VIII and IX Students" and which was most favorably received as indeed were all the papers read during the convention. It was voted by the 60 odd teachers present as not only an enjoyable one but also one of material profit. The efforts of Inspector Parker to make the gather- ing a success were greatly appreciated by the delegates. A vote of thanks was also tendered Miss E Hayes of Vermilion who acted as the secretary of the convention.

CLAYSMORE
(From Our own Correspondent)

Advice to those hunting deer out by Rat Lake: always keep your ride loaded If you don't think this is good advice, ask Jack Welsh

The U. F. W. A. Chicken Supper on Monday night was just as good as we expected and we expected something pretty good. There were eighteen cars there, besides wagons and buggies.

A Vermilion was well represented, only one missed were the Editor of the Standard, the Editor of the Link and Bill Johnston According to some remarks we overheard, some of those who came were not sure if they were supposed to be invited. The U. F. W. A. assures us that no invitations were necessary and that everything was intended as advertised and that everyone was sincerely welcome. They hope you had a good time and will come again

Great praise is due the supper committee for the able and forceful manner in which they managed the supper as it is no light task to serve over the piece in about two and a half hours.

Norman Tucker was the quilt with number 121 There is just one other fellow we would rather have bounced the quilt and that is Mayor Prime.

The U. F. A. pulled an awful lame in the committee they appointed to assist the ladies with the supper The committee failed to function.

Hep,! Shimay, Cmon, let's go to Wildmere.

Last week a party of our young people started on a trip to Wildmere to attend a dance, but somehow they got tripped up on the road and had wandering around for some hours down by Uncle Pridemore's place, they finally landed at Union Grove. Some one undertook to show them the road from there on, but only succeeded in getting them in more trouble as they ran into a muddy hill where all hands had to get out and push They burnt a boring out on the car and had to get someone to drive them to Islay where they caught the train for Clapmore and landed there about 3 o'clock, flooded down with rupee and hop- ped on the stalled car. They report the moon was lovely that night.

What's become of all the school teachers who always took an interest in the affairs of the district in which they taught and made their money out of it? Dammed if we know

Manville was represented at the Chicken supper, Mr. and Mrs Mel Vandal being with us. We were pleased to see them.

An open air rink is to be opened for construction in the school yard. Some class to us.

DRUGGISTS WILL BE RELIEVED OF LIQUOR TRADE

Attorney General Announces New Method of Distributing Alcoholic Supplies

CHANGE REFERS TO FOUR BIG CITIES

Prescriptions Filled at Vendor's Town Druggists Limited To Six Ounces

Dissatisfaction in the four cities of Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat are to be relieved of the responsibility of carrying and dispensing alcoholic supplements the Hon. J. E. Brownlee attorney-general announced his decision to withdraw the liquor selling service from the drug stores to those centres and to transfer it to government vendors, who will alone have the right to fill doctors' prescriptions

In the towns and outlying points the present work of selling the drug- gists will continue to dispense liquor on prescription, but the quantities will be restricted to six ounces in sealed bottles supplied by the government, and in cases of larger amounts being required the by-law allows that the vendors by express carriage pre- paid.

The change will go into effect as soon as arrangements can be made, has no date is mentioned, the details of the scheme are being worked out now so those in the south having yet to be planned out. Mr Brownlee says that while some increase in the clerical staffs will be necessary, no extra vendors will be required except for two appointments in Lethbridge and Medicine Hat.

It is understood that a number of the Alberta druggists have been in business for some time past to be relieved of the liquor selling business, and the government is seeking to transfer it to the vendor is along the lines dis- cussed with the provincial pharma- ceutical association These will be one vendor's shop in each city, and in Edmonton and Calgary it may be found necessary to change the present locations

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, general weakness and could not work. There was a lack of energy in my case. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was troubled by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my health began to improve. The Traffic In Habit Forming Drugs

By Dr. J. G. Shearer, Social Service Council of Canada

Addiction to the use of habit forming drugs such as opium, morphine and cocaine has assumed such large proportions and been so difficult to suppress and makes such terrible havoc, physical, mental and moral of its enslaved victims as to cause grave concern to leaders alike in Church and State. Parliament is always unanimous in making the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act more stringent and effective. The only question raised by members in Commons or Senate is how best to accomplish the end sought.

The present Premier, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, then Minister of Labor, introduced the Act in 1911. It has been strengthened since under the Right Honorables Sir Robert Borden and Arthur Meighen and last session under the Hon. H. S. Bigland, Minister of Health. The penalty was raised to seven years. Whipping was added where drugs are supplied to juveniles, and unnaturalized aliens [illegible] of offence were ordered deported after serving sentence.

It is interesting to note the distribution of this traffic in the provinces of the Dominion. The very interesting [illegible] ures supplied by the Federal Department of Health, giving the numbers for Federal convictions for the year ending 31st March, 1922 are as follows:

	Total Number of Convictions	Non-Residents	Residents
P. E. I.	0	0	0
Nova Scotia	4	0	4
N. Brunswick	16	0	1
Manitoba	16	0	15
Ontario	66	52	14
Saskatchewan	88	73	15
Alberta	101	59	42
Quebec	277	247	30
B. C.	215	240	15
Total	865	631	234

We have arranged these figures in ascending scale

The first fact that [illegible] in the face is the tremendous [illegible] of Chinese in this summary of offenders—681 out of 865. The new law attaching deportation as a penalty will probably in a few years materially affect these figures. It is likely, however, that perhaps most of the Chinese [illegible] are not Canadian citizens and are therefore subject to deportation when convicted. These must either mend their ways or leave Canada.

It is interesting to note that the [illegible] tion is made of Japanese or East Indians in this statement.

It is sometimes argued by those opposed to prohibition of the traffic in [illegible] that we cannot [illegible] addiction to the [illegible] Those official figures [illegible] know, the [illegible] prove them to be [illegible] The two provinces not under prohibition show 553 convictions out of 865 for all Canada. Very successful indeed was the banquet held in the Britannia Hall on Saturday evening given under the auspices of the L. O. B. A. W. P. The presentation here was greeted by two packed houses. The enjoyment of the picture was made perfect by the orchestral accompaniment. Mr Eldred excelling himself on this occasion.

There is probably no place on earth better than a country newspaper office to learn how many kinds of people there are. Some thought they owed more and some thought they didn't owe so much. Some say they couldn't get along without the paper, others say it doesn't amount to much; but the meanest, scrabbiest on the list is the man who takes it until he is shut off for nonpayment and spends all his time explaining how he used to take "the thing."

Having established a reputation in Berlin as a police instructor, especially in jiu-jitsu, Worny's services were "borrowed" by the Spanish authorities. Combating The Grasshopper Plague

Interesting Summary of Good Work Accomplished in Saskatchewan

A highly satisfactory diminution in the amount of damage done by grasshoppers is the principal feature of the final report on the grasshopper campaign, which has just been compiled by Mr. M. P. Tullis, Field Crops Commissioner of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

"One hundred and thirty-seven municipalities," says Mr. Tullis, "purchased supplies and co-operated in the fight against the pest, which is five more municipalities than in 1920. In that year the estimated loss in which these municipalities were involved and saved was $10,000,000. The total loss in the province during the year was approximately $1,000,000. Of this amount $500,000 was for feed and $500,000 for grain.

"Despite the fact that the grasshoppers came in greater numbers than ever before, the actual damage was considerably less. This year's crop is considerably above the average. The principal grasshopper area with the result that the hoppers did not do as much damage in the area as in previous years. This is due to the better co-operation of the farmers in the local districts in poison distribution.

"The total number of acres of crop and fallow in the province in 1921 was 25,644,000. This is 1,000,000 acres more than in 1920. The number of acres destroyed by grasshoppers this year is 1,211,000. The number of acres destroyed last year was 2,211,000. The total number of bushels destroyed was 22,000,000.

"The silver lining to the cloud is the fact that the southwest part of the province where the hoppers first appeared in 1918 had little trouble in 1922 and most of their stores of poison were transferred in June and sent to western sections where it was badly needed. It is hoped that 1922 will show further signs of the break in the fight."

Mr. Tullis briefly reviewed the circumstances connected with the grasshopper outbreaks during the last three years, during which campaigns had to be conducted.

"There had been," said Mr. Tullis, "no invasion of hoppers for many years, in fact not since the days of the first early settlement in Manitoba. Consequently when the first appearance of grasshoppers was noted in 1919, the people were quite unprepared for what was to follow and the realizing the seriousness of the outbreak and the danger involved many farmers were at first slow to adopt the necessary measures for control.

"On May 29 1919 the Department of Agriculture was informed by telegraph from the Carlyle district that young grasshoppers were appearing in thousands and curling down the good crop in their march. A number of the department officials were dispatched by Dr. A. E. Cameron and Dominion Entomologist Criddle left immediately to investigate. It was found that instead of being merely local outbreak the insects were rapidly spreading and in fully a dozen forty-six rural municipalities preparations should be started. The counter clerks are taught how to give the best answer in the hundred and one situations that exasperate the [illegible] Department of Agriculture announced that the Department of Agriculture would buy the entire remainder of the Paris green or arsenic used for poison mixture, leaving the municipalities to supply the bran, molasses and bran. The government bought the same at the rate of $1.50 per gallon and the municipalities for the other ingredients at least as much again. The result was that over a million gallons of poison were distributed.

"In the following year there were many serious outbreaks and in fact more than half of all municipalities in the province were involved. The Field Crops Branch of the Department, however, were fully able to detect and prevent the invasion of the pest as in Canada still in future attempts were granted members of American societies.

A local newspaper is absolutely necessary to any community. It is the home paper that keeps the people of the community in touch with each other by giving them all the news of their own neighborhood and district. For that alone they are of value and worth far more than the small sub scription price They keep the local pride and progressive spirit arouse and in various ways are worth far more to a community than a common by over spends on them. The daily paper with its large news service and quicker facilities may, in some instances overshadow the weekly, but a weekly home paper fills a place in the hearts of the people that a daily cannot fill It comes to your home as an old and tried friend, while the daily enters as a stranger

It is the intention of the department at Ottawa to secure options on a number of sites in the prairie provinces for additional experimental farms, from which later on the superintendent will make selection of suitable stations. That Vermilion should have one of these experimental stations established in its vicinity is obvious to the natural point in which to carry on the valuable work of the experimental farm for this particular portion of northern Alberta. Its claims are strong and without opposition it is safe to say that the Vermilion Board of trade will take the matter up and see that assurances are given by the department that the expert, whom they are sending out this summer makes exhaustive investigations at Vermilion with this desirable object in view.—Editorial

An American View Of Lloyd George

From Ray Stannard Baker's Story of the Peace Conference in Paris

Lloyd George seemed to have no guiding principles whatever. He was now full on one side on one question and presently on the other the next. He was personally one of the most amiable appearing figures at Paris, full of a rich quaintness and a powerful talker in the conference, but he one was ever quite sure that the board him expressed an unalterable determination one day or two, that would not be unalterably determined the next day—on the day following. He was quite capable, bright-eyed, full of enthusiasm. He had pudgy, pink cheeks as charmed beauty every body, with whom he came into personal contact. Hryhyk's new store was a scene of great activity on Saturday last when the ladies of St. Saviour's W. A. held a banner in aid of the church debt. The roomy building was tastefully arranged with gaily decorated stalls and a large quantity of plain and fancy needlework, home-cooking, candy and miscellaneous articles was displayed thereon. Afternoon tea was served by girls in the costume of Japanese maidens. The building was crowded during the whole afternoon by those patronizing the bazaar, and those in charge of the different departments were kept busy supplying their needs. The complete returns are not available but it is thought that the proceeds will be in the neighborhood of $100 to $200. The ladies of the W. A. are to be congratulated on their successful effort.

Corporal Crawford went overseas with a draft for re-inforcements in 1915 and was discharged on the 7th April, 1919 (though gassed twice and wounded once he only spent four days in hospital during his four years service.

The Chicken Supper held at the Thomcliffe school on the 8th inst. was a great success. In spite of cold unpleasant weather, the school house was filled to capacity and all enjoyed the supper which was bounteously provided perfectly cooked and excellently served. Provision was made for a larger crowd than was present and Mr. McAlpine proved an efficient assistant in disposing of surplus pies, cakes, chickens, etc. An excellent programme was given over which Rev. Bishop presided. Amongst those taking part in the program were Miss Boswell, Nurse Crosby, Mr. Cecil Kline, Mr. Ewen, Mrs. Gerald Kline, Mr. Campbell. The school children acquitted themselves admirably in two dialogues and a number of recitations. Rev. F. Chilton gave a very earnest address on "The Attraction of Christ" The thanks of the church board are tendered to the ladies who worked so hard to make the affair a success, to all who donated chickens and cooking and to those who so kindly assisted in the programme. The proceeds amount ed to $46.00

Students of the Vermilion High and Agricultural Schools were royally entertained last Friday evening by the L. A. S. S. and Missionary Society of the Methodist church. Proceedings started at 8 p. m. An address of welcome was made by the Rev. Charles Bishop to the new students in town. This was followed by a varied assortment of contests and games. So pleasant was the evening that not a dull moment could be found throughout. Rev. P. H. Robert, former pastor of the Baptist church, attended later in the evening and adressed the gathering. Affairs reached their climax about 11 p.m. when the Methodist ladies served a wonderful array of refreshments. A hearty vote of thanks was rendered by the students in all concerned in entertaining them so pleasantly.

Fire Hall Formally Opened With Social and Dance

The new fire hall was formally opened Monday evening with a social and dance held under the auspices of the department. The hall was tastily decorated with the colors of the fire ade and with substantive flags, streamers and other decorations which contributed to make the scene one of extreme attractiveness. The music was by the Barwick orchestra. The programme for the evening included solos by Mrs. Jones, Walker, Mrs. Laurie McLean and Mr. A. M. West. The opening address was delivered by Major Montfort who referred to the recent agitation re the brigade in town and the destruction of the old fire hall and generally the matter fighting appearance of the town in the near future. Upon the re-organization of the department was in particular an up-to-date equipment and this the council did by purchasing a large and powerful motor fire engine and a Ford truck which was made over as a motor chemical and other equipment purchased including additional carts, hose, nozzles, axes, masks and so on. He felt that Vermilion had one of the best fire halls in the province and now that the brigade was better fitted with its own quarters efficiency would be increased to not only a very great extent. It was needless to say that the brigade would in the future as in the past continue to give good account of itself. We had a splendid brigade, well deserving of the support of the citizens. The council had also spared no effort or expense in the hope that the result was perfected with the best possible equipment and appliances now in use. It was the desire of the council that the new building should be a credit to the town and a source of pride to the citizens. The brigade on their part must do their share in keeping the building and equipment in a neat and attractive condition. It was pointed out that the building was a waste expense in connection with the press and as a member of the town he enjoyed Mr. F. P. Cooper's compliment the brigade on the very successful function provided for this occasion. It was a citizen's full ground to the splendid record of the brigade deserved the very best that the town and citizens could do for the efficient [illegible] Fire Hall. Canadian Business Men And Others Should Visit East And West And Study Conditions

A recent issue of the Canadian Manufacturer contains an article which is of particular interest to every Canadian business man. The manufacturer who has not seen the West and the westerner who has not seen the east are working under a severe handicap.

That the Montreal business men are keenly aware of this fact is indicated in the recent visit of the Montreal Board of Trade to the west as well as their recent trip to the industrial men, manufacturers, jobbers and financiers. Knowledge is power and the soundest knowledge is that which is obtained directly by research on the ground, heard with one's own ears and seen with one's own eyes.

It is an extraordinary thing—perhaps a fortunate fact—that there are in the east generally many prominent business men who, year after year, do business with the west, yet who have never personally visited it. They make frequent trips to Europe and to the United States, but when it comes to personally visiting the western section of their own country they say "No" up in favor of some other trip. The United States slogan "Buy American First" might well be adapted to "Buy Canada First" by those business men who can, if they will, see more in their own country. The article referred to is as follows:

If you would build up a national business, you should know thoroughly you should understand the differences in the viewpoints of the westerner, from that of the man in interior Ontario man in Quebec and the men in the Maritime Provinces.

To understand men one should be familiar with the conditions under which they do business. To do this one must visit the cities of both where they do business and get close enough to see in what ways conditions are different in one locality from another.

We all know that the needs of a customer in a manufacturing city like Windsor are very far different to the needs of a prairie city like Saskatoon. But to thoroughly understand and to be in a position to advise or any demands in these places, the business man should visit these places and study each one in relation to the product he manufactures.

For instance, how many business men in Canada know what it means when affected by drought in a certain district in the west? How many know what course should be adopted on the great increase in demand for Canadian paper and pulp.

How many know his market from beginning, and, as everyone in business in Canada knows the distances between cities are great indeed and the cost of intercity retail services must, to be fully understood.

Apart from the purely business aspect of the matter however, Canada offers to the tourist a wealth of places worth seeing.

The beauties of the Pacific coast, rather and their parks, the Rockies, the Okanagan and other B. C. valleys, the prairies at harvest time or in bloom that matter, at a time when the crops are in, the fishing grounds of Nipigon, the Algonquin Park, the national scenery of Ontario, Niagara, the Thousand Islands, the Rideau, the Thousand Islands, the Rideau, the Thousand Islands, the Rideau

Strange Creatures Found in Santo Domingo By Dr. Noble

Frogs that bark like dogs, scowl like pigs and are born frogs instead of tadpoles were discovered in the jungles of the island of Santo Domingo by Dr. and Mrs. G. Kingsley Noble of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, who have just returned from a three-months expedition through the island.

And just to prove that the frog with the dog pig voice is not a tropical dream, they brought several live specimens with them and have them in the museum at 77th Street and Central Park West. Details of the successful expedition were made known recently.

Then too they brought back giant tree frogs, the largest known in the world. These frogs have some long technical name, but a more descriptive one would be "polecat frog." When touched they exude a milky substance that irritates the hands and causes inflammation similar to poison ivy.

Ridiculous iguanas that look like direct, perfect pairings or imitations of the pre-historic dinosaurs also came along in cages and they like about in a room on the second floor of the museum building.

The Nobles went to Santo Domingo in July last year to study the island. Dr. Noble is in charge of the Herpetological Department of the Museum and Mrs. Noble holds an official position there

PUTS ON 20 POUNDS AND FEELS FINE

"Tanlac and I are old friends. I took it when it first came out and have used it off and on as a tonic ever since, and I always keep it." This statement was made recently by Robert J. Moore, highly respected and widely known farmer of Regina, Sask., residing on N. Albert St. Mr. Moore is also well known at Rosthern, where he was farming before coming to Regina.

"When I first took Tanlac" he said, "I was not what you would call sick out-sick, but I certainly was in such bad shape I knew I had to have some relief or suffering.

"Reading about Tanlac in the Regina papers started me taking it, and in just as short a time as trouble quickly, I went up twenty pounds in weight, I haven't had a trace of indigestion since, and have enjoyed perfect health. I unhesitatingly recommend Tanlac to anyone."

Communist Member Disturbs Tranquility Of House Of Commons

London.—A storm of criticism, raillery and threats of revolution disturbed the tranquility of the new Government at the first working session in the House of Commons. The new members quickly asserted themselves with firmness and shocked the veterans, with the result that there was laughter, also gibes and jeers, with frequent cries for order. Interruptions, retorts and clamor from the benches produced an uproar in the upper house that was radically different, and the Government was repeatedly warned that there will be no "tranquility."

"If we do not get satisfaction we shall have to deal with you as Cromwell dealt with the Long Parliament—there is plenty of precedent to a resolution in this country, dramatically declared J. T. W. Newbold, the Communist member. He came to his feet and presented his astonishing case with the credentials of an old parliamentarian.

The tall, pale, but keen-eyed iconoclast of the doctrine of Lenine was a subject of curiosity and interest as he tarred the house in his corduroy suit of clothes, but he quickly stirred up the most philosophical and had to be warned by the speaker. He launched his attack because, he said, the workers were not satisfied with the attitude regarding unemployment.

"If you wish to challenge us, we shall be compelled to take up the challenge," he told the house with all the gravity I can that we do not desire to take it up if we can help it." He said the values of commodities per shillings a week for a man and wife an amount far rent up to 15 shillings if necessary, although we are going to get it. If we don't get it inside this chamber, we shall get it outside of this chamber.

This was greeted with laughter in the Government side, whereupon Newbold said: "This is no laugh, gentlemen of England; you may laugh today, gentlemen of Scotland; but we laugh best who laugh last."

U.S. Militia Expenses Far Exceeds Canada's, Ottawa Statement Says

Ottawa.—Canada's expenditure per capita on military activities will be $1.50 compared with an expenditure of $14 per head for similar purposes in the United States. Canada trained 37,324 men this year to November 1.

These figures were given in an official statement obtained from the Department of Militia and Defence the statement goes on to say: "Quite recently the United States Secretary of War made a public statement that Canada trained 100,000 men during the past summer. According to the figures available the exact number trained appears to be 37,324 all ranks as at November 1, 1922.

"In this connection it should be remembered that the United States maintains a standing army of over 150,000 men all ranks. Canada, on the other hand, has no standing army but only a small permanent force of instructors numbering less than 4,000. The best methods of preparing the military activities of the two countries in matters of defence, is by computing their annual expenditure that and children 10c a box (safe tax paid).

Prince Waives Precedence

Disregarded Rights to Which He is Entitled as Heir to the Throne

London.—The House of Lords was treated to an interesting spectacle when the Prince of Wales, who now ranks all the Lords sitting, exercised precedence by waiving the rights to which he is entitled as heir to the throne.

When the Prince arrived to take the oath as a member of the new Parliament, he found a queue of some 50 "noble lords" lined up ahead of him. The Clerk of the House immediately hurried to the Prince to conduct him to the head of the line, but the action of royalty shook his lord and ended his place at the end of the line. There was great consternation on the faces of some of the lords, and several offered the Prince their places in the line but he politely declined and waited his turn which was long in coming.

Mrs. C. Vanhook, Kirkville, Alta., writes:—"About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often had to stay up at night with me. I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would get a faint away and it would seem as though I was being buried. This would bring me back to life. SAYS WE ARE ALL BROKE OUT HERE IN THE WEST; THREE I. O. U. PROVINCES

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—The prairie provinces are nothing but "I. O. U. provinces" in a lamentable state financially, declared Oliver Gilbert, well known French-Canadian publicist, in addressing the chambre de commerce here this afternoon.

The French-Canadian race was, relatively speaking, a wealthy one, while the province of Quebec stood highest financially of any in Canada, he said. Their chief wealth was in the agricultural and real estate property of the province

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and had dizzy spells and I had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed I had to ask everyone around me how of your medicine and wanted me to try it. So at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Sanative Wash and Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my work now except the washing and don't get a bone tired as much as I did in a day now as it would last for days a week to do last winter and I try to get everyone I know to take your medicine and tell them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CORA BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know by now they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

Report That Germany And Russia Entering Into A Secret Pact

London—That the Germans are actively planning a war revenge, chiefly against France, but which apparently they have concluded a secret military agreement with Russia, is the main point of a memorandum by a person in close touch with the best informed German circles in London and Munich, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail, which displays it prominently on its front page.

The paper outlines in three sections hostile enquiries into the subject, Berlin's accounts in Germany, London and Paris while the memorandum says, that Britain is not to be reported though. Except as stated in details, the Mail says, the material published from time to time in anti-German papers.

The memorandum points out that with respect to the Russian treaty, to enable Germany to obtain the resources from the middle states, Russia has undertaken to help make Russia able to defend herself against Britain and France. Britain will establish agents in Russia whose activities will be supported by, and will be kept in touch with, the Russian Soviet Government, by Russian agents working in Germany.

Poland is to be attacked by Russia and Germany.

Mark Twain was called upon to speak at a club dinner and took for his theme, "Humanity." He said when he went home one day saw a poor, ragged, starving little boy sitting on the steps crying. He asked the little fellow what was the matter and he was tempted to give him a dollar. "I smashed up in that entire," said Mark, and stole a nickel, swapped it for a dime, and stole a dime, swapped it for a quarter, and so on, and finally got it changed into a dollar. But—he had no sooner got it back into its right pocket a strange feeling came over him. It came to him that he was a pretty thing to see that any poor, ragged little sinner should have to cry for me. I took that dollar back and gave it to him again, and told him to buy candy with it. I then went on my way rejoicing."

Rapid Increase of Bovine Tuberculosis

The rapid and rapid increase of bovine tuberculosis has during the past years caused alarm and panic not because of its great danger to human health as all the diseases affecting cattle, especially tuberculosis in the human system, and that it cannot also be prevented. I cannot always be diagnosed in its early stages and that when it has once gained a foothold it is a very serious problem, worthy the most serious consideration.

Both are diseases of filthiness and carelessness and the number of deaths from tuberculosis is a direct result of the suffering and long lingering course of the disease, the cause of losing millions of dollars annually to the cattle industry of this country.

Below appears a communication from Rev Charles Bishop, pastor of the Methodist church, in which he ...his connection with the Liquor Act, ...of caustic comments on the news article recently published in this paper ...the prosecution of liquor law violators ...convictions under the Liquor Act.

It would be briefly summarized as a ...that the statements contained in ...that article That they were false in ...their entirety—were rushed into print ...by the Liquor Interests in order to ...prejudice solely and purely by hostility to ...the Liquor Act and those who support ...and at the instigation of the liquor in ...terests—who are hitherto unknown to ...the bottom of all such articles. Mr. ...Bishop writes the editor of this paper ...should have or should not have ...under the circumstances mentioned in ...it is acknowledged that if there ...is any business people imagine they ...have been injured by the Liquor Act ...in it, it is that of a newspaper. This ...is natural for the directors of such ...raised by the reverend gentleman. ...Mr. Bishop says that the statement ...dared and as he does not publish the ...names of the two responsible citizens ...who are alleged to have interviewed ...the boy's father "it understood" ...veracity of the whole narrative" in ...the Liquor Act. The statement is ...The correspondent of the "Saskatoon ...Star" has handed in a statement ...(not a news article) into this office ...which has been signed by Reverend ...M. Soloman, Nisura—an old reader of ...the Standard—states the facts about ...which he has written. The boy referred ...to made the communication after reading the article under discussion in ...his paper. From the tone of his letter ...he would not be considered unduly ...excitable in the matter past, seems ...to have been hunted out of ...boy and his father for some years. I ...have the facts and more facts if Mr. ...Bishop wants them. I spoke to the ...boy in the Alberta Hotel when he arrived there and registered under the ...name of James Smith. When I asked ...him why he was going under an ...assumed name he told me he was "spotted" for the fellows who were with him but asked me not to give the ...same away. He said he was being paid $2.00 a day for his services. His fath ...or came to town the same day and up ...on ascertaining that his son was here ...went to see him. The father merely ...led him down to the police barracks ...to see if he could not be stopped from ...doing that sort of work, but they were told nothing could be done there The father then left for Edmonton in town about 8. As for the girl I have ...her name too She applied at the Alberta Hotel for a position as chamber ...maid but she was not long there when ...her mission became known She ad ...mitted to me that she had been de ...tailed to come to Vermilion to see if ...she could not secure evidence against ...the parcels party that was suspected of ...selling moonshine. The girl appeared ...to me to be not more than 18 or 20 ...years of age. The article complained ...does not say that this boy and girl ...were working for the attorney-general ...of Alberta—present company which Mr ...Bishop seems to be quite tender ...it did state in broad terms they were ...working for the Liquor Interests and ...that the statements "spotted" ...ters" and those are facts Mr Bishop ...spoke to me a few days ago about the ...above information that the story as ...published was untrue I told him I ...could give him the names of at least ...five people who could verify the state ...ments made. I also referred him to ...one party who was in a position to ...give him sufficient evidence that ought ...to have convinced him of the accuracy ...of the personal article in question ...but for some reason, or another, best ...known to himself, he did not ask for ...the names, preferring evidently to ...rush into print, deny the story ramble ...away with the idea because he wears ...a clerical cloth the public would be ...much better him. I may say further ...for his information that half has not ...been told of the down dirty work done ...by those "stool pigeons" and for which ...the people of this province pay hand ...somely because the department is un ...able to get information otherwise due ...to the fact that people who seem to ...make themselves vitally interested in ...temperance seldom have the nerve nor ...the backbone to give the information ...or don't give a continental ...on ...receipt of information. I suppose ...that the reverend gentleman, the next ...time, make sure of his grounds before ...publicly attempting to drag a newspaper ...report covering a matter of which con ...vehemently or otherwise he appears to ...be blankly ignorant.

Yours truly,

I left Ontario 22 years ago and ...you people call us Galicians and dirty ...Galicians, but we are Ruthenians, not ...Ukrainians That word makes ...mad and I swore to myself I ...get even with the first Canadian ...to school to make real Canadian ...out of him. And I did. That was ...I was born in Vermilion school ...and I am there now teaching ...for another 4 years. I spend one ...dollar for keeping him in high ...to educate him instead of buying a ...new horse. I do not say that I ...raise him, but then all things go ...even. My boy meets at ...time of mine and he got advice to ...go as stool pigeon. This is a funny ...government government to give such a ...job for a lad under age of 17 and ...sixteen job too. What will be ...nothing but to drink moonshine. ...I do not say that it is the ...fault — yours, yours—who ...are to blame for it. Those people ...There should be a law for under age ...boys. The Canadian can ...tell me, will you give me advice? ...How, what can I do? Is there ...anywhere and wants to get out ...of? Either we should ...him at the Alberta Hotel on Nov. ...or we should ...him a ...name as "J Smith" so I trust him ...very bad that there ...was going to ...arrest him that night and I asked the ...provincial police who's responsible ...for the affair, but they did not ...remember what he said, you or me.

SWEDISH INVENTOR HAS NEW OIL LIGHT

Claims Whiter and Much Cheaper Light Than Electric Or Gas

Edison established his name among the benefactors of mankind by his invention of the incandescent electric light, but it remained for a Swedish engineer named Johnson, now living in Montreal, to produce a lamp that will burn kerosene (coal oil) and give a light as brilliant as that of the electric lamp. The lamp is operated on the principle of the Welsbach burner, and is provided with a generator which converts the oil into gas before it reaches the burner. The light is said to be whiter than electric. Council's Reply To Memorandum Of The CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE

[illegible] have had under consideration a memorandum submitted to a joint meeting of the Council and School Board a few weeks ago. The memorandum was presented by the Chairman of the Committee (Citizens) P. G. Pilkie, Esq., the other members of the Committee, as stated by him, being Jos. McKone, Ben Calvert, J. A. Kirkpatrick, D. L. Kennedy and W. B. Nellis [illegible] memorandum was finally [illegible] The memorandum is as follows

Recommendations by Citizens Committee

[illegible] account of the heavy load of taxation to be borne by the Property owners of the Town of Vermilion, at the present time. This Committee of [illegible] consider that the [illegible] Town should share [illegible] by a reduction in salaries until the times become lowered to [illegible] that the property owners will be able to stand the pressure and [illegible]

This Committee recommends that the Town Council reduce the salary of the Clerk and Treasurer to $125 per month; the chief constable to $100 per month and that no assistant constable be employed, and that the Employees of the Electric Light Plant be reduced to $160, $145 and $125 per month, (respectively)

2nd. This Committee recommends that the salaries of all Teachers [illegible] be reduced by 20 per cent. and that the High School be closed [illegible] as quickly as possible and that the [illegible] of the best-paid school be transferred to the present High School [illegible] will read and school [illegible] until such time as the town [illegible] to bear its burden

3. This Committee recommends [illegible] be assessed at [illegible] property and that an [illegible] be levied on dogs, etc [illegible] of each Motorcycle [illegible] Stores each for-[illegible]

4th. This Committee recommends [illegible] Town [illegible] the Provincial Government [illegible] special legislation for Tax Relief [illegible] extending the time for payment of arrears of the taxes [illegible] 15 years, leaving bonds to same payable yearly. This provision to apply especially if it is not possible to arrange with the Bank for the town's indebtedness to [illegible] an extension of time on same

5th. This Committee recommends the Town not to sell any more vacant lots during this time of depression, that become the property of the town on account of non-payment of taxes, but allow the owners of same to hold on to them at a reduced assessment and taxes

This Committee recommends [illegible] men be employed to equalize [illegible] assessments of the Town and that [illegible] improvements be taxed and that land value be reduced, assessment values be placed upon a rental basis [illegible] the earning capacity of the [illegible] improvements

6th. This Committee recommends that a change in Auditor or Auditors take place forthwith.

INTEREST WARMLY WELCOMED

The Council desires to express its appreciation of the interest manifested by the Committee in civic matters but regrets the same zeal was not shown for the past several years or at the public meetings held for the purpose to discuss town affairs in general. At that this healthy interest is warmly welcomed by the members of the Council.

The Council in reply to the suggestions contained in the memorandum joins with the Committee in its regret that the taxes are so high as they are, but each member shares in this burden and to them, individually and as a whole, the matter of lowering the taxes should first appeal. The Council has used every possible effort to keep [illegible] down to the minimum and a study of the interim report made by the auditors and published a week or two ago will show that rigid economy is and has been the policy of the Council the present trouble has arisen because the taxes in the Scheme Revision have not been paying their taxes. If they all paid then the levy would be very light indeed. It must not be overlooked that up until the last three or four years taxes in Vermilion have been on a higher level as [illegible] in other towns. The burden of today is caused very largely by the increase in the cost of maintaining the public and high schools and as the town grows this cost is bound to increase. The children must be educated.

Reductions Made in Salaries

With regard to the recommendation (No. 1) that employees salaries should be reduced the Council has on several occasions canvassed that situation and the salaries now paid are only such as can provide a living wage. All the employees are taxpayers and thus share in the burden of taxation complained of by the committee. A reduction in the salaries of the employees of the electric light plant was made several months ago. The Council decided last March and re-organize a second police officer this fall so that a reduction has already been effected in the police service. With respect to the Secretary-Treasurer, this Council cannot see its way clear to effect any reduction there. The business of the town amounts to a turn-over to same by $100,000.00 annually involving innumerable entries and cross-entries, far greater work and care than the average citizen has the slightest conception of, and it feels no one would retain one as manager of a business of that extent at less salary than the present to pay in its secretary-treasurer. The town office, as a fact, is at present understaffed; there should be an assistant as has been time and again recommended by the auditors, but the Council, in view of the financial situation, could not see its way clear to meet the addition. The Council feels quite confident that it could not possibly engage anyone who would carry on the work of secretary-treasurer at a less salary than the present incumbent does. To do that would be placing a premium on dishonesty. The chief constable receives a salary of $125.00 a month which includes his allowance as health and sanitary officer. He also acts as janitor and assists the fire brigade in looking after the equipment. Chief Oakley is a long and valued servant of the town and does a great deal of work as stated outside his regular duties and which would mean the town far more than the reduction that is here asked for.

Future Matters for School Board

With respect to a reduction in the salaries paid teachers this is a matter entirely within the purview of the Board of Trustees of the Vermilion Centre School district. In this connection, however, it may be said that a committee of the council and school board investigated the suggestion of closing the west end school and transferring the pupils to the public school building, removing the high school to the top floor and dividing those two rooms into three. In this scheme every feasible there would be effected a saving of about 15 per cent., that is, we would retain one teacher (probably one of the best teachers we have) and [illegible] paying $35.00 a month rent as well as fuel and janitor service. It was learned, however, that by doing this the system of one teacher for each grade, which has taken over five years to develop with a great deal of [illegible], would have to be abandoned and the school placed under the old [illegible] system, which was found to be very unsatisfactory and in addition, all the rooms would be overcrowded, which is not desirable. The division of the two rooms on the top floor would result in two long and narrow rooms which the committee believed would be entirely unsuited for school purposes. The matter of revising the school salaries is being considered by the school board as the council is advised. However, so far as a reduction in teachers' salaries or the closing of the high school is concerned it is a matter the committee will have to take up directly with the school board; these do not come within the purview of the town Council and no criticism should be directed against it on account of a matter over which it has no control, although at the same time the weight of the taxation complained of by the committee is due as the Council is advised, wholly to the natural increase in the costs of our schools.

Action Taken Re Rural High School

The Council and school board have for the past year or so been endeavoring to have organized a rural high school, but as the law relating to the organization of such a district at present stands it is almost impossible to bring it into effect. A resolution was passed a few weeks ago urging upon the government an amendment to the act such as to make a rural high school district feasible As the resolution will come before the Union of Alberta Municipalities shortly it is hoped to receive such support there as will impress upon the government the necessity of coming to the relief of towns maintaining high schools by making it practicable to form rural high school districts under which large portions of the country districts would be direct contributors towards the support of our high schools.

Special Taxes Considered

The proposal to tax automobiles was discussed by the Council about two years ago and again last year but because of the opposition manifested and explained and this course will be adopted at the citizens meeting to be held in January immediately preceding the municipal election. It is for this reason that there should be a large attendance at that meeting.

Assessment Cannot Be Equalized

In respect to the 6th proposition the committee should understand that no assessment cannot be "equalized." What it had in mind, no doubt, was an "equitable assessment and the Council has given each and every appeal due consideration. There were less than half a dozen appeals in 1922 showing that the assessment on the whole was very equitable indeed. Where justified reductions were made. A revision by two competent men, while very commendable, would entail quite a lot of expense which the Council is desirous of avoiding. There will not be anything further done with the assessment until possibly next March or which the proposal can be dealt with by the then Council.

This will be for the 1923 levy.

Change of Auditors no Remedy

A change of auditors will not remedy any grievance. Any auditor engaged by the town would have to comply with the regulations provided by the local legislature. The financial statements presented by the town are exactly those submitted it by the auditors who have to follow certain definite forms prescribed by the department of municipal affairs. At all public meetings held heretofore the auditors report has been freely discussed

The Salvation Army would appreciate donations of meat, fowl, vegetables, groceries, fruit, flour, cake, candy or anything that would bring cheer and happiness to the families at Xmas.

Let us remember that God has been wonderfully kind to you in giving you a home to eat and comfort at this Christmas tide, so let us pay the Lord King Samaritan and help to bring comfort and cheer to the unfortunate, and in doing to God will add His blessing.

And if you have any ready items with you let us have them—games and we—see that they get a basket before Xmas Eve.

If a donation is not handy, bring your donations to the Salvation Army Hall on Monday 18 as we will be there on or before the 22nd of December.

Strange Customs In Africa

How Relations of Bride and Groom Avoid Marriage

In certain parts of the world the bride and bridegroom are not allowed to see each other for a long time before the wedding. In Uganda, Central Africa, the bride is kept in seclusion for a month before the wedding, and the bridegroom is not allowed to see her face during that time. Should he do so, the marriage is off. In Madagascar, when a bridegroom is engaged, he is not allowed to look at his bride-to-be for a year before the wedding. If he does so, he has to pay a fine of a bullock to her father.

Where Rain Was Scarce

A Lady Writer, Who Is Also a Farmer, Talking About Drought

Writing in a recently published book on the drought in Australia, Miss Vance Palmer, a lady writer who is also a farmer, tells how she and her husband left the city and went to live on the land. They had a selection in the Mallee country, where rain was scarce. Here is Miss Palmer's account of the hardships of the first year:

"We had a bad year, and I had to help with the harvesting. I learned to drive a horse, and I learned to milk cows."

An Illinois inventor has constructed a press arrangement which prints the impression on both sides at once.

Tombs Discovered In Syria

Have Been Sealed For Over Four Thousand Years

Two tombs about 4,000 years old have been discovered at Byblos, Syria, by the excavations being carried on under the direction of General Gout and, the French High Commissioner, according to the Paris correspondent to the London Times.

The age is established by the discovery in one of them of a harpe, a carved sword with a gold handle, a coat of gold on which is engraved the Egyptian sparrow hawk, a gold swan harpe also beautifully carved, and a bas-relief of obsidian engraved in gold and bearing the name of Pharaoh Ahirom of the twelfth dynasty. This is stated to be the oldest inscription discovered in Syria and proves that even at that early date there was Syria direct and large trade with Egypt. Another tomb was also found, but had evidently been rifled and thrown back with the coal earth. The Byblos Historic Society has published a history of the excavations, of which the above is a brief resume.

Etiquette From the Book

Instead of the usual boys' adventure book, Jimmie's mother gave him a book of etiquette and the result is quite satisfactory until one day in school starting for home with some friends, he is suddenly seized and thrown back ward into the coal scuttle. Jimmie, however, is not discomfited for he remembers Emily Post's book and knows that one should walk with a gentleman upon the outer edge."—Argonaut.

FOREIGN-BORN STUDENTS ENROL AT VERMILION A. S.

Thirteen Non-English Pupils Are Now Taking Regular Course

Thirteen non-English students have entered the Vermilion school of agriculture and are now taking the regular course. An effort was made this year to secure a larger attendance of foreign-born students, not more than three having been enrolled in any previous year, and as a result of a canvass among the Russian and Ukrainian settlers in the Vermilion district a baker's dozen have now begun work.

Reports from the school indicate that the new students are making good progress and giving promise of catching up with the others. They are of both sexes and range in age from eighteen to twenty-four years. In all cases they are members of the non-English community settled in that part of the province.

The Town Council Should Not Be Critised For Affairs of The School Board

If You Want the High School Closed and Teachers' Salaries Reduced, Change the School Board

While the municipal elections will not be held until early in February there appears to be a good deal of very hostile criticism being levelled against the Town Council these days which we deem unfair and wholly undeserved. We are asked why the council pays our teachers the high salaries they are getting and why in the face of our heavy taxes does it not close the high school and reduce the salaries paid the public school teachers. We are told that we should have a new mayor and a new council otherwise this state of affairs will continue. If the people want a new mayor and a new council that is their privilege, but why censure the council for matters concerning which it has not the slightest control whatever over the affairs of the school board. It should not be necessary to point this out to citizens who have served on either the council or the school board. The school board is a distinct governing body. It prepares its estimates, submits these to the council and the council has to accept them and levy whatever amount is called for. That is the procedure provided for by statute. The council collects the taxes along with the others and accounts to the school board therefor. It shall be the duty of the Council to pay to the school board on demand the amounts required from time to time for school purposes." Notice the words "on demand" and consider how helpless the council is in the matter. The collection by the town on account of school taxes has to be kept in a separate account called the School Trust Fund.

Section 89 of the School Assessment ordinance says that as soon as the assessment roll of the town is completed the school board can make a demand on the town for the sum required for the then current year. With this we feel that we have made it clear in the most unequivocal that the town council should not be criticised for any of the affairs of the school board. The Mayor, in another instance, is abused by certain parties for permitting a notice calling for tenders for caretaker of the schools and naming the salary he was to be paid. The Mayor had no more to do with that notice than the man in the moon. It emanated from the school board and the secretary treasurer, Mr. H. P. Lane, who is also secretary of the School Board, no doubt inserted the notice as he was directed by the board. The Mayor, it is known, remonstrated with the chairman of the school board that the notice was no in proper form that the salary should not be mentioned, but that is as far as he could go. It was none of his business nor that of the council either. It was a school board affair. The board probably had its own reasons for the form of the notice. If the outgoing critics want the high salaries cleared and the salaries of the teachers reduced they will have to look to the law stands as at present and to pick it by changing its personnel so the council shall be elected certain to working up the wrong time the body they should act after the school board as that board alone has power and control over the teachers and all matters appertaining to the schools. It is the hiring and firing agency. The Council should be prepared to take and receive any criticism directed against it on matters over which it has jurisdiction but it is unfair only undeserved to criticise it for matters over which it has no control either directly or indirectly such as those of the school board. Let us repeat, if you want the high salaries cleared and the salaries of the teachers reduced you must do it through the school board and the school board alone.

Merits The Consideration of The Public

Editor of the Standard:

Dear Sir:

I wish to draw the attention of the public to a matter which merits their consideration and support and I hope that you will give space in your columns to do this.

There is much unemployment and distress in the cities and there are very many in very straitened circumstances in the country this winter this town and neighborhood are no exceptions to the rule.

At least two societies, the G. W. V. A. and the W. L. as well as the Salvation Army and Churches, are endeavoring to cope with the many cases needing relief, but none of them, I believe are in a position numerously or financially to undertake all the work, and without a central office or Committee here to handle or raise being overlooked or on the other hand, being overlapping.

A branch of the Red Cross in town, working in conjunction with these societies and churches could organize relief work so that these difficulties would be avoided, and it should be numerically and financially strong enough to handle the large amount of relief work which will have to be undertaken this winter; if the G. W. V. A., W. L. Salvation Army and churches and fraternal societies were all represented on a central Red Cross Committee and every householder was aware of the work, would go forward in a way which at present it cannot do, in fact of the present and the attitude of bodies now attempting to cope with it.

Every one is busy just before Christmas but it will be a practical demonstration of the Christmas spirit to spare an evening for the purpose of providing for those going through an idous and hard times. I therefore call a meeting for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Red Cross on Thursday, December 21st in the town office, 8 p.m.

Knowing the urgency of many cases, I strongly appeal to every citizen to attend this meeting.

Yours faithfully,
J. W. G. Morrison,
Mayor.

The Last West

THE following is the tail end of what was headed "A Trip Through the Last West" made by the editor of this paper and a business friend in the month of July 1906. For the benefit of his readers in southern Manitoba, a diary was kept during the entire journey, which made an interesting write-up of several yards upon his return home. The C. N. R. had only been completed to Edmonton in December of 1905 and was creating no end of excitement. It was natural that pioneers of the early 70's were anxious to learn of the newer West opened by the second transcontinental line of railway. They had come into the country by way of the States when there was but a stretch of 18 miles of railway from the boundary to Emerson, Man. Dumped off in a swamp, they trekked on foot, their small possessions loaded on rough carts, sleeping in theopen at nights and wending their way west and ever westward so spy out a suitable location. Here for many years with almost endless toil and little with which to cultivate the land, they toiled on facing privation and hardship, an augury of future success. Little wonder then that the real pioneers of the great western country, should note the contrast in the method of settlement of what appealed to them as the great untried northland—the on-cart vs the modern passenger train.

Breaking in on our write-up we read "Thirty nine miles beyond Lloydminster lies Vermilion, a divisional point and the hub of the Saskatchewan valley—the end of the journey, the trip being made on a time limit. As the crow flies it is just one hundred miles to the city of Edmonton. For an eight months old town Vermilion is certainly a wonderful example of western enterprise. There is nothing small about the Vermilionites, sufficient land being sub-divided into lots to make a modern city—they aim at big things out there. Lots on the front street, we were informed, sold as high as $1250.00. On Main St. prices are from $500 up other parts $250. The resident population is 625 with a floating population of another four to five hundred—the latter mostly land seekers. There are seven large general stores and over six ty business places all told. Beautifully situated on the edge of the Vermilion valley and near the river, it is rich in scenery and is an ideal residential spot. The roads for 15 to 20 miles around are mostly all taken up and Land Companies have big holdings away through the northern country. A very rich belt of land lies in the north into which settlement is pushing rapidly. With but three exceptions the towns along the C. N. R. from Warman to Vermilion have no elevators, and it will of necessity be two or three years yet before grain is shipped in any considerable quantity. In many districts we see the railroad following settlement here the railroad is the colonizer.

"What supports the numerous towns along the line, one is forced to ask—not the farm products and not the manufactures. With the exception of a few points not a bushel of wheat will be offered for shipment. Cattle there are, of industries few—and yet we see towns booming and building up everywhere. True, the trade at present is self-creative, the convenient result of the unrush and general building activities. An immense business is done through the young and coming population, the supplying of the scattered settlers, and settlements which extend 120 miles and farther north and a long distance to the south of the railway. While the people of the towns do not dream of any cessation of trade, there must of necessity be a reaction when conditions revert to normal and trade becomes dependent upon the production from the lands.

"But that is for the future to determine, for the present their confidence is unbounded in the vast regions onward ups and the speculator and capital from all parts of Canada and the States has already been much in evidence in the land. Next spring will witness the permanent settlement of thousands of those who have taken up land or for whom land was purchased by their representatives—thousands of car-loads of effects will wend their serpentine course over the road, and in but one short year, the traveller who passed through the country to-day and saw the phenominal growth of a few short months will be astounded at the material advancement made in the time, and the words of Whittier come to ones mind—

"I hear the tread of pioneers
Of nations yet to be;
The first low beats of waves, where soon
Shall roll a human sea.
"The rudiments of empire here
Are plastic yet and warm;
The chaos of a mighty world
Is round them rising into form!"

The country will experience the set-backs from the over-expansion peculiar to all parts of the West the settlers will undergo disappointments and in many cases, hardships. Too many will spend their all before they realize that the land will come from their lands and from their stock — but in spite of everything, the opportunity to make good in the newer west is as open to the newcomer as to the pioneer in the older portions of this province. (Manitoba)."

THE Editor and Staff extend to the readers of The Standard, hearty good wishes for a bright and festive Christmas replete with the good cheer of the season. And may we be able to say with the abiding faith of Tiny Tim: "God Bless Us Every One!"

We hope all will enjoy this issue of the paper. An endeavor has been made to make it partake of the spirit of the season. If the effort has proved successful and our readers appreciate it, the management will be more than repaid for any extra labor entailed at a very busy time in other departments.

Just here a word of thanks is extended to contributors for the special articles, correspondence and general newsmatter — we appreciate the help and co-operation of our many friends.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor The Standard,

Mr. Cooper, — Kindly dispose any sentiments re last issue of being in favor of closing the High School, and if who ever is acting will just go into the matter a little more they will see where it is not profitable to close same.

Very truly,
W. B. NELLIS

Editor The Standard.

Sir,—I wish to announce in your paper in reply to the memorandum of the Citizens' Committee that I was not present when memorandum was drawn and know nothing about the recommendations by the committee

As a citizen of Vermilion I am not in favor of same, for the reason that I do not think it is necessary to have a high school in Vermilion, but that my name was not printed as being on this committee as the Retrospective meeting some time ago but I have not attached any of the meetings nor did I sign the recommendations

THAT NEW LEAF

What you need, old fellow, is a new book, no a new leaf. The new leave you have turned over in the past ten years could make nice reading for your friends. There are a lot of people, who, for two or three days in January hold up their head like seraphs and whistle hymn tunes, but who get down to earth and toe time before the second week. It's a good time to make good resolutions and keep them, but every broken vow is a nail in your moral coffin. "Bs not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter anything before God. When thou vowest a vow unto God defer not to pay it; for He has no pleasure in fools. But rather let thou dost not vow than that thou shouldst vow and not pay it. Turn a new book. Turn in the old one to it, consider and I will be to you smears and tears. Use memory as a sponge. Put behind the past, profit by the mistakes of the past, and start in the right track.

The publication in the form of a bulletin, is the result of investigations conducted by the Experimental Farms Service, and is based on the experience of fox breeders in Canada and the United States, as well as on the results of experiments conducted at the Experimental Farms. The bulletin is divided into [illegible] chapters, dealing with the history of fox farming, the selection of breeding stock, the breeding pens, the feeding of foxes, the management of the breeding stock, the rearing of young foxes, the pelting of skins, the diseases of foxes, and the parasites of foxes. The bulletin is illustrated with a number of photographs and diagrams, and is a valuable contribution to the literature of fox farming. Free Distribution Of Grain

Superior Sorts of Grain Supplied Free To Farmers

A free distribution of superior pure seed grain will be made during the coming winter to Canadian farmers by the Cereal Division of the Experimental Farms Branch, Ottawa. The samples will consist of spring wheat (about 1 lbs.), white oats (about 4 lbs.), barley (about 3 lbs.), field peas (best garden, about 3 lbs.), field beans (about 2 lbs.), flax for seed and flax for fibre (about 2 lbs.).

The Cereal Division of the Experimental Farms Branch has improved [illegible] varieties of grain and introduced many new varieties. The latter have been multiplied and grown at various points under direct supervision of the officers on the Experimental Farms both east and west of the Rockies. Only a limited supply of this seed will form the bulk from which the various samples will be taken. The seed is therefore the purest and best that is obtainable, and even the more recent introductions, are in only a limited supply, so it would be advisable to apply as soon as possible for these.

Among the grains for distribution will be found the Liberty hulless oat, an oat that is excellent for human use, and to a limited extent for young livestock. Among the wheats, the best outstanding for distribution will be the Ruby wheat, a wheat that ripens from eight to ten days earlier than Marquis and is suitable for districts where Marquis is not early enough. This year among the oats will be found Charlottetown No. 80. This is a new oat that has [illegible] supply of seed [illegible] Western Canada. It will be [illegible] barley, [illegible] which [illegible] [illegible] Murray (shown [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Eight Carloads Hogs Shipped Friday

Vermilion District Ships 779 Hogs - Rooter Comes into His Own

Agrarians See New Road to Profits

The farmers of the Vermilion district are beginning to realize that hogs are a powerful revenue producing adjunct for men whose energy is directed to mixed raising. What is believed to be the largest number of hogs that has passed through the local stockyards for a single day since they were established in 1905 was shipped to the three packing plants at C.P.R. centres last Friday morning.

According to reports 779 porkers were marketed on Thursday afternoon and Friday's load of a hundred of the local buyers that fully 50 per cent of these hogs were sold by the Ruthenian and Russian settlements northwest of Vermilion. No less than seven buyers were on the streets and the competition was keen. The load started off by offering $7.25 per cwt., but by o'clock the price had reached $7.75 per cwt. The weighed-off price for hogs last Thursday was $8.25 weighed off rate. The eight carloads weighed approximately 140,000 pounds and will represent a value to the actual producer of no less than $10,250.00. One farmer walked away with a check for $295.00. It represented the return for 42 hogs. Some of these hogs were transported to miles.

It is not any section of the livestock of a farm richly deserved the appellation of "mortgage lifters" it's the Vermilion district. There will be more hogs produced in this section in the country's the succession of years. Never before in the history of the district is bright spot in the sun. In the estimation of many agrarians, he has the wheat raising shaded in all his branches. Many of them state that the income from hogs is their chief source of revenue this winter. The Standard has been informed that the Ukrainian settlers residing in the districts of Slawa, Grass and Amelia Lake have a sense in arming in the production of hogs during the past year.

"My Boy was Starving to Death"

"As He Was Getting No Nourishment He Was Gradually Wasting Away."

Here is a story which will interest many people. Before my boy was born, I was in poor health for a long time and the doctor didn't think I would ever get well. One night I was taken very ill and was delirious all night, and when I awoke in the morning I felt so weak I could scarcely speak. I asked my husband to get for me a bottle of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He thought I was delirious, but got them. I took them and by night felt a little better. I kept on taking them and in a few days I felt like a new woman. My baby was born a few weeks later, and I was not sick a day. I nursed baby for nine months, and all that time I took Dodd's Kidney Pills. I am sure that but for them I would have died. My baby was a fine healthy child, but I was not strong enough to nurse him. He got very thin, and I was advised to give him Scott's Emulsion. I did so, but he got worse instead of better. He was wasting away to death. I was in despair, for I loved my baby dearly. One day I read about Dodd's Kidney Pills and what they had done for others, and I thought I would try them once more. I got a bottle and began giving them to baby. Before I had given him the contents of the bottle I could see a change for the better. I got another bottle and another, and before baby had finished the third bottle he was a perfectly healthy child. He is now a year old and is the picture of health. I am sure that if baby had not got Dodd's Kidney Pills he would have died. I am willing to testify to the truth of this statement at any time. (Signed) Mrs. Thomas Hall, Bridgeville, Ont., May 15th, 1922.

When Does Bronchial Trouble Begin To Get Serious?

First it was a little throat tickle, then a cough which grows steadily worse. Curious Christmas Customs

In Early Days, Christmas Took Its Firmest Root on the Soil of Merrie Old England

The Romans held a festival at Christmas time which they called Saturnalia. The ancient Gauls and Saxons called this feast Yule, which is preserved in the Scottish word for Christmas and also in the Yule log. The ancient Teutons celebrated the season by decking a fir tree, for they thought of the sun riding higher and higher in the heavens as the expanding and blossoming of a great tree.

Merrie Old England was the soil in which Merrie Christmas took its firmest root. Even in Anglo-Saxon days we hear of King Alfred holding high revelry in his palace at Winchester, and James supplied pies and ran his arms at them.

The court revelries increased in splendor after the conquest. They . . . the holidays from Dec. 16th to Jan. 6th, or "Twelfth Night." This is not surprising when we consider that there was no farming to be done at that season and there were no . . . to operate.

In Peru gifts are distributed in . . . on Christmas morning, and . . . and all are welcome to enter.

In the Alps, it is thought by many that cattle have the gift of speech on Christmas Eve.

In Poland, and elsewhere, it is believed that on Christmas night the heavens are opened, and the angels Jacob ladder is reopened, but it is . . . and only for a short . . .

They heal the surfaces that have become inflamed by the attacks of the parasites and serve to restore the strength at the child that has been undermined by the drastic . . . that the worms have made upon it, and that their operation is altogether health ful and

Too Much Salt is Injurious

Two French medical men Dr Lapicque and Dr. Lavergne, in a joint paper read before the French Hospital Medical Society, issue a warning against using too much salt, as they say food, in . . . the case of a man who has . . . affected . . . by . . . stomach and his brain . . .

Light is the speediest thing that exists. It rushes onward at the appalling rate of 186,000 miles a second.

Christmas Boxes

In ancient Greece prayers were said for ships undertaking long voyages . . . boxes, into which the sailors placed gifts for the . . . of the . . . sailing, the masses, were opened at Christmas, and were known as "Christmas boxes." The poor, rather than omit their contribution, were encouraged to beg from richer neighbors. The custom . . . growing, and becoming . . . Christianized and modified into the . . . change of gifts in memory of the Wise Men, has remained to this day.

For Sprains and Bruises . . . There is nothing better for sprains and . . . than Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain, will cool the inflamed parts and draw the pain. It will take the ache out of a bruise by counteracting the inflammation. A trial will convince any who doubt its power.

A Canadian View Of The Solution To The Problem Of The Allied War Debt

In view of the necessity of finding a solution to the problem of the Allied debts, the appended letter from a prominent Canadian financier has special value. Bernard Baruch in a letter to Senator Borah dissected the Balfour note, and made important constructive suggestions, which Mr. Macaulay would further develop.

"Dear Mr. Baruch Canadians have noted with satisfaction the . . . of views expressed in your widely . . . public ed letter. We in the bonds . . . fon have no direct interest in the Allied debts. We are united by strong friendship, both to the Mother Country and to our neighbor brother, and . . . on, we think, view the matter impartially. May I briefly discuss the case? You frankly agree that each portion of the Allied loans . . . were . . . granted . . . economic and . . . ing purposes, were used for the benefit of all, and that the debts may fairly be reduced to this extent.

When your country declared war you took your place beside the Allies to prosecute it to struggle as a joint enterprise. You required over a year for preparation, and during that time the Allies . . . to the . . . use . . . Bonar Law Presents The Economic Question Before British House

London.—Premier Bonar Law, in an important statement in the House of Commons, declared frankly for the policy of the Balfour note, which advocated an adjustment of inter-Allied debts by an all round cancellation Great Britain, on her part, surrendering her share in reparations, to be paid by Germany. Replying to Mr. Asquith, he declared that "the view of the government, speaking for the whole of the Baldwin note [illegible] as far as the present British government was concerned and [illegible] would no doubt [illegible] be prepared to act on [illegible] basis."

The remainder of Mr. Bonar Law's speech was chiefly concerned [illegible] France and the United States, to France, a plea for moderation in dealing with Germany on the ground that that country is already on the verge of collapse; to the United States, a call for help and co-operation in settling the difficult problems of reparations and inter-Allied debts.

Another important phase of his speech was a plea for a return of [illegible] Britain's economic and industrial future, should the much hoped for improvement in trade not materialize.

The Prime Minister showed the utmost anxiety that there should be no misunderstanding in Britain or elsewhere [illegible] the desire on the United States and [illegible] Germany to help a stricken friend. [illegible] Campaign [illegible] a whole [illegible] ing trouble in east [illegible] compelled him frankly to face the fact that Great Britain was unable to pay the American debt if she received nothing from Europe.

Strong points in the speech were the unfairness of the idea that he [illegible] Great Britain had made secret [illegible] to pay her war debts, he expected to pay her debts, while others who had made no such secret [illegible] escaped, and the naming [illegible] sudden declaration [illegible] might produce [illegible] if the calls [illegible] the whole of what other countries are suffering.

Vermilion Grain Winners At Chicago

Tattersall and Boyd the Successful Growers

At the fourth annual hay and seed fair held in Chicago December 2nd to December 9th, John Tattersall of the Vermilion district carried off the 20th prize in the oats competition with E. O. Boyd of Rife the 15th. The 1st with the grand championship was won by J. W. Biglands of Lacombe. In this competition there were altogether over 300 entries and 35 prizes were offered. The seed shown for the most part represented registered seed and as a result a great deal of advertisement will come to the individual growers at least thru the attention that has been directed to them on account of their winnings at the Chicago fair. The Standard wishes to stress the desirability of making a more decided set by farmers of this district on winnings at the fair to be held there next year and in this they will undoubtedly have the hearty co-operation of the Board of Trade. This year the matter was not sufficiently well advertised to arouse interest but next year should see a greater variety of exhibits from this district. Messrs. Boyd and Tattersall, both well known in this district are to be congratulated on their success against so many competitors.

FRANK CHILTON, PASTOR PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, VERMILION

GERMS: Their Fads and Fancies

MRS. B. ALTOF

(Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society. Late Assistant Bacteriologist Virol Research Laboratories.)

TO those who have no practical knowledge of bacteriology, a laboratory doubtless seems a somewhat dangerous and unpleasant place in which spend one's working hours. In reality the risk of infection is considerably less in the laboratory than in a crowded concert-hall or ballroom, for in the latter any germs which may be present wander and float at will in the air. In the laboratory they are all safely housed in test tubes, comfortably browsing upon the food for which they have especial liking. And in this matter of food microbes are extremely fastidious. Some species will grow only on jelly prepared from a certain kind of Japanese seaweed, while others have a predilection for veal broth and those of the more delicate species have to be coaxed to continue their precarious existence by the addition of a little rabbit's blood to their broth or jelly. The bacillus of diphtheria will grow only on the blood serum of sheep or oxen, which has been heated till it becomes a firm, creamy white jelly. A slice of raw potato is not despised by some of the hardier bacteria, while the tubercle bacillus, which is perhaps the most difficult of all organisms to cultivate, has a liking for a kind of omelet made from fresh eggs and glycerine. While no microbe can be said to possess a fondness for fresh air, some, notably the tetanus bacillus which causes lockjaw, refuse to grow in the presence of the smallest amount of oxygen. Practically all germs dislike strong light and exposure to bright sunshine for any length of time, will kill even the hardy anthrax bacillus. All require an even temperature and must be grown in an incubator. But given the proper temperature, and suitable media, as the broth, jelly, etc., is called, most bacteria will flourish and multiply with amazing rapidity. One light stroke with a platinum needle which has been dipped either in a living culture, or in infected material, and in from twelve to twenty-four hours, millions of new microbes will have sprung into existence.

Probably most people will incline to the view that the fewer germs there are in the world the better it will be for mankind. Therefore why take all this trouble to grow them? In the first place it is necessary for the correct diagnosis of disease caused by them, secondly for the purpose of research, and lastly, and this is perhaps the most important reason, for the preparation of baccines for treatment and immunization. Germs are still popularly regarded as the sworn foes of mankind, though science has long ago put them to be friends also. How many smokers know that without the help of bacteria tobacco would be lacking in aroma, if not actually unpalatable; while in some processes of tanning and leather dressing bacteria are indispensable. The presence or absence of nitrogen forming bacteria makes all the difference between a poor worthless soil, and a rich fertile one. Recent research has revealed a method in which, by bacterial action, waste straw may be converted into a valuable fertilizer. While yeasts are not strictly speaking bacteria, they are at any rate so nearly related as to warrant their mention here. If the housewife could see these little cells at work, beneath a microscope, she would ever after regard her yeast cakes with wonder and respect. These little squares consist of millions of yeast cells lying dormant, till brought back to activity by warmth and moisture. They then commence to "bud" by producing daughter cells, which in the space of a few minutes bud also. A most ingenious use for germs has been devised by a firm of chemists in England, who have on the market a "virus" prepared from the organism of a disease fatal to rats and mice but harmless to other animals, and also to human beings. By the use of this virus an epidemic is caused and the vermin thus exterminated.

There is probably no more fascinating study than that of micro biology, which has revealed an entirely new world, a world peopled by tiny, almost invisible hosts who have yet the power to broadcast devastating disease and death. And while the properties of most bacteria both malignant and benign are known, there yet remains many interesting discoveries to be made; and it is highly probable that at no very distant time, science will be enabled to subdue and render harmless, even the most deadly bacteria.

When a man is down people troop on him and when he is up they are jealous of him and try to tramp on him, but as a rule he is not injured to any great extent.

If you cannot find your neighbor you certainly cannot find your own way on the heavenly road.

Drove Cattle 200 Miles in Below Zero Weather

To drive forty nine head of cattle 200 miles over a bad trail, at times grasping through a blinding snowstorm in six below zero weather, is no easy task in a wild country like the Yukon, but two Prince Rupert men, R. Davidson and Murray Stephens accomplished this task recently.

The cattle were taken from White horse to Mayo, and had to be rafted across three rivers—Yukon, Pelly and Stewart.

In the snowstorms it was difficult to keep to the trail at times owing to persistence of bears whose scent frightened horses and cattle, causing them to bolt. The trip was made in fifty five days.

Three In One

Motor Truck, Tank and Boat Invented By American

A heavily armored gun mount, equipped to travel as an ordinary motor truck, a caterpillar crawling tank and a boat has been successfully demonstrated before army and navy officers and mechanical engineers.

Carrying a 75 millimetre gun and driven by his inventor, Walter Christie, the gun mount moved on its ordinary solid rubber tired wheels at the rate of thirty miles an hour. On its caterpillar belts it climbed the sides of a steep hill on the Jersey shore, then took a two mile cruise on the Hudson.

Mayor's Address Favorably Commented Upon At Convention

Subject: Municipal Taxation

Vexed Question Was Dealt With in Clear and Logical Manner

DESERVES CAREFUL STUDY BY RATEPAYERS

At the recent municipal convention in Edmonton, next to the address delivered by Prof. Alexander on the question of the cost of education, the one most favorably commented upon was that given by Mayor Morrison on the question on "Municipal Taxation". One of the most vexed questions with holders of councils is to how it is not any more so in the Town of Vermilion than the one hundred and one towns and cities throughout the province and yet half as bad as many of them. He stated that as taxation formed the major basis of the revenues of a town it followed that there were not paid every individual and every interest in the town suffered accordingly. The taxpayer who puts off paying his taxes as long as he can or not at all penalizes not only himself but very unjustly those who pay at the date" is a statement that cannot be questioned. Among the older settled communities prompt payment of taxes is considered a sacred obligation but it was difficult to foster this spirit in some parts of the West.

Dealing with the question of exemption of taxes the speaker urged that the people should be impressed with the fact that all should contribute those that don't pay their taxes. He argued for a quicker action under the tax recovery act with the idea of bringing it to a speedy a sale as possible into the revenue by the town and thus help to reduce the general rate. He said if the annual every council" he said "to make every bit within the town into revenue by using property in order that the general rate was might be lowered." He strongly commended the appointment of a court of appeal and all the assessments should be completed the year before so that people could begin paying their taxes in January. Substantial discount should be allowed for immediate payment, this to be on a sliding scale until the end of a certain period, say first of July after which no discounts should be given for say two or three months and then penalties or interest to be added. This system would make it easier on the taxpayer and the town would always have funds upon which to function

The chief sources of revenue at present were tax on land, tax on improvements, tax on business and tax on personal property. He strongly condemned the single tax system, to the effects of which he attributed mostly all the trouble towns have now in financing their affairs. He said that as practically all the towns no regard was had in their assessments to the actual value of the land and that was carried on on face of statutory provisions to the contrary. He urged that the burden of taxes should be taken off the land and by so doing people might be induced to purchase adjoining lots for garden or beautification purposes. The more taxes a town gets in from other sources the less the tax on land may be made. The speaker strongly protested against the present system of taxing land apart from the buildings. A building on law was a part of the real estate, then why should they be assessed separately? To us this is a new feature and one well worth considering That we have it at all shows the point stressed by the mayor is in advance of the views of our present and past legislators on the question, in fact, the mayor was all along in the lead of our legislation governing the question of taxation.

With regard to the personal property tax the speaker said that after the exemptions were taken out there was little left, but it would include automobiles, wagons, sleighs, the books and equipment of a professional man and so on. The reason he would urge this tax was because it would reach people who do not contribute anything now to the support of the town and yet enjoy to the fullest extent all its civic advantages. "The tax," he said, "if not levied for municipal should be levied at least for school purposes." As to the business tax this was a tax to be levied the rate in connection with which could be varied largely to suit the purpose. It was a tax that in the final analysis might be passed over wholly or in part to the customer which might be termed a bad feature but this was a possibility with all forms of taxation Under it towns could assess banks, railway and express companies (doubtful however about the former) lawyers, doctors, dentists, loan companies, tradespeople and so on. The assessment could be made on either rental basis or floor measurement as the council might decide. In urging the adoption of all those forms of taxation, what the mayor had in view was that any additional taxes thus collected would to that extent reduce the taxes on land and improvements which appeared to him to be now bearing an unnecessary portion of the burden. He strongly urged the reduction of assessment on land to as near its actual value as it could possibly be done.

The mayor rejected the old theory that taxes were levied according to one's ability to pay. "Taxes are, or should be," he said, "levied in proportion to the benefit received," which theory he claimed was more in harmony with our general business transactions—pay for what we receive. He then dilated on the numerous advantages received by the ratepayer from being a resident of a town and which are quite obvious. One is benefitted to the extent of the size and importance of a town as a business centre according as one finds it of advantage for residential purposes. This is also a new angle with which to view the levying of taxes and while it possibly destroys our old idea of "ability to pay," yet it is not without merit. One comes to a town to reside or do business in it because he finds it to his advantage to do so; the previous residents of the town have created something that gives it a tangible value as a business or residential centre; there is a value created to which the newcomer adds and the benefits received are thus enhanced all the way round. Study this out and one finds himself irresistibly drawn to the mayor's ingenious argument. We now quote from the mayor's concluding remarks as follows:

"At present we place the weight of our taxation on property—real estate—instead of broadening out the basis of taxation to include luxuries and business, professional and otherwise. It is futile to continue a system that imposes taxes on property which we know will not be collected and making property holders only carry the entire burden. The issue must be faced; it is quite useless to continue the false policy pursued at the present time. We are deceiving no one but ourselves. An adjustment will impose a hardship on some but it will relieve others. The hardship, however, will be imposed on those who receive the greater benefit. We must tax land according to its normal value as well as all kinds of business, professional and otherwise, equitably, of course, personal property should be reached and appeal should be made to the provincial government to enable towns to receive a certain percentage of all fines imposed and collected in the town, also of the amusement tax and automobile or other license fees collected locally by the government.

"While all this has been said with respect to taxes, councils have an exceedingly important function to perform and that is to hold expenses down to the minimum. Until the burden of taxes is relieved there should be a cessation of public works except what is absolutely necessary and all other sources of expenditures should be carefully scrutinized. It is quite within the range of possibility that any town council can sit down and of an evening work out schemes that might mean a saving of hundreds of dollars to the people in the course of a year. Expenses should be slashed to revenue and not revenue to expenditures. The reduction of expenditures should therefore be so as to produce a surplus to be employed in lessening the debt and hence councils owe it to the people that some such course be followed in order that the burden of taxation presently complained of can eventually be relieved. Excessive taxation means confiscation and bankruptcy, and towns in order to escape these must extend their basis of taxation and curtail expenditures. Every resident, as repeated, should pay his quota of taxes. They all receive benefits from the corporation, if they did not, they would not be there. When a man pays his taxes he should feel that in this way he is contributing towards the development of the town of which he has chosen to become a resident because after all if a town is worth living in it is worth supporting."

While Mayor Morrison's address was of a general application, still the adoption of some of the features suggested by him might possibly work out to advantage in Vermilion. It might therefore be well for the Council to take such as the business and personal property tax under advisement along with the important suggestion of a curtailment of expenditures wherever and whenever possible. And this hint is also given for the benefit of the School Board.

THE SAME APPLIES TODAY.

In its issue of July 27th, 1921, the Standard comments editorially as follows: "Seriously, the tax proposition confronting the ratepayers of the town is one to cause consternation. A rate of approximately 76 mills on the dollar is around the breaking point in itself and while the new assessment on improvements seems to be on a reasonable percentage, that on lots is still based on three or four times what is known to be their actual valuation. Judging from the size of the general rate it would be presumed current obligations to the bank are heavy. Before a line of credit is obtained, this indebtedness must be liquidated. Apparently the Council deemed it the best, if not the soundest policy—to slash on a rate which would—IF the taxes were paid—re-establish their creed with the bank. The serious question just now is, can the mass of the people pay this 125 per cent. increase over their last year rate and if they can not, the latter part of the town's financing will be worse than the first. Taxes are like a barbed wire fence around the farm—a necessary evil—and financing affairs under the existing money stringency and slow collections, can only be appreciated by the man in business. The position of town finances is most unfortunate and the taxpayer is the only source of relief. If the gale can be weathered for the next three years or so, the taxpayers will either be relieved of all they had or be on easy street."

His many friends will be pleased to know that H. N. Stephens, who has been a patient at the hospital, was sufficiently recovered to be removed to his home today.

Harry Wener of the firm of M. Wener & Son, leaves this Friday night on a well-earned ten days holiday. He will spend a couple of days in Edmonton and the balance of the holiday visiting relatives at Calgary. Harry intends to start the New Year right and we wish him a good time.

A Happy New Year

SAYS TANLAC IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD

"Honestly, I wouldn't take one thousand dollars for the good I got from Tanlac, to say nothing of what it has done for my wife and our little five-year-old boy. It has been worth its weight in gold to each one of us." The unsolicited statement made a few days ago by Albert Edward Payne, a well known carpenter of 162 Dewdney St. Regina, Sask.

"As to my own experience, I don't hesitate to say I believe Tanlac saved my life. I had grown so run down and weak, from stomach trouble that I was losing ten and fifteen pounds a week, and at times was confined to my bed on a stretch from one to two weeks. My weight dropped down to one hundred and twelve pounds and I was so miserable that life was almost unbearable.

"I was told about Tanlac by a friend when a clerk at one of the drug stores put me on to Tanlac. That was over six months ago and I have gained my old weight and strength back, and feel better almost than I ever did in my life. It wasn't long until my appetite was in good shape and I tipped the scales at one hundred and fifty two pounds. Tanlac also built me up so good that I soon made a big robust child of my little boy, and his mother would take no other medicine for the same good results. Tanlac is the 'good medicine' in our home now."

Some two hundred invitations have been issued by the "Purple Knue" for their annual round-up and midnight frolic to be held in the Alberi Hall, Vermilion on Monday evening January 1st, 1923. The organization will thus celebrate its fourth birthday. The secrets and uncanny mysteries of the P. K. Purple Kouw Dance A Brilliant Success

MERRY EVENT - OVER TWO HUNDRED ATTENDED

As was expected the dance held in the Albert Hall under the auspices of the order of the Purple Kouw on New Year's night was a brilliant success over 200 people being present all enjoying every moment until midnight were called at 1 o'clock in the morning. The hall was effectively decorated with the colors of the order, purple and white, the ceiling being hidden over with streamers caught from the centre and hanging down to the sides. Chinese lanterns and different colored toy balloons interspersed the decorations. On the walls here and there was the insignia of the ranch, purple cows, intervening being such mottoes as "The cows who spread the infection of merriment, may they never be quarantined," "Never explain your friends will not require it and your enemies will not believe you of any of it," "A pessimist is an optimist out of a job," "Life is a dam worse thing—few get out of it alive." The houwmon were the feas which is a distinguishing feature of their regalia for public functions and nothing was overlooked to see that those present had the time of their lives. A profusion of carnival caps added to the gayety of the evening. Luncheon was served at midnight, Charlie Armstrong of the Vermilion hotel cafe having the catering in charge and every credit is due to him and Mrs. Armstrong for the very acceptable refreshments provided. The music was by the well known Barnett orchestra, its presentation of dance being exceptionally bright and taking.

After the entables had been disposed of the real fun of the evening started. First confetti was passed out, then it was rattlers and "wifebeaters", then whistles, balloons, tin horns, then something else and so on until the home sweet home waltz was danced with streamers of serpentines shooting along the floor and the dancers becoming entwined in the falling draperies of purple and white. The scene then put the evening was a brilliant one and once again the secret organization has lived up to the purposes for which it exists "To live life is to live for the happiness of others" a phrase caught from a lecturer in connection with the University of Alberta. The dance on New Year's night marked the fourth birthday of the order's and those connected with it are pleased to call themselves, and whose mysteries and doings are always an enigma to those beyond its pale

Do Not Compare Very Favorably With Twentieth Century

A Scottish journal says: Those who lament the good old days and compare them favorably with our own should be told that "till the beginning of the seventeenth century chairs for ordinary household use were unknown. Meals were worn at seats. Wealthy formed no part of the moaning toilet even in Charles II's time and very few could boast of more than three chairs in their farm houses every day. The value of stocks did not become general until the eighteenth century, and food was picked from the general dish and raised to the mouth with the finger.

B. A. WILSON — PROP.

CLAYSMORE

(From our own Correspondent)

They say that open confession is good for the soul, so perhaps it will also be good for our U. F. A. local.

Now let's have a look at this Claysmore local as we see it.

The extent of business done by this local during 1922 was to order and buy three cars of coal. Low, there's half an hour ought to be lots of time to order a car of coal; well, the three cars of coal would have consumed one and one-hours of our time. If we remember right we held ten meetings during the year, the question meetings generally occupied from three to four hours. Well as we see it these meetings were most by need as a school of criticism and we have got to say it, of destructive criticism at that. Very little business or constructive nature was discussed at all. It was apparent early in the year that there was a certain amount of antagonism against the officers by some of the members. This antagonism gathered strength toward the close of the year until we can describe the last few meetings in no better way than to say they were a wrangle, if you will allow the use of the word.

Now let's get the result of this dissension. At the meeting held on Nov. 23th there were two particularly obnoxious resolutions put through, the first reads as follows: Moved by J. Duffy, seconded by L. McCallum that the business of this local be not published in the papers unless authorized by the local." We can easily understand Mr McCallum being a sponsor of this motion as he has shown a tendency toward pewishness all year. If any of his resolutions were put before the public. But we'll be darned if we can see what Jack Duffy contemplates bringing up that he expects to be a shamed of. Or is it that Jack don't believe in the motto—Let your light so shine that other farmers seeing you good work will fall over one another in trying to join your local. We have always understood that everything in the U. F. A was open and above board but if not then we are in our wrong pew because that is the kind of a local we thought we were joining. Now let's look at this other resolution, and this we surmise was aimed directly at our humble fellow "Shovel by L. McCallum, seconded by W. T. Machin that any violation of this rule will be published by publication of not less than six months and not more than twelve months."

We very much question the power of this or any other local to suspend a member for this reason and we are willing if you can find out who we are to take this up with the Provincial Executive of the U. F. A. and if they decide that you have this power then we are willing to make it unanimous as we are quite sure we don't want to be a member of any local run on the lines We are not ashamed of our opinions expressed on any rubber at U. F. A. conventions even by some of members are.

Considerable time has been taken up in the local rules of order. At the one time there were words about "Yes" and "No" which the Mayor said I don't son think it would have been better to have been trying to agree before a vote was taken rather than instead of wasting time in debate on parliamentary procedure. It has an idea that if more time had been spent in real business that our membership would have increased Instead of decreased this past year. We firmly believe that it is continue to be among ourselves that there will be no increase in membership.

Now we have only one more matter upon which we wish to express our views and that is the action of the local on the 26th and 27th. Moved by L. McCallum seconded by F. Longley that we defray the expenses of one delegate to the provincial convention be instructed to support the motion toward the reduction of the fees of the secretaries due to the fact that the secretaries has to be assisted from lack of funds—Carried on a vote from the floor of 11 in spite of the fact that almost every citizen present out from the retail office realized that a large amount of very necessary work of

Hatred Bred in Europe Cannot be Cured by Aid from Without

The dangers of France are the children of Germany. The ideas which come to maturity twenty years from now are the hatreds sown in Europe. If there are to be four or five children in a German family and only two in a French family and if these children come to military age in a tradition of hatred and injustice, we see what can result.

Austria never will be reconstructed in the country of Europe. It must cease to exist either before or from within. The real question is whether it will be possible to make it peaceful. The Habsburg dynasty would be a convenient instrument in the shaping of a peaceful Austria, but it is not to be thought of. The Habsburgs have learned nothing and forgotten nothing. They would be ready to sign any treaty in order to get back to power and then repudiate it. Their whole training and tradition would make it impossible for them to govern constitutionally.

The first step I hope France will take is to lay one brick upon another. The rebuilding of the devastated areas is the first necessity. The second thing I want to see done is the disarmament of Germany. This disarmament must be carried out in such a way as to render it impossible for Germany to rearm. The third thing is to bring Germany into the League of Nations. The fourth thing is to establish a new relationship between France and Germany. This relationship must be based on the principle of equality. Germany must be treated as an equal. Only in this way can we hope to bring about a peaceful Europe.

THE STANDARD

Vermilion, Alta January 3rd 1923
S. R. P. COOPER, EDITOR

1922 is gone; 1923 is here. Another milestone is passed and we are freshly started for another lap on the long, uncertain course winding into the land. Four decades of south Africa years never seemed to come to an end; in our advanced years, how fleetly they glide by, at only seemed as yesterday since we ushered in the year 1922. It has always been thus and always will continue to be so; it is for us, one and all, to make the best of our opportunities, throw the broad mantle of charity around those less fortunate, stimulate others perhaps less gifted to active to greater exertions so that as each milestone is passed the doctrine of the "equal chance" and the teachings of the golden rule are made part of our lives and all for the good of mankind.

World [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] be something [illegible] [illegible] over four years since the roar of the guns ceased in the fields of France, [illegible] [illegible] have yet scarcely died away. Peers of the diplomatic corps of all Europe have been endeavoring to adjust grave and world-powers problems, with varying degrees of success. Once more Russia, then it is the far East or the near East and again it is France or Germany or Ireland. Great Britain appears to be the all-sufficient power among the other nations and as the chief peace throughout, likewise we find the continental powers jubilee themselves of much of their strangle-hold and world defiant policies with little old England doing the sifting. Wonderful people, wonderful statesmen, those Britishers.

The Irish question is settled to all intents and purposes, settled in Britain's own way. Let us hope that 1923 will see permanent peace [illegible] softly in the Green little Isle. The near East question is now uppermost in the minds of the diplomats of Europe, but it will be settled Britain's way and no other. The German reparation question is also looming large in European politics but it will be solved as Bonar Law will have it. Soviet Russia is rising out of the ashes of anarchy, crime and pestilence, but the dreams of a peaceful, prosperous state are yet many milestones from realization. The way is long and the Russian winter cold and dreary. There is nevertheless order being restored throughout the whole of Europe. Will 1923 see this order firmly established?

Canada has not seen the progress promised in the closing days of 1921. We have had large industrial struggles; labor and capital are still at daggers drawn. The crisis is one demanding wise and level-headed statesmanship. The farmer has his grievances and who hasn't? The crop of 1922 was a disappointment; prices have refused to as same higher levels and it has been for him a case of sacrifice all along the line. That has been a tremendous lot of unemployment and there does not appear to be any immediate remedy. The drift from the farm to the town and the city continues with no means of abating. We are yet some distance from the turning point; but we will eventually reach it—things cannot long continue as they are.

Provincially we have been more or less marking time. A change of government in 1921 was expected to bring relief but there has been no relief; taxes are higher than ever, vexatious laws have been passed and there has been a good deal of unnecessary disturbing of conditions more or less settled. Farmers, miners, laborers generally claim they are far less prosperous than they were a few years ago. They forget that they were living in inflated times during the war and here it is only now the panel of the cost of the war is being felt by them. There is nothing that can be done only to plod along the best we can. It is no use to grouch or grumble or worry—these will get one nowhere. The man to succeed is the man who smiles, smiles, smiles.

The Town of Vermilion may well be congratulated on its development during 1922. It was a hard and trying year with us all, rendered particularly so because of the increased burden of taxation, but our burden in that respect was not greater and not as great as that borne by other towns. The town ended the year, however, by clearing up its entire bank indebtedness for municipal purposes for the first time in its history. This augurs well for reduced taxation in 1923. Where a man owes a debt the best thing he can do it so grin and pay it. That is what we have done, and it was an awful nightmare. The year saw several substantial buildings erected; there have been no failures and tradesmen report business on the whole and under existing conditions quite satisfactory. There is little to fear for the incoming year. The sledding may be rough but we will turn the 1923 milestone with a smile. There is nothing to prevent it.

WOULD HAVE MAYOR LIKE KING SOLOMON IN ALL HIS GLORY

Gold Chain and Robe are Suggested for Edmonton's Chief Magistrate

That the mayor should wear a gold chain of office and a robe is the proposal made to him by an Edmonton citizen in a recent communication.

If anything like this is done, the city might go the whole way, and provide robes of office for the aldermen, a gold mace with sergeants-at-arms to guard it, a cocked hat for the city clerk, and ask the city solicitor to wear his wig and gown

PREMIER HAS MESSAGE FOR THE NEW YEAR

Declares Great Prosperity Is Ours If We Will All Get Together And Push

Ottawa, Jan. 1.—On the eve of the New Year, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, issued the following message to the people of Canada:

"The New Year in Canada dawns upon conditions of national prosperity and promise unsurpassed in any quarter of the globe. As a people we cannot be too thankful to providence for the many blessings we enjoy. 1922 has been a good year; it is ours to make a better of 1923. Individual endeavor and combined effort to contribute to what is best in our country's many-sided activities constitute the highest patriotism. No citizen is too humble to enjoy its opportunities or too great to escape patriotism in which all can share."

VENERABLE PRIMATE GETS OIL PAINTING FOR HIS BIRTHDAY

Archbishop Matheson Turns 70—Has Seen Wonderful Extension in the West

WINNIPEG, Jan. 1.—To mark the seventieth anniversary of his birth, a gathering of clergy and laity at Bishop's Gate today presented to Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada, a portrait of himself in oils done by J. W. L. Forester of Toronto.

His grace, in replying to a formal address, said that during his tenure of office as bishop of Rupert's Land and primate of all Canada he had seen the erection of 123 new churches, he had ordained 125 clergymen and had confirmed more than sixteen thousand candidates and had consecrated thirteen bishops.

(Vegreville Observer)

We note in the Vermilion Standard that matters have come to such a pass in that town that rentals of the school accommodation has been cancelled and they will endeavor to worry along with fewer teachers and less expense. The savings effected amount to approximately $2000 per year.

Somehow it seems to us that about the last place to start shutting off expenses is in the schools. By that we do not mean that school boards should be permitted to throw money to the birds without being held to severely for it. But we do mean that as long as it is humanly possible to do so school privileges should be placed within the reach of all children of school age within a district. We doubt very much whether the saving of $2000 will make any noticeable difference in the Vermilion school tax rate and it is to be much deplored by our time down the educational advantages hitherto enjoyed when the remedy will be worse than the disease.

It is an absolute fact that school taxes are only too frequently the only form of taxes from which direct, tangible results are obtained

CAMPBELL LAKE - ISLAND HILL U. F. A. SKATING CARNIVAL

Ladies Serve Bounteous Supper Before Huge Bon-Fire

Kaleidoscopic effects and changerung in a programme of infinite variety, with rapid transitions from comedy to the "acme of elegance and height of gentility," combined to make the carnival staged at Hall's lake by the Campbell Lake and Island Hill skating clubs, last Friday night, a climatic success. Seldom has so ambitious a show of the kind been staged in this district and seldom have the members of any organization displayed such spirit and fashion in helping the thing to one. Three skating speed skating comedy stunts and not only were they among the best offered and were received with hearty appreciation by the large number of skaters and spectators.

All the events on the long and varied programme were closely contested by the entrants—and there were many of the contests started to the tune of the two popular and imperial anthems. H. H. Evans and Isaac Pimblett, both veteran curlers, still play the game, on both sides of the Atlantic, and during their visits to Vermilion have been invited to take part in an exciting curling contest. Those who attended on Thursday evening are being asked to have another of its kind put on in the near future and such is likely to materialize before long.

The costumes both in the dignified events and those of a frankly humorous character, were excellent and when the spectators were not "lost in laughter" at the antics of the "clown act" element they were lost in admiration of the infinite grace of the skaters. The following were the winners of the prizes offered: Best Hard Times—Ladies', Maude Pinchbeck; Gents, Phillip Mix. Best Characteristic or Representative Costume—Ladies, Vera Sullivan. Gents, Percy Scarfe and Alfred Pinchbeck, tied.

Novelty Race— Maude Pinchbeck and Bert Scarfe. This event was keenly contested and brought out no less than 14 entrants

Fancy Skating—Ira Armstrong

Special for Best Lady Skater—Hockey's cake, donated by Geo. White—Won by Maude Pinchbeck.

At the conclusion of the splendid programme a huge bon-fire was made when the refreshments could be seen for miles around. Tea and coffee was made and the lady members of both clubs served a bounteous supper which was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present. About 11 30 the crowd dispersed all feeling that the time was worth while.

Owing to lack of space The Standard regrets that it is unable to chron icle a detailed account of this most successful affair

WAINWRIGHT HANGS UP 3 - 2 VICTORY IN SECOND CONTEST

Kimble, for Wainwright, Notched All Three Goals—Two Tallies Registered While Rosabeck, Scarfe and C. Barr Were Off the Ice

FARMERS WITHOUT MANAGER

It was one of those games that was a tough one to lose but a dan dy one to win; at least this is what the Vermilion hockey enthusiasts think, and we agree with them. By outskating their opponents in the fast stanza in one of the keenest contested battles ever witnessed at the Arena ice palace, and delivering more punches in the pinches, the Wainwright puck manipulators last Monday afternoon won their second game of the season from the Vermilion boys and went back to the buffalo town with the long end of a 3-2 score.

Good Crowd on Hand

As a battle royal was fully expected between these two outfits several hundred hockey fans wended their way down the hill on New Year's day to witness the encounter. Undoubtedly the cold kept many more away.

First Period Was Ragged

The first frame was real ragged hockey. It seemed that neither team could uncover any of their usual speed. The first forty minutes of the game was also a good deal in keep the ex-Chautauqua fans entertained. Well the invaders won by a one goal margin in it was not until the closing minutes of the final period that the Wainwright speed merchants felt really confident of a win. But Kimble, the visitors heady left winger, took a pass from Morris and belted the rubber rubber past Brad King with only seven minutes of the period left to play all one; but the shooting.

Locals Neat Combination

In the dying moments of the game the Lemonites executed one neat combination of wicked hockey that is to be hoped a Vermilion team will use on the gridiron in some future contest. It is fully understood that the locals will bestow on the outfit a warm welcome when it comes to a game and if the W. A. forward crew will play combination ball here pounding hard every time it does it will keep opposing goals a real rare sight.

Rosabeck Opened the Scoring

The battle waged in an even fashion during the first twenty minutes of the opening frame the honors in the play a shade the better of the going Ross Beck brought a flash beam of sunshine into the Vermilion camp when he beat Brubaker with a hard flip from inside the blue line after the game had been in progress a little over 13 minutes. Five minutes later Kimble snapped up a nice pass from Pearce and evened the score by beating goalie King. The period ended one goal each. There was no scoring the third session. Vermilion did most of the attacking but were unable to connect and Brubaker in the three-corner handled all that came his way.

Final Frame Was Fast

The final stanza undoubtedly saw the best play of the afternoon. Both teams wanted the tangata from game to game in an effort to break the tie score. Kimble combined with Morris for the third tally, the two going the ice in perfect fashion, and Kimble doing the needful. The home crew was finding the pace unpleasant and this player added to the trouble by beating his second goal in less than three minutes time, which proved the deciding notcher.

C. Barr Gets One

Currie carried the disc down the left wing four minutes later, skated around Mackay and passed to C Barr who slammed the rubber home for the final tally of the strenuous encounter

The line-up follows

Wainwright	Position	Vermilion
Brubaker	goal	King

That Mayor Morrison's taxation proposals are sound is attested by the fact that they are in line with our own ideas on the subject. We claim that single tax penalizes thrift and industry and puts a premium upon impudent and shiftlessness. We would go further than the mayor suggested by making additional use of a poll tax somewhat after the manner of British Columbia where no other means are available on compelling an able-bodied man to pay direct taxation toward the cost of the common benefits conferred by law. In this respect the leaders of the U. F. A. and kindred bodies are "some economists—we don't think. It would not at the present time be quixotic easy to round up the slackers at election time if the truth were told them and their pocketbook stopped.

Candidates of Citizens' Com. Should Announce Themselves

The public meeting called by the Citizens' Committee is not of such distant date as to be written off as past history. Certain demands were put forth on that occasion and the members of the committee augmented with the object of formulating a platform, to which candidates for municipal honors or dishonors would pledge themselves to put into effect if elected. The memoranda embracing these was laid before the Council and dealt with by that body in an executive and impartial manner The date of the town elections is drawing near and no more opportune time is afforded in announce the slate of candidates the committee intend to place in the field in opposition to the policy of the present governing body The columns of this paper have always been open for the expression of views on public issues to any citizen interested enough in the welfare of the town to advance ideas tending in his betterment or the ultimate solving of the heavy burden of taxation under which each and all are groaning Up to the present the standard has been unable to procure sufficiently reliable information regarding the candidates as would warrant it in making an announcement. Matters may be well advanced in spite of this but the former before the burgesses are of such vital moment that eleventh hour candidates for either the town council or the school board are to be shunned. The crucial test in the affairs of the town and school board has been reached and a tremendous responsibility will rest upon each and every member of the two governing bodies during 1923.

Mayor Torrison has completed his second term of office as chief executive officer with four years' continuous service That he has throughout his tenure of office been actuated by only the principle of serving the town and promoting its very best interests

—cannot be gainsaid The three retiring councillors are P. C. Lake, W A. Primacombe and W H Duncan Councillors Cooper, Wiebe and Cook have another year to serve the school board though they have the privilege of resigning if they so desire The school board which consists of four members, two retire this year namely W. P. Pibble (Chairman) and J. J. Dunaway. The other three members of the board are W. S Cash M H Primacombe and H P Long (Secy. Treas.)

Canadian Beef Problem

Livestock Trade Will Expand If Most Consumers Are Satisfied

Two factors, both international in character seem to emphasize the extreme gravity of a serious beef cattle problem in Canada which ought to be a matter of concern to every interested in great industry. In a nutshell it may be said that only about ten per cent. of the cattle raised yearly have the breeding or are finished well enough to yield best or good quality beef. A NATIONAL HIGHWAY FOR TOURISTS, OR GOOD ROADS FOR FARMERS?

During the past year we witnessed an active movement afoot, the lines of the building of a national highway, or a leading road across Alberta from the Saskatchewan boundary to that of British Columbia. One of the main points brought out by its advocates was the immense amount of tourist traffic and incidentally trade, it would bring into the province To construct anything that could be classified as a tourist highway, high standards would have to be maintained and the materials used in the building of such a highway of necessity must be those giving a hard, smooth and unwearable surface It will not be denied that the cost of constructing the same will reach a tremendous figure. It would give a finished road between towns it is true and only in so far as these would directly benefit the rural communities, the biggest and most important road problem confronting the province today is bound to remain unsolved, namely, the real highways to market from out the farmer. The matter is of double importance and growing more serious year by year owing to the fact that outlying districts settled sixteen years ago are still without a railway. Cultivation of rich farm lands has been carried on and many farmers are only growing the coarser grains owing to long hauls and indifferent trails The effects of these conditions are most marked and becoming more serious as time passes With the limited means at their disposal municipal districts are working laboriously on building a road here and another there but the territory to be covered is so enormous that years must pass before any kind of a system of a main low grade trail to market towns will attain tangible form, and material prosperity which must come from agricultural success will be slow and tedious, if not discouraging.

Under the system of resident district engineers inaugurated by the provincial government last year, much good is bound to result, as that all assistance by way of government grants will be spent where most required and the work completed to a set standard. To our mind one of the biggest aids towards a return to prosperity is the building of main market roads for the farmer The municipalities can devote their attention to the side trails leading to same. Only by active measures in this direction, under government supervision and and, is it going to be possible to permit the agriculturists to develop their holdings, and reap the reward of years of isolation and expectation.

AMERICAN RELIEF ASSOCIATION

January 4th, 1923.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA:

A cry comes from Eternity. A million murdered Armenians are pleading with Civilisation to care for the battered remnants of an ancient race.

A cry comes out of the East. Two hundred and fifty thousand little children are asking for a chance to live. They are the orphans of Armenia. Their fathers and mothers were murdered by the Turks; and now they feebly clutch at life, in weariness and hunger. Across the world they knock timidly at your door for mercy. Will you not answer their appeal?

A cry comes from Him who made us all. God says:—"He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord."

To Canada come these three cries.

Thus the question comes to YOU. Its answer NOW is your responsibility and your privilege.

Please send your contribution to the Treasurer, Mr. C.W. Rowley, the Canadian Bank of Commerce Winnipeg, Man.

If you should desire further information, write to the Winnipeg address or to the Secretary at Toronto.

A. J. VINING, General Secretary.

A special meeting of the shareholders of United Grain Growers Limited, of record at Vermilion Local, will be held in the Brimacombe Hall in Vermilion on Saturday afternoon, January 20th, 1923 commencing at 2 o'clock.

The business to come before the meeting will include:

1. Receiving the report of the delegate from Vermilion Local to the annual meeting of the company.
2. Any other business which may be brought forward.

As this is a very important meeting, all shareholders should make a point to be present as business in which you are greatly interested will be transacted.

Self-interest, of a perfectly legitimate character, tempts men into an interest in public affairs in the West. Because the country is new and towns small the live business man recognizes that he can effectively push his own business by helping his town along. Not uncommonly a man goes into business here under conditions, which if permanent would spell disaster, and which he knows could spell nothing else. His eye is not on the things that are but the things that he expects to be. If the town prospers as its resources entitle it to prosper all will be well with him. Otherwise he must bear his finish. Naturally enough he throws himself into the effort to advance the interests of the town—as a means of advancing his own interests. And he is in every way justified in doing so. Over-anxiety for advancement sometimes leads a town into trouble, as it does an individual; but in the aggregate it is in every way more desirable that men should be anxious to advance their community than indifferent to its opportunities.

The board of trade offers a ready and effective means of taking an honorable and useful part in directing the affairs of the community. Its members are not elected and make no pretensions to always represent the popular opinion. But the board usually includes the men recognized as leaders in the community and their collective advice goes far with both public and the elected representatives of the public. It is due to the western business men to say that while individuals may have occasionally made unwarrantable representations regarding their respective communities the boards of trade have well sustained their reputation for reliability. While self-interest is a spur to activity in promoting rapid increase of population the boards have not allowed themselves to be made the mouth-piece of self-interest of the unscrupulous brand.

Right Policy Outlined By Mayor Morrison, Says Former Councillor

Standard Welcome Arrival

Mr. S. R. P. Cooper.
Vermilion, Alta.

Dear Sir,—I thought I would like to start the New Year right by giving you a few dollars to keep you and incidentally your paper on the map We have been receiving your Standard regularly and are always looking forward for it, in fact we would not like to be without it.

I see you are having your trials and tribulations re civic matters; it is a hard problem to solve but I think Mayor Morrison has outlined the right policy to follow.

How is curling getting along this year? I would like to be back at it and get even with you once more for that trimming you gave me a few years ago. I will close wishing you all a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Yours truly,

J. LAW.

Below is published the best essay on the Landonville district by a pupil of the Louise Lake school. Mrs. Maud S. Tully is the teacher.

LANDONVILLE

Landonville is a farming district, 24 miles north and 4 miles east of Vermilion. The land is level and in the early days was covered with brush and many sloughs.

The first settlers came in 1906. They were Dan and George Richardson. They knew good land when they saw it and stayed. Then, the only road to Vermilion went around by Dewberry making the distance about 50 miles to town. They did not go very often. They drove ox-teams and it would take all of from five to seven days to make the trip to Vermilion and back.

A lot of old-timers like Semple, Wilson and Cavil came in that same fall and in 1907 such well-known names as Wil and Harold Dorey, Hennessy and Stanley brothers came and settled in the new district. The men all went together and cut through a trail east of Rat's Lake by Wellichal, shortening the road to town a lot. In the Vermilion post office was a list of the names of all the settlers in this district called "Cavil's list." Anyone who went to town called for Cavil's list and brought all the mail out to Mr. Cavil's.

At this time a Methodist minister sometimes preached at Cavel's. In these days, one old timer tells of wading waist deep through sloughs in walking from Vermilion to his homestead. Move settlers were coming all the time. In 1907 J. H. Landon came, built a store and post office and so Landonville got its name. Then a mail route was started and mail brought once a week. The next year the Louise Lake school was built. That fall the straight road to Vermilion, now called the Landonville Trail, was cut through.

In 1913 a telephone was installed at the store.

The country, which at that time was covered with brush, now is growing No. 1 wheat. Farmers for as far as twenty miles around come to Landonville to buy seed grain.

A great number of hogs are raised in the district providing a profitable outlet for poorer grades of grain.

People coming from the south, over all the hills north of Ruaylria, and wondering how many more there are, feel surprised, when suddenly the Landonville district is reached, to find smooth, level roads, level well-cultivated farms, comfortable barns and good houses.

Now ox-teams are a thing of the past and good horses are used, many automobiles, motor trucks and tractors in Landonville.

On the west side of the district is Louise Lake. The district drains by creeks east into the Big Coulee connecting with the Saskatchewan. There is always a lot of moisture. In this year of poor crops Landonville stood out alone.

Some people say they never had better wheat and another tells of 80 bus. of oats to the acre. Five threshing outfits were working here at once.

In the summer there are many song birds, there are still nice groves for them to nest in. This winter I saw chicken and blackbirds as late as Dec. 16th and new Finds are coming all the time. This winter we have seen magpies, Hungarian partridge and pairgan. When you come to Landonville you will hear birds singing in the winter time.

In the winter of 1922, Landon's store burned down but this summer was replaced by a large modern store, furnace heated, electric lighted. In the store is a phone booth for the use of the public. A mail stage carries mail and passenger twice a week. In summer an auto truck twice a week carries passengers and freight.

Desert Land at $300 Per Acre-Attractive Proposition Yankee Speculators

(By C. G. Porter)

"Desert land at $300 an acre." That's the attractive (?) proportion scores of Yankee speculators from the south western United States are flooding Western Canada with just now. The widely advertised trek of Mennonites from the Canadian Prairies seems to have convinced a horde of get-rich-quick birds in the United States that a great exodus has set in among people from Canada.

One firm has opened headquarters in Winnipeg and another western concern advertising the Rio Grande Valley Another has four hundred acres on the edge of the great desert east of New Mexico and close to the California line. They want one half cash on these desert fruit farms and the balance goes after one year's time. Now for the usual optimistic energy of that class of land speculators these desert land possessions are fairly dripping with Indian maize with beautifully illustrated pamphlets, folders and general literature describing beautiful farm homes with orange groves in the distance, tropical growths on all sides and a variety of fine stock. To stamp the whole an array of figures showing each acre bringing in an income of $8,000 per year, but with these qualifying words "if properly cultivated."

One of these organizations is advertising a special excursion coming to Western Canada twice a month to the Rio Grande valley for $100 with all expenses here included. Just how much expense does they are doing on the prairies is not established, but they are hopeful. One of these "boosters" is a member of the Winnipeg branch said to the Manitoban "We always sell a certain percentage of those who go on our excursions. We have some forty thousand acres under irrigation, owned by a wealthy man who wants to help settle up the valley with sturdy northern men. A good fruit farmer can get rich down there in a few years, rich," and he rolled out the last word and flourished his arms in true "Get Mothery Seller" style. But many of the Winnipeggers who went to Mexico are returning to the Canadian prairies They did not find the land as promised all it had been painted and these space hunters are proud that they are patriots.

HOLDING CATTLE

EXPECT HIGHER PRICES MARCH OR APRIL

Farmers of Vermilion District Prepare for Winter. Methods of Grain Feeding:

Contracts Are Favored For Spring Delivery

A prominent farmer and stockman of the L. and C. district visited Vermilion on Friday, January 5th and stated that he was quite in accord with F. Burns the cattle king, that every effort should be made on the part of farmers and stock raisers to hold their cattle until the spring.

"There is every prospect of better prices in March and April," Mr. Burns said "The advice that this cattleman gives is thoroughly sound of course, I know in some cases it is a most difficult matter to carry over stockmen to hold on until then, owing to if feed and on to bring in urgent need in funds cattle are bringing at the present time, but in an unfinished state however, are not to be sacrificed at

This same stockman thought the suggestion of employing steamers of the Canadian Merchant Marine to carry cattle to the old country now that the embargo had been removed was certainly worth consideration by the officials of Ottawa. These boats should have been used for this purpose last May, he said. With his feeding in mind, he would have helped the situation considerable.

With regard to the United States tariff, he is of the opinion that the lifting of the British embargo will probably have the effect of the present tariff being modified. There was not the slightest doubt in his mind that American farmers were beginning to realize that the tariff was not operating in the direction anticipated.

Stockmen Prepare

Many stockmen this year in this district are grain feeding cattle as it pays in every prospect of better prices being secured in March and April. Many farmers are feeding a couple while others are only grain feeding from 5 to 10 head A cattle buyer from the coast was in this district the early part of last December and contracted for several hundred head to be delivered in March and April. It is generally understood that prices to be paid is 5½ to 6 cents for choice steers and 4½ to 5 cents for heifers

PATRONISE YOUR HOME INDUSTRIES

It should be made a fundamental principle to buy every thing possible in your own home town — this point to make better business, better friends and in the proper co-operative spirit which builds up communities. There is a thought in the minds of some people that more favorable consideration and results may be obtained, particularly when they contemplate a lengthy trip, that the local agent of the transportation company is in a position to give all and authoritative information and to furnish transportation at the minimum expense to the purchaser. This idea is not correct, as the Local Agents of the Canadian National Railways are furnished with tariffs, etc., which contain the same information as may be obtained from the Agents at the more important business centres. Local agents are in a position to give their immediate neighbors and coal-mine special attention so as to make their trip as comfortable and expeditious as possible

The Canadian National Railways, therefore, have and desire to encourage in every case the patronage of Dealers, whether of short or long haul routes, from Local Agents, being satisfied that this is the most economical which is, and will be, appreciated.

Items of Interest culled from the past

Mrs. Harry Palmer, Campbell Lake, was taken very ill last week with kidney trouble, her condition being considered precarious.

W. B. Hayward has returned from the south with as fine a bunch of horses as one would wish to see.

Wm. Telford has removed from the west side of the town to the more thickly settled residential portion, just east of the Methodist church.

H. H. Stephens of the firm of Stephens and Stephens, accompanied by Mrs. Stephens and the family left for the east last week, where they will visit former scenes in Ontario.

Mr. Walker of Winnipeg, chief air brake inspector for the C. N. R., is visiting his sister Mrs. Rankin south of town. Mr. Walker, who is taking up divinity, conducted the services at Dewberry and Rankin's on Sunday and will also officiate next Sunday.

The wild fruits are plentiful again this year Saskatoons, gooseberries, currants and raspberries are all ripe and will be here presently. We also have the advantage of the opportunity of preserving these luscious fruits for the winter months, and Mrs. Rankin south of town, is the first housewife to take advantage of the opportunity.

Fascinating Stories

Two fascinating stories are advertised and readers will commence this week in The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal The Kind Across by H A Cody takes one back to stirring times in the picturesque days of the Tudors and the Virgin Queen Elizabeth. The Across Fever is a mystery story in a real sense. The characters alone are worth reading about. Both stories are complete in this week's issue.

A special interest has been manifested in tree planting in the Dauphin, Turtle Mountain and Swan River districts and there is a great deal more to be done in that line before Spring. Many of the municipalities are planning to set out a large number of trees and the Department of Agriculture is also taking an active interest in the matter. Applications for trees should be made at once to the Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa, and all information and literature can be obtained from the same source.

Copper Horseshoes

Now Used As a Means of Preventing Forest Fires

Upon the recommendation of a branch of the forestry service, horseshoes made of copper will be used in place of steel in the forests of Canada, as a means of preventing fires. Experiments are carried into effect this month with suppliers of copper shoes, and if the plan proves successful it is expected that the use of copper horseshoes will be extended to other districts where there is an abundance of fire hazard. According to the manufacturers, copper shoes are said to endure equally as long as steel shoes, and in fact, mountaineers and others who have been the users of copper shoes say that the copper shoes are better than steel shoes, as they do not slip on rocks, and are more comfortable for the horses. Copper shoes are also said to be unbreakable, and will not cause lameness, as is often the case when a horse slips and breaks a leg.

Sentenced To Death No Appeal Possible

Leo Ulrich, warrant is passed out for his execution in the month of April, 1924, at Leavenworth penitentiary, Kansas, by Judge Pollock, who sentenced him to death for the murder of Deputy Marshal Frank Loyd, at Wichita, Kansas, on October 20, 1922. Ulrich was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury in the federal district court at Wichita, and sentenced to death by Judge Pollock. Ulrich's attorneys have announced that no appeal will be taken from the decision of the court, and that Ulrich will not ask executive clemency. He also has declined to accept the services of a chaplain. Ulrich is a full-blooded Indian, and is a member of the Osage tribe. He is now in the death house at Leavenworth penitentiary, awaiting the day of execution.

Experimental Plant for Briquettes

An experimental plant in Lower Canada is to be established for the manufacture of briquettes from peat, according to announcement made by the minister of mines. The plant will be established at Lanoraie, Lanoraie county, and will be in charge of Dr. Haanel, director of the mines branch. The plant will be established at a cost of $50,000, and will have a capacity of 10 tons per hour. The minister of mines says that the government has been experimenting with peat for the past 15 years, and that it is now ready to go into the business of manufacturing briquettes on a commercial scale. WHY RHEUMATISM OFTEN COMES BACK

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach the Root of the Trouble

Rheumatism is a disease of the blood. Rubbing the joints with liniments or taking pain killing drugs does not cure rheumatism. It only deadens the pain for a time. Then it comes back worse than ever. Rheumatism which caused one sufferer to be confined to bed for months, and which was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, is described in a letter received from Mrs. Wm. Williams, Pink Pills and I am glad to say that I have not had a touch of rheumatism since. I have also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I feel very much benefited by using it. enough for you, so man is. You don't really care so much for him, do you?"

Sir. don't I?" She viewed her tutor through half closed lids. In a quizzical way. "I care so very much for him that if I really thought there was another girl, I would go to Cyril Young tomorrow. You'd have to stop writing love tales to me."

Her father gently pinched her cheek.

"I would, eh? Well, now I'll have to go and there anyway. But do you realize what Crawling Water is like—a rough, frontier town?"

"I wouldn't mind that for a while, I suppose. You've got to get on your old dad in time to be a real city-slicker. There's some fool since our there who'd be mighty glad to see your pretty face. Race horse."

"My Mona."

The sudden change in the girl's tone from tenderness to scorn caused the man a vantage of uneasiness. His plans were so closely linked with Mona's that the prospect that the man might grow dangerous if his love for her was too openly scorned. That she could scarcely tolerate him, if he were his ability and force of character, he knew from the past few years in the management of his need he did not hesitate to influence her in Mona's favour. His love for her was genuine enough.

His keen gaze there for some time, then spoke:

"Yes, I know that. He—he has written me, although he never mentioned his letters. I've been curious to hear from him again, because I promised to send me some kodaks or Crawling Water."

Helen's lip curled in disdain

"He'd never let a little thing like that stop him. But perhaps he has. I answer the first one, if only to find out what he's doing on out there. He's an so very mysterious. Do you know, father,—Her playful tone made her forget at him. This is the first time in a long while that you haven't taken me into your confidence and I think it a very ominous sign. I'm sure I will be published for it."

The Senator winced at the word published, and Helen laughed at what she thought was the effect of her real words.

"Why don't you tell me." You see, I'm so worried about Langdon. Really, father, I'm serious about that. I love him, and I don't want him to be unhappy."

"Hope! Why, who is thinking of hurting him?"

"I don't know Moran hates him and has referred to him more or less in a way that I do not understand. He will be published for it."

"Oh, well, my dear, there's really nothing to tell. It's all connected with some homestead lands out there that I want to get hold of for the investment. Wade will not be hurt. In fact, he won't feel it if he hasn't me out. If I win, he'll lose."

"He will?"

"We both can't win, of course. It's to be a fight, you an unknown land seeker struggle I hope. There's no reason why it is to be otherwise." The Senator appeared strangely nervous. Despite his effort at self-control. "Wade as a man and a Westerner doesn't expect to be led on pap, you know. He may lose more than I do. Run him, that's the way of it."

Helen thought this over in silence with eyes.

Perhaps I'd better go out there with you, after all," she remarked. "I'll see.

Then the Senator thought that over a bit, and did not like the result.

Next day Helen received a package by mail which proved to contain a dozen clear photographs of Crawling Water and its neighborhood.

First of all, as though Moran knew that it was important, was a snapshot of himself which had been taken by the side of the street on the bank of the river. On the back of the print, by an obliging cowboy, Moran's face was a study in amused chagrin as she looked at the photograph for which Moran has posed with a cigar in his mouth, his hands in his pockets.

Then there were a number of views of the town itself; of its main street, its hotel, its dance hall, and of "some of the boys" in various poses of photographic self consciousness. There were also pictures of the surrounding beautiful country side, but as she near the end of them, Helen was disappointed to find none of Wade. "Oh," she said petulantly to herself, "he could probably running through the remainder of the films. The next snapshot at the very last, while a rosy flush crept over her cheek and neck.

The little photograph showed a tall handsome, vigorous looking man, in the garb of a cattleman, half turned in his saddle, with one hand resting on his pony's flank. The man was Wade Wade, and the picture he was pointing ahead, apparently for the benefit of a group of very good looking girls whose slim head was thrown back, as the wind blew her hair into pretty disorder.

Helen Rexhill had not hitherto experienced real jealousy, but this little photograph excited it. In the bright artificial light of a crowded ballroom she would scarcely tolerate him, if he were his ability and force of character, she knew from the past few years in the management of his need he did not hesitate to influence her in Mona's favour. His love for her was genuine enough.

"Then I Took Tanlac," Says Engineer, "And It Made Me Strong As Ever"

"I have a world of confidence in Tanlac for I have taken it and know what it will do," declares John Monan, well known stationary engineer residing at 2125 Osler St., Regina, Sask.

"For several months I was in a badly run down condition generally. I lost weight until I was just a shadow of my former self and got so weak and tired out it was all I could do to keep working. My appetite was about gone, and even when I did manage to eat it never seemed to agree with me or do me any good. I couldn't sleep at all, got up mornings dead on my feet, and the least little exertion wore me completely out.

"I don't believe I could have stayed on the job much longer if it hadn't been for Tanlac. I took several bottles and it not only ended all my troubles but built me up ten pounds better than my normal weight is, and I'm free to say that Tanlac is certainly the finest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is for sale by all good drug stores.

Gramophone That Talks

A Wonderful Automatic device invented in Britain

Hooted in the air by the director of a city's water supply devices to know the state of one of his reservoirs lying two among the hills. A man presses a button and places an ordinary telephone receiver to his ear. "Six five—four," says a thing. The man then knows that the depth of the water at that moment is 65½ feet.

There is no human being at the other end of the line. The words are spoken by a gramophone. The depth of the water is measured by automatic gauges, and the results are conveyed by a wonderful automatic device in use in Britain. The record upon the machine contains readings of depths running in half feet from zonglet to the maximum depth of the reservoir. The needle is engaged by a float which is a definite pulley system to a float which rises and falls with the rise of the water. As the float moves upwards or downwards the needle changes its position, bumping always over the groove in the record which contains the words stating the actual depth. Thus the other gramophone at the electric current sets the disc in motion and brings the needle into contact with it. As soon as the message has been delivered the record stops automatically, and the needle is raised.

A Mystery Machine

New Form of Helicopter Being Tested in England

It has been known to air circles that a new and strange form of helicopter or "direct lift" air machines is being tested in Great Britain for an attempt to win the £1,000 air ship safety prize for a flying machine of this type which inflicts certain conditions as to the height it attains and the distance it carries.

Curved surfaces, like sections of aeroplane wings, mounted on metal arms revolving horizontally round a central platform are, it is known, to be driven at a great speed in this mystery machine by a 450-horse power Napier "Lion" engine, while in the later and larger models a great Napier "Cub" motor, developing 1,000 horsepower, will be employed. The whirling, cambered planes, or vanes, acting in a sense like the ordinary wing of an aeroplane when forced rapidly through the air is expected to develop a lifting power never before attained in any such experimental machine

"YOUR TEETH"

VITAMINES

By Ben Proctor McCue, M.D., D.D.S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

When you improve your own health and save food at the same time, you not only benefitting yourself but you are doing a service to your country. The study of the correct preparation of foods and the proper balance of the many kinds of nutrition being carried on by the government and by many of the scientific institutions in America.

It has been proved beyond a doubt that a diet that lacks certain of the necessary elements of nutrition and of growth will always lower the bodily resistance and will frequently cause such diseases as scurvy, rickets, pellagra and beri beri. These very necessary elements in food are known as vitamines.

The vitamines are unknown chemical substances that have been discovered by experimental feeding. They can be removed from foods by chemical means and at present are divided into groups known as fat soluble "A" and water soluble "B."

These vitamines are called "unknown" because their chemical formula has not yet been determined. Their effect has been proved by removing them from food of known value and feeding this food to animals. The animals rapidly decline in weight and condition and died unless the vitamines were restored to the food. These experiments have called attention to many mysteries of nutrition that will require years to solve.

We can therefore certain that the loss our food is tampered with before it comes to us and the better we chew it the more value we get from it. Consequently we will have our share of vitamins.

Many people suffer from a lack of these necessary food elements even though their food contains them in abundance because they are unable to chew their food in sufficient to permit the digestion and the vitamins are thrown out as waste matter.

If you wish to get the greatest benefit out of your food you must have a good set of teeth in good condition and in addition you must use them for what they were made.

A Conundrum

Did the Automobile Create Wealth or Waste in the Automobile?

It is now estimated that our neighbors to the south are spending seven thousand, seven hundred and eighty three millions on dollars a year on motoring—automobiles, gasoline, repairs and license fees. Twenty five years ago, the automobile did not exist. Also, twenty five years ago $2,782 millions dollars was a sum enormous that even our energetic American friends would never have thought of. Now, we believe that anything 1926 the automobile create this tax-sum, or did the east sum create the automobile?—Border Cities Star.

Satisfaction In United Kingdom Over Canada's Participation In British Empire Exhibition

London.—Canada's decision to join in the British Empire Exhibition on a scale equal to that of Australia has given great satisfaction in the United Kingdom.

As Lar back as June 7th, 1920, at a meeting convened by the Prince of Wales, Sir George Perley, then High Commissioner for the Dominion, supported a resolution cordially endorsing the proposal to hold the exhibition and pledging whole-hearted support to the project.

But the final decision as to space was eagerly awaited, not only by the Council of the Exhibition, but also by the vast army of supporters of this movement to promote trade within the Empire. That decision subject, of course, to the satisfactory report of the Hon Commissioner—has been heartily welcomed.

Now will develop that the prime necessity of British commerce today is to develop the inexhaustible resources at its doors, if for no better reason than to make up for the loss of those markets which are now practically closed to it on the continent, and which the Fordney Tariff Act is practically closing in the U.S.A.

Despite the tragical burden of taxation, there is no lack of capital at home, and keener competitors there might well follow the example of some of the leading business corporations of Great Britain which established their works in Canada and Australia. The premier Dominion offers unrivalled opportunity for investment, she has all the necessities of life within her widely territory, and her resources in agriculture, timber and minerals. Schories are unparalleled

If further proof of real prosperity is needed, it is found in the official statement that new is in the world, with the possible exception of New Zealand, to the buying power which is as high as in that portion of the United States which lies within the Great Lakes and the Pacific coast.

But what Canada wants perhaps more than capital is immigration; she rightly insists on a proper selection of the right type of settler, and her railroad manufacturers, as the result of a better knowledge of the potentialities of Canada, which have recently pushed in the British Empire Exhibition will ensure—could take with them the skilled workers who have helped to build up their business at home. Gave Railroad Bridge Away

Lucky Owners Now Sell Structure for $585,000

Twelve years ago the Pennsylvania Railroad ran a swap on old bridge over the Susquehanna River at Havre de Grace to private interests; the building of a new bridge had made it, as generally valueless. Automobiles were then have been crossing the structure in increasing numbers, and the men who got the bridge for nothing in 1910 recently sold it to the state of Maryland for, $585,000 And in the 12 years it was in their possession they collected $370,000 in tolls, all in small charges collected from motor cars

When the new bridge made the old one of doubtful use, the railroad company offered it first to the state and then to the county, but without success. Then it occupied it, the company continued with the necessity of removal it, which would have been very expensive. Finally the company changed it from a railroad bridge to a highway bridge, and soon widened itself lucky in finding a group of Maryland men who consented to accept the structure, which originally cost $2,000,000, as a gift.

The recipients put up $200 to organize a company. Last year the net returns from the bridge were $67,000. The state will continue to collect tolls until 1938, by which date it estimated the proceeds will retire the bonds issued against the purchase price of $585,000.

What Real Religion Is

Bearing Each Other Burdens Bays Sir Arthur Currie

I am no preacher, but I am always willing to bear testimony to the Power which translates that useless formula, that no man or nation can be truly great unless they acknowledge that Power. Oftentimes it said that war that Christianity has failed. Nothing was further from the truth. Christianity did not fail in the war, it proved that the war failed of Christianity. I don't want you to get the idea that religion is something that you have to go on Sundays. It is service; It is sacrifice, It is usefulness; it is humility; it is prayer, it is penitence. It is belief in God and bearing one another's burdens. I may have expressed myself differently in different centuries ago. In the war it was directed of all the trappings which it has to-day.

MANNVILLE SCOTCHMEN ATTACH BLAIR CUP BY ONE WEE POINT

Competition Saturday Night Saw Two of Best Curling Games Yet Played in the Event — Is a Double Rink Draw.

MANNVILLE 21—VERMILION 20

With the game on number three in finished between McKinnon of Mannville and Dr F Day Smith, the score was 16 to 9 in favor of the doctor On number 2, Manville lay 1 with the last rock of the end to play, making the total score a tie, 20 to 20. The play ing of an extra end on each sheet or the winning of the cup depended on the Manville skip's last rock. The play was equal to the occasion, however, making a beautiful draw alongside his counter which he lightly chipped and rounted 2 and deciding the fate of the trophy for a few days at least.

PATRONIZE YOUR HOME INDUSTRIES

It should be made a fundamental principle to buy every thing possible a your own home town — this goes to make better business, better friends and in the proper co-operative spirit which builds up communities. There is a thought in the minds of some people that more harmonious conditions and results may be obtained, particularly when they contemplate a lengthy trip, that the local Agents of the transportation company is not in a position to give all and authoritative information and to furnish transportation at the minimum expense to the purchaser. This idea is not correct, as the Local Agents of the Canadian National Railways are furnished with tariffs, etc., which contain the same forms and information as may be obtained from the Agents at the more important business centres. Local agents are in a position to give their immediate neighbors and customers special attention so as to make their trip as comfortable and expeditious as possible.

The Canadian National Railways, therefore, invite the Orders to encourage in every case the purchasing of tickets, whether of short or long haul nature, from Local Agents, being satisfied that this is the proper spirit which is, and will be, appreciated.

CLAYSMORE
(From our own Correspondent)

It's a cinch Uncle Henry Thornton didn't lift the embargo on railway employees political aspirations much too soon to suit Bill Fallow Atta boy Bill, hop to it, old kid!

"Of course there is no politics in civic elections." But as we have been in the West the last forty-five years we are aware by this time that this statement is one of the things that "doesn't mean a hang of a lot."

The Farmers hockey team under the management of our old friend, J. C Tucker, won against Mannville last week. The score of 3 to 0 about indicates the way the teams looked to us But we'll tell the world, it was no fault of Clarence Ewing's that Mannville did not get a score as that boy sure worked overtime for his team For the Farmers Reasbeck was a little better than just right, while Jim Currie was trumps, right on his tail to be first in the line-light The defense of Clay and McKinnon showed last winter form with Kinz showing real class in the net.

About that Oyster supper, well it was just as good as we expected and that is saying a lot

We got some abuse ourselves about six o'clock. We overheard some one, the ladies remark, it was a shame we had written up Claysmore just before the Oyster supper cause it would have lots of people from coming. But about 9 o'clock after they had fed a few hundred they seemed to thaw out a little toward us. We feel we always had a notion we knew some what about entertaining Claysmore as any one else Hazy Meyer won the quilt but as Harry wasn't there we boosted Bill Steele in the quilt. And it seems we are now there who did not expect that especially their name wasn't Norm Tucker. Well bet that boy is tangled yet.

Any time the Claysmore ladies get up a supper there'll be a crowd there to eat It

Norm Tucker and Neil Reed are the old Estey twins holding down the F. A. Co. still in fine fettle this week

Isley has produced a correspondent to The Standard We are pleased to meet you Jewess to be musically inclined But never mind, Dewberry will likely jost you out of tune when it wakes up again

We have missed Mannville for a couple of weeks, we hope this absence is not to be permanent

Well, the Farmers got away with another game from Mannville on Tuesday night Score 3 to 1 Mannville will have to be able to get on

Half of Mannville's paper was one but Sale supposed to be on Friday night Mannville's loss was Claysmore's gain. When the auctioneer got through with the sale of all that was worth selling, there was still a lot of Mannville's property left that the boys had not got But they gave it to Perley, as an explanation Come Chas to the next sale Perley will be on hand Again thanks Chas for the Hood in Vermilion you could get out this whole town in the cutting ink on each side of the top of the hill I notice that

On the other hand we think the charge is too high Last years prices of 75 cents would be about right and less for a special game Tilsit it will be now and he's see if every one can't get a square deal

DEWBERRY
(From our own Correspondent)

Mr. Kirk gave a New Years sermon last Sunday at Hazeldean church.

March wheat is being hoed to beans by those who mailed the deliveries

Of course we are not in politics in civic elections." But as we have been what is it that does it, I can't quite remember at Hazeldean when the rest of his house was the same condition as the same day in spring half the dishes taken." Mysterious

Daley, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs E. Kent has gone to Vermilion perhaps for the balance of the winter to take chiropractic treatment for one of her arms of which she has never had the full use

The hockey bunch consisting of poor Kirk, Harry McNeish, Gordon Tallock, Scotty Patterson, three Dan Hill and two Cooke brothers play Hazelden on the latter's ice next Thursday (18th) Watch their smoke or rath er ice-dust Second rate outfits such as the Lake, Maroons or Vermilion Agricolas won't do. That Stanley must has gotta come west

Mrs Cecil Clark was elected secretaress at the monthly meeting of the Dewberry U. F. A held at Hazeldean on the 6th, succeeding Fred Hardwick who agreed to act if and when Mr Clark should happen to be out of the district as he is sometimes away with heavy shipments of cattle or on other business. By the way it was his sister Miss Clara Clark now Mrs A Ince of Red River who suggested the name of Dewberry P O Consequent upon the defeat of the sitch by a ballot, soon took place about same meeting feeling here from latter should try sail with best bib and tucker on

In the basket ball league game played on the rink on Friday night Dewberry defeated Isley who were minus their star player Ed Hall. Isley will better try and get him back with them as in order to play in the league he has to be a member of the local U. F. A. Co. Dewberry has a strong team and will be a hard one to beat

Hon Mr Boivin, minister of agriculture, Mr. Reed and the engineer to inspect the Dewberry Vermilion road will be in the district Nov 21st and 22nd. Mr Boivin is expected to arrive on the 21st and will be met at Vermilion by Mr. Reed and the engineer and motored to Dewberry. Plans will be made for the improvement of the road between Dewberry and Vermilion

Harry Weber returned home Saturday morning from a highly enjoyable two weeks' holiday spent among friends in Winnipeg. He had the opportunity of becoming acquainted with a large number of people and enjoyed several snow-shoe outings (which, by the way is all the rage among the younger set in the gateway city) with a club with one hundred and sixty on its membership roll. As a result of his tramps Harry believes he has developed into an expert snow-shoer. Dizziness generally is reported very prevalent in Winnipeg, except Harry's which was jammed all the time. Harry was supposed to have left for Calgary but some superattraction curbed him Eastward.

Development In Poultry

New Fowl Is Cross Between Turkey and Chicken

A new development in the poultry industry is the production of a fowl that is a cross between a turkey and a chicken. This hybrid, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine, has been propagated for four years by a California breeder. He has called the fowls "turkens," and has now quite a large flock on his ranch. The male bird has a gobbler nose and other resemblances to a turkey. The female has a turkey head, but otherwise looks like a chicken. In color they are generally red, and when full grown they weigh from 11 pounds.

HER HEART SKIPPED EVERY THIRD BEAT

Mr. James Barfield, 214 King st. E., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

"I was suffering for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be let alone at all. I doctored on and on for years, and the doctor told me heart was very bad, it skipped every third beat.

"I gave up, but at this time, and then my brother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as he had tried them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them.

"I had not taken more than about three months and felt that I was a well person. I am now taking them, as I feel they build me up."

Mattered Revenue

In a review of conditions in Canada, the Monetary Times, one of the principal financial papers of the Dominion, states in its annual, "It would seem as though Canada had maintained her revenues better during 1922 than almost any other country in the world, and while in most other countries revenue has fallen off greatly, in Canada she is actually increased."

VARIETY in foods is essential, of course, but in providing variety do not overlook the importance of nourishment.

Crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts is a highly nourishing cereal food in unusually compact form. It supplies the rich nutrition of wheat and malted barley, including the mineral elements of these splendid grains, without which health and strength cannot be maintained.

To The Ratepayers.

Town of Vermilion

Regarding the reply given by Mayor Morrison in connection with statements contained in the manifesto which I handed to the local papers for publication last week, permit me to say that I consider it anything but satisfactory from the point of view of a great many ratepayers. One thing however, has been definitely, established, and that is that the present council is absolutely helpless to cope with the situation, and if given a reserved expression of confidence by the electors, they admit they will be powerless, and can therefore offer no assurance of relief from that quarter.

Great stress has been placed upon the wording of Sec. 265a of the Town Act, which provides that "it shall be the duty of the council to pay to the school district on demand, etc". May I ask, how, in the name of common sense, the school board happens to be indebted to the bank to th extent of $16,000.00 and why it was necessary to compel our school teachers to go borrowing on their salaries for six or eight months last year, when it was so simple to demand the money from the council, who "must find it wherever the taxes are paid or not." Apparently they are not at the mercy of the ratepayers to the extent they would have us believe.

In connection with the statement made by Mayor Morrison that my remarks regarding the bank making a demand for a direct levy of nine mills on the town, he has been misinformed, or place our affairs in the hands of a receiver, I can only say that I have it from the president of the bank himself that it is an absolute fact. He states positively that he saw the documents laid before the council by the bank officials. I am sure Mr Cooper is not in the habit of fibbing. Furthermore the action of the council clearly indicates that some one must have made some terrible demands on them when they consented to the ladder up with such a terrific rate of taxation. By so doing they ground the last dollar out of many of us, and made it impossible for many others to meet the demand, and consequently they are positively unable to pay their taxes. This may not present a very dark picture to those who recline on cushions or ease but to those who are less fortunate it is a matter of grave concern and let me say that it is on behalf of these people that I have decided to take an active part in this campaign. If our affairs are in such desperate condition that such an action was necessary, I can only say that it is unfortunate that the agitation which is daily gaining momentum, did not take place a year or two ago

It is quite true that the council acts only on appeal in the collection of school board money, but the school board had no say in the extra levy, over and above what was required by both boards to cover the estimates for the year, every dollar of which, apparently, was used by the council to strengthen their own position. Is this not a very unbecoming attitude for those who act as "Guardians of the school board"

Considering the statement made by Mayor Morrison to the effect that "we have bought the Town through the bank, let me ask some of our ratepayers who were unable to pay their taxes last year, and cannot pay them this year—those of you whose days are filled with anxiety and worry, and whose nights are one long sleepless nightmare, wondering if you are going to be turned out of your homes, on account of your inability to pay your taxes, do you consider the crisis has passed? Do you consider there was any thought for your welfare, when this crushing load of taxation was imposed on you? Do you feel disposed to pay tribute to those who are responsible for it? They may have brought the Town through the crisis but they have left us nothing to rejoice over. We can, however, rejoice in their assurance that there will be a considerable reduction in our taxes next month. What has happened to this change of front? It was common gossip among our public officials last summer that it would be several years before they could promise any measure of relief. The answer, I think, is plain. Out of this misery wave of righteous indignation, on the eve of an election, they have read the handwriting on the wall.

In conclusion let me say that I hope that when these matters are all threshed out at our annual meeting, the council will be able to advance some convincing arguments in support of their action during the last year or two

The last five wickets added only 6 runs. Lloydminster's innings was a brilliant one and the score of 144 gives an idea of the hitting ability of the several players, six of whom reached double. While being top scorer with 34 to his credit, in Vermilion's second innings they amassed the 144 score of 91. Fox with 31 and Thornton 13 being the only doubles. Chapman, Cooper and Fox did the bowling for the home team

Wheat Board Bill Will Be Prepared By Manitoba Government

Winnipeg—A note of optimism, pertending the early passing, in the result of bountiful crops from the fields of Western Canada, of the era of depression, was sounded by Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Aikins in delivering the speech from the throne at the opening of the seventeenth Legislative Assembly of Manitoba here.

The throne speech foreshadowed the bringing forward of legislation with a view to assisting in the formation of a wheat board on the lines of that of one year. Early completion of the Hudson Bay Railway will be urged; also the suspension of coasting regulations on the Great Lakes, which it is claimed, do not permit of proper competition and consequent lower freight rates in main transportation. Legislation will also be brought down to authorize the Province to enter into provision to enquire into and report upon the operation of the educational system.

The Dominion reasoning legislation, under which no competition is allowed with vessels of Canadian registry, will form the subject of a resolution providing that the Dominion Government should endeavor by negotiation to make possible the suspension of the enactment where necessary.

A resolution urging the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway, and reports on the natural resources contiguous thereto will be brought before the House while the speech intimates that the policy of strict retrenchment which has prevailed already for the dismissal of numerous employees is to be continued.

The assembly attended the opening ceremonies which were proceeded by a public ceremony at which the 55 elected representatives took their oaths as members of the House.

The problem of wheat marketing will be dealt with, it is forecast by the speech from the throne, which says:

"With a view to putting in the best possible shape for the handling of wheat legislation will be introduced providing for the creation of a wheat board upon equitable and workable lines, constituted thereunder the board will be given a control [illegible] to the action which [illegible] to the legislature according to provisions of [illegible] Alberta

municipal taxes collected amounted to $27,506.66 of which $4,647.35 were for arrears. The school taxes collected were $24,457.20 of which $2,161.57 were for arrears. The total cash received inclusive of the balances on hand amounted to $101,608.90, the balances on hand on Dec. 31st being $3,877.05. All the expenditures were well kept within the estimates. The town has struck off all the dead assessment, that is, assessment on non-productive lands. On the live assessment, there is due the town for municipal taxes the sum of $18,167.05 and for school purposes the sum of $18,023.84. The amount of taxes written off was $88,917.83. The town, however, comes into possession of the land represented by these taxes. The assets of the town amount to $202,319.42 and its liabilities $93,612.04. The only indebtedness owing the bank is $16,000.00 for school loans. The town itself is clear. If the town could only collect all the arrears of taxes both for school and municipal purposes it would have practically a clean sheet all round. The ratepayers will now see the force of the statement made by Mayor Morrison before the convention at Edmonton a few weeks ago that the man who does not pay his taxes not only penalises himself but as well those who pay. There is no denying the town was in a critical position a year ago and there is no wonder that the bank was urgous an adjustment; it is no wonder either that the mayor and councillors loosed sleepless nights over the situation and instead of being subjected to such abuse and unfair criticism as are being heard these days they deserve the thanks of the people generally for the manner in which they handled a difficult job. There is no reason as the Mayor suggested in his correspondence why there should not be a substantial reduction in our taxes this year. Whoever is on the council should heed his advice as to future operations. The people would also be well advised to see that they place on the school board capable men or women, as the stress of the financing for the next three or four years will have to be done by that board. It has an indebtedness of $16,000 to wipe out and that is no easy task these days. There must be strict economy all along the line. AND PEOPLE MUST PAY THEIR TAXES.

W. A. Fallow addresses a communication to the burgesses of the town in this issue with particular stress on the statements of Mayor Morrison last week. A direct reference is made to the editor in his municipal capacity as councillor, as authority for certain statements he had made in a former letter to the press bearing upon the town's position with the Canadian Bank of Commerce last February or March and the attitude the bank took regarding arrangements for repayment of the heavy sick brethren clue it. It is quite true that the contents of the document or official communication mentioned by him, came up during one or another of the several interesting discussions the editor has had upon civic matters with Mr. Fallow at various times during the past few weeks, but if he understood from any of our remarks that the council had struck a special rate to provide for the bank debt it was a wrong impression, for we conscientiously believe that the council did not do so.

Movement Of Western Crop Was Unparalleled In The History Of Grain Marketing

In the spring of 1922, the outlook for the world's bread supply was not encouraging. In the Canadian West and United States North-west, late weather delayed and hampered seeding, and the condition of the great winter wheat crop in the southwest was not satisfactory.

In early summer the clouds had gone. Apart from a few limited areas, Canada's great spring wheat crop had gone right ahead. There was neither drought nor hail, wind or frost to greatly deteriorate prospects. No armies of grasshoppers or other pests invaded the land. The dreaded black rust did not appear. It is true that a large area in Saskatchewan will below early normal, even if by no means small—in all of there was no crop failure. Harvest was general in the Canadian West by August. In the United States the winter wheat crop had been already gathered and had turned out well, while the spring wheat crop was fourth superior in both quality and quantity to that of the year before.

North America had not fallen down in contribution to the bread basket of the world, and Canada had certainly done its share. The acreage of her farmers had not been much less than during the war years, when to feed her people and help the mills going in the Mother Country and the countries of Europe this wheat's quality the daily inspection bear eloquent testimony. Declares Tanlac Completely Overcame Run Down Condition 3 Years Ago —Felt Fine Ever Since

Still another who vouches for the fact "Tanlac makes you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better," is Sam Nicolson, 191 11th Ave., East, Calgary, Alberta, a well-known resident of the Robin Hood Flour Mills.

"When I began taking Tanlac" he continued, "I wasn't exactly sick, but I had no appetite and felt tired and worn out all the time. My strength and energy had about all gone and as a result was run down bad. I never felt like work.

What I needed was an all round building up and Tanlac did that very thing. My appetite picked up at once and I soon got to where I could eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better. Tanlac just seemed to fill me with new life and energy and while that was some three years ago I am still in good shape. No one in need of a tonic medicine to build them up can go wrong by taking Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good drug stores. Over 25 million bottles sold.

"YOUR TEETH"

DO IT IN TIME

By Ben Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

If the ordinary processes of nature were never interfered with it would not be necessary to extract the temporary teeth; they would extract themselves at the proper time. Normally, the roots are absorbed as the time comes for the eruption of the permanent teeth, and the temporary baldness end of the tooth, is left hanging to the gum. Some day a little extra pressure from the baby food, and it is all there there is the tip or the cusp of the permanent tooth that follows. If the natural system was always followed a great deal of trouble would be avoided. Unfortunately many causes operate to interfere with nature's perfect plan.

If the permanent tooth does not come directly under the temporary tooth, the absorption of the root will either be incomplete or it will fail to be absorbed at all. Sometimes long slivers of the temporary tooth roots are left and when the crown comes out an attempt is made to extract these root pieces are left to wedge in the spaces between the permanent teeth. This condition always results in inflammation, sometimes causes serious abscesses and often times even with the effort of the permanent tooth to take its proper place in the arch.

There are two sets of temporary teeth that are abscessed should always be removed regardless of the age of the child. When these teeth are lost by decay or by accident, a permanent successor to take their place a retaining appliance must be fitted in to hold the space so that the permanent tooth will not come in the wrong place. In nearly every case it is possible to perform this work without an anesthetic for children. Never allow a child to suffer any pain if you can avoid it. Efficient local or general anesthetic should always be given.

The Very Rev. Canon Murphy, Ballyroan, Queen's Co., Ireland, writes: "I have used Zam-Buk with very good results for bad sores, and also for piles, and I consider it a most valuable remedy."

Making a Sun-Dial For Newfoundland

Is Being Made by Toronto Professor For Use of One of Dr. Grenfell's Hospitals

Professor Frank T. Bowles, Professor of Surveying, Mining and Metallurgy at the University of Toronto, is working in his spare moment on a combination concrete sun dial for the use of Dr. Grenfell's hospital in Newfoundland. A sun-dial, in order to be of real service, must be constructed to suit the latitude in which it is to be used and must be placed on the true meridian. In the Professor Bowles was one of a party sent to Labrador to observe a lunar eclipse and found at that time the exact longitude and latitude of the Hospital in Newfoundland near which Dr. Grenfell has since located one of his hospitals. Hearing from a mutual friend, who was investigating water power in Newfoundland this summer, that the people in charge of the hospital have no means of telling time at the correct time Professor Bowles undertook to make the dial for him.

German Resistance Is Is No Longer Passive, But Becoming Active

Paris.—All the chronic default of coal contributions from Germany, as stated in the Ruhr Valley. The German populations wounded up to the presence of the occupying forces and their hatred accumulated by the arrest and conviction of industrial leaders have carried out a deep system of sabotage against railroads, canals, mines in the Ruhr and the occupying forces have placed fresh munitions guns, and weapons of larger calibre at strategic positions for the purpose, if necessary, of overcoming resistance that appears to be no longer passive, but extremely active.

The return of Fritz Thyssen to Duesseldorf, and then to Essen, was made the occasion of remarkable demonstrations, in which French cavalry and foot soldiers were called into action. There was one firing by the military, although the French are under orders not to use their rifles unless provoked.

The railroad strike is reported to be almost complete. The roads are fed up for the present, and have on all kinds to be a question. Meanwhile, the French are sending into the Ruhr, railway men and many personnel already employed in that region without great loss at once.

M. Letrourpre, French Minister of Public Works, and General Weygand, Marshal Foch's chief of staff, are on the spot, and military measures of a stronger nature are threatened if the recalcitrant spirit of the Germans continues.

While M. Letrourpre declared at Dusseldorf that "we have come to stay until she gets complete satisfaction from Germany," Dr. Heroux, the German Minister of Finance, in introducing the budget in the Reichstag at Berlin, announcing that Germany was practically unable to respond to every means at her disposal to frustrate the aims of the policy of violence which war being pursued against her."

Employment In Canada Shows Downward Trend

Decrease in All Provinces According to Statistics Issued

Ottawa.—The volume of employment in Canada, as reported by employers to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at the beginning of January, showed considerable contraction. This was largely on account of the temporary cessation of work in many of the industries for the holiday season. It is possible that the volume of employment at the beginning of February, but when payrolls generally have recently been higher the abundance involves the release of a larger number of workers. KITSCOTTY SEXTETTE WIN FROM VERMILION IN FAST GAME 2 — 1

Nifty Goalkeeping and Fast Hockey Displayed

In their first appearance all local fans this season the Kitscoty sextette invaded Vermilion on Monday evening, Jan. 29th and from the time the combination ran onto the ice goals to one in a fast, even game of hockey. Although Kitscoty registered 26 below at 8 o'clock a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators turned out in spite of the coldness and was rewarded by a visit by the fast brand of hockey handled by the entire sixty minutes of play.

Both Teams Evenly Matched

Both teams were evenly matched, each team putting on a great exhibition of clean, fast hockey, combination and shooting. Both goalkeepers were called on to stop a large number of lightning shots especially the visiting goalie, Jas. Sandercock, who showed to make the trip minus three of their substitutes it was agreed to by the managers of both teams to play with nine periods.

The first period was scored by Kitscoty after nine minutes of play, Vermilion was up in front of the visitors goal. The first frame ended with the score 1 to 0 in favor of the visitors.

The second period opened fast with both teams playing fast combination but were unable to score in this stage of the game. The third session produced some fast hockey in which Vermilion were unable to break in on Kitscoty's defence. Kitscoty registered their second goal in the last minute of play, making the score 2 to 0 in favor of the visitors.

Vermilion Staged a Rally

The final session opened with both teams determined to emerge victors in the last minutes of play. Vermilion started the initial rush, making the score 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. It seemed as though the orange and black aggregation would rally and tie the score but Kitscoty were unable to get on the Kitscoty goal in the last minutes of the contest. Phil Smith, R. Moore and McGregor starred for Vermilion. For the losers Kinnaird, Phillips were really the mainstay in the defence.

The game was a decided success from the organization to the finish, being handled for the game in splendid style and to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

The Vermilionites travel to Kitscoty on Thursday, Feb. 1st for a return game, when they expect to turn the tables.

McKinnon and Readbeck, who were out of the game on Friday night, will be back on the line-up.

MANNVILLE

(From our weekly correspondent)

An epidemic of la Grippe is sweeping the country and Manville has many choice victims, including yours truly.

Preparations are afoot for a big carnival here on Feb 9th. Much interest is being manifested in the event and a successful time is looked for by everyone. Besides many comic costumes and funny stunts are in for the spectators. Don't forget the group idea, see long as it runs to the "Master Trick" of our sons of industry. We an ideal one for the above remark, but only wish to modestly say that a splendid commercial power for it was control of intercourse and thereby control of the wealth of the nation. But now!!! Living idea since 39 per cent of our population have been forced to adopt it, is a thing condemned and scorned. Strange!!! Never mind 'twas better days. Roll the old chariot along, John. In brevity or any other of the speech arts is the way just roll along. Now if we can do what has the interests of their "hinists" before us, well.

J. J. Jones took a home to Pleasant Valley on the week end.

Well we didn't get everything from the Edmonton Bonspiel but a couple of watches and we know how to get them.

Hockey has commenced in earnest and the rivalry existing between the respective teams of the town is one of the favorite winter sport, the result being all to Manville's favor. It is suspected that the senior team strengthened up with a few of the junior players, but who might constitute them we know not.

The Vermilion senior hockey team journeyed here on Saturday evening and met a defeated on local ice and hockey team in elegant fashion and they put away with it in the time of about one hour and a half.

Next evening Public Health Nurse, Miss Jones, gave an "Child Welfare" talk to which will be held at Mrs. Whitman's home on Thursday evening, 8 p.m.

The bride, who was married by her father in marriage by her father looked charming in her gown of white silk with veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. The ceremony after which a wedding repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Sunderland will make their home for the present in Tawberry, Alberta.

London Visitor Determined to See Last Bucket On Dredger

A party of sightseers from the North were paying their first visit to London, and for one of their number the sights even on bus-top in a driving rain had no attraction. While the others were all in eager enjoyment, he sat huddled up in a corner, firmly fixed on the idea that he would see the last bucket on the dredger before he left the spot.

What is good health worth to you?

Why then do you risk it needlessly for the sake of a few cups of tea or coffee?

There's an easy, pleasant way to avoid this menace to health, without any sacrifice to comfort or satisfaction. Drink Instant Postum instead of tea or coffee.

Instant Postum is a pure, wholesome and delicious beverage made from choice wheat. It is most convenient and economical, too. Just a level teaspoonful to each cup, add boiling water and stir thoroughly. Then add cream and sugar to taste.

Our old friend Frank Mead of Campbell Lake, has furnished us with the laying record of his flock bunch of 15 White Wyandotte hens for the month of January. The egg fruit gathered indicates that these hens haven't been on strike and for some months the returns are most favorable. For the month 404 eggs were gathered, not less than 8 in a day or more than 18, an average per day for the entire month of a little better than 12 eggs. The birds are housed in a building 12x16 well ventilated, fed from a hopper with No 1 hard wheat, supplied with plenty of sweet scrape, litter and dust beds. The right breed of birds and the application of common sense rules is what Mr. Mead attributes the success attained by his flock

S. R. P. CROPPER, Editor

VERMILION, ALTA., FEB. 7, 1923.

Three hundred and seventy-five electors are entitled to vote on the municipal election and $10 for school trustees.

Nomination day brought out a full slate of candidates for both municipal and school offices. In the majority contest, Reeve Morrison is opposed by Chas. Robinson. There are seven aspirants for the three representatives to be elected as councillors, namely Councillor Duncan is standing for re-election and among the other six are Mr. Mayor A. Rae, Councillor Lamb, Councillors Stewart and Bryden Messrs. W. A. Pallow, J. A. Kirkpatrick, and Dr. Bennett that the latter did not give away any previously sat on the board. Five candidates are in the field for the two vacancies to be filled on the school board, viz., W. P. Pilkie, (present chairman), Miss Drury, W. E. Hattenstein, H. N. Stephens and Dan Lafave. The issues before the electors have been pretty thoroughly threshed out at the two recent meetings. On Monday next it will be the duty of every elector to vote and the indications are that they conscientously believe will if elected, discharge their responsibilities to the best interests of the town and whom they feel are willing to sacrifice time and individual interests in fulfilling the obligations they will have assumed.

One issue stands out pre-eminently and that is "Taxes must be reduced." Irrespective of who or what party is elected there is no question but that a very substantial lowering of the rate will be made applying to the taxes for the this year—that is self-evident, if for no other reason than the wiping out of the town's bank indebtedness as in 1923. Just where it is going to be possible to lessen the rate for the school district, is hard to determine—the present condition of its affairs points rather to an increase in the mill rate for 1923. The amount of money demanded to operate the schools for the year is a matter of plain figuring while that of the town is not quite so easily determined. There is undoubtedly considerable expenditure applying to departments, which it is just possible to slightly curtail, but the matter of estimated percentage of taxes likely to be paid during the current year, if the school board requires say $30,000 to be collected, the board find themselves short in the tune of $5000. There is owing on the bank on current account some where near $14,000. If arrears of taxes do not come to and there is a deficit of $6000 for this year, the amount required for the sake of demonstration above at the end of 1923 the outstanding indebtedness of the school district will be $34,000. The school situation is a big problem and the issuing of debentures against arrears of taxes is the only feasible solution.

The town of Vegreville collected 72 per cent. of its 1922 taxes while Vermilion collected only 52 per cent. This was an improvement over the previous year. Vegreville has a sinking fund at a full strength, of $35,000 to redeem debentures—Vermilion has no sinking fund. Vegreville instituted proceedings provided by the Act to collect its taxes—Vermilion endeavored to carry on without doing so and on what was termed a live assessment there is the cost of taxes upon the delinquent. Can the rate be made so low that EVERYONE will pay their taxes? Some say yes, a good many others, no.

To set at rest a number of rumors in the present civic election, The Standard is asked by Mayor Morrison to state that: The town has not paid a dollar towards the wife's sum by the Edmonton City Dairy; that the cost of painting the Pard trick and house roof was about $25.00; that the town had connections with the C. N. R. hydrant when it started the fire engine with the Vermilion Motors in 1919; that the moneys paid for the services of the town's bank manager, the town secretary of the latitude who holds the same in trust for lettuce purposes and that the town did not give away a dollars worth of property in connection with the erection of the houses for Count de Nogent and referred to by Mr. Fulton as "pill-houses." The lots are leased for a term of years. Those who have had past year nearly $600.00 in taxes; that the Mayor does not get any salary and that he has not charged a cent for all the legal work done by him for the town the past four years; that the town council supplied lumber to the fire brigade at the purpose of the town as at all in a fire the brigade is on the good name of the Vermilion Fire boys.

At the ratepayers meeting Mayor Morrison stated that taxes were high in Vegreville than in Vermilion. This was challenged by Mr. Pallow of the opposition meeting. Here are the figures: The municipal rate in Vegreville is 17.9 and the school rate 22.1 a total rate of 70 mills. The total rate in Vermilion is 90 mills. Vegreville assesses improvements at 100 per cent and Vermilion at 40 per cent. A man who owned a bank 1200 residence and an assessed for $800 would pay a tax in Vegreville of $15.00 and in Vermilion 172. $0 a difference in favor of Vermilion of $72 with its high rate of $72.20. The Alberta hotel at Vegreville pays a tax of $1854.76, the Dobbins Block $1002.50 and the Clements building $1001.50

Regarding the query of the Clare more correspondent as to the use of the Vermilion Valley spitting at elbow, its application today is practically solely to the writer. Its first use was in the editorial columns of papers but this word together with "our" MIL been practically stopped and few lead the articles in modern publications contain either of them. The editorial "we" and our" conveyed the stand of the editor and the public could not small village editors who have been dropped into newspapers by some mis fortune still cling to the words journalism that it adds to their self im portance in the long run.

A reader of the Standard to whom the editor holds the greatest respect has suggested that country correspondents drop their personalities when sending in the district doings. He further claimed that their contributions would also be more acceptable if they confined less idiotic words. Those strictures are quite right but at the same time correspondents should not be taken too seriously. Life on the prairies at times is trying and monotonous and who knows but that some of the outpourings may have proved a remedy, more to be deplored than a little humor. True too that a newspaper correspondent can be of great service to the community if he chronicles the religious, social and political activities of his district. The general public are interested in the activities of their fellow men, but they do not appreciate an exhibition of anybody patching of the nature of "mud-slinging" in the columns of the daily or weekly press. The Standard correspondents are capable of supplying us a type or copy of general interest to its readers without hurting the feelings of anyone and it is felt they will do so.

VALENTINES

St. Valentine's Day is almost here with the mid-winter season of greetings or gifts to our friends—and others. It's rather a cheerful habit, and that little card with its friend greetings or notes of a more personal nature may be just enough to start somebody's day on with a smile. So now you get busy, dread properly, though, and mail it in good time, and with the right a sentiment. Don't forget to sign it with the "O. U. T." which might rather spoil the sentiment.

Perhaps, reminded how reasonable it would be, you are sending "her"—or "him", a little gift to mark this day of special remembrance. If so, do not take advantage of whatever security the postal service offers you! If it's quite a small parcel you are sending, which you can conveniently pay for at either end, by all means register it and that it will be sure of special attention and you won't need to be told whether it actually got there all right. Or if you are sending anything parcel post, insure it; then you'll be your mind's completely easy. Good happen to it, you can at least get a return from the post office—a refund of the gift,—better late than never.

OLDS WON DECISION IN DEBATE AT VERMILION

Agricultural Schools Argued Question of Natural Resources

"Resolved that the natural resources of Alberta should be owned and controlled by the province," was the subject of a debate last Friday night between Vermilion and the Olds Schools of Agriculture, the former having the negative and the latter the affirmative. The decision was in favor of Olds. The debate was held under the auspices of Inter Provincial Club at the Vermilion Lecture which provides that the visiting team shall furnish the affirmative side. Principal Sandifer presided and Mayor Morrison acted as judge. The decision was given by the judge stated in compliment for both teams on the excellent presentations made of a somewhat difficult subject.

T. Hyde was leader for Olds and I Stutes second while W. L. Petterson was Vermilion leader and Miss Lawrence second. There was a large attendance of students and citizens present.

VERMILION SEXTETTE IS AGAIN WINNER

Homesters Score 7 to 1 Against Minburn in Clean, Fast Game Refereeing Was Good

One of the cleanest yet most up clas ular games seen on the local rink took place last night when Vermilion seatette on Tuesday Minburn seven goals to one. Twice the team have met this winter and twice the west-comers have been defeated by large scores.

Vermilion's team, though the personnel is practically unchanged, is entirely a different thing to what it was in the early stages of the season. There are none of those errat-ic shots for goal.

Visitors Draw First Blood

The first real game in the contest of minutes. Judine taking a pass from Cornett in centre ice, found the opening to wards, shooting from centre and finding the corner of the net. The initial session ended 1-0 in favor of the Yorkettes.

Second and Third Periods

The second and third periods were also fast and clean, Minburn putting up a game fight, but unable to overcome the lead secured in the first period. Final score Vermilion 7, Minburn 1.

Refereeing Was Good

H. T. Logan made a capable referee in his refereeing. This arbiter has the game under control at all times and showed an evident desire to make both teams play fast, clean sweep.

COMMUNICATION

The Editor,
The Standard

Sir:

I have been informed this (Thursday) morning that my name has been mentioned in connection with the removed building for a certain municipal office which is now vacant, and in which the present occupant has given lease and tenancy.

This my name is absolutely false, and I wish, with your permission, to state such to be so. I have repeatedly done in private, on occasion that a man who will endeavor to deprive another of his position is considered to be entirely deplorable and beneath contempt.

Yours truly,

G. W. CUTTAM.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE

EARLY WEDNESDAY A. M.

House of F. Lehenky with Contents Almost Total Loss

Fire destroyed the house and almost the entire contents of the home of Filemon Lehenky located in the West end of the town, about five o'clock Wednesday morning. A sewing machine and the mattress and bedding on the bed in which Lehenky and his wife were sleeping were all that was saved from the building. Mr. Lehenky was aroused at about 4.45 a.m. by a humming sound and through the glass of the door leading into the front portion of the house saw a bright reflection. And it was then that fire had made big headway. He and his wife had just sufficient time to don some apparel and make two trips from the premises when the fire burst into the two rear rooms in five minutes time, with a gale of wind from the north, the frame-covered structure was a big bonfire. The firemen with the chemical confined the flames to the house, all the outbuildings being saved. The loss is a heavy one, but fortunately mostly covered by insurance there being $700 on the contents and $1200 on the building. The two front rooms were unoccupied but the brick chimney ran up between those and the two rear rooms, and the pipes from the roof heater ran into this chimney. The fire apparently started somewhere near the roof in the front portion.

Stampede Association Meeting

Officers Elected

The annual meeting of the Queenie Creek Stampede Association was held in the Queenie Creek school Saturday evening last with a good attendance of directors and members. Considerable discussion took place covering this year's stampede and what could be done to make it a success. Although all round, the object in view being to have the event one of a thrilling character giving the people something unique in the way of entertainment and how to make it pay for the year. The purpose of the association it was pointed out had great possibilities. It was decided to hold the next stampede on the 24th of June next and feature more outside talent attractions. There will be the usual stream programme as far as bucking contests. It is expected that this alone will prove a strong drawing card. There will also be some new sensational contests, having basic stake performances, dude line and a complete card of juvenile athletic events. A baseball tournament may also be on the programme as well as running races and trick events. [illegible]

ISLAY

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The annual congregational meeting of Knox Church was held in the evening of Monday the 29th. W. G. Robertson in the chair. A large congregation was present. Reports were submitted from the choir, the Women's Auxiliary and Sunday School, the Session, and the church Treasurer. The reports from all the organizations indicated the highest state of efficiency in all the church activities. The Treasurer's report was the best yet submitted in the history of the congregation, and it only covered ten months, as the Mission Year here, W. T. Crumb, arrived in town from Vermilion in the middle of March. The grand total raised was $2,400.00 in Session and the church's share was realized by $200.00

The country points of Kohlee and Prairieside had contributed equally towards the maintainance of the church's activities. The board of management for next year elected consisted of R. Scott, S. McInnes, Wm. Gilchrist, Al. Lewis, Archie McMillan, John Barnes, H. Parker, Mrs. Mowatt and Mrs. McKeehan. Secretary A. W. Crane. Treasurer J. Primrose.

A rather meeting of the ratepayers was held in the school house for the purpose of selecting a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by A. Dennis, resigned. Al. Alex. Gilchrist was duly elected to the Board.

Mr. Thomas Brindle of Trumbo Town has left a position in Collier Mine. The family are likely to follow in a few days.

Mr. J. Cresswell of the University of Alberta is billed to lecture in Islay on Friday 16th on the subject of "Socialism." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern views and should be a practical and interesting one.

You will pardon us Mr Editor if we would suggest that your country correspondent drop their pen name and write something in their district doings. The contributions would also be more acceptable if their articles contained more news. A newspaper can't be of great service to the community if it is not supported by the district. The writer's name is not necessary for publication of the news, but it is only necessary as a guarantee of authenticity. Let Islay do more to encourage an exhibition of mud thus week's correspondence in the daily or weekly press.

DEWBERRY

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mrs. John Silcock is home again after a couple weeks stay at the Lloydminster hospital.

Jack Hall is home and at it 7.3 days a week in connection with the mill at McNutt's Lake on the lot, Pete Adams being the veteran and quite a number of shingles left to be turning out in spite of the blizzard weather to see a well contested match. We understand the team is going to be simultaneously playing here this Wednesday (7th) and Moosomin on the 14th.

Everybody in the two little Anglican girls wish to return their grateful thanks to the people of the district for such an interest in locating the missing children after the game on it was a stormy night. Just as the whole community was being organized to comb the neighborhood the kids came home where they had been all the time, a couple limbs after and lay about 5 miles of badly drifted trail in a strong cold wind.

Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Hayward as well as the floor got a visit from the staff of the Dewberry Hotel on Saturday last and as school more tonsils to the number of seven, most similar places with which to a limited extent. When the Dewberry Hotel staff with Campbell Hayward, Lorne Gill and Tug Dowman as the operating surgeons, Harry Lee, Sadie, Ethel Lee and Parker Tough nurses on as Sandy." In due course Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Elmer as the wonder tonsil "pull-outs," when the things kicked up as he was trying to get away. Four removed by Jack Hall, Mrs. Hayward was sure to work with an end an with a rope handy. Mrs. Elmer and Mrs. Hayward as the patient's chair and last but not least Mrs. Hall as the well groomed Jack's neck with both tearful and wondering whispers or monosyllables or both. They took a rise out of many of the boys. Jack Hessel Earle and Mr. Hall are coming in for a little more attention. Perhaps Tough can spread the house with his singing but the impression that in this respect he is not to be considered a howling success. Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Hayward are good on the piano. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Hall are good on the organ. Considerable comment was passed on the bright and pleasing appearance of the fair new building. We understand another entertainment is to be held on the 22nd but have not yet heard the particulars.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Really the literary ignorance of some people is quite refreshing. For instance a lady would like to know the duties of having a town councillor because was the expression "we in town do." If we only knew what could the editor please tell why this is done?

We have always believed, that a good system given enough publicity, would succeed and likewise a bad system given enough publicity would fail. We are not in all a bad system. We consider the Lenten and Tuesday services to be applied in this district.

It seems that to follow up this fact, publicity should be given to cold feet. But why the dickens has it come to be the case?

Now that the school kids in Vermilion are to be made happy, no matter whether the present council are in power or not, we suggest that the ratepayers demand that both factions have organized to make a permanent job of the slide or ski jump out of this pile of dirt on Main St.

Judging from reports in last week's paper we have ought to be a pretty good boy in the 10th. Well, Clayesmore is not the one to be saying about their poultry as yet, but it's a sure bet there will be a number of birds from this district at the fair to talk for themselves.

We were reading in the paper the other day, the account of a banquet where the Press was asked to refrain from publishing the proceedings. This is contrary to the Press. We have been told we must not publish certain things. This is farce.

Editor, always said, as a child we were more easily coaxed than driven. That trait in our character appears to have matured with age.

We wish to express our appreciation to Jack Tucker, W. D. Willmon, W. Martin, and D. C. Lamanere for plowing the part of the pond sometime last week, when there was an attempt made to figuratively (skim) skate on.

Don—In the Vermilion Standard on Feb. 7th to Mr and Mrs Geo F. Hazlewood, a son.

Here is something for the calgary wee of Roberts to think over before their annual meeting on Feb. 13th. In regard to the stock in-law, this impending or stock is about the most foolish municipal institution we have heard of for some time. What we want to know is, who benefits by the law? Now we will give you a sample of the way this thing works. Last year I had a pasture-lot in my district and my section was strong enough to run two cows and the charge against each cow was $1 and some odd cents and two hogs at not a $1.50 each, which totals $3.00. Now Mr Ratepayer you have got to help pay $17.00 and what do you get out of it? How much will the cow who owned those animals get out of it, providing he has any? And this pound-keeper has resigned, because he says he is losing money on this job, so it's a cinch he don't benefit any. Besides he tells us he put cows for about 50 head and he says he a little co-operation between the parties concerned those men could have all put their cattle without cost but them a cent.

Who the Heck is responsible for this fool feed law anyway?

CURLING NOTES

Some very fine games are being witnessed in the fourth competition of the season the finals of which will be reached Friday 9th. Of the games that are the order and the last rock has frequently decided the winner or loser.

Curling fees are payable to the Secy & R. P. Cooper and those who have not yet handed them in are kindly asked to do this week as that smaller payment on account may be made to the Rink Co. In this respect it might be pointed out that the 1922 and 1923 fees are outstanding and that the Rink Co. have been paid $300.00

At a meeting Monday evening the curling committee were completed for the annual bonspiel at which at last 24 rinks are expected.

President A.T. Law, J.A. Mattson, G. E. Long and F. Campbell are representing the Rink of C. Our point will be duly noted at the Lashburn C. of this week.

Three rinks and perhaps one are slated for the Bonnyville spiel next week. Lloydminster follows and then Vermilion.

Leave your CLEANING and PRESSING at CRAIG'S Dept Store

Special proceeds were satisfactory, a good sunshine lamp being one of the things sold for and it is hoped to get an organ. Considerable comment was passed on the bright and pleasing appearance of the fine new building. We understand another entertainment is to be held on the 22nd but have not yet heard the particulars.

"SUGGESTION" ARTICLE IV

Just as Hanley, Darwin and Haeckel placed evolution in the category of great science, so have men like Hudson, and others placed the law of suggestion above the realm of controversy. We shall therefore merely point out some of the dangers, and also the enormous advantages to be derived from a conscious use of this law. The powers of the subconscious are infinite as exemplified in the phenomena of hypnotism, spiritism, and mind healing. To take one illustration from thousands available—Zora Colburn showed wonderful powers of calculation at the age of 6. He was asked to name the factors which produced the number 247243, and answered immediately 11 and 263, which are the only numbers which will produce it. And in the world of art, music and literature there are similar instances of remarkable powers coming into manifestation, without conscious effort or apparent necessity. The subconscious mind does not reason, but accepts any suggestion as truth, and faithfully reports on the objective plane the average sum total of all our previous impressions and thoughts. We have all seen how, when the professional hypnotist suggests to his subject that they are drinking a glass of glass, or drunk how the subjective mind of the subject puts him through all the appropriate motions to carry out the suggestion. Not only some, but every thought sinks into the subconscious mind, and is built into the atoms of which it is composed. You say How can I think different from what I do? I have only been told and could the editor please tell why this is done?

We have always believed, that a good system given enough publicity, would succeed and likewise a bad system given enough publicity would fail. We are not in all a bad system. We consider the Lenten and Tuesday services to be applied in this district.

It seems that to follow up this fact, publicity should be given to cold feet. But why the dickens has it come to be the case?

Now that the school kids in Vermilion are to be made happy, no matter whether the present council are in power or not, we suggest that the ratepayers demand that both factions have organized to make a permanent job of the slide or ski jump out of this pile of dirt on Main St.

Judging from reports in last week's paper we have ought to be a pretty good boy in the 10th. Well, Clayesmore is not the one to be saying about their poultry as yet, but it's a sure bet there will be a number of birds from this district at the fair to talk for themselves.

We were reading in the paper the other day, the account of a banquet where the Press was asked to refrain from publishing the proceedings. This is contrary to the Press. We have been told we must not publish certain things. This is farce.

Editor, always said, as a child we were more easily coaxed than driven. That trait in our character appears to have matured with age.

We wish to express our appreciation to Jack Tucker, W. D. Willmon, W. Martin, and D. C. Lamanere for plowing the part of the pond sometime last week, when there was an attempt made to figuratively (skim) skate on.

Business Interests Speculating On The General Outlook For Trade For The New Year

Much eagerness is manifested by business interests in getting in line, if possible, on the business outlook for 1923. Business men generally are inclined to think that things will be better than they were last year, but at the same time they are not quite sure. So far as the country as a whole is concerned, since agriculture is the greatest industry, conditions will depend on the harvest, and, as is well known, his purchasing power has been cut away down. In the east the complaint is that while the eastern farmers are solvent they have no surplus money to spend.

In fact business circles much caution is being manifested. Owing to the circumstances that it has had an enormous rise, and to more, the Canadian Pacific's earnings were higher than ever before. The Grand Trunk is helping out the Government system because its earnings show an increase in the handling of an enormous American traffic.

It is probable the railways realize that they must co-operate more than they know that the western farmer, owing to the low margin of profit on which he has been forced, is afflicted to buy in his old time way and that consequently the moving of freight westward will not be normal for a while. It is the west that keeps a large portion of the east busy and conditions there will not get back to normal until the west buys heavily again. His business men also know that the old time conditions are not going into the western provinces.

The United states Government has been getting a taste of the real inside effect of the Fordney tariff on its export trade, but Secretary of Commerce Hoover says he is hopeful given the assurance that the world is really coming back and that America can export trade will improve.

If Hoover's opinion is correct, business in Canada will improve also, for in business the United States is closely follows the States In brief, quite confident, with quite as much cannines, seems to be the correct attitude. The last thing to expect is a big expenditure of Government money.

Technical Training Schools

Should Be a Recognized Course of Tuition Throughout Canada

An ever-increasing demand for technical schools in Canada is being evinced, and the movement should be encouraged both by the provincial and municipal authorities. The youth with high technical training has splendid possibilities of success in life, but out with an outside equipment—especially in Canada where opportunities of development are so far-reaching every hand. Schools giving technical instruction are to be found all over the British Isles, in the United States also fosters such training with remarkable solicitude. Undoubtedly more technical schools are needed in Canada, and it is most important that they should be provided. Complete and satisfactory plans will not be secured, however, until it is a recognized course of tuition in the daily schools. This, it is true, may be years coal, but it will be a very small part of the ultimate reward Montreal Herald.

Where the Disgrace Is

A Pittsburgh employer, addressing the building congress in Boston recently was quoted as saying: "There is no disgrace to be a bricklayer or a mason. They get $11 a day in our city. It never has been a disgrace to be a good bricklayer or a good mason at any trade, whether the pay be $11 a day or more or less. All work is honorable. The head and hands are honorable. The work of the brain. The only disgrace is when any worker attempts to do a piece of work for which he is not properly trained."

Experiments will be made with Cleveland and Scandinavian foxes with a view to breeding animals which will be suitable for crossing with the native animals. It is expected that some breeding animals will be available in the autumn.

Progress of Indian Education

Forces of Church and State Combine to Elevate the Red Man

The familiar "lord Man" of history and romance is fast becoming a figure of the past. In his stead, we find the Indian of today, once again a virile, strong type that is being assimilated rapidly into the composite Canadian race Associating with the white man on a social intimately here, the diseases that played such havoc with the health of the Indian at the time of his initial contact. The Indian population has been slightly increasing for some time, and in many parts of Canada we have flourishing groups of natives, fast adopting our methods of earning a livelihood and clamoring for education.

The Dominion Government realizes the importance of providing proper educational facilities for its wards, and large appropriations for Indian education are made annually. Some years ago The Department of Indian Affairs, of which Honorable Charles Stewart is Superintendent General, was responsible for, or is associated in the maintenance of about 700 teachers of Indian youth. Most of the teachers are missionary teachers, the Churches and the State are working side by side to this end. The Indian children are taught men and women for broader citizenship.

Some 12,000 Indian children are enrolled today in the 220 day and residential schools. These schools are under the control of the departments of education in the different provinces, but are financed and managed jointly by the Department of Indian Affairs and the various Churches engaged in the work. In each province the Indian schools are inspected regularly by qualified school inspectors and the work done by Indian pupils already compares favorably with that of white schools in the same localities.

In the day schools, in addition to the regular curriculum, emphasis is placed on hand work, gardening in the spring, and sewing classes. In the residential schools the still further trains in the manual arts that will enable the pupil in later life to earn a livelihood. Special training is given to the sons of the Indian who show a desire to become farmers, and many graduates are now successfully operating their own farms. Similar training is given to girls, who, in addition to the regular curriculum, are taught domestic science, sewing, and other subjects that will enable them to become good housewives.

Special training of a similar kind is offered to the promising graduates in the day and residential schools. Many of the graduates are now filling positions in both high school and collegiate in Canada. Financial assistance and special opportunities are given to Indian pupils who show a decided development of Indian Affairs. Often these pupils are given a course in the Normal School Department. Tampering With Nature

May Be Possible In Future To Change Climate

If the ancient world could make a desert bloom like the rose, it is hardly fantastic to imagine a future which could defeat the rigors of an age of ice. The prospect which we discern as hardly serious may be practical in centuries to come. Not long ago it was suggested that the climate of the Maritime Provinces of Canada might be made far more genial if the cliff Labrador current from the Arctic which sweeps down the coast were diverted by a dam built across the Straits or Belle Isle, between Newfoundland and the mainland. The chief argument against the scheme was, we believe, that the Labrador current were destroyed no man could tell what it might hit. It might sweep into the Gulf stream and disturb all the conditions of Western Europe; it might upset the economy of the world To tamper with primitive forces is obviously dangerous, but we need not say that in the future man may not have won that knowledge which will give him power over conditions that seem to us to be among the laws of Nature From the London Daily Telegraph.

The Canadian Crop

Increased Production of Prairie Provinces Responsible for Big Total

Statistics of this year's field crops published recently show that the total value of points of production is slightly in excess of that of last year. The wheat crop is larger than ever before, and the increase is due to the larger prairie provinces. There is a decrease in all the others. In round figures British Columbia is behind two millions; Ontario six millions; Quebec fifty two millions, the Maritime Provinces sixteen millions. This is more than offset by the gain of one hundred and thirty millions in the prairie provinces. It should be remembered that this return does not include dairy products which are the basis of new wealth, now does it seem to include fruit.

If the farmer had his period of prosperity during the war he has had to abandoned his share of the advantage since when the peace. His purchasing power which is reported his wages has not gone down in price faster than the wages on any other occasion and faster in a few commodities. Whether or not the whole he has come out better than last year is not yet clear. But in the matter of the Old Country market he has been up to the average country over the Dominion. Financial Times.

Want Wheat Board

Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Believe It is Solution of Marketing Problem

"The executive of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association believes that every effort must be made to have a wheat board established for the 1923 crop," says an official statement following a two-day's session of the executive at Saskatoon.

A committee of the executives had been appointed, consisting of J. A. Maharg, President, and J. A. MacPhail, retired Secretary to press upon the Provincial Government the necessity for action on the wheat board question, as outlined in the resolution passed recently by the Canadian council of agriculture. It was stated the hope that the Provincial and Federal authorities, by co-operation, will establish a workable wheat board.

A number of important questions, such as lake rates, interprovincial hauling, local grain elevators, needs of farmers, and wheat marketing were under consideration at the executive meeting, but no official statement regarding was to be issued. It was considered from every angle the main planks of the platform for the establishment of a wheat board and the strength of the supporting railway men of the Saskatchewan district was reviewed by the Grain Growers' Executive.

The remainder of the statement deals with the arrangements for the forthcoming annual convention, to be held at Saskatoon.

Why Buildings Decay

Chamotte Bay Soot and Sulphuric Acid Responsible for Trouble

Paris, the London, is finding that the stones of its ancient buildings particularly its churches, are falling to decay with alarming rapidity. It is estimated that it will cost at least a million dollars to restore Notre Dame, Cathedral and Westminster Abbey to their original strength and beauty of surface and the Parisians are manifesting a considerable interest in the condition of Notre Dame and some of their other beautiful old churches. It is not the wear and tear of centuries that is responsible for the present condition of these buildings, but the soot and sulphur fumes of the last few years. The stones are not what they used to be, and crumble easily.

A Bold Pirate Girl

Raised Under the "Jolly Roger" in the Days of Successful Piracy

There was once a girl pirate who sailed under the Jolly Roger. In the old buccaneering days, in 1719 that Mary Read was one of the most expert, daring and successful women ships. When she was a girl with her brother Mother was in the habit of dressing the Household Action the early part of the last century, when French and British privateers were continually off-setting battle, she had little patriotic motive to inspire her venture, for she attacked both French and British vessels without discrimination, sailing under both flags as occasion required She met her death in the midst of battle.

Up to a quarter of a century ago it was customary for the banks in England to fix $5000 as the minimum amount for opening an account. Some of the big institutions in London insisted on $6,000.

Starts Flying At 100

Made 13 Flights Before She Dies in Bed, Aged 102

Mrs. Ann Johnson, of Mansfield, Eng., who developed a mania for flying when she was 100 years old, died at the age of 102 after having taken part in thirteen flights.

Mrs. Johnson's first flight was a success and that was to fly in an airplane. Shortly pilot gave her a flight, which she enjoyed so much that she went up and again until she had had thirteen flights, almost as many hours in the air.

She always said when she started that it might be her last flight, with the greatest happiness and would never regret having taken it. Mrs. Johnson's flights made her become known as the flying centre of Mansfield. She visited by the recent aerodrome.

New Postal Agreement

Reciprocal Method of Handling International Mail

From the operation of the reciprocal convention concluded between the Postmaster General Murphy, and Worth, representing Canada and the United States, a saving of nearly half a million dollars a year to the Canadian Treasury is looked for. This will be brought about by different methods of accounting and reciprocal handling of the international traffic. There were about twenty different aspects of the International question discussed at the recent conference, and it is calculated that the new agreement will be in operation by the end of March. The saving will be effected by virtue of changes in the arrangement. The effect of this will be to benefit the United States as well as Canada.

In the operations for the year in the Canadian Post Office Department, a decrease of $1,125,000 in the handling of Revenue has been made in Public Works, a decrease of $1,000,000 has been made in Railways and Canals, and an increase of $1,000,000 in the Interest charges, which is reflected by increased revenues.

Vermilion Played Classy Brand of Hockey Against Kitscoty — Return Game Was Sweet

By the impressive score of 4 to 1 the Vermilion aggregation of hockeyists decisively trimmed Spencer Pickock's trike of puck manipulators at Kitscoty last Monday afternoon for the first time this season.

Manager Tucker is arranging for a return game with the Easterners to be played here the beginning of next week. Billy Barr and Scaife were unable to make the trip on Monday.

The Vermilion aggregation was not at full strength as Hardy Mac was unable to play. Beer or Pinto and Hyde Jain will fill in. In all probability Hardy will be in shape for examination as to an early date.

IN AN ATTEMPT to assist to finding a market for Horses, UNITED GRAIN GROWERS are now conducting an investigation in the East to understand that there exists in the Eastern Provinces some demand for the class of horses known generally as "farm chunks," weighing from 1,200 to 1,400 lbs. Requirements would be a low, thick-set, well-ribbed horse, well broken and suitable for general farming purposes. Mares must be young and in good condition.

C. E. S. NOTES

A highly interesting evening was spent at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening last when about thirty young people gathered at a social of the Christian Endeavor Society The programme consisted of contests and games and the singing of old songs by those present. Then a delicious supper was served and the social which was thoroughly enjoyed by all was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

The Y. P. P. A. Missionary meeting on Sunday Feb 18th, proved very interesting and was well attended, in spite of the cold weather. The topic was missionary work in Alberta and the fact that the mission fields under discussion are so near to us, made the subject doubly interesting. Mrs. W. E. Mackenzie gave an excellent paper on the work of the Presbyterian W. M. S. at Cold Lake and Bonnyville, telling of the real pioneering these self-sacrificing missionaries are doing. The other speaker of the afternoon was Miss Beth Witherbe. Miss Witherbe's paper dealt with the work of the Anglican missions among Alberta Indians, right from the very early days up to the present times; and also of the work among the esquimaux. Scripture reading by Mr. Pryor, and prayers and hymns completed the meeting. The next meeting will be on Monday, Feb 19th, and will be Literary night. Every body welcome.

In "The Leather Pushers", a series of pictures which will be shown every other Monday and Tuesday at the Columbia, Manager Pithie has secured something different for his patrons This series is by H. C. Witwer, the famous humorist writer, and consists of two reels of comedy and boxing in each instalment. Commencing Monday don't fail to see these gloomchasers.

ENGLISH TEACHERS ARRIVE IN CANADA FOR WEST SCHOOLS

Party of Thirty-three Will Be Sent to Edmonton and Regina

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 20—The Canadian Pacific steamer Montclare arrived at St. John Sunday in charge of the fellowship of the Maple Leaf, for which Rev. J. J. Andrews was personal representative. Thirty three English teachers are on board the Montclare, en route to their tribute stations at Regina and Edmonton. The Montclare party is the third brought out under the Maple Leaf auspices this winter. Rev. Mr. Andrews, formerly of Hunslet, Leeds, who succeeded Rev. Dr. Lloyd, bishop of Saskatchewan, as Maple Leaf conductor, explained that the object in bringing out the English teachers, all of whom are fully trained and certificated, was to help the cause of education in the rural areas of the west, especially among the foreigners to the end that the various nationalities might be crystallized into Canadians.

Best Year In Sun Life History

The Financial Statement issued by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada this week affords a demonstration of activity and strength which will be gratifying alike to its policyholders, and to the larger public who take pride in the predominant position occupied by Canadian financial institutions. This Company, for many years, has pursued an aggressive policy not only in Canada, but far beyond its borders, being firmly established on five continents and having active agencies in more than fifty countries.

The Statement covers the transactions of the Company during 1922, the fifty-first year of its operation. In all departments substantial advances are recorded as compared with the previous year. New business written reached $107,225,248, and the total assurances now in force reach the impressive figure of $631,404,869. These figures emphasize the Company's position as the leading Life Company of the Dominion and as the largest company doing an ordinary Life Business exclusively in the British Empire.

This expansion is accompanied by corresponding increases in Income, Assets and Surplus. From premiums, interest and other sources a total cash income of $36,251,322, for the year is recorded, an excess over the 1921 figures of $5,144,172.—by far the greatest advance ever recorded in a single year. Assets now reach the sum of $174,-088,858., an increase of $44,716,732; another record, both relatively and absolutely, for the Company. After providing for all liabilities and capital stock and setting aside substantial sums to provide for investment fluctuations and other contingencies, a surplus of $14,269,420. is disclosed, being a gain of $3,885,511. over the year 1921. The care and forethought with which the Company's investment's have been chosen in the past is reflected in an average interest earning rate of 6.27 per cent.

That the Sun Life of Canada is fulfilling its mission is demonstrated by its payments to policyholders or their beneficiaries during the year, a total of $15,616,505. being reached. This represents a payment of $6,500. for each hour of the year on the basis of a working day of eight hours. The sum of $2,673,816. was paid, or alloted, in respect of dividends. The Company has now paid to its policyholders or their representatives since organization a total of $129,270,509.

The Statement justifies the claim that the Sun Life of Canada has enjoyed the most profitable and satisfactory year in a history remarkable for its progress. Its figures indicate that the public are deeply sensible of their domestic responsibility, for the large underwritings to which we became accustomed during the artificial prosperity of three or four years ago have been well maintained in a year of comparative financial stringency. The great volume of Life Assurance outstanding on the books of our greater companies, and which in the nature of things must be paid out in the span of comparatively few years, forms a promise to prosperity, the importance of which would be difficult to exaggerate.

"COLDS"

A correspondent writes — "Dear Argus: I have read your articles with some interest, but it seems to me you might address to easier words to "all are ill conscious" that they have Colds, and we would like to trade "old heads and chests for new" Maybe you can tell us how to do it."

There are many 'true words spoken in jest' and none, but as a large percentage of people suffer from the same complaint as my correspondent's 'kick', the subject is one with which it may be profitable to deal. We all take our place on the thermometer of intelligence, according to our spiritual development, and as an advanced student would refuse to be sufficiently negative to contract a "cold" I will try and deal with the subject on the physical and mental planes. A cold is an effect or symptom, and can only be suppressed, but if we remove the cause we shall not only lose the symptom or cold, but we can become immune for the future. Like all other unpleasant conditions, a cold is the outcome of a negative mental condition, and in turn becomes the cause of a large proportion of all other sickness, so let us see just what our enemy is, as this is half the battle. Normal physical health is maintained by keeping a perfect equilibrium between the two chief functions of living, namely, assimilation and elimination. The human body consists of about sixteen chemicals in exact proportions, and which we have to assimilate by eating, drinking, breathing etc, and the organs of elimination are capable of rejecting the system of a normal amount of waste matter, and so long as a perfect balance is maintained, sickness is impossible, but owing to faulty diet, etc, most people keep their organs of elimination continually working to their full capacity. I think we can now see where "catch cold" The skin is one of the most efficient organs of elimination, but will only work perfectly in a normal temperature. We sit in a draft, and chill a portion, or perhaps all the surface of the body, which throws an extra burden on other already overworked organs, such as the nose throat, and lungs; these break down under the extra strain, and we have a cold, sore throat, etc. Now, by the indiscriminate use of drugs, etc, we suppress these symptoms, and nature make further efforts through the action of the kidneys, etc. This sets up inflammation, and we have kidney and other troubles; these are again suppressed, and an [illegible] The question of diet, although most important, is too big for this article, and will be taken up in a future issue, but as a general rule, most people could reduce the amount of meat, potatoes, white bread, pastry, etc and increase the amount of fresh green vegetables, fruit, etc with advantage, but for the present we must assume a correct diet and the measures to be taken are preventitive and remedial; and it must be understood that these suggestions are simply in the nature of home remedies, and in any case of doubt a competent physician should be consulted

To prevent Colds, first, maintain a positive mental attitude, and try to realize that the wonderful mechanism of the body is quite capable of adjusting itself to varying temperatures; second, take every opportunity of being in the fresh air, and make a practise of deep breathing and always through the nose. Maintain an upright carriage in standing and walking, and frequently fill the lungs to their capacity, taking about twice as long to exhale as to inhale, and by so doing you will form the habit of deep breathing. Third, take a cold sponge every morning if possible. Fourth on rising, take a tumbler of cold water and sniff it up the nose. You will find this hard at first but if you persist a little at a time, you will eventually find the practise both easy and pleasant. You will be surprised at the beneficial result. Even a cold, put the part affected and keep it clean and comfortable, not look depressed, and a plenty of fresh air. Do not [illegible] solid nature, the best diet consists of oranges, [illegible] juice in water, without sugar. If the throat is sore, apply a [illegible] the Gands, the Wheats the [illegible] Fourthly, when [illegible] was brought under some sort of [illegible] which decided that the shape of a "stanza" must be [illegible]

the armpits and over each shoulder; cover with plenty of dry flannel and a wool sweater; leave for two or three hours, then take off and rub down with a cold wet sponge, and dry. One application is usually sufficient to break up a cold, which can then be followed by preventitive methods. The writer has frequently seen this tried, and never known it to fail. Next week the series will be continued by taking for our subject: — "POLARITY."

Solved Telephone Mystery

Linesman Located Simple Reason For Interruption of Service

Apparently of its own accord, says Popular Mechanics, a rural telephone line in a remote district of Colorado went on strike for a sixteen-hour working day. During the daylight hours the line worked perfectly, but between nine and ten every night something happened and the telephones would suddenly become silent. Finally, the manager and a lineman started on a nocturnal trouble hunt.

Early in the morning they reached the last house on the line and were admitted by the aged occupant. Cautiously creeping on the top of the wall telephone were his metal-rimmed spectacles that rested in electrical contact with the terminals, where it was his habit to leave them every night. The mystery was solved.

HON. G. P. SMITH MANAGER BIG CONCERN

Former Minister of Education Heads Big Manufacturing Corporation in East

Hon George P. Smith, minister of education in the Stewart government, has recently been appointed general manager of the F. F. Dalley Corporation, at Hamilton, the largest policy industry in the world, and having branches at Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Rochester and Indianapolis, and offices and agencies all over the world. It is also the pioneer in the development of vacuum packing processes for food stuffs and all kinds of perishable products.

When Mr. Smith left Edmonton last year he went east as assistant to the president, and in one year the directors decided to offer him the position of general manager, which he accepted. Mr. Smith's friends will be glad to know that his energy and ability now directed into entirely different channels have resulted in his securing a position of such importance. Naturally it is a position to which a very handsome salary is attached.

Grain Via Vancouver

Fifteen million bushels of grain is now the estimate for the Vancouver grain movement for the season 1922

Europe has taken 13,870,000 bushels, with 4,594,152 bushels set to load. The United States has taken 423,000 bushels, with 1,396,003 bushels yet to be despatched in addition to 14,000,000 bushels of wheat shipped year to-27 barrels of flour were exported or four times the amount shipped in the previous year.

Conditions in the West

Difficulties Which Confront the Agriculturist Today

I shall not elaborate at any great length on conditions in the west. The best leader on this group who has preceded me has I think, done full justice to that subject. We do not like to appear in the position of being calamity howlers, but perhaps in other illustration, and again a personal one, for which I must apologize, I will show the condition of things better perhaps than anything else can do. In the year 1912 I bought a wagon for use on the farm and I paid $75 cash. It was a fully equipped farm wagon with a three-bolsted box-type familiar to gentlemen from the prairies. My crop, if I remember aright, I sold for 70 cents a bushel. Now remember - $70 for a wagon and wheat selling at 70 cents a bushel! Last fall I found that I needed a wagon box to put on this same wagon the old one having become useless in the meantime. I paid $47 for the box alone and for my wheat I got 70 cents a bushel net. Now I think these figures will show you that the old equilibrium between the price I received for his products and the price of the articles he bought for carrying on his farm had been upsetted. The illustrations of that kind might be magnified indefinitely, but I think one is sufficient. H. A. Bruce (reporting fully)

What the Spider Indicated

Getting a Line on a Good Quiet Place In Which to Spin His Web

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him in reply, and printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither a sign of good luck nor bad luck. The spider is merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Asquith's Decision On Outstanding War Debt Has Been Accepted

London - Premier Premier H. H. Asquith, as arbitrator in the differences between the British and Canadian Governments relating to the adjustment of debts standing over from the war, has handed down his decision awarding Canada [illegible] of the moneys [illegible] amounting to one hundred [illegible] million dollars. The British treasury, on the part, supplied Canadian troops with food, clothing and munitions, and also British currency for paying Canadian troops.

At the request of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, interim adjustments of the account took place between the two Governments at various dates up until March 1920, at which date the Imperial Government owed Canada over one hundred million dollars.

Mr. Asquith, in giving his award, has allowed the exchange on all transactions covered by the interim agreements to stand, and the outstanding balance due to the Canadian Government is to be settled at the "rate of the day" when payments are made. The substance of the decision means that Great Britain has paid the bulk of her balance to Canada with depreciated pounds, but has received par value for them.

Russia Will Try Capitalist System

Change In Government to be Made End of March

London, Sunday - Russia is going to adopt the "capitalist" system of government at the end of March, when the communist congress meets, according to Helsingfors dispatches. At that time, Lenin, Trotsky, Nikolai Lenin, will take over direction of the Department of Industry and Education, the Daily Herald confirming the above report.

The change in capitalist system will be gradual and will proceed from the farming areas, power to a group representing the trade unions and cooperative societies. Under the new regime the tasks of restoring Russia's agricultural and industrial life will be left to the peasants, while the workmen will be entrusted with the task of the others.

CATTLE READY FOR EXPORT

100,000 AVAILABLE FOR SHIPMENT THIS YEAR IS FORECAST

Montreal - W. A. Coates, director of several shipping interests, declared that his company were viewed that the west would be available for shipment to Britain this year.

Mr. Coates pointed out that during the war, when the cattle rate was $16 per head, there was not a rush for the business. How much there will be now with rates from $25 to $27.50 per head, is a speculative matter, he said.

Manitoba Trustees Defeat Motion to Teach French in Schools

Winnipeg - For the third consecutive year, the Manitoba School Trustees' Association defeated a motion for the introduction of bilingual education into the public schools of Manitoba. The motion was voted down by about 2 to 1.

Strong arguments were advanced by several speakers for the teaching of the French language in school where a majority of the children of [illegible] parents, however, characterized this as being the thin edge of the wedge," and one declared that Manitoba is not longer a bilingual, but a multilingual province in which the Ruthenian, German and Polish elements people had, by an overwhelming majority, taken equally as great an interest as the French.

Remove Horns

A timely suggestion at this time of the year for those farmers and stock raisers who desire to put their stock in the best shape for the market is to use a day or so now before the warm weather and flies come to remove the horns from any cattle they are only beautifying adding the pain. A very bad way to do the beautifying of the horning calves has been the spring way! by the practice of inexperienced men using a hot chisel and mallet. The best way is to use the dehorning clippers, which are made for the purpose, and which can be had at any hardware store. The operation is performed by placing the animal in a stanchion and clipping off the horns with the clippers. The time and attention given to a number of animals will be found well repaid by the increased value of the animals when ready for the market. The Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin which showed to the intermediates about the first period score being [illegible] the remainder. This [illegible] can be had gratuitously by writing to the Department of Agriculture.

"YOUR TEETH"

CHILDREN'S HABITS

By Rea F. McGee, M.D., D.D.S. Pittsburgh, Pa.

Habits formed in childhood are very difficult to break. The younger the child, the more quickly a habit is formed.

Thumb sucking, baby biting, nail gnawing, lip-holding (pushing the lower lip under the upper teeth), mouth breathing, tongue thrusting, and the like, are habits that may cause their wearer many years of trouble.

Mouth breathing is a habit which is due to that of thumb sucking. Children mouth breathers would rather have the baby quiet and happy and sucking its thumb than dissatisfied with life in general and raising Cain. But the passing of the youngster to this method of relief is a matter of difficult habit.

When a child sucks its thumb it pushes the roof of the mouth upward so that it makes a very high arch; and as the roof of the mouth is the floor of the nose, the nasal space is reduced and the septum of the nose is pushed over either to the right or to the left usually to the left.

The upper teeth in front, along with the bone in which they are implanted, are pushed forward and upward and the lower front teeth and the surrounding bone are pushed in and downward so that the overlapping of the teeth, that was intended by nature, is very seriously interfered with.

The constant drawing down of the thumb, extends to the accessory muscles and these help to distort the face. All of these ill effects will be developed if this habit is continued for any considerable period.

Thumb sucking often starts in infancy as the result of hunger. Baby wants food and cries. Mother, thinking baby is sleepy, pops baby's thumb into its mouth. Baby sucks and sucks and sucks. Mother thinks baby is asleep. Baby is not asleep. Baby is hungry. Baby wants food. Baby cries. Mother

Ismet Blames France For Breakdown Of Lausanne Conference

Constantinople A dispatch from Angora says that the great national Assembly is holding secret sessions to hear Ismet Pasha's report on the Lausanne conference. It is understood that the general tone of the assembly is unfavorable to the proposals of the powers.

Ismet Pasha in addressing the assembly, attributed the breakdown of the conference to the underhand attitude of France on the financial and economic terms of the proposed treaty, according to advices received from the capital.

The Constantinople press generally is predicting the early approach of a resumption on the Near Eastern peace negotiations.

The Ankara press discusses the probable place of the next peace meeting and predicts it will be Constantinople. One newspaper also says that the forthcoming note from the Angora government to the Lausanne conference will outline the Turkish position that I will indicate a willingness to discuss economic and financial questions separately and leave them in separate regards than with Europe and the United States the question of the Straits. It is added in the newspaper that peaceful circles in Constantinople are very optimistic.

Minute Engraving on Glass

Readable Only When It Is Magnified 1,000 Times

The Bureau of Standards was recently asked to measure what is probably the smallest engraving ever made in the world. The engraving consists of the Lord's Prayer (57 word version) engraved on the sheet in a space of .001 by .002 of an inch. The writing can only be seen under a high-power microscope, the magnification required being from 500 to 1,000 times. The measurements by which the above dimensions were determined were carried out in the laboratories of the bureau.

The King And Queen Break Precedents In Dining With Laborites

London.—The King and Queen, for the first time in their lives, broke bread with the Labor members of Parliament in the house of one of their subjects.

The occasion was a dinner given by Viscount and Lady Astor, at which Their Majesties met, among others, James Henry Thomas, General Secretary to the National Union of Railwaymen; John Robert Clynes, President of the National Union of General Workers, and Ramsay Labor leader in the House; and Philip Snowden, and their wives.

Labor came in silken knee breeches, which was joyously described as a concession, and there were also present those who wear the tri-cloud garment—Baldwin, Salisbury and Grey of Fallodon.

The affair, which was unique in British social history, was arranged as much to please the King and Queen as to meet in social intercourse with the Laborites as to allow the Laborites to come into social contact with Their Majesties. It was said the King had made known his desire to meet the leaders in the Labor party in such manner.

Lady Astor, whose campaign for political honors has characterized by much humor, greeted the Labor party when they appeared in knee breeches with biting remarks. She whispered "pull your socks up, Ramsay," to Mr. Macdonald, and when inquired of the Canadian Black Canada-ism, Hon. P. C. Lamb, if his stockings were on straight.

The guests sat at two large round tables around the fireplace, on which tulips and other blossoms. The dinners included in addition to those mentioned: Premier Baldwin, the Duke of Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury, the Speaker and Mrs. Whitley, Lady Frances Balfour, Lord and Lady Cheyne Percy, Viscount and Lady Grey of Fallodon, Lord Robert Cecil, Lord and Lady Isherwood, Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George, Sir John and Lady Simon, the Lord Mayor and Lady Waterlow, Lord and Lady Cecil of Chelwood, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Clay, and Mrs. Margaret Wilkinson, M.P.

LLOYDMINSTER TIGERS, CHAMPIONS OF WESTERN SASKATCHEWAN HOCKEY LEAGUE, WERE OUT-CLASSED BY VERMILION INTERMEDIATES AND SUFFERED DEFEAT BY SCORE OF 6 GOALS TO 3

Intermediates Sprung a Surprise in Exhibition Game by Whacking the Easterners — —Game Was Fast and Fever in Doubt

The Lloydminster Tigers, champions of the Western Saskatchewan Hockey League for 1922-23, came, saw and were conquered last Friday evening at the Arena ice palace when they bumped into the Vermilion Intermediate hockeyists. As a result of the session the invaders received a rude awakening and were forced to taste the pangs of defeat by 6 goals to 3.

Large Crowd as Hand

The majority of Vermilion's hockey enthusiasts who enabled down the hill to the rink last Friday evening fully expected to see a massacre, with the Vermilion Wanderers playing the role of massacrees. They came away with their views changed. The budding young pucksters put up a wonderful brand of hockey that touched them a far better team than the fans had believed. For the Wanderers it would be more than difficult to pick a star. All nine men on the team worked equally well.

The visitors from the east had been touted as about the fastest amateur proposition in Western Saskatchewan. They came west fully confident of their ability to hand the Intermediates a decisive trimming, but the combat was only a few minutes old when it proved a rude surprise to their hopes, as the whizzers had it over the champions like the proverbial tent with the flaps tied down and were never in danger at any stage of losing the encounter.

Wanderers Controlled the Play

The homesters controlled the play throughout, their back shooting and clean passing appearing to throw the Lloydminster attack all out of gear, while the defense work of Manson Barr and Hunnie Mackenzie left little to be desired, giving that boy Ross every chance in the woven throne. Great things are expected of this young sextette another year. They have the speed and above all, to use a sporting term, "grit." They can take bumps and are not afraid to hand them back.

Fans Were Surprised

The fans were tickled with the performance of these youngsters last Friday night and showed it with great bursts of enthusiasm. The homesters outskated and outplayed the visiting aggregation from gong to gong.

The first period was filled with fast hockey, whirlwind rushes, hard back-checking and a brand of goal keeping by both custodians that was hard to beat. The frame was fast and produced the best hockey of the evening. At the end of this period the score was 1-0 in favor of the homesters.

Opening the second stanza the Vermilionites scored two goals in 12 minutes, but following the second goal Price secured and with a marvelous solo rush netted the invaders' initial counter. It was a beautiful effort. The second period ended with the locals still in the lead 3-1.

Final Period Speedy

The final session opened in rare style with every player going at top speed, and this period looked like big league stuff. The red and orange tribe appeared to be going faster and to be in better shape than the easterners. Kendall placed a neat counter for Lloydminster on a perfect pass from Spence. With ten minutes of the period ticked off, English, on a combination effort with Shea, secured the local's fourth tally, while C. Kendall notched the final Lloydminster counter one minute later.

The Vermilionites scored two goals shortly before the gong sounded and brought the score to 6-3. On the whizzers line-up every man showed improvement and steady combination was working better than ever before. Jack Mackenzie, F. English and Shea excelled for the winners, while Fretwell, Price and Ross in goal were the pick of the visitors.

M. Barr	defence	E. Kendall
J. Mackenzie	defence	Fretwell

Treatment for Tubercular Mothers

Good Work Being Carried On in Saskatchewan

Enjoying the benefits of the $50,000 Anti-T.B. Fund, eight mothers have been taken to the Saskatchewan Sanatorium at Fort QuAppelle. The sight are from points in the province very far remote from each other, and in each case the fact that the mother can be given treatment means that the children will be much more safe from danger of T.B. than before.

Not nearly $8,000 has yet been collected. Indeed, the funds actually received are only about $2,000, but gifts are coming along steadily. So it seemed safe to the Anti-T.B. League to have that number of the mothers start their treatment before the disease got more stubbornly fixed.

All readers who are willing to help in this move to make all the homes of Saskatchewan safer from T.B. are asked to send their gifts, even if they cannot be large, to The Leader, Regina; The Times, Moose Jaw; The Star, Saskatoon.

H. Van Berkel Gives Tanlac Full Credit For Ending Long-Standing Stomach Disorders

"I'm never too busy to put in a good word for Tanlac. About two years ago it built me up from a hundred and nineteen to a hundred and forty pounds, and I have felt fine ever since." This emphatic statement was made recently by Henry Van Berkel, 2146 Main St., Vancouver, B.C., well-known foot specialist.

For three years before I got Tanlac," he said, "I led a miserable existence from stomach trouble. I sometimes could not retain a bite I ate, and even when food did stay down I suffered from sourness and gas, and nothing I took seemed to do me a particle of good. I was badly run down, lost weight, had no strength, and suffered a great deal from constipation.

I took six bottles of Tanlac and got back my health. That covers the whole case. My stomach trouble is a thing of the past and I always feel strong and full of energy. Tanlac for me every time."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold

TOM MOORE SCORES LIBERALS —NOTHING DONE FOR LABOR

Says Immigration Policy Now in Force Antagonistic to Workers

TORONTO, March 9. — President Tom Moore of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, speaking at an opening meeting of employees of the Allied Building Trades here last night, declared the King government at Ottawa had done absolutely nothing in the interests of labor since it came into power. Its immigration policy was antagonistic to labor. Under the guise of bringing in agricultural settlers and farm hands, the government was engaged in a campaign to bring in immigrants from Europe to swell the number of unemployed now in the dominion. The inability of Hon. Mackenzie King and colleagues to do anything practical for the development of the country and its resources was having a depressing effect on the community, with the result that not only were artisans leaving the country but farmers also

No Church Service In Nineteen Years

In August last a preacher went to Middle Lake, Sask., forty miles from everywhere. It took him seven hours to drive to a democrat. He found a little group of people, 71 Hungarians, all of them but two Protestants. Over 20 per cent of the Hungarians in their own land are Protestants, over 17 per cent are Calvinists, 6 per cent Lutherans. Out of those 71 there were 42 who partook of Communion. They had been in there for 19 years. The church had not only never preached the gospel to them, but three weeks before that the Hungarian missionary was there for the first service and those were the first services they ever had. The Church had not only failed to preached to them it had not even discovered them. The Church could be mediately put six workers amongst the Protestant Hungarians of Saskatchewan alone. It is claimed that Church Union will go far to remedy this state of things.

DRASTIC ACTION DEMANDED

The public accounts brought down on Wednesday says the Edmonton Journal show that during the year 1922 the province spent on current account only $1,210,393 more than it collected in revenue. This deficit follows one of $2,114,540 in 1921. The same applies to seed grain and other relief expenditures to which much public money has been directed recently are not included in current outlay and so are responsible for the deficits which have to be put to the failure of crops in order to meet ordinary expenditure. The situation revealed by the figures is one that must receive the careful attention not only of the members of the legislature but of every citizen. It is clear that we cannot go on living at these definite deficit expenditure that we should undertake only when we have been brought face to face with it is necessary to do so. REDUCED FARES AUTHOR. KEID CALGARY SPRING SHOW CANADIAN NATIONAL RYS.

ON A POPULATION BASIS

A committee of the House of Commons will take up the redistribution of representation. It it does its duty it will not be content with a readjustment in Nova Scotia and the Western provinces. A serious effort should be made to give general effect to the principle of representation by population. That doctrine is as good within a province as it is between provinces—Vancouver Province

Complaints that the Federal Government would not consider Dominion wide prohibition, although seven out of nine Provinces were dry, until all nine were dry, crystallized into resolution form at the closing session of the convention of the Quebec branch of the Dominion Alliance on Saturday. The resolution passed by the convention called on the Dominion Government to pass an Act prohibiting the importation, export, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes within the Dominion, thus making Canada bone-dry

The Montreal Daily Star's objection to a partial experiment in proportional representation is that "two hundred virtually different electoral principles could not exist side by side in the same country satisfactorily." With regard to the adoption of the system for the whole of Canada, the Star says —"The gravest objection is its appalled tendency toward group government"

It has been through parliaments elected by majority rule that British communities have evolved the best governmental system in the world. Nor by the discarding of that system, but by its progressive improvement, lies the road to sound reform

DUNCAN MARSHALL AND HIS 160 ACRE FARM.

The statement reported to have been made by Duncan Marshall, Agricultural Commissioner for the Dominion, to the effect that he would favor an Act prohibiting a man from undertaking to farm more than 160 acres, which has excited so much comment in the Eastern press, occasions little surprise among Alberta people who are familiar with Duncan's proneness to hold radical views on all subjects, and who know the facility with which he can jump from one extreme to the opposite, and put up a plausible "reist" in defence of whatever position he happens to hold at the time he is talking. Duncan's Alberta acquaintances are wondering where he derived his information as to the sufficiency of 160 acres as a means of maintaining a family, and so educating his children as to prepare them for the battle of life. We are obliged to admit at this point, that the ex-Minister, in the speech referred to, made no reference to a farmer's education of his children, and if this was not included in his scheme of things, we are prepared to stand corrected.

Still fact in connection with Mr. Marshall's Alberta career stands out prominently, and that is that he never in his 13 years experience as a farmer in Alberta even attempted to do what he now says he would be willing to see other men compelled by law to do, namely to confine themselves to 160 acres each.

The Alberta ex-Minister's farm was situated in one of the most productive districts in the province, yet he was not fit to spread himself out over 160 acres.

Mr. Marshall even found a slam to his own Minister who has also been, and I believe still is a 160 acre farmer. When Mr. Marshall started out as Minister in Alberta, one of his first acts of importance was to establish a number of farms to demonstrate that money could be made at farming in this province. For that reason they were called demonstrations farms. How many of these were limited to 160 acres? Not one. The smallest consisted of 260 acres and the remainder ranged from 320 to 640 acres.

The reports of Mr. Marshall's farmer department show that money can be lost in operating farms of all the sizes named, but after twelve years of demonstrating he has left no information to show whether a farm should be either larger or smaller in order to yield a profit in Alberta.

We are all able to point to individual farmers who have made money on a farm of one or more of the sizes named, and also to point to a few who have "kept their heads above water" on farms of only 160 acres, but in every case, the location of the farms, the quality of the soil and the judgment displayed in management, have had more to do with the success obtained than the size of the farms.

The prairie farmers of Alberta who have to summer fallow every second, or at most every third year, would like to be informed how the Commissioner would divide up his 160 acre farm, in order to keep a standard farming outfit busy throughout the working season, provide hay for his working outfit and hay and pasture for the milk cows that he would allow us all to keep; they would also like to know if he would place the same limitation on those who are operating from 35 to 40 miles out, as he does on those who are close in, and they would especially like to be advised as to how he chanced to acquire such pronounced conviction on this subject after he himself had quit farming.

The fact of the matter is that the whole argument in favor of the 160 acre farm is based on the assumption that on such a farm hired help can be eliminated. When anybody is to be done that the farmer is unable to do alone he can requisition his wife or children for the service. The argument is good so far as it goes, but on too many farms it resolves itself into a practice of getting more work for less money out of one's family than can be got out of hired help; and it violates the rule of how to keep the boys on the farm, a subject on which Mr. Marshall was wont to wax eloquent.

The disappointing thing about the speech of the Commissioner of Agriculture is that nowhere does he intimate that the farmers are suffering from bad economic conditions, or faulty guidance on the part of those to whom he is supposed to look for advice; nowhere does he assert that the fruits of the farmer's labor are absorbed by extravagant transportation charges which it might require considerable courage on the part of the cabinet ministers to intervene with, nowhere does he claim that what the farmer buys is costing him too much, because of exorbitant customs duties; he adopts the old practice of informing his city audience that the farmer is cause of his own trouble; that he tries to do more than can do properly and that he should be confined there from He talks of wheat raising as be ing the only cause of the farmers' trouble, yet ignores the fact that throughout the West there are thousands of farmers who are practising diversified farming, but who are nevertheless in practically as difficult straits as are those who keep little stock outside their main profitable branch at the time when as Minister of Agriculture, Mr Marshall urged us all not to dispose of our cattle because of the threatened food shortage of the time when he proclaimed that Europe was so badly in need of cattle that prices would soon be the best ten years; that representatives of his department could locate the feed; that railways would transport it at reduced rates and the banks supply the money with which to buy it That because of the certainty of an enormous European demand for live cattle in the future, the farmers would be justified in assuming large liabilities in order to keep their herds intact. At the end of the season many of us found that by following his advice we had increased obligations by the excess of the value of the animals we had saved; we found that instead of prices remaining sufficiently high for us years to enable us to pay out, they were cut in two within as many months and have gone lower since

We have no intention of blaming Mr. Marshall for the severity of the winter that occasioned such a great demand for feed, nor for the inability of Farmerama to buy our cattle, no matter how badly they needed them, but if he was unable to foresee the things with all the facilities at his command for gathering information, how does he expect the inhabitants of the rural districts to do so? But having followed his advice and having incurred the heavy expenditure with which we are now struggling, as a result of it, we expect a measure of sympathy and consideration rather than the charge that our troubles and the results of our misdirected efforts are due to what mining and to owning more land than we can cultivate properly; we expect something stronger than a mild criticism than the statement that he would favor legislation limiting us to 160 acres.

"DIETITICS"

By Mrs. Mary Inman

So much has been written on this subject, and so many theories advanced that it is somewhat surprising to note the general lack of knowledge on the subject. If you go to a doctor you will find various animals, calves, sheep, pigs, etc, and if the farmer is at all worthy the name he will be able to explain to you exactly why he feeds the different livestock various rations at given intervals, and in most cases his knowledge of chemistry is astonishing. He knows that for growth of the steer for weight, the bone for laying etc., but if you ask him why he feeds his family pork and beans for breakfast, pork and beans for dinner or tea, and pork and beans for supper, there are few who could give you an intelligent answer. And yet, as the only result a human being desires is normal health the matter should be more simple than the feeding of animals, each with a different end in view. A man asked me if I could advise him how to regain loss of appetite, he had tried every advertised drug and patent medicine on the market, and was on the point of stopping eating anything until he was really hungry and then to follow certain general lines of diet, but only sufficient to satisfy his hunger. In three months he was a new man. The writer has no quack system to recommend, but will give a few principals which have been proved effective

The old idea, of diet was to eat an abundance of food nourishing food, on the principal that if a given amount of food was good, double the quantity would be better, but just as an over-rich mixture of gasoline will stall a motor, so every ounce of food eaten in excess of the quantity required to produce heat and energy, and replenishment of tissue, is only burdening the system with unnecessary work and stimulation. Proteins, fats, and the quantity consumed must be determined by each individual according to the amount of physical energy expended. The most important discovery of science along these lines is the knowledge of the chemical composition of the human body, and a knowledge of the foods richest in those necessary elements. A person can literally starve to death with an abundance of food unless it is properly balanced. The chemicals needed are iron, sodium, calcium, potassium, magnesium and others about existence in all bodies except vital elements known as vitamines and the chemist must be an organic chemist to find out what foods are for starches sugars fats and proteids, but the simplicity of the premise and the fact that nearly all foods are composed chiefly of these makes it unnecessary for the average person to specialize them All cereals, sugar products, most roots, nuts, meats and dairy products are composed of some or all of the above. The most important part of the diet is to assure sufficient mineral salts and vitamines and these are found in the following the outer hulls of cereals and rice, all leafy vegetables such as cabbage, lettuce, peas, beans and corn in the green stage, carrots, beets, tomatoes, etc, most kinds of fruit and berries, fish, eggs and milk. Of course, there are many other foods rich in these elements, and cut down meat consumption to a minimum according to the amount of physical energy expended, you will have very little digestive and allied troubles. The subject of dietetics includes scientific fasting and cooking which will be taken up later For the present, eat only to satisfy hunger and confine as little as possible yourself to a second list of foods, as cooking destroys and wastes much of the valuable mineral elements. When cooking is necessary it should be done in a manner to preserve all the juices. These general principles apply only to those whose health is at least fairly normal, as those afflicted with ill health usually require a special regime or diet, it is impossible to advise regarding such cases, as there are many cases which have medical condition, and are thus subject to special cases.

Next week's subject will be "THE PSYCHOLOGY OF CULTURE."

Saskatchewan's output of creamery butter in 1922 shows an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent over 1921, the total for the year being 20,000,000 pounds, netting 70 of the entire output or 80.5 per cent. in excess of the previous year.

Market For Canadian Grain Expanding As World Shortage Of Wheat Becomes Evident

One of the curious phenomena noticed in the United States, and often commented upon, is the "wheat belt" which has receded year by year as the fertility of virgin soil was exhausted, and more diversified and intensive farming was adopted.

It may be that the finds of the Giles grain growing district in Saskatchewan have come to the public's rescue. Mr. Gilles says we require more land of farming following, grown in rotation, per bushel, we have to put down, though the power is not profitable in growing wheat in competition with virgin land.

Yet the Canadian wheat crop is expanding. Not in acreage, but in every 10 acres sown, every 10 bushels reaped, and every bushel grown is more valuable. The United States will very soon be a wheat importing country. Wheat is the considerable Canadian export, finds its way to the United Kingdom. Minister Ingersoll, Mr. Gilles, Mr. Bennett, and a National call us to the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Bennett, and many known Canadians, to the Canadian Pacific Railway

EASTER GREETINGS

EASTER is coming near again—the festival of hope and spring time. How the youngsters love to get those fascinating Easter cards, with their snow-white bunnies and fluffy yellow chicks, or a wonderful chocolate Easter egg! Mail time at Easter is next thing to Christmas to them. And to older people—Well, at least it marks definitely the ending of a long cold winter, the coming of sunshiny days, and flowers, and new growth of all kinds, to some perhaps a flutter in new raiment to match the radiant sunshine. But besides all these more frivolous considerations, comes the deeper and real significance of this season—the reminder of the first Easter, and all it has meant to man and God.

Remember the children when the time comes—send them at least a postcard for the real holiday kind, or perhaps a few chocolate egg to take the place. If you send the latter, see that it is carefully done up in a substantial box or package, to insure it arriving in good condition and the receiver will not just have to try and guess what it should have looked like. And if the other friends whom you are sure to think of at this season have outgrown the "sweet tooth" of other days, they will certainly at appreciate getting a pretty card and a few lines, particularly per from some one whom you often never remembering, and whom we sometime overlook.

And whatever you send, be sure to get it mailed in plenty of time—there will be a lot of other people's cards and letters and parcels travelling about on that last few days before Easter and getting everything away in good time enough addressed and with the right amount of postage on it, helps the postal service to give you the best results and makes for happiness all round.

OUR FISCAL POLICY

Self-laudation will be but a feeble echo of the praise with which the press of the Dominion has resounded from end to end of the land. For the first eleven months of the present fiscal year the Customs revenue has increased by [illegible] over the corresponding period of last year. This is an unanswerable argument and with such results it was obvious that Mr. Fielding would not promise any alteration in the fiscal policy of the Dominion.

Yet everybody is not suited. The Progressives desire very considerable reductions in the tariff, which would mean a greatly reduced revenue. How it would be absurd to regard the average Progressive as an unaddressed letter rather than as one who receives facts and thinks in terms of dollars. It is impossible to presume that he does not appreciate the country's financial position. If he wishes for a reduction of the revenue derived from indirect taxation, it must be because he has more practical schemes for raising revenue. What those schemes are, only the Progressives know, and it is in the interest of the community at large that they should disclose the exact formula by which Canada's finances can be rehabilitated. —Montreal Star

"THE PSYCHOLOGY OF COLOR"
ARTICLE X

It is often difficult to decide on color schemes for home decorations, and our lady friends will frequently decide on the color for a dress, or the stones in a brooch on no stronger motive than fancy, and if the fancy is dictated by intuition the result will be good, because its origin will be in the subjective, otherwise the result may be unhappy. Metaphysical science is the master science, it therefore has a bearing on every action of our lives, from driving a carpet tack, to running a railway system and here let me point out that the test of truth is that it "works"; always try and demonstrate knowledge: if you are benefited, admit it—otherwise either it is not the truth or you have misapplied principle; if wrong, and never discard knowledge until you are certain about the latter. There are many sayings whose origin is traceable to occult knowledge of colors, such as "the man in white, has a yellow streak," feels blue, sees red, is green as grass, his character is blackened, is true blue," etc., on which the following information will throw some light.

Color, like everything else, is subject to the "law of vibration" and every vibration necessarily has a color although some are too fine or too coarse to be distinguished by the eye. For instance, every person has an "aura" and in one who is sufficiently developed spiritually the color is visible, and the person's character is defined according to the color of the emanation. This psychic power is used in "fortune telling" and is known as "clairvoyance". A visible aura can be seen by watching the back of a smith weld a piece of steel. When he takes it from the fire it is white as it cools it becomes yellow, red and finally black. Now the piece of steel contained all the color group at once, all through the change the only difference being the varying rate of vibration caused by the changing temperature. Thought and emotions also have a color caused by their different rates of vibration and we are automatically connected with cosmic currents in harmony with the vibratory rate of the emotion or thought being expressed. This is why many important inventions have been claimed by different people at the same time, in some cases entailing a law-suit, the minds of several people being in harmony with a certain thought current at the time which attracts the same kind of thought. Medical science recognizes these facts, and we hear less hopeless various colored rays and the use of colored curtains play an important part in the control of disease, several is small-pox, jaundice and certain types complaints. The colors at the ray of the cosmic currents are red, green, blue, orange, red having the lowest rate of vibration and orange the highest, with the different grades of shades according to their polarity. Most people have a "favorite color" which means that their personality is in harmony with the corresponding color and hue, and it is wise to use your particular color as much as possible, providing it represents constructive and harmonious forces. Here are some of the principal colors and their meanings Red—love, passion, hate, anger, Scarlet —individual love and devotion to home. Pink—happiness, romance social success, dull yellow—cowardice, gray bright Green—energy, charity, money; dull Blue—depression, fickleness—harmony, business ability, Intender—maternal love. Purple—love of home and children, Violet—spirituality, Indigo

VERMILION SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE IN ON DOUBTFUL LIST

Thought to Be One of Provincial Institutions to Be Closed

The closing down of an additional two schools of agriculture, as forecasted in Premier Greenfield's budget speech, Monday, will probably mean the elimination of the most northerly and most southerly schools in the province, those at Vermilion and Raymond, respectively, states Hon. George Hoadley.

While the matter has not definitely been decided, these two schools appear to be the logical ones to be selected, as in point of location and attendance they would be the least missed by students.

The school at Vermilion was one of a group of three built in 1913. Olds and Claresholm being the other two of the group. The Raymond school was one of three of the later group built in 1920, and including Youngstown and Gleichen. The two latter are already closed, so that the closing of the Raymond school will mean the elimination of the entire group built in 1920.

A dance will be given in the Pelican Lake school house on Friday, April 6th, in aid of the Hockey team. Ladies please bring cakes.

V. A. S. Closing Exercises

Students Congratulated by Principal Gandier on Final Standing

The closing exercises of the school of Agriculture at Vermilion took place on Thursday evening March 29 in the face of persistent reports the the school will be closed this year, it was decided to dispense with an of absorate programme and public gathering, the students and ex-students simply inviting a number of their friends to join them in a social evening before disbanding.

The V. S. A. Alumni association held its annual business meeting in the office of the school at which officers for the coming year were appointed. The probable closing of the school was discussed and in the event of such proceedure by the Dept of Agriculture, plans were made to maintain the interest of the Alumni members until such time as the school might be re-opened. The staff, students and ex-students assembled for an informal banquet at 6:30. A programme of music and addresses followed, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Principal Gandier reviewed the work of the school during the past year, stating that the year was made and had been highly satisfactory on the whole. The Story So Far

Jerry Carruthers, war reporter of the "Bedding Journal," is exiled to a lonely summer resort by Pickerill. The resort is recommended by his editor Angus, and, on his arriving, he sees only the proprietor and a beautiful young lady

A FOUR PART STORY
PART II

"Won't you like to see the paper," he queried.

If Jerry had been describing her in a story, he would have said the voice was sweet, mellow, like pure wine to the senses.

"I shall be pleased to," he replied, but I must read it first."

"Why?" she asked.

"Because it's exactly Jerry ... in me, I'm expect ... health and the doctor ... their orders not to use my ...

He wondered if the editor had ever been at Cedar Inn and if he had ever met any girls like Clyde. The waiter's mind staying there forever — if they were there. He thought it was funny he had never met her in Redding. And then, she had said she had been away to college

He looked up from the chair and began to undress. He wondered who the uncle was she lived with in Redding. He wondered who the friend was she had talked about him. Funny he did not know who it was, but then, how could he, when he did not know her name? He turned out the lights and crawled between the snowy sheets. The moon was shining brightly through the window. Sleep soon overcame his tired body. He dreamt of Clydesdale, of lake beauty, of Angus—

ANOTHER ELEVATOR UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Liberty Elevator Co. Building— Will Make A Total of Five For Vermilion

PROSPECTS THAT THE FEDERAL AND HOME GRAIN CO. MAY BUILD THIS SEASON

A fifth elevator is now under construction in Vermilion, being erected by the Liberty Elevator Co. Material arrived during the week and work is now going ahead. It will be of standard capacity of about 20,000 bushels. The addition of this elevator brings the number now along the Can. Nor. right of way up to five.

INDUSTRIAL AND RESOURCES DEPARTMENT
WILL RECEIVE APPLICATIONS FROM FARMERS PREPARED TO EMPLOY HELP (MALE OR FEMALE) FOR A PERIOD OF ONE YEAR AT WAGES CURRENT AT TIME OF ENGAGEMENT

Farmers are to make application on a form that may be obtained from C.N.R. Station Agents. C.N.R. representatives overseas will be instructed to secure the class of help required in Great Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Norway and Sweden. The Government of these countries stand ready to assist this class of their people to emigrate to Canada, but feel that they should be assured of employment for at least one year in order to gain farms of their own. Farmers who are able to do so, can thus assist in colonization work by rendering help for the year. There will be no charge to the farmer for our service, nor will the farmer be required to make any cash advance for the transportation of help to the nearest railway station. The information required will be as briefly stated on the application forms, which will be held in strictest confidence. Includes the kind or help required—male or female—married or single, age limit, and how long nationality desired, monthly wages offered, kind of work required, etc.

DEWBERRY

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Sunday school is now being conducted weekly at Harwood.

The turkeys should be loan in danger of the coyote menace now as we have at seen a prairie wolf this year. Gross Kinney Wilson and others of the district saw one.

Teacher J. F. McNaught of Harwood accompanied by Mrs. McNaught who also taught before her marriage, and little Howard are taking in the Edmonton convention this week.

Rumors of the approaching wedding of another popular couple have been prevalent for some time and a spring wedding has whispered that the happy event will not now be long delayed "In the spring a young man's fancy" etc. eh, Reg? Well, there's nothing like it—only more like it—and 'tis said that's not quite like it

"Bon Voyage, the love, they say. That makes the world go 'round, they say."

However incredible it may appear that any responsible farmer would operate a seed-drill with the coverine attachment removed, an advertisement of three useful sets hmenjs has reminded us that we have seen two men running drills without them. Surely it is plain that the chains are necessary to level the fresh moist earth on the seed at the time of planting, and that no amount of subsequent harrowing can quite make up for the loss of moisture and proper covering of the seed at the right time

We need some too shallow as the seed must be down to the moisture in order to grow and keep the resultant plant alive. We have even seen fields with considerable seed exposed to view after drilling Needless to say this cannot pass and maintain a thrifty stand in the competitive struggle of our prairie climate Seeger Wheat City's answer to other shallow seeding would seem to be applicable also to specially prepared land such as well packed and solid summerfallow. In such land it is practically impossible to get pressure enough upon the drill to sow deep and keep sowing is just necessary as the moisture is near the top. Unless an unusually wet season prevails the seed will germinate in the moisture even if it is a inches under the surface. We've seen it done with good results. We don't want to make a habit of the long run to like it. Altogether, to pass all the rosy land so prevalent in this district, the seeding of grain is a very attractive and successful farming operation. Whatever errors have been made by Marshall, Marquis, Red Fife and other who advocate smaller screenings and better cultivated, they sum of the right rail title that to be sown are a very attractive and successful farming operation. Whatever errors have been made by Marshall, Marquis, Red Fife and others

"Father." The rewrite in her tone made him like a whip-lash. "Did he plan the warrants too? The warrants that hadn't been issued yet, although you are going to swear that it was issued yesterday. Did he plan that?"

Once in his political career the Hon. Mr. Tweed was apparently in power, and had worked out all through the long years of opposition. He had laughed so many times at the idea that the tables would be turned, that he had worn that laugh into deep lines. Mrs. Tweed had come to the conclusion that it was a habit, and that her husband was not responsible for it. But now that the tables had turned, and the Hon. Mr. Meredith was in power, and Mr. Tweed was out of it through no fault of his own, that laugh was more than a habit. It was a reproach. It was a challenge. It was a taunt. It was a thing to be wiped off the face of the earth. It was a thing that must be wiped off the face of the earth. It was a thing that must be wiped off the face of the earth. HIGHEST PRICES FOR YOUR CATTLE ARE WHAT YOU WANT

Lowest Prices for Cattle are what the buyers want. Buyers are wise enough to know that by buying cattle in the country they are doubling the necessity of crowding competition on the Markets and raising the price. Many farmers are not wise enough to see through the game.

Our Co-operative selling system now operating is removing the Speculator on the Market just the same as the Co-operative shipping system is fast removing him from the country.

160 Cars handled amount $1 by our nearest competitor, at 91 remittance in February. There's a reason.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE OCTOBER 1

LONDON, April 9.—An imperial economic conference and a meeting of special conference similar to that held in June, 1921, will sit concurrently in London beginning October 1. It was announced today in the house of commons by Right Hon Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer

It is anticipated, he said, that India and the dominions will be represented in the discussion of affairs vital to the empire

In answer to a supplementary query, the chancellor said that questions relating to the imperial defence would most certainly be discussed

Mr Baldwin said that he was sorry to state that Premier Massey of New Zealand did not expect to be able to attend the imperial conference or premiers, but the chancellor hoped that all the other premiers would be present. Asked if the chancellor would consider the propriety of inviting the New Zealand high commissioner to attend in Premier Massey's place Mr Baldwin replied that he would leave that question to the prime minister's decision.

LONDON, April 9.—Of the consignment of Canadian cattle which arrived at Manchester on the Canadian Pioneer on Saturday last, only forty animals were purchased by butchers and on the inspection on Monday these were withdrawn from the landing place and purchased by graziers, which goes to show that only fairly good cattle are being imported.

ONE of th most important things now being considered by most Farmers is Feed for next Winter — What shall we grow? How much and where can we buy to the best advantage? The day for depending on native grasses has gone by as there is not enough to go around. Practically all dairymen are agreed that in order to get milk in paying quantities you must have silage. The trench silo has proved a success and does not require any outlay in cash.

Sunflower has grown wonderfully in popularity the last two years and we are selling three times as much this year as last. We would advise buying now as price may advance later on. Last season the advance was 2c per pound. We guarantee price on all orders.

Don't be discouraged about getting on the front page. It took Methuselah 3,200 years to get there but he landed it at last.—Boston Transcript.

Bobby just home from his first visit to the farm, was telling the family of its wonders. "And say, ma, out on the farm they get milk from cows, and it's just as good as new."

It is often a good thing for a man's peace of mind that he doesn't know what other people know about him.

Steam Engine Used Before Watt's Time

Historians Say He Improved But Did Not Invent It

The story of how James Watt invented the steam engine either seeing the lid of his mother's tea kettle bob up and down or else he had been knocked into a cocked hat by historians.

They point out that steam engines existed before Watt's time and that it was as a full fledged mechanical engineer that he began to improve them, says the Detroit News.

In the following century an Italian engineer produced a steam windmill [illegible] worked by a spouting of steam against the fan vanes of a wheel. And a whole generation before Watt began [illegible] Thomas Savery built [illegible] the engine that was used successfully to drain the mines of Cornwall. In addition Watt was a [illegible] sitting until Watt declared the separate condenser and other important improvements.

GLAD SHE DID AS DOCTOR TOLD HER

Took Tanlac on Physician's Advice and It Put Her in Fine Condition.

Statia Mye, Colon

Tanlac is certainly an ideal medicine," recently said Mrs. Bessie Colon, highly esteemed resident of 1561 Lorne St., Regina, Sask. "I was in such a badly run-down condition that I just felt miserable all the time. My appetite had failed me to such an extent that I was losing flesh steadily. My nerves were awfully unsteady; many, many times I couldn't get even an hour's sleep all night long, and I never felt like doing my housework at all.

"A physician advised me to take Tanlac and I took one dose getting a bottle. Now, I really don't feel like the same person. My nerves have steadied down, I am sleeping like a child, eating heartily, have gained several pounds, and am feeling just fine. I know what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is, I can sincerely recommend it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists [illegible] 35 million bottles sold.

Nerves So Bad That She Would Sit and Cry
Mrs. Mary Hocking, Medor, Ont., writes:—
"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a wonderful lot of good I suffered from general weakness and was so run down and my heart and nerves were in such bad shape I would sit down and cry and not know what I was crying about. I also used to have weak spells. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I feel well now and shall always keep a box of the Nerve Food in the house, and recommend them to my friends, they are a wonderful medicine."
(Mrs. J. W. Vince, Druggist, of Medor, Ont., says: "I have also sold Mrs. Hocking your Nerve Food, and the medicine has done her much good.")

Declares Interest of Banks Runs Counter To Public Interest

OTTAWA April 14 "That private control of the banks is wrong" was the attitude to the banking and commerce commission of the house yesterday afternoon by Neil East, a farmer of Vermilion Alta., who with George Hevington of Edmonton, Alta., is advocating provincial banks under federal charters as a solution of Canada's credit problem.

"The future of the banks rests in the hands of the public interest" declared Mr East. "The people are trying to get out of debt. It is to the interest of the banks to increase debts."

Deflation in 1920

Discussion in which these stat ments were made started by Mr East saying that in the latter part of 1920 there was a deflation of $152,000,000 in bank loans during the period of crop movement.

He was asked whether he meant that the deflation was made at the expense of the farmers but replied that he did not say that. "There was a good deal of pressure put on the farmers," he said.

"What was the reason for the deflation?" asked J. J. Hughes of Prince Edward Island.

The February bank statement shows that Canadians have the tidy sum of a billion and a quarter dollars in savings tucked away in the banks. CLAYSMORE

(From our own Correspondent)

Well the old Island here are flying over this district again just the same as when the U. F. A. was power and the skids under the poor old hard-shell politicians in this country.

It is a remarkable fact that there were more exhibitors of fat stock at the spring show in Edmonton last week from this district than from any other single district represented at the show. This is the direct result of our Co-operative Live Stock Association has always put on a first class stock show and Claysmore has always taken the lead. Now the rest of Vermilion has also got on the band wagon and will hold their own at the big show against all comers in the province.

Claysmore did exceptionally well at the Edmonton show. Out of nine entries five got in the prize money including winning four special prizes. Dave Cameron got third place with his big 17 cwt Aberdeen Angus steer. This was the steer that took the championship at Vermilion last summer. This steer sold for 7c per lb. Norman Williams got 7th place in the calf feeding competition and won three special. Let me for the best mannered calf in the ring and two awards in the Shorthorn standings. His calf sold for 6½c lb. The time is here once more to begin preparations for the annual School Fair in September. In previous years this fair has not been very successful and Vermilion has not taken a prominent place in the ranks. The chief reason of this was a lack of co-operation. Many towns consider the School Fair quite an honor in the Agricultural Fair and parents and children, as well as teachers and pupils should work to make it a success in an effort to raise the standard of our annual fair. A meeting will be held in the Assembly room on Friday at April 27th 8.30 p.m. Mr. Dean will speak on the work, and a Fair Board will be appointed. Anyone in town will be welcome.

Thru prompt action of the fire brigade the building itself was saved. The main portion of the stock was destroyed with water. The contents of the office were taken out and everything there saved. The office was situated in one end of the building. The cause of the fire is unknown, and may have been from defective wiring or an over-heated stove pipe. The fire was confined mainly to the roof. LAND IN BEST SHAPE

Conditions Ideal-Drills, Plows and Harrows Out for Speed Season

Spring work has commenced with a rush, plowing, discing, cultivating, harrowing and seeding have begun in practically every locality throughout the Vermilion district.

James Barr, farmer four miles west of town was in Vermilion Monday, and claimed the distinction of being the first farmer in this district to start seeding operations. Mr. Barr informed our correspondent that he has already planted 210 acres of wheat on summerfallow. He added that he has two outfits at work on his farm and will have his 400 acres of seeding practically completed by the end of the month, with favorable weather conditions.

James Dow of the Campbell lake community, who farms on an extensive scale finished seeding 140 acres of wheat on Saturday April 21. Mr. Dow says there is a sufficient supply of moisture in the land for all growth requirements for some time.

The farmers of this district contemplate planting sunflowers and corn this year for winter feeding on a scale hitherto unheard of. Generally the fall rye report that this crop came in nearly the winter in splendid shape having nearly two inches high and looking healthy

It is reported that feed is somewhat scarce in the district. There is no shortage of farm help, the supply being greater than the demand

Memorial Service at St. Saviour's Church

The annual Memorial Service at St Saviour's church was held in accordance with announcements previously made, last Sunday, April 22nd, the anniversary of the famous battle of Ypres when the Canadian Division first won its spurs. The service was at 3 p.m. and before that time the building was full, one or two late-comers having to stand

The procession followed the line previously laid down, at former services and were marked by a dignified simplicity in keeping with the purport of the occasion. After the opening hymn, "O God our help in ages past" those special prayers were read after which the Lord's prayer was recited by all present. Then came another hymn, "Fight the good fight," which was followed by the Lesson taken from the Book of Revelation. The hymn "Rock of Ages" the Resurrection and later portion of the whole service, the solemn commemoration of the dead who had died down their lives for, wording of this portion of the service taken from the special form of prayer now in Westminster Abbey on every Day 1915. After being reprinted on the individual desks which have made the name of Canada to every Province in across the Empire in the Motherland, Great Britain and adjacent districts. We read our names on one of the congregation was asked to thank God for their loyalty and faithfulness even to death, for the which after each hymn. Reverend stood during this part of the service. Hallelujah Chorus, "Worthy is the Lamb" was rung after the Anthem and was rendered by the Rev Rural Dean Edwards

Wilson—Brown

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson of Dewberry was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, April 11th, 1923, at 4 p.m., when Rev Wilson, son of Mr and Mrs. E. A Wilson of Dewberry was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Hazel Lillian Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H Brown of Frog Lake.

The groom was ably supported by his nephew Mr Harold Craige of Dewberry and the bride's younger sister Miss Florence Brown was maid of honor. The bride looked very attractive in her dainty gown of a radio blue crepe de chene trimmed with white beads, and a white veil of tulle trimmed with a wreath of orange blossoms. She was given away by the groom's brother, Mr. Gordon Wilson. The arch under which the wedding was solemnized, was very prettily trimmed with pink and white roses

After the ceremony which was performed by Rev J. E. Kirk B. A. of the Dewberry mission, the merry company of relatives and friends partook of a delicious wedding luncheon. The happy and highly esteemed couple will make their permanent residence at Dewberry, Alberta

Will Use Airplanes in Montana to Induce Precipitation

A dispatch from New York announces the purchase by Richard J. Ringling, of Ringling, Mont., of airplanes which will be used by professional rain makers in Montana's dry land farming district.

Ringling, who is a member of the Ringling circus family, announces that beginning July 1 these planes will be assembled at Great Falls and will make regular trips to various points in the state and will be ready to go to any point in the state at any time, provided no negative will stand in the way of the machine traveling at top speed.

Three men will form the machine's crew and will report every day to the earth in the form of clouds Ringling's statement is that he will start his rain making operations by a process which he says originated here in New York.

Main Street Fire Destroys Premises S. Gidley

BUILDING AND CONTENTS A TOTAL LOSS — BRIGADE RESPONDS PROMPTLY

The boot and shoe store and general repair shop with the entire contents owned by S. Gidley, located on Main Street, was completely destroyed by fire which was discovered shortly before 2 o'clock this Wednesday morning. Mr. Gidley, who is partially crippled, and who resided in the rear portion of the premises was fortunately enabled to make a safe exit from the building in his pyjamas carrying shoes, a pair of socks and his pants. The loss is stated at over $2,000 and is covered by insurance

The alarm was sent in from the Imperial Block by an employee of the C. N. R. who had passed the building a few minutes before en route home and had not noticed any appearance of fire. Just before retiring he saw the fire from his window. Mr. Gidley was awakened by what he supposed to be the explosion of a bottle of chemicals used for coloring leather, and found the fire well advanced in the store. He had only just time to get out. The heating stove was located [illegible] and on returning from the [illegible] Mr. Gidley put on a pair of old coat [illegible] and started to the night [illegible] he thought that the fire originated in some manner from the [illegible] stove heating or exploding.

The building was a one-storey [illegible] 18x30, the back portion having been erected some two or three weeks ago for living accommodation. The stock and work shop was filled with [illegible] ing of [illegible] leather supplies and a heavy stock of boots and shoes. FARM STRIKE ENDS BUT FOX HUNTING IS STUMBLING BLOCK

Loss to the Country is Estimated At $10,000,00 Annually

LONDON, April 30 - The farm strike in Norfolk is ended, but fox hunting [illegible] that usual pastime of the rich and [illegible] Norfolk [illegible] property [illegible] describes himself as a member of a well known hunting family, is [illegible] ated with the Blickling Vale pack of fox hounds. He estimates the loss [illegible] to the country through the [illegible] sorted to the British fields at [illegible] annually, which exceeds the income great Britain must pay on her debt to the United States and argues that the benefits conferred upon the [illegible] fox industry by the sportsmen [illegible] Brant

"So long as the country side is allowed to be turned into playgrounds for the idle and rich, the best results can not be obtained from the farmer," Clark writes

Trees a Thousand Years Old

Giant Yew Trees of England Survive From Remote Ages

How thickly people crowded the churchyards of the smaller yew trees scattered up and down the land in the British Isles" says Bennett Hoyle, F.R.H.S. Many a shady British yew has stood during quiet shelter from sun or rain through various warfares before the Norman conquest. In the churchyard is ample reason for its having been planted so extensively in churchyards as symbols of immortality.

The giant yew at Aldsworth, in Gloucestershire, is over 1,000 years old, and it still flourishes. Not to known many centuries have elapsed since it was the custom for each parish church to have a yew tree in its churchyard. Twenty seven feet round today. I remember a clergyman in Kent who had a yew tree in his churchyard which he called "The Bible." He said that was all he knew about it. Another yew tree in Braxted Park, Essex, is known as the "Witches' Tree." Tradition says that witches used to hold their meetings under its branches.

The framing yew at Ankerwyke, in Buckinghamshire, is not the same as the one I saw it last—is accounted to be the oldest tree in England.

It is interesting to know when you visit a churchyard that the yew trees your forefathers must have set them here from twenty to thirty generations ago.

There is a gap of centuries between the birth of Britain's oldest yews and the birth of Britain's oldest oaks and elms. Not an oak in Great Britain has been found old enough to date back to the 500 years old and elms live a few hundred years.

Reading For Speed

Twenty Thousand Words An Hour Is the Average Speed

Most persons, in reading printed matter, proceed slowly on the top line of the letters before them on the page. The truth of this statement is easily proved by covering the top half of the printed line with a piece of paper. Then read the lower half of the line. Without any difficulty in following the sense. When the top is concealed however, he finds himself literally crippled. His rate of speed at which a person can read and take in the sense of what he is read is enormously increased by this method. The ordinary reader can get through almost twice as much in the

Claims Greatest Business Woman

Japan claims the world's greatest business woman in Mrs. Yone Sugimi, a widow said to be worth $15,000,000. She owns fleet of steamships, factories all over the Far East, and has offices in America, Great Britain and on the continent of Europe.

GASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blagmore, Morrisville, Alta., Writes:—After three years service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1918, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing my head. The least excitement would almost drive me from the house and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved.

A Woman Pirate

Commands Score of Chinese Brigands Who Obey Her Implicitly

Three seventy square on the rich at Hong Kong mark to the alarm or shipowners and their crews, a woman pirate has appeared on the high seas. Her name is Ching Shih, and she is the widow of Chang Yat Sau, a notorious Chinese pirate who was executed by the Chinese authorities at Canton in 1910.

Ching Shih is now in command of a fleet of junks, manned by a score of Chinese brigands, who, although they are Mohammedans and believe, obey her implicitly.

New Microscope Perfected

Will Dissect Matter that is Invisible to the Naked Eye

A microscope of new apparatus, recently described by electrical experts, whose work is so delicate and minutely exact as to enable it to dissect living tissue cells which are actually invisible to the naked eye. Has been perfected by Prof. C. C. Thanhiser, of the Department of Chemistry, Northwest University, according to an announcement made at the university.

"For years scientists have been making repeated attempts to break through the barrier surrounding the invisible protoplasm which make up the human body on the theory that if they can dissect the cell in perfectly understood, the conflict of the tiniest machine can be fully explained, says the announcement which sets forth the new invention accomplishes this."

The little device can be held in the palm of one hand. It is of brass, with various screw manipulating the parts which in turn control delicate needles and pipettes that magnify out the living cells which are suspended in a hanging drop of nutrient fluid in the lower compartment.

A year new Professor Haraldson invented a paraffin oven which greatly simplified the work of research in histochemistry. Before the invention, he says, will be sold for his personal use but will be turned over to bureau for whatever good use they will serve.

Mount Robson National Park

Mount Robson National Park bold-for the tourist and explorer new trails through new wonderful lands in a great unspoiled Alpine kingdom, where nature and beauty vie with with each other. It is a country abounding in big things, majestic peaks, deep canyons and water falls. In fact, it is doubtful if any where in so equal area such mountain scenery and wonder features can be found. Camps are located in Mount Robson Park for accommodation of tourists, where saddle horses and pack horses are available. An observation platform has been constructed by the Canadian National Railways, at Mount Robson station where all trains stop for a few minutes to afford travellers the opportunity of viewing this vast and amazing territory. Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian rockies, is plainly seen from the train. The "Continental Limited" en route to the Pacific Coast traverses this new playground and for many miles follows the North Thompson and Fraser Rivers, remarkable in beauty and interesting in history. Mountain Observation Cars composed largely of glass, are attached to the "Continental Limited." This new innovation on the Mountain Division of Canadian National Railways allows unobstructed view of the scenery on both sides of the track and affords protection from sun or rain

VERMILION, - - ALBERTA
B. B. P. COOPER, Editor
Vermilion, Alta., May 2, 1923.

The grain production in the district of Vermilion, Alberta, for the period extending from 1913 to 1921, both inclusive, according to government statistics has been 6,314,641 bushels of wheat, 13,000,838 bushels of oats and 1,556,681 of barley. At the average price prevailing during this period the value of those crops would aggregate about $10,000,000.—The Last West.

Nearly four thousand persons, desiccated as farmers, ranchers and fruit growers in Canada, were registered as shareholdeer in Canadian chartered banks in 1922, according to a report brought down recently by the minister of finance. The number of farmers shareholders, by provinces was as follows: Alberta, 216; Manitoba, Western, 93; Manitoba, 920; New Brunswick, 45; Nova Scotia, 245; Ontario, 1,184 Prince Edward Island, 38; Quebec, 465 and Saskatchewan, 747. A total of 18,878 farmers paid income tax to the federal treasury in the year 1922, and of all the provinces, Saskatchewan last year had the greatest number of tax-payers, with a total of 6,560. Ontario came next with 6,154, and Manitoba third with 2,458. The totals for the other provinces were: Alberta, 1,638; British Columbia, 640, New Brunswick, 48; Nova Scotia, 198, Prince Edward Island, 60; Quebec, 150; and Yukon, 3. — Exchange

LINK TORCH EXTINGUISHED.
The announcement contained in "The Link" in its last week's issue that it would appear this week and this year or publication, did not come with any measure of surprise. Two weekly newspapers were impossible in Vermilion. This was emphasized at the time the Link made its initial bow as a weekly on September 12th, some seven and a half months since. We are not entertaining the ambitions which prompted the management to enter the weekly field. It received sufficient support from merchants in Vermilion to warrant its existence as a competitor to The Standard. But all is not gold that glitters, and while to the ordinary commercial worker, the new paper awns looks most alluring inspiration very frequently brings bitter disappointment.

STABILITY OF THE WEST
In an address at Ottawa recently, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, in speaking of present conditions in Western Canada, told the value of all products of the farms of Saskatchewan [illegible] 1922 [illegible] than $1,000 for every man, woman and child engaged in farming at present in the province, or approximately $4,000 per family. He doubted if any other country could make a similar showing. Western farmers had other assets [illegible] to the credit of the farmers a total [illegible] mills, [illegible] M. Gardiner as to the stability of the West.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE
It is reasonable to [illegible] results while speaking on the possibilities of the Hudson Bay route. No one's better able in the [illegible] province to know [illegible] to also a valuable one opinion than Mr. Lowe, so long the engineer at Montreal Harbor, and the St. Lawrence route, or more likely to be under the sway of prejudice—that prejudice which is supposed in the west to govern all eastern judgment of the matter. The west is not to blame for so thinking so long as it gets its knowledge of the east from newspapers wholly or entirely devoted to the local interest. Mr. Cowie says as it were, brought up upon the St. Lawrence navigation problem under the late Sir John Kennedy. Where in the world, he says, have there been such prodigious difficulties successfully met? Mr Cowie quotes from the reports of seven expeditions during a period of thirty years and, frankly admitting the objections of the adverse reports, says they are not insuperable to modern engineering. He accepts the report of Captain Anderson who four years in succession surveyed the Hudson Straits, that navigation is possible with comparative safety from July 15th until November 15th with an average of a week at either end according to season. Mr Cowie writes:

"Those who know, will accept, that we can no more, or even actually loyal to the St Lawrence route than the latter, who has given his best towards its success. In the last thirty seven continuous years, and based on mature experience, he is of the opinion that the Hudson's Bay route under accepted limitations, offers a prize, in favor of production, worthy of fuller investigation and a better attempt to demonstrate it.

"If the St. Lawrence under similar conditions or isolation and guards, local protection, and experience were being investigated today, what would be the accepted duration of the season of navigation? During May there is, on occasion, ice in the Gulf, and in November there are snow storms as well as ice, a full month before the last vessel clears from Montreal. May we not expect with the establishment of safety depots, wireless stations, air patrol, aids to navigation and an ice breaking service, that better results than now experienced, would be recorded on the Hudson's Bay route?

"The dread hazardous of ice and shipwreck which now pertain to the isolated Hudson Bay, as it did to the river St. Lawrence within the memory of living men, who have, however, seen snows won from the 'seemingly impossible.'"

"Fully appreciating the difficulties and freely admitting that the justification for differences of opinion, the writer believes that the best portion of Hr Henry Thomas is [illegible] 93, Manitoba, 920; New Brunswick, 45; Nova Scotia, 245; Ontario, 1,184 Prince Edward, 38; Quebec, 465 and Saskatchewan, 747. A total of 18,878 farmers paid income tax to the federal treasury in the year 1922, and of all the provinces, Saskatchewan last year had the greatest number of tax-payers, with a total of 6,560. Ontario came next with 6,154, and Manitoba third with 2,458. LINK TORCH EXTINGUISHED.
The announcement contained in "The Link" in its last week's issue that it would appear this week and this year or publication, did not come with any measure of surprise. Two weekly newspapers were impossible in Vermilion. This was emphasized at the time the Link made its initial bow as a weekly on September 12th, some seven and a half months since. We are not entertaining the ambitions which prompted the management to enter the weekly field. It received sufficient support from merchants in Vermilion to warrant its existence as a competitor to The Standard. But all is not gold that glitters, and while to the ordinary commercial worker, the new paper awns looks most alluring inspiration very frequently brings bitter disappointment.

STABILITY OF THE WEST
In an address at Ottawa recently, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, in speaking of present conditions in Western Canada, told the value of all products of the farms of Saskatchewan [illegible] 1922 [illegible] than $1,000 for every man, woman and child engaged in farming at present in the province, or approximately $4,000 per family. He doubted if any other country could make a similar showing. Western farmers had other assets [illegible] to the credit of the farmers a total [illegible] mills, [illegible] M. Gardiner as to the stability of the West.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE
It is reasonable to [illegible] results while speaking on the possibilities of the Hudson Bay route. No one's better able in the [illegible] province to know [illegible] to also a valuable one opinion than Mr. Lowe, so long the engineer at Montreal Harbor, and the St. Lawrence route, or more likely to be under the sway of prejudice—that prejudice which is supposed in the west to govern all eastern judgment of the matter. The west is not to blame for so thinking so long as it gets its knowledge of the east from newspapers wholly or entirely devoted to the local interest. Mr. Cowie says as it were, brought up upon the St. Lawrence navigation problem under the late Sir John Kennedy. Where in the world, he says, have there been such prodigious difficulties successfully met? Mr Cowie quotes from the reports of seven expeditions during a period of thirty years and, frankly admitting the objections of the adverse reports, says they are not insuperable to modern engineering. He accepts the report of Captain Anderson who four years in succession surveyed the Hudson Straits, that navigation is possible with comparative safety from July 15th until November 15th with an average of a week at either end according to season. Mr Cowie writes:

"Those who know, will accept, that we can no more, or even actually loyal to the St Lawrence route than the latter, who has given his best towards its success. In the last thirty seven continuous years, and based on mature experience, he is of the opinion that the Hudson's Bay route under accepted limitations, offers a prize, in favor of production, worthy of fuller investigation and a better

Brilliant Scenes At Royal Wedding In Westminster Abbey

London—The Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon joined hands and hearts before the golden altar in Westminster Abbey while all Britain poured out its blessings.

The great edifice in Parliament Square, which enshrines within its hallowed walls the mortal remains of kings, queens, martyrs, saints and heroes, has been the scene of a thousand national ceremonies of absorbing interest, but it has witnessed nothing that surpassed the beauty and solemnity this romantic event.

All the members of the Royal family and a brilliant array of foreign princes, nobles, ambassadors and military leaders, with their ladies, were there.

The entire service was conducted with the traditional pre-war pomp and ceremony. Only when the bride was called upon by the Archbishop of Canterbury to repeat the solemn ritual, beginning: "I take thee to be my wedded husband," did her manner betoken any sign of nervousness. Her voice was scarcely audible to the vast congregation.

The bridegroom gave the impression of a man all happy save. The veteran Dowager Queen Alexandra sat, the regal ceremony a human touch by moving out of her place and bestowing kisses upon the members of the party as they came within the chancel.

Next to the bride and groom, Princess Mary and the Prince of Wales were the objects of the most attention. Wales appeared to be the calmest man in the Abbey, and he toyed with the glistening decorations of his military hat during the entire ceremony. At one point Alexandra bent and tapped him on the knee, as if to say "Right at the altar, my dear boy, and mind! have been good sides to a brother."

The bride, in the simplest and daintiest gown probably ever made for a royal marriage, moved slowly up the steps of the altar on the arm of her father, the Earl of Strathmore and, carried no bouquet, for she deposited it on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

After the Duke and his bride joined hands, the ring, which had not revealed itself for several days, suddenly emerged from behind the book, and Bishop Held, coming through the high vaulted windows of the Abbey, cast an effulgence upon the couple. Pale and lovely bride and brought into bold relief the touches of gold, crimson and silver in the costumes of the brilliant assemblage of spectators.

The bride stood fully a head taller than Lady Elizabeth, but she was regular frame and the ruddy glow of [illegible] countenance contrasting strongly with the delicate figure of his bride. Whose show of unrelieved white accented, to accentuate the paleness of her features.

After the Archbishop of Canterbury had recited the usual ritual, the Duke placed the ring on the fourth finger of his bride's left hand and in a resolute voice said:

"With this ring I thee wed, with my body I thee worship, and with all my worldly goods I thee endow."

The Archbishop then offered prayer, pronounced the couple man and wife and proclaimed to the vast congregation: "Those whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder." He added his blessing, and the newly married pair advanced before the [illegible] and knelt at the altar while the choir sang Wesley's chant.

The Archbishop of York delivered a brief address to the bride and his bride, in which he said: "The warm generous heart of this people takes you today to itself; won't you, in response, take that heart, with all its joys and sorrows, into your own?" The service was concluded with a short prayer and benediction and the congregation knelt in silent devotion. The royal people then repaired to the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where they signed the marriage register.

(Issued by Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, May 4th, 1923)

Seeding of the 1923 grain crop is now general over the province of Alberta, and is proceeding under fairly favorable conditions. The opening of the season found the soil over the greater part of the province in very dry condition, which tended to restrict the area prepared for crop during the past two weeks however, there has been some precipitation which has encouraged the farmers to prepare more land.

Taking the province as a whole there is now ready for crop is about 81 acres as last year, but in most districts the farmers are holding back for better moisture conditions before seeding all of the land prepared. In the southwestern district and in some of the central districts of the province, seeding has progressed more than last year, as several cases as high as 15 per cent more is being seeded. In the southeastern section the area being prepared is less than the previous season. In the remaining sections of the province, the area is about the same as in 1922

Winter wheat seeding operations over the province as a whole are between 80 and 70 per cent completed and the seeding of oats has commenced. The moisture at present in the soil is sufficient for germination but not enough for heavy growth. The weather during the past month has been alternately warm and cool, with light precipitation of rain and snow.

Some Notable Tunnels
Gotthard Line Has Fifty Connecting Switzerland and Italy
One of the most interesting rail tracks through the Alps is the Gotthard line, which runs from Lucerne, Switzerland, to Chiasso, Italy. The Gotthard tunnel is about 9½ miles long and is also the highest railway tunnel of any considerable length, and has been used for passenger and mail traffic and for freight as well for a much longer time. The air in the Gotthard tunnel is always fresh and free from smoke. Another notable European tunnel is the Mont Cenis, which was the first Alpine base to place Europe in direct communication with Italy. This tunnel was completed in 1872, after the building of three and one-half miles of the Mont Cenis railway had proved both inadequate and expensive. It is now practically abandoned.

About Nicotine
Chief Agent by Which Tobacco Acts On the Nervous System
A recent article by Sir B. Lee Chester points out in almost universally made is that of suppression that the effect which tobacco has on the nervous tolerance is "smoked." In it, or at the narrow end of a cigar is "alcoline" the chief nerve poison of tobacco. In a matter of fact, this item, though it contains injurious substances, can take little or no "alcoline" at all. The "alcoline" is a liquid which is vaporized and carried along in the smoke. It is not contained in the pipe or cigar end except in very small quantity. It is the chief agent which tobacco acts on the nervous system, and through that on the heart and the upset whose effects everybody has noticed who has smoked to excess, has nothing to do with the flavor of tobacco, which is due to very minute quantities of other substances.

City Celebrated Occasion With Much Enthusiasm
The celebration of Rome's 2,676th birthday was perhaps the most elaborate in the long history of the Eternal City. Mussolini presided personally over the ceremonies establishing April 21 as a holiday in honor of the occasion. The feature of the ceremony was the splendid review of the Fascisti units in the national militia as they passed in a parade. Platoon rifles were reviewed by the Black shirt leader and by the chiefs of the various units in the city. The premier himself and five de Bono reviewed the platoons. Exhibitions were without bounds. Hundreds of thousands of people crowded the streets and packed the windows and on balconies. Some took up their stations on the monument steps while others climbed trees to get a good view. Thousands of pigeons were the signal for a general release.

THE BUSINESS BY-LAW.

The application of Dr. F. Day Smith to quash the business by-law recently passed by the town council was heard before His Honor Judge Robertson on Friday last at Vermilion. Judgment was reserved. As far as the layman's mind could follow the argument the question would appear to be whether the by-law as introduced could be amended while it was passing through the different readings required by law. The by-law was introduced, given two readings, then amended, and in the amended form given its third and final reading, and whether that was a legal procedure to take or not is largely what has to be decided by the judge. What bothers us is why there should have been an appeal action to quash the by-law when those who feel aggrieved at the amount at which they are assessed can appeal to the council as a court of revision and if not satisfied with the ruling given there carry their appeal to the district court? The applicant in this case stated his grievance was that he was not assessed on the same basis as the other professions. Surely it was not necessary although his right, to have applied to quash the enactment in order to get redress as he could have carried it to the court in another way. In a tender a few weeks ago we stated that undoubtedly there would be instances of inequalities and which the council would be prepared to admit that the by-law as it went through was an error of perception, but as an altogether new by-law with few precedents to go by and amidst utter chaos the council set to work to frame a by-law to govern business here and who do not own any property will enjoy our civic machinery our public and high schools without paying a dollar towards the support of either one or the other. The Standard has not met to many the errors in our by-law that have occurred but we do not see that they are of such an importance as to call for any drastic amendment. We are not in favor of the business tax on general principles—what the complaint of some is that it is too high although no one can say just what the tax will be as the rate has not as yet been struck. The only way to have settled that general complaint was at the court of revision or before the district court on appeal and surely between the two those adjustments could be made. We do not know anything a new law but like we do know that is what we have now as the business by law tax was given three readings, passed in good faith and in the interests of the people of Vermilion, with the view of reducing the taxes on land and improvements and reaching business premises or owners of business in rented premises that were not contributing to the town treasury. If the by law is sustained we feel sure that the court of revision will mete out even handed justice to complainants, but if not the Council will certainly have an unenviable situation on their hands.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

It is a matter of great satisfaction to the publishers of weekly newspapers in Canada to look back over the few past years and contemplate the marked improvements that have been brought about in the quality and style of the publishing business. Many much needed reforms have been inaugurated on the part of the publishers and through the national as well as the local organizations or country publishers in Eastern Canada, particularly in Ontario, the position of the country publisher is much better than at any previous time. The maintenance of a fair and adequate minimum subscription price and an advertising rate based on the value of the service rendered have contributed in no small measure to these better conditions in addition to this the more or less elimination of duplicate plants in many places with no a second newspaper was altogether unnecessary, and as a result all the local patronage is concentrated on the local paper, the circulation of which in many towns has been enabled to mount prosperously fast in the quality. The conditions in western Canada are also much better in this respect than in Ontario and Quebec, as the towns grow and develope the situation will further improve. The publishing business is a most important factor in any community, and it is fitting that it should in larger measure come into its rightful place and position. The days of not with any intention or suspicion a hardship on an on.

If the by-law is quashed it simply means that the mill rate will soar to an unprecedented figure due to the reduction in land values and to the increase in business rates that have come back to the town to non payment of taxes. At the same time people who carry on business here and who do not own any property will enjoy our civic machinery our public and high schools without paying a dollar towards the support of either one or the other. The Standard has not met to many the errors in our by-law that have occurred but we do not see that they are of such an importance as to call for any drastic amendment. Carbon—
The enemy of power, efficiency and pleasure. Do you know what makes it?
Most motor oils are made of light oils and "cylinder stock." "Cylinder stock" contains many impurities because it is the residue left in an oil still after the refining process. It is a sticky substance which when subjected to the intense heat of the cylinder forms a hard, flinty deposit—carbon.
SUNOCO
THE DISTILLED OIL
is not a compound but a pure, wholly distilled oil. As it contains no "cylinder stock" the reason for carbon formation is removed. Note how free from carbon your motor is when you use Sunoco.

CLAYSMORE

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Dewberry appears to be somewhat peeved because the U. F. A. were not excited over winning the election at Moose Jaw. Why, he knew what the result would be at the time of the nominations; the excitement for us was all over just as soon as it was there were not going to be two progressives in the field. If we were so sure of a good crop this year as we are that the farmers will win in the Ontario election, we believe we could almost borrow a dollar from the banks on our prospect.

Yep, the Standard can easily take care of itself without us, 'cause if we bit him too hard he won't print it.

The councillors of Medberta are sure out of luck. Their meetings are called for the first Monday in each month Well, in April it was Easter Monday, in May, Arbor Day, in June it is the King's Birthday and in July it is Dominion Day. Oh, well, there isn't much fun in being a councillor anyway.

There is a movement on foot to form a new school district between Claysmore and Vermilion. We understand Norm Tucker has offered a free sight for the building on condition that the school ma'm boards at his place.

If we were going to produce a newspaper, there is one thing that we have already decided about it, we would not call it the Manville Empire, no Sir, not any at all. It would appear that Empires are very unstable things these last few years.

We got to hand it to the Standard (he says, he an optimist and he proceeds to live right up to that idea. For instance a couple of weeks ago he reported reported that James Barr had completed seeding about 210 acres of wheat. Now, we don't want to spoil a good boost for that but as our reputation for telling the truth might be questioned, even if we did tell the best element to this statement, why we've just got to tell you that Mr. Barr only seeded twenty (20) acres to wheat this season, and that is all he intends putting or ever did intend to put in. There! We're square again with the public.

One of these days we're going to run short of news from Claysmore and we do we are liable to start an argument on the coming prohibition plebiscite.

District Court Sittings

The May sittings of the district court were held at Vermilion on Friday of last week. While the list of cases was large only a few were tried. Judge Macleod presided. Caldwell vs. Renas was an action over a well-drilling contract. Judgment for plaintiff for $40.00 and costs. Bank of Montreal vs. Grainger, an action over a lien note which defendant claimed was originally made out for more than the purchase price of the chattels. Judgment was given to the plaintiff, but execution was ordered stayed for adjustment as between the defendant and the plaintiff. Two applications of Dr. F. Dey Smith's to have quashed the business tax of the town of Vermilion assessed under the Business Assessment Act, 1922, were heard. The application contended that the by-law was bad in that it was not a by-law for that purpose at all. The contention was that it was a by-law to raise a general revenue for the municipality. The town contended on the other hand that it was a by-law for the purpose of local improvements as stated in the preamble and was therefore valid. Judgment was reserved. Point Lottier, on the advice of his counsel, Mr. Morrison, pleaded guilty to a charge of having carnal knowledge of Miss Doris Moyna. The accused was let out on suspended sentence and with the complainant bound over to keep the peace. Both appeared satisfied at this decision of the court.

BRINGS IN BILL TO TRANSMINATE TITLES

LONDON, May 9 — Arthur Ponsonby, the Labor member for Brightside (Sheffield) who is himself of aristocratic lineage, introduced a bill in the commons yesterday which is designed to terminate hereditary titles, enabling the present peers to renounce their titles by deed of poll and bring peers born after the passage of the bill from succession to titles.

Our Railway Should Not Waste Money.

Surely the Canadian National Railway management cannot be seriously entertaining the prospect of erecting a huge and expensive office structure in Toronto. It may be good politics for our Government railway to so placate the citizens of Toronto for the loss of the company's headquarters ,but it is certainly bad business. The project, as outlined, is to build a huge skyscraper at the corner of King and Yonge Streets, upon land which is estimated to be worth something like a million dollars. It is a well known fact that large office buildings erected on expensive land do not give an adequate return on the investment, and more particularly is this the case at present, with the abnormal building costs.

We look for economy in the management of the Canadian National Railway, and needless expenditures such as this project entails should be frowned upon by all good citizens. The rentals which the Government Railways would have to charge itself for space occupied by its own staff in a building such as is proposed in order to square accounts and show a "return" on the investment would be simply enormous. There is no earthly reason why the clerical staff of our railway should be housed on the most expensive land in the city, particularly in view of the fact that only a few blocks away there is already a building suited to the purpose. All that is required in Toronto is a ticket office in a central position, and this could be arranged for without the needless spending of millions of dollars. The project should be dropped.—Toronto Saturday Night.

BRITISH NOTE TO RUSSIA VIRTUAL ULTIMATUM NOW

Soviet Given Ten Days to Comply With Certain Demands

TREATMENT GIVEN BRITONS AT ISSUE

London Communists Now Plan Demonstration Against the British Government

LONDON, May 8.—The British note to the Russian Soviet government ,the text of which was issued tonight by the foreign office, is a virtual ultimatum. The Soviet is given ten days in which to forward a reply complying fully and unconditionally with certain specified demands, failing which ,the note says, Great Britain will recognize that the Soviet does not wish to maintain the existing relations between the two governments. The demands specied in the note are:

First—Satisfactory assurance concerning propaganda.

Second—Admission by the Soviet of liability for various offences against British subjects and ships, with an undertaking to pay compensation for these offences, and,

Third—Unequivocal withdrawal of the two communications framed by the Soviet government in reply to the protests handed to the Moscow foreign office by the British representative, Robert M. Hodgkin, in connection with the recent rigorous prosecutions

Communists Active

Meanwhile the British government has taken a hand in the apparent arrest of the Communists to be the immediate consequence of the breach in treatment with Russia. The Communists have issued a manifesto calling for the organization of "councils of action" to prevent the closing of the headquarters of the Russian trade delegation in London. Such action, the manifesto asserts, would be the signal for a general strike. It is declared that the British government is behind a capitalist offensive against the workers and Russia as they hate the Russian workers' republic because it is there for the first time in history that the workers are governing."

The Labor Daily Herald is denouncing a demon [illegible] to be held in London Sunday next. Saturday Labor leaders of the Second and Third parliamentary [illegible] is said to have promised to speak.

CANADA'S TRADE RETURNS

The official figures showing the volume of Canada's foreign trade for the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1923, record considerable increase over that of the previous fiscal year. The grand total is valued at $1,748,830,890 which is $246,820,887 heavier than for 1921-22. Of the aggregate imports were valued at $915,229,443, and exports at $802,437,043. The favourable trade balance of $130,000,000 is a gratifying feature of the return.—Ottawa Citizen

Such a step might surprise the [illegible] extremists who have been heckling it for not [illegible] the cause of the poor peace-loving citizens but [illegible] those who have taken a practical, common sense view of France's intentions and methods.—Montreal Empire

SAVING BRITISH AGRICULTURE

Great Britain is ordinarily thought of as a nation almost exclusively engaged in manufacturing and transport. The fact that it still possesses an important agricultural industry is often overlooked.

Farming in Britain is by no means of small consequence. Before the war 42 per cent of the food consumed in the islands was grown there; one-fifth of the wheat used was produced at home. During the war the food production was increased by a third and by 1918 40 per cent more grain was raised in the isles than in 1916, and including potatoes it was found that the increase in home production reduced the shipping required for food importation by 2,600,000 tons in that year.—Ottawa Journal.

MAKE IT A RECORD.

We understand that a Plowing Match under the auspices of the Agricultural Society is to be held in June. It is sincerely hoped that a record number of competitors will be entered for this event. The directors of the society are doing all in their power to improve the farm stock, seed, etc., throughout the district and unless they receive the co-operation of the farmers their energies are wasted. Plowing matches are a new thing to the West and it behooves every farmer who wishes to improve his farm to compete and thereby find out where he fails in making a good job of plowing. Matches should also encourage friendly rivalry and if a man enters and even though he does not walk off with the first prize it shows that he is sporty and is willing to learn.

For the Boys and Girls

THE PATRIOTIC SPARROW

Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow were very busy. The snow lay heavy on the ground—all thick and quilty, like a skin eiderdown. How cozy Mother Earth must be under it. It would keep her warm and enable her to produce the grass with its juicy grubs for the springtime. Mrs. Sparrow wished that spring were nearer; it was difficult to get a meal in winter.

Just as they hoped it was the drive of the big house, Master John with his nurse came out of the door, feeling the little boy watched them fascinated.

"See, Nurse, how those birdies walk. They hop along with their feet at once, hop hop over the ground —they must be hoppy birds."

"Yes, dear," said Nurse, "that is a good name for them. Ain't they quaint!"

Winter wore on and spring came, and a dear little nest was built in the apple tree at the back of the garden. Later four birdlings occupied the little home. How busy Mrs. Sparrow became, and how proud her husband was! He flirted and fluttered on his perch by the nest and was tremendously pleased with himself and the whole world.

Mrs. Hoppy-bird was a delicious person. She was comfortable and cheerful. When her lord was pessimistic about the weather or the worms he cheered him up. If she had been a woman—mother instead of a bird one, she would have been the kind that allowed you to put your arms around her and never, if you were a grown-up little boy without fear of her saying, "Oh do be careful of my dress with your dirty hands." Her children adored her, and congried under her brown wings, sure of comfort even if they were in the act of finishing off a rather earthy worm.

Before the day the peace of the apple-tree was disturbed.

Hoppy-bird and Mrs. Robin built a nest, a few branches higher than the sparrows.

Mr. Robin was flashy and important. His clothes were gay and noticeable and I suppose that made him conceited. He strutted and sang in his throaty baritone, songs about how handsome he and his children were, so superior to those brown sparrows in the next house.

Mrs. Hoppy-bird was too interested in her own brood to pay attention to him, but her husband became disturbed. His happy chirpings ceased. He became mute in the presence of that baritone. He stopped taking his usual dust baths—what was the use of keeping trim and smart when scarlet waistcoats flashed beside his dull brown tweeds.

"Why should you worry about her?" said his wife, "it's no credit to him if he has fine feathers! I've often noticed about beautiful people that they behave as though their beauty was their own achievement, whereas they have only what God gives them. Now is he as good a father as you are, and does he bring his wife as nice slices as you bring me when she is tidying the children for the day? That is what counts, what he is, not what he wears."

Mr. Sparrow knew she was right but the rearguard of his brilliant neighbor caused him the fiercest jealousy.

Things went on like this until Mrs. Hoppy-bird became alarmed. Her husband's feathers began to drop. She was afraid he'd catch cold. Their children were growing and so were Mrs. Robin's. Naturally when they were old enough they met each other in their flights to nearby branches, and when they came home it was always the same story. The robins considered themselves superior and took pains to let the sparrows know it.

Mrs. Hoppy-bird determined to put a stop to it. She must restore her husband's serenity and her children's proud-respecting growth. She thought out a simple plan; just a few truths told the pompous rubbish would put them in their place.

"Now then," she admonished the children, "listen carefully and first of all lift up your heads, preen yourselves a bit and for mercy's sake look as if you were somebody in the garden. I am going to prove to you that our family is far more important than any of the two."

The children were so astonished to hear so many pleasant things about themselves that they held their heads so high they nearly toppled off the branch of the tree.

A few days later Mr. Sparrow's children were playing on a neighbor's lawn. The little robin birds had been so chirpy and gay that they had decided to take them for a ride.

"Why, you're a sparrow!" said one.

"And a very common sparrow are not a sign of distinction in a family, but a name is may I ask your name? The robin opened every pricked eyes "Why you know our name is Robin, why do you ask that?"

"Yes," replied the brown young one, "just an insignificant name, very commonplace. Did you know that little Johnny-next-door is the Hopp birds? A name with a hyphen, quite distinctive, don't you think?"

"I've call the robin children on parade," was a broken wail, "I'm unfortunate.

"I every one you have to end the way we get over the ground" con tinued the brown fledgling, "quite different. It not fear must birds." That is why John gave us our new name.

Young robin had to acknowledge the original characteristic They became quite impressed with the sparrow's advantages. Every one came to Mrs. Hoppy-birds parties; it was stylish to go to a hyphened ladies' nest.

But the greatest achievement took place when the male birds came home together one night.

"What is your national flag, Robin?" asked Mr. Hoppy-bird.

Mr. Robin was embarrassed. "Well," he fluttered, "we travel so much, in summer in this lovely garden —a journey to a warmer clime, before your Canadian winter begins—so—"

"Yes," I quite understand. You do not attempt to brave the winters, you really cannot claim to belong to either country, can you?"

Mrs. Sparrow, hearing the end of this conversation, was grievously annoyed. Spiritless creatures, these robins! They had no real home, no fine country, no patriotism. She thought of her dear country that she would never to desert, even in the coldest, severest January.

The robin family were completely discomfited. They became quite pleasant to live with.

One day in the autumn, as they were leaving for the south, Mrs. Sparrow, hopping in the garden, found a tiny toy flag. She flew to her nest and plaited it where it waved a gay response to the departing robinnets.

Mr. Hoppy-bird, sitting beside it, burst into rapturous twitterings. His little brown wife listened in admiration. She decided it was "The Maple Leaf Forever" he sang, and thought he was the most wonderful "bird in the garden."

Anyway, there was no doubt that he was the most patriotic.—F. M. Rathbun.

The Sugar Industry of Canada

The "cornerstone" of the sugar industry of Canada during the past year, following the slump in that industry in 1921, is one of the most outstanding features of Canadian industrial life during 1922. The unsettled economic conditions in Cuba due to the break in prices of raw and refined sugar and the consequent demoralization of the market, chiefly affected the Canadian sugar industry in 1921. However, a readjustment of operations of refineries and a resulting return of high prices have enabled them to operate on a more satisfactory basis during the past year.

Receipts of raw sugar in 1922 totalled 1,502,782,000 pounds which compares favorably with 897,253,320 pounds in 1921, or 605,528,680 pounds more sugar being passed by the Federal Bureau of Statistics. The total amount of sugar refined in Canada during 1922 amounted to 1,558,824,423 pounds, as against 1,054,570,000 pounds in 1921, or an increase of 504,254,423 pounds.

It is understood that the large reduction of the Atlantic Sugar Companies in Nova Scotia have been working to capacity during the past few months and that the capacity of plants in Canada have been operated on a full scale, thus effecting a small saving in overhead charges. Stocks on hand at the end of the past year included 35,216,081 pounds of raw sugar, as compared with 14,055,765 pounds at the end of the previous year, in addition there were in stock 73,533,423 pounds of refined sugar as against 48,490,324 pounds in hand at the end of 1921.

Domestic and foreign shipping both show large increases over the previous year. Domestic shipments for 1922 totalled 1,709,942,816 pounds compared with 717,013,099 pounds, while exports for the year just ended amounted to 135,607,677 pounds, as against 45,908,000 pounds. Therefore domestic and export shipments for 1922 totalled 1,725,550,793 pounds, as compared with 962,921,144 pounds in 1921. An interesting feature of the export trade last year was the shipping of 1,500 tons of sugar to Italy, where it was received on the market and spoken of even more highly than the American grain raised on account of the fineness of the sugar. The largest used by chocolate manufacturers.

PRINCE TO PAY FOR THE DUKE'S WEDDING

As a Part of Royal Gift to Younger Brother and Bride, Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.

If you get married at a registry office in England it will cost you seven shillings, or about $1.75. If, however, you happen to be the Duke of York, your wedding will cost $17,500 or there abouts, says a London despatch. Actually, the expense to the King's second son on the occasion of his marriage to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon at Westminster Abbey, on April 26, will be nothing at all, since his elder brother, the Prince of Wales, has undertaken to defray the whole cost of the elaborate ceremonial as part of his wedding gift to the engaged pair.

Behind this fact there is a curious financial situation, in which the royal family finds itself. Although King George draws an annual grant of almost half a million pounds from Parliament, by far the greater portion of this sum must be devoted to the expenses attendant upon the upkeep of the royal establishments; so, relatively speaking the King isn't really a rich man.

Prince of Wales's Income.

The Prince of Wales, however, receives the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall, which includes properties in which much London real estate figures. His personal income from these sources is estimated at about 100,000 pounds annually; so he is really the richest member of the royal family. The Duke of York, on the other hand, has no other income but his grant of 10,000 pounds a year from the nation, which will be raised to 25,000 pounds a year upon his marriage.

One of the chief items of expense at the Duke of York's wedding will be the wedding breakfast at Buckingham Palace after the ceremony. Some three hundred guests will be entertained, refreshments being served by a caterer at an approximate cost of three pounds a person. If the Archbishops of Canterbury and York perform the ceremony they will receive a courtesy fee of 500 pounds each. The Dean and chapter of the Abbey will get 250 pounds as a donation for the use of the building for the royal marriage, while the organist who plays at the service will be rewarded with 100 guineas. Each of the numerous choir boys receives a fee of ten pounds. The cost of the specially engraved license for the wedding will be about 40 pounds and that of drafting the marriage contract at least another 50.

New Outfits for Officials.

Since the recent economy measures instituted at Buckingham Palace there are not enough horses in the royal stables for such a state procession as the Duke's marriage will necessitate—which means hiring fifteen to twenty matched thoroughbreds at ten pounds each. Then there is the customary gift of a purse of silver to each royal servant at every royal marriage. This works out to about three pounds apiece, and will be given to one hundred servants, seventy who are regularly employed at Buckingham Palace, and thirty who will be drafted from Windsor Castle and Sandringham for the occasion.

There is a further custom that all court officials who are also members of the army or navy, and consequently must appear at the ceremony in military uniform, should receive a new outfit. This would total about 800 pounds, but since new uniforms were provided for Princess Mary's wedding last year it is uncertain whether this gift will be repeated.

When Queen Mary Travels.

The ordinary traveller by train probably could not say whether he was being carried at forty or fifty miles an hour, and certainly very few men could recognize an increase in speed of a mere five miles an hour.

Queen Mary, however, is said by every driver who has piloted her train to have an uncanny knack for train speeds, said to be able to tell at once when speed is accelerated.

She will not travel at more than fifty miles an hour, and has been known to complain when that speed has been exceeded by no more than a fraction.

King George prefers a little faster rate, and when he travels alone the average speed is about sixty miles an hour.

The speed lover of the Royal Family was King Edward, who was never really happy unless his train was swinging along at a good seventy miles an hour. Queen Victoria went to the other extreme, and would never be carried at more than thirty miles an hour, a speed that on a long journey would have been more than enough to disorganize the whole system on any line on which she was travelling.

Fortunately for the companies she was no judge of speed, and engine drivers usually contrived to creep up above the royal limit of fifty.

Additional Pressure Will Be Applied By The French In Ruhr

Dusseldorf.—That the Ruhr will be ruled with a firmer hand than heretofore, now that the latest German reparations offer has been refused by the French and Belgian Governments, was the gist of an announcement made at French headquarters here.

Just what additional pressure will be applied was not made known, but it is assumed that Gen Degoutte is planning to put into effect some of the decrees already promulgated, but not yet enforced.

One decree, issued a month ago, provides that all vehicular traffic, whether motor or steam or horse-propelled, will come under the Dusseldorf police supervision of the military authorities if they are liable to be used for transporting coal The decree says that if this device is construed it would shut down all Ruhr mines very quickly a month.

All roadsides except those watched by the French and Belgian Engineers have been cleared of trees, and that the stocks on hand will all have been shipped out of the Ruhr within two weeks.

There will be no busy times in connection with the sports day, to be held under the auspices of the Vermilion Athletic Association on the King's birthday. This was the decision at the meeting held last Thursday night. Besides the programme of baseball, football, basketball, foot races, jumping, etc. the Major Morrison road race, the association decided to add a motor Calithumpian parade for an additional monthly attraction and a strong committee is working to make this feature one of the outstanding attractions of the day. Its central parts are as follows: will be a start in the morning. The day will conclude with a big dance in the Albert Hall and valuable cash prizes will be given as well as to the town to some extent with posters will be printed and the entire organization.

Grandmother's Day

Grandmother's day, always a red letter day in the Women Institute was celebrated on Wednesday afternoon last in the Presbyterian hall, some twenty-two grandmothers being present. After the business of the meeting had been disposed of the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the grandmothers. A short programme was given also a short contest in which only grandmothers were eligible to take part. Mrs. Frank Cameron won the prize a lovely china cup and saucer. A table of antiques created a great deal of admiration and comment as every article was over one hundred years old. A dainty lunch was then served during which each grandmother was presented with a flower as a token of esteem. Flowers were also sent to those who were unable to attend.

New Settlers Trekked into the District

John Olsen, who has been carrying on farming operations for some time in the Alta district 4 miles south west of here, passed through Vermilion on Wednesday of this week en route to the Amole Lake locality some 20 miles south of here where he has taken on the old Vance Dufort farm. Mr. Olsen is also owner of some 3 years

Mr. Olsen made the long trip overland with wagon and team, bringing with him all his household effects and farm machinery and a few head of milch cows. This settler adds to the number of farmers in the district who have come here recently with teams and machinery bought in the East. This settlement of Scandinavians in the south of Vermilion is

When asked by our reporter as to why these settlers were putting out to the south he replied that it was due to the fact that the land in the district was all taken up and that the land in the south was being rapidly occupied by farmers and settlers. This is a fine section of the country and a good district.

The Joy of Painting

EVERYBODY stops to watch a painter, whether he be reproducing a landscape on canvas or slapping good paint on a barn door. Everybody wants to hold the brush. It looks so easy.

The millionaire pays a hundred thousand dollars for a masterpiece and James pays a few dollars for the privilege of creating a masterpiece—his children's playhouse. When it is finished in fresh colors the joy of the kiddies is worth a hundred thousand to Jones.

WHEN TO PLOUGH THE SUMMER FALLOW

(Experimental Farms Note)

In an experiment conducted for ten years at Brandon Experimental Farm the average yield of wheat per acre from summer fallow land ploughed May 15th, June 15th and July 15th of the previous year has been 27 bushels 41 lbs for May 15th ploughing 25 bushels 31 lbs for June 15th ploughing, and 20 bushels 48 lbs for July 15th ploughing.

May ploughing has therefore shown a slight advantage over June ploughing, while the latter has shown a very decided advantage over July ploughing. It is hardly practicable to recommend May ploughing for summer fallow as that month is usually filled with seeding operations. How ever the advantage which May 15th has over June 15th would indicate that the sooner summer fallow ploughing can be started without interference with spring work the better. This is particularly true where stinkweed is a factor, as it begins to ripen seed early in June.

Late ploughing of summer fallow is a mistake. The growth of the weeds wastes the moisture the weed ripen and shed seeds which are a cause of trouble in the future, and the operation requires more power and is harder to do properly when done late. It should be the object of every farmer to get his summer fallow all ploughed early.

Programme Arranged For June 4 Celebration

That the monster Calithumpian Parade is going to overshadow all the other sports on June 4th is about a foregone conclusion—the oldest indian and oldest cowboys will be a feature of the event to say nothing of Corley's "Rag-Time Band," its first appearance in the West, and another band and one comics. The parade is for the people who are asked to get in with both feet, prizes being awarded for "most everything." Watch for th posters and in the meantime you can obtain any information by calling Ernie Campbell, Bill Fallow, or Dale Burns. The sum of $100 has been set aside for prizes in the big parade, which will start off the fun thing in the morning

An outline of the other events on the programme with prizes is hereby given:

Baseball Tournament—$200, 1st, 2nd and 3rd.
Junior Baseball—$30, 1st, 2nd, 3rd
Football—$100, 1st, 2nd, 3rd
Basketball (Girls)—$20, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd.
Tennis—Prizes to the value of $25
Athletic Events—$125, Men, Boys, and Girls.
Bicycle Race—Boys, 1st, 2nd, 3rd
Major Morrison 3-Mile Road Race—Silver Cup and Medals.
Pony Race—$10
Boxing Tournament—Three fours.

The day will close with an old-time dance in the Albert Hall, the music being supplied by a full orchestra. Posters will be out in a few days with the programme in detail

FINE LOAD OF EQUINE SHIPPED TO MONTREAL

Coyote-Bait Variety Goes Into Discard; Size and Quality Now Wanted

James Powell, rancher and farmer residing in the Turkey Hill locality ten miles southeast of town, shipped one of the best loads of draft horses which has been sent out of this district for some time to Montreal on Saturday, May 12th. Mr Powell accompanied the shipment to their destination. The cost of transportation from this point to Montreal is $1.27 per cwt. These horses which were well broken and a uniform size, were picked up by the shipper in the Turkey Hill settlement and averaged around 1450 lbs. all showing a lot of breeding and quality. They ranged in age from 4 to 7 years old.

The horse breeders of this district are beginning to realize that they can get as much for a good horse as can be got for a dozen of the scrubby for bait variety

Several good stallion horses have been imported into the Vermilion district during the past two or three years. The cabins of such horses is a thing of the past, the majority of the horses now running on the open and quality. This is bound to be the case of draft horses shipped out of the district to which Mr. Powell's consignment of 1923.

According to this farmer-shipper, Mr. Powell says that there is a good money to be had in horses, if they are of the right kind, and quality is their motto.

Mrs. Matthews Pays High Tribute To Tanlac For Ending Stomach Trouble

"I am glad indeed for the wonderful benefits I have received from the Tanlac treatment, for I want to tell everybody in Toronto about it," declared Mrs. Ellen Matthews, 104 Eastern Ave., Toronto, recently.

"I suffered so terribly with stomach trouble and a run down condition that I lost all appetite and energy. My appetite almost deserted me and the little I did manage to eat disagreed with me, and I found with gas and my heart palpitated and I was dread fully short of breath. I couldn't get a good night's rest and was so run out that I could scarcely manage to

I finally bought a bottle and it was months before I got a second bottle. I stopped taking it when I had taken the second bottle and my health was completely restored. I have not suffered with any stomach trouble since and my appetite is splendid. I sleep well and am strong and well. I shall always praise Tanlac for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold by all druggists everywhere. Accept no substitute. Every package has the seal over the neck of the bottle and the signature on the carton. Over 35 million bottles sold.

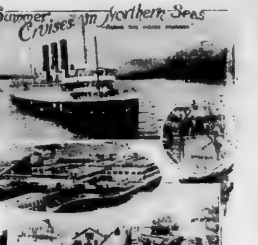
Trip For Tired Mind and Body

A few mile cruise in Ocean waters, via Grand Trunk Pacific steamships, from Vancouver to Alaska Coast, is long the "Inside Passage," affords all the delights of ocean travel combined with superb scenery. It is impossible to over-estimate the value of a sea trip as a restorative for tired mind and body. Seated on the spacious decks of the S.S "Prince Rupert," or S.S "Prince Geo." looking over the wide stretches of waters, inhaling the invigorating purity of salt sea air, one is enraptured by the subtle presence of the sea, the languid swell of the waves, and the wash of the water against the ship's side. The above pictures give an inkling of the jolly times spent aboard one of these splendid steamships; every hour being filled with enjoyment, whether spent in contemplation of the glories of nature or in the happy social life which develops as the journey proceeds. with deck games, concerts and dancing



Added Attractions Queenie Creek Stampede

$2000 in prizes and attractions is the amount the directors of the Queenie Creek Stampede association have decided to distribute in prizes at the annual stampede which will be held on their grounds 16 miles north of Vermilion on June the 27th. The effort is to make this the largest attraction in northern Alberta and the extensive programme now being arranged assures a day filled with thrilling performances and excitement. Among the special attractions promised for the day are Miss Dolly Wood and her horse "Edmonton Lad" whose performances were sensational features at the Edmonton and Winnipeg exhibitions last year, and the famous Taft Sky Pilot with Miss Alice Cooper in costume taking part. There will be a complete card of exhibition races, open bucking contests, cowboy races, wild horse and wild steer races; steer, colt and horseback riding; bucking tournaments in which some classy glove handling may be expected and a full card of athletic events, bicycle races, foot races and so on. The directors are assuring the public that the usual order will prevail throughout the day, and that a contravention of this rule will merit cancellation of what ever concession is enjoyed.

THE KING'S MESSAGE

As a striking instance of modern progress and world-wide organization, the manner in which King George and Queen Mary are delivering their Empire Day message to the children of Great Britain and the overseas Dominions is noteworthy.

Their Majesties had a strong desire to speak in person, if such a thing were possible, to every school child in the Empire on May 24rd, so that, having physically impossible, it occurred to them, presumably as they listened to the Victoria, which is the Royal Motor Room, that they could have their voices heard by every school child by having a record made and sent to the near everywhere.

To accomplish this, it was necessary to employ an organization with world-wide connections; hence, they chose the "His Master's Voice" manufacturers, through their numerous ramifications throughout the British possessions, can give a world-wide distribution in each country, through each dealer organization, to every city, town and village in their respective countries.

The message which the record conveys is not to be played to anyone before it is heard by the children on May 24rd, after which it may be heard by the rest of us. Royalties will be paid by the gramophone company on each record sold, and the entire proceeds of such royalties are to be devoted to the King's charities.

Thus "the King's Messenger" instead of the old time official speeding upon his faithful steed, is personified in the local dealer in "His Master's Voice" products, who supplies first his local schools and afterwards his regular customers with the message of our Sovereign, not in engrossed characters upon a roll of parchment, but in the actual living tones of the King and Queen; the message being capable of reproduction thousands of times to those of their subjects anxious to

SOUTHERN ALBERTA HAS HEAVY SNOWFALL

Three Inches Reported in Cardston and Pincher Creek Districts

LETHBRIDGE, May 11.—Southern Alberta was visited early on Friday and snow over the Vermilion, precipitation recorded in Lethbridge being .20 for Sunday night's storm which wound up in a regular blizzard. The storm set in at 2 hours of Monday morning. The snow was on top of a rainfall of .30 on Friday night.

Three inches of snow fell at Cardston and Pincher Creek, while about two inches lay on the ground here at 8 o'clock.

Total precipitation at Lethbridge for May to date is 1.30 inches, which is fifty percent more than fell during the whole month last year.

Southern Alberta has not received as much of the May rain fall as the southwestern part, but from Vermilion to Taber west on the Lethbridge-Kipburn and Crowsnest branches of the Canadian Pacific railway the fall has been heavy.

Rains amounting almost to three-quarters of an inch in Innisfail and Red Deer districts yesterday afternoon. Moisture conditions now are ideal throughout central Alberta. The late rains will result in some later wheat seeding than usual while the oat acreage will be considerably augmented. On the whole prospects are considered better today than at any time since 1916.

"HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"

Mrs. McClung was one of those who saw "Hunting Big Game in Africa" at the Empire Theatre, Edmonton, on the opening night. After seeing the picture she was enthusiastically wrote: "Lovers of wild life and adventure will revel in this picture with its intimate glimpses of the wild things of the forest. It made me feel that the jungle beasts had come alive and I was young Mowgli playing on the edge of the jungle, looking down on Bagheera the black panther and Kaa, and even the Number Logs were reminded true to form.

"Those of us who stay at home and can only read about the jungle are under a deep debt of gratitude to the brave men who have made this picture possible."

$2,000 CANADIANS TO U. S. IN NINE MONTHS

WASHINGTON, May 14.—As a conference with officials at the immigration department today, Secretary of Labor Davis reported that 45,000 Canadians have come to the United States within the last nine months. The head tax of $8.00 had been collected from all of them, he said.

BOSCAWEN GIVES INFORMATION ON CATTLE CONFLICT

Arrangement for Admission of Breeding Stock Was Approved

LONDON, May 14.—In connection with the renewed conflict over the admission to this country of Canadian breeding cattle, Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, former minister of agriculture, in a letter to the Times recapitulates the history of the negotiations, prior to the passing of the importation of animals bill and while he was at the head of the agricultural department.

Sir Arthur declares that the national agricultural council approved of the arrangement for the admission of breeding stock from Canada, notwithstanding the council's recent denial of this. The representatives of the dominion government, the ex-minister states, agreed that a good class of breeding animals should be admitted under the bill but the admission was to be by an order to be made by the minister or agriculture, which order, he understood, should be subject to amendment or rejection by either house or parliament.

The Times commenting on the matter, declares Sir Robert Sanders, the present minister of agriculture, should keep his predecessor's pledge with regard to the promised draft order for parliamentary consideration. The question of a ban on Canadian cattle has been settled, the Times says, and it takes the position that on the occasion the view of the British farmers who strongly opposed the change being made in favor of admission of Canadian cattle for breeding purposes should prevail.

REFERENDUM CAMPAIGN IN MANITOBA INTERFERING WITH WORKS

WINNIPEG, May 12.—The referendum campaign in Manitoba has reached such intense proportions that it threatens to seriously interfere with business. A number of speakers have been imported from B. C. by the "Dry" element, notably Thomas Richardson, ex-labor member of the British Parliament who has resided some time on the Pacific coast. He is undertaking to tell the Manitoba electors what a curse liquor is proving to the province of B. C. under government control and one other speaker who pretends to be well informed asserts that he saw more drinking in one hotel room in Vancouver last winter than he was able to find in a night round up of all the blind pigs to be found in Winnipeg. The moderation league forces are bringing several speakers from the coast to tell their side of the story as to the operations of government liquor stores in the coast province. Everything points to the largest vote ever cast in this province on a referendum and possibly a very close vote with the result problematical.

Immigration Is Discussed By Sir H. Thornton

TOO MUCH MILEAGE AND NOT ENOUGH TRAFFIC IS TROUBLE WITH THE C. N. R.

MONTREAL, May 15.—Four salient points were emphasized with regard to the immigration problems of Canada when Sir Henry Thornton addressed the members of the Quebec branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' association at their twenty-third annual luncheon here to-night.

First, a capable minister of immigration who would co-ordinate all the efforts of the people, was needed; Second, an effective propaganda abroad was essential; third, there must be an organization to follow up the immigrants when they settle in Canada and fourth, there must be encouragement of the "immigration of capital" for the industrial immigrants, made up of mechanics, artisans, and industrial workers in general.

Coming to restrictions, Sir Henry said every new citizen should be of the Canadian race. "We do not want," said Sir Henry, "a color problem like they have in the republic to the south of us."

Sir Henry advocated the community centre idea for immigrants especially in the West. Groups of three or four hundred families of one nationality should be sent to one district, and centred around a village where there are village stores and they needs

"The truth is," said Sir Henry, dealing with the railway situation, "that we have too much mileage and not enough traffic, and that is what is wrong with the Canadian National Railways."

"Why Purcell?"

Helen dropped into a chair, and gazing at her, the senator placed his hands on her shoulders. Her head, unbrushed, years older, with the bloom of youth blighted on that evening at Dower, but even in the dire and worst moments of her grief there was that deadly lit it. As a senator Rice Mount had prepared her for the blow, he said what he had to say of the partnership between Dorothy and Gordon.

"You must be brave, my dear, her father counseled. "Because it is necessary that you should know. Have courage when there have last night, in such other a sentence I believe, and with the girl's help. Make me the proper Lead."

"Are you sure it was Gordon." Her cold fingers held to his warm ones as in her mind's eye she saw what had run to him in connection.

"But we cannot be sure. Helen, you must not jump to conclusions."

Heavy Rainfall Tuesday Over Vermilion District

CAME WHEN NEEDED - SHOULD ASSURE GOOD CROPS

The whole of the country adjacent to Vermilion was visited with much needed rains during Tuesday afternoon and evening. Between three and four o'clock Manville reported a heavy downpour, the rain working eastward and south. In the south the storm was heavy and swept east and north to the Saskatchewan, heavy falls of rain being reported from all over the district. It was not until the storm shifted and broke that rain fell in the town which not two or three fair showers. About eight o'clock an other storm which came from the south passed over the town with a particularly heavy fall of rain in answer to telephone calls it would appear that practically all of the surrounding districts benefited by the welcome precipitation.

The rain could not have come at a more opportune time to do full benefit to the grain and grass and indications now are that growth of all crops will be rapid.

V. H. S. STUDENTS TAKE TWO GAMES FROM MANVILLE

Baseball Boys and Basketball Girls Come Through With A Win Each

A number of thirty High School students invaded Manville last Saturday and by some hook or crook brought away two games — the boys winning a game consisting of nine innings by a score of 8 to 4, while the girls walked away with an 11 to 6 victory over the basket ballers.

Baseball Game Was Close

Being able to throw up in the pitcher was the only thing that saved the boys from defeat in the baseball fracas, Manville having 12 runners left on base against 10 opposed to three. Batteries — Manville: Bowler, Lejeau and Eversfield. Vermilion: Dooher and Mackenzie.

Basketball Drew Big Crowd

A large crowd witnessed the basketball game, when the V. H. S. girls took the second game of the day from the Manville students. While the Vermilion players were not up to it was anybody's game up to the last five minutes when the V. H. S. forwards came through and easily dropped the field basket. The final score was 11 to 6. The V. H. S. line-up was: Gwenda Kathleen Parker, Alyson Bissett, Frieda Wolters, Centres; Marjorie Anderson, Eunice Bands; Forwards, Edith Lewis and Janet Cam.

The following citizens very kindly provided cars for the journey: Messrs W. P. Pilkie, A. C. Busby, W. E. Mackenzie, A. W. Ebbett, James Crandell and J. A. M. Craig.

Raising Perennial Plants

Written for the Canadian Horticultural Council by J. B. Cannon

There are two ways of starting a perennial border first, by raising the plants from seed, and second, by purchasing plants. If the latter method of the beginner not quite surprising the time but he has lost the pleasure of producing the plants or watching their development, which is one of the greatest pleasures a gardener has. Furthermore it is not impossible to secure, by careful selection of seed, a range of colors not exceeding by much, varieties all shades.

The soil for Phloxes should be deeply dug and richly manured, and if the plants are set in clumps of one color, from 3 to 6 plants, from 3 to 4 feet apart, though the third season, when the ground should again be manured Phloxes are also much benefited by a dressing of well-decomposed manure in the spring and during periods of dry weather occasional waterings of

R. C. W. LETT DEALS WITH DIFFICULTIES ATTENDANT UPON IMMIGRATION

R. C. W. Lett, general agent of the Canadian National Railways at Edmonton, was the speaker at the meeting of the Vermilion Board of Trade held on Monday evening, the question under discussion being that of Immigration. Mr. Lett's address included references to the practical working out of the efforts of the Railway company and the government to induce immigrants to come into Canada. It was not at all an easy matter; there were numerous difficulties in the way and these at both ends. The American or British farmer if he has made up his mind to emigrate must first dispose of his holdings and he may not be able to do this very easily. In the event of his doing so then there is the question of getting him located where he will be satisfied and, however, doing everything humanly possible to interest good settlers and be fair that through persistent advertising there would eventually be quite a flow of immigrants into the country Mr. Lett paid a compliment to the immigration agents stationed in different parts of the United States and he felt certain they were not leaving anything undone to induce people to emigrate to Canada but as he had stated there were difficulties to be contended with both there and here and yet he was quite hopeful that in course of time the value of the advertising that was now being done would be fully appreciated and Canada would get her full quota of immigrants of the right sort. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker at the conclusion of his interesting address.

Extensive Changes Are Proposed In The New Budget Resolutions

Ottawa. With the budget debate out of the way and the tinvernment's proposals carried in the House, the members will give immediate attention to the budget resolutions

While the reports of the special agriculture committee and the banking and commerce committee are not expected to come before the Commons for some little time, there is sufficient material yet on the order paper to keep the House going until those reports come down. The amendments to the Provincial Act, designed to make effective recommendations of the Halston Royal Commission, will be placed before the House shortly. It is understood

The length of the session, it is now believed, will depend to a great extent upon the length of time required for passage of revisions of the Bank Act. While the tinvernment is understood to have decided to go ahead with the revision, it is thought that the attempts to lay the act over for another year will be renewed when the bill reaches the House. Present expectations are that the session will continue until June 15 or later

The changes contained in the new budget resolutions introduced by the finance minister are somewhat more extensive than was indicated in the brief statement which he made in the House of Commons. They include changes in the tariff, sales tax, chess tax, and the tax on proprietaries and beverages. The new sales tax will not come into force until January 1 1924, instead of on the first of August next

The reduction in the maximum tax on checks from two dollars to one dollar goes into effect when assented to by the governor in council

The repeal of the special taxes on confectionery and perfumery is to take effect on June 1, and does also the substituted tax on carbolic acid

In addition to postponing the date for the coming into force of the new sales tax to January 1, 1924, the budget resolutions removed other changes.

There is to be remission from the list of exceptions from the sales tax of job printing matter n . from which it then do not exceed fifteen

There is decided to be find at early June

Manufactur ers who would be further penalized then would be allowed on drain tile for agricultural purposes and syrup of sorghum or corn kinds

The conditions governing the operation of the new sales tax are also amended in a number of respects, including the provision in regard to refunds and by the repeal of the special provisions to petroleum

The result of a conference between Mr Fielding in making the announcement possible that the dumping duty shall continue, but that it shall be limited to at no time exceed three currency of a cent a pound."

"The item of newsprint is omitted from the exemptions in the sales tax," said the minister. "Owing to a misunderstanding this was not asked for by any body and it was inserted for customs purposes; but, at all events, we are not pressing it."

Mr Fielding said that further information regarding these changes would be furnished to members at a later date.

Immigration Law Amended

British Subjects Can Now Be Deported For Seditious Acts

Ottawa—The Senate amended the immigration bill by striking out the clause which removes British subjects from the operations of the deportation provisions of the present act

Under these provisions, which were inserted following the Winnipeg strike of 1919, any person other than a native born Canadian who seeks to overthrow by force constituted authority during the first five years of his residence, be deported after an inquiry by the Immigration Department. Hon Senator Power asked why exception was made in favor of people from Great Britain, and Senator Fielding said the most dangerous menace from the British Isles.

Senator Robertson said that two years ago he had favored the removal of citizens from Great Britain from the provisions of this clause, but he had since altered his mind to some extent, and while the Communist party sought to spread Bolshevism in this country, it was well to retain the act as it was

SINKING OF THE MARVALE

BEST TRADITIONS OF BRITISH SEAMANSHIP UPHELD WHEN VESSEL STRIKES REEF

St John's, Nfld.—The four hundred and thirty-six passengers and crew of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale were saved in the lifeboats as the vessel went down near St Shotts on the southern coast of Newfoundland after striking Cape Pirates Rock

The story of the rescue, as described by Capt Lewis of the Marvale follows:

"We thought we were well off shore, the captain said. We were watching along the coast in the fog by the sound of the Cape Pirates foghorn, following ourselves south, but the ship struck a sudden blow on the reef and how-ever after she hung on the rock for a moment and then slid into deep water again I knew she was lost and decided to make for the beach."

Two of the Marvale's seamen who accompanied Captain Lewis to Torbay said that the people of the liner owed their lives to the captain's seamanship and judgment and the fact that the water was smooth. A situation with all the possibilities of disaster was present, but not a person was even injured

Immediately after the Marvale struck, the captain headed for the tiny fishing village of St. Shott's, where there was a sandy spot to beach her and a hamlet to afford better facilities for taking care of the passengers. According to Capt Lewis, the vessel struck the reef at 4:30 a.m. and was beached at 5:30 a.m. In describing the scene on the beach first, two officer passengers said the women and children were taken ashore in the boats first, two officer passengers said the women and children were taken ashore in the boats first, then the men, and within an hour the boats had been all filled and dropped. The seamen in charge of the boats were instructed to follow the ship in the direction of the land which was beginning to be visible through the fog in this direction. The first lifeboat dropped reached land 20 bobbes and eight mothers

Captain Lewis said the crew behaved and engineers did nobly when they remained on board to drive the ashore left the vessel just before she went down in accordance with the rules from the bridge. The officers will had been left on board.

Friday last heavy rains were experienced over the country, the total being enough with a reasonable allowance for evaporation and plant growth to make a bumper crop. Reports from farmers throughout the district all over the past week to the effect that the fall for the past month is the heaviest that has fallen in this district for many years. Conditions were not more favorable for the crops and crop growth.

A special issue of the Alberta Gazette has been published. It comprises 96 pages of closely printed matter. The contents consist exclusively of a list of quarter sections and improvement districts and sales which are to be taken from their owners before the close of the present year unless the arrears of taxes standing against them are paid off. Several previous issues of the Gazette have contained the tax recovery lists for municipal districts and urban corporations. Comment On Current Events

The announcement by President Beatty on behalf of the CPR that Canada's greatest Company is prepared to voluntarily cancel existing land agreements between itself and some Soldier Western farmers and restrike the same on more favorable terms of payment to the farmers is most significant. The announcement points out that during the war years in response to the universal demand for greater production and the then prevailing high prices many farmers purchased more implements, equipment, cattle, horses, etc., than they could afford to pay for from the proceeds of their farms, and have since been compelled to borrow money from time to time to keep their farms and themselves going. Many have been successful, but the high costs of production have been maintained. There have also been successive seasons of crop failure in various districts. As a result farmers have fallen behind in their payments, both as to principal and interest and as a consequence are in difficulty.

Rather than have the farmers give up their property, equipment and improvements, thereby losing everything they have put into the land, the CPR has decided to allow them new payments to meet, under certain conditions, which will be more in accordance with their present ability to pay. Under these new payments farmers will be allowed to pay interest only for the first three years, and the principal will be spread over the remaining 37 years of the 40 year agreement. Farmers who have fallen behind in their payments will be allowed to bring their accounts up to date by paying interest only for the first year, and interest and principal over the remaining 39 years. Farmers who have been unable to pay taxes will be allowed to pay them over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for seed grain will be allowed to pay for it over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for threshing bills will be allowed to pay them over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for fuel will be allowed to pay for it over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for repairs to machinery will be allowed to pay for them over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for binder twine will be allowed to pay for it over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for threshing will be allowed to pay for it over a period of years. Farmers who have been unable to pay for anything will be allowed to pay for it over a period of years.

The only condition is that the farmer must be willing to pay. If he is willing to pay, the CPR will allow him to pay. If he is not willing to pay, the CPR will not allow him to pay. BIG GAME HUNTING

Hunting Big Game in Africa with Gun and Camera" which created a sensation in Edmonton only repeated the success there that it had in other cities. In the parlance of the show world it is known as a "freak." In other words it was not the brain child of a scenario writer. While the wise men of the east and west were racking their brains to know what to do next to attract the public H. A. Snow returned from his two year expedition in Africa with his trunk full of developed film. He knew that he had something and he was willing to show it, and he did show it to the "hardboiled" film magnates. They all went to their seats. They wouldn't touch it. All except Carl Laemmle, the genial president of the Universal film company. He saw the possibilities of it. He took it in hand — and it is the year's film sensation.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa with Gun and Camera" will be shown at the Columbia Theatre, Vermilion, on Friday and Saturday, June 15 & 16th

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth is scientific progress, with a solid heart, and sturdy limbs. It is durable, and in salesmanship it is her key than all the temporary profits of falsehood or rash promises, because those profits will vanish in the future effects to build anew.

The salesman who adheres to truth, always finds his old trade waiting, and new trade being added. He has the fruit of the growth of the years before, as well as this years added yield.

The result is dishonest competition that arises and try to choke the growth of the tree, wither and die, and make no impression on the mighty Banyan —Truth

Potential Value Of Immense Salt Deposits Of Northern Alberta

Salt, which is such a vital necessity of our everyday life, has always been a plentiful and cheap commodity in Canada, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior. In no place, however, has it ever been the subject of more easily obtained than in the vicinity of Fort Smith, in Northern Canada. The salt springs of the Salt Company, the various oil-bores and other hydrations of that district are sure that by yearly supply should be gathering it up into sacks and packing it away. The source on this salt is a number of salt springs, which are located along what is known as the Salt River, on the boundary of the new Wood Buffalo Park. This park has but recently been created by the Dominion Government to provide protection to the only remaining herd of wild wood buffalo.

When millions of buffalo roamed freely over practically one third of this continent extending all the way from Mexico to the Mackenzie River district this locality was a common meeting ground for the buffalo, whence they came to lick the salt. It was no doubt while following the trail of these majestic animals that the Whitemen first became aware of the existence of these salt springs.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie, on his voyage of exploration through the district in 1793, was the first white man upon the salt springs, and Lieut.-Willing Thomas, of the Northwest Company, wrote in his journal in June: "About sixty miles from this (Chipewyan), down Peace River, there are several places where rivulets run quantity of excellent, clean, white salt may be taken with a spoon or scraped along the seashore. From these places the greater part of the North West is supplied with this valuable article."

These springs have always been a source of supply of salt for the white inhabitants of the Mackenzie River and Lower Mackenzie Valley. The native Indian is lost, and has never been, a user of salt to any appreciable extent.

The water from these springs really an almost saturated solution of pure salt, part of which is precipitated as soon as it comes in contact with the atmosphere. With the result that thousands of salt from three to five feet in depth and in some cases 100 feet in diameter are to be found at the various springs.

It is estimated that the salt deposits in the region of the Great Slave Lake district alone are sufficient to supply the entire consumption of the adjoining provinces, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, a ready home market is available for any development which may be undertaken of these deposits.

Hoppers and Sawflies

These Insects Cause Most Trouble on Stubbled-in Crops

Nearly all of the stubbling in of crops is done on the open prairie provinces and sawflies, our two worst field crop insect pests, are practically confined to this same region. It is well known that both insects cause the most trouble in stubble in crops. Grasshopper would undoubtedly disable it greatly in some years but no crop near put in on stubble, while sawflies, if not entirely wiped out, would become negligible in numbers. This depends, of course, on the care taken in collecting or gleaning the land for crops.

Plowing should be done carefully, and more than five inches deep. The shares or points should be used. It seems obvious it should be packed immediately. Sandy patches and those which are liable to blow should be left in the stubble and it not plowed under

Miss Hazel McKenzie is home from the nurses' training in Calgary with a month's holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McKenzie

As a number of farmers have completed the fall seeding operations a few of them, mostly single men, have taken their teams and left for the C.P.R. Cut Knife extension, while others have gone to the same locality to work single handed on the grade 11 to 16 miles from Vermilion to Cut Knife, Sask.

The golf tournament on Victoria Day brought out over 80 players and the opening of the new club house was a success on the occasion. The day was ideal and the different competitions produced large numbers of entries. There were two teams from Mannville and one from Elk Point entered in the lists. The former won the inter-town competition with Elk Point runner-up second. In the handicap competitions, the first prize for ladies went to Mrs. (Dr.) Graham, with Mrs W. A. Fellow second, and Mrs. Lund Craig third. In the gentlemen's handicap, W. B. Elford won first with G. W. Wright second and J. Barr and H. P. Long tied for third. The hospital Aid committee served ice cream and refreshments during the afternoon. Mrs. Semple, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Pihlo attending on the tables. The day was a splendid success and the club proposes to have competitions during the summer months. The course is now in fine shape, Mr. John Bodmeton being in charge of the grounds. The membership is in excess of last year and considerable enthusiasm is shown in the old game

SPORTS DAY FULLY UP TO EXPECTATIONS

All Round Success

The fourth annual sports day held under the auspices of the Vermilion Athletic association at the exhibition grounds on Wednesday, June 4th, was an unqualified success from every point. The highest expectations of the committees in charge were fulfilled. It was estimated that some two thousand people thronged the grounds having come by motor cars, wagons, cycle and by foot travel from all sections of this widely settled district for months.

The entries were better than in any previous year. Each of the events brought out a good number of entries which were closely contested and consequently furnished enough interest to the spectators. Not one single accident occurred to mar the day's pleasure.

VERMILION WINS BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

The main feature of the day's programme was the baseball tournament in which the Vermilion Senators returned first money. Three of the teams that signified their intention of entering the contest failed to put in an appearance. Five nines entered the tournament Mannville, Lashburn, St. Paul, Kitscoty and Vermilion. Kitscoty and Mannville took out of the first two games. The [illegible] chose and exciting [illegible] ville has developed a fine baseball aggregation of local talent. A Father's Sensible Wish

The will of a Toronto man who died recently contained a clause that closed a unique page and a keen desire for the welfare of his son. The clause referred to says: "I wish that my son Kent shall learn thoroughly a good and honorable business or profession as he is aptitude for such may direct, also the value of money and, above all the value of deaths of a strong manly Christian life." No man could wish more for his son.—London Advertiser.

LANDONVILLE
(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Landonville local U. F. A. purposed to Anglo Lake Saturday, June 2nd for a joint meeting with the Anglo Lake local. A most enjoyable program of entertainment was furnished, which was thoroughly appreciated by the visitors. Several very interesting addresses were given, J. Gordon Will son of U.G.G. and Mr. Bryden of Vermilion easily leading the list of star speakers during the course of the meeting. The Anglo Lake president came in for some sharp criticism from some of the visitors who disagreed with him on several points, but he took it all in his usual good natured manner, and at the end of the meeting there was a general feeling that the gathering had done immeasurable good. The visitors came home delighted to make the trip again shortly and to get neighbors.

We heard a remark the other day that the non-members Look had turned the standard just as it should. Can appreciate a good thing when we have a standard of comparison to see how much better some are, than others.

The Debating Society is on still times he hasn't recovered from the last time he got handed him by Lee.

CLAYSMORE
(From Our Own Correspondent)

Last week we had two community meetings in the school for the purpose of deciding the best method of purchasing a piano for the school. The first meeting on Wednesday night proved to be very unsatisfactory and in fact ended in a farce. This may have been the result of the presence of Old Man Interference also Mr My (Mrs Boy) And by the absence of Mr Harmers Mr Community Spirit and little Miss Courtesy. However another meeting was called for the next night and this proved to be a real old time Claysmore meeting Did it bring results? We'll say it did. There were about thirty-six adults present and Mr F Shore occupied the chair. A succession for getting the money to pay the first payment was made by Roy Lynch and another method was suggested by W. D Will liams. The meeting decided to try Mr Lynch's method and the result was better than was really expected. A committee to handle the business was appointed, composed of F Shore H E Lynch, W H Steele, Mrs W E Williams Mrs Walker and Mrs Geigiette with Geo A Bell secretary. The meeting lasted about an hour and before it closed more than the initial payment was in the hands of the secretary and before you read this the full price will have been received and the piano installed in the school This shows what the proper common ity spirit will do when it gets some

There was one fine little baseball game here last week, when the Claysmore Has-beens met the Claysmore Kiddies in a friendly game Matt Nelson and Alan Burr were the battery for the Has-beens, while Ray Harrison Stewart and Wakefield represented the Will-bes. Home runs were the order of the day. Dan McLaren as official scorer got writer's cramp marking down scores Pastures of the game were Lyle Robinson taking a nap on second while cousin Willie ranged him out with the hidden ball trick Bill Peachy got sent to the showers for roasting the Ump and Manager Naismith tacked a 2 home run on the same offender for walking Arthur Bruce Winters' single while Bruce circled the bases and made a home run out of it The Has-beens got away with the game, but just wait Harrison's cats are liable to come through with something startling yet

We are informed that a fellow lit ed up to an owl sitting up in a tree How this is a compliment Oh, no, he didn't intend it as a compliment, this owl was peeved because— well, we are not sure why unless it is because we tell the truth in this space. But

The wise old Owl
Sat in an oak;
The more he heard
The less he spoke,
The less he spoke
The more he heard.

Yes, some people talk too much they make the shits of our head tired There is something wrong in this community. Next week if possible we shall tell you what it is.

MASONS CONDUCTED
THE MYSTIC'S FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Br. W. J. Moon took place Friday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, the interment being in the Vermilion cemetery. Although the weather was inclement the attendance was one of the largest seen in town for some time past. The funeral services in the church were conducted by Rev Frank Chilton, the music being by the male quartette of the choir with Thomas Watt as soloist The music was under the direction of choir leader W. B. Elford. At the grave the services were conducted by the Vermilion Lodge A. F. & A. M., a very large attendance of members of the craft being present.

COMMUNICATION

DEAR EDITOR, —

I read the Claysmore Correspondence with great interest this week, and you can give Claysmore the credit they again. He wins! I bow!

But it is not every district that can have a lady correspondent one week and change itself to a gentleman the next. You cannot make me believe that any lady in Claysmore district would use the expressions those correspondents have used in their correspondence last week.

I am very sorry if my presence has been any detriment to your planting match and it will not occur again.

Sports Day Fully Up To Expectations

Batteries— Mactiegour and Goulet; MacFadden, Coonery and Pollard.

What had been expected to be the best game of the day was the second tussle staged between St. Paul des Metis and Vermilion but it was not up to expectations. The southerners made many errors but in spite of this held their opponents in check after the initial frame. The final score was 11 to 1 in favor of Vermilion. "Slim" Robinson's pitching was the feature of the fray. He held the opposing batsmen to two long hits and in addition struck out ten men Brock also put up a fair brand of ball but lack of support in the pinches cost him the decision.

St. Paul 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 — 1 2 5

To the Editor of The Standard

Dear Mr Cooper,

As I have had no other opportunity of saying anything in the matter of a farewell to the residents of Vermilion as a whole, and to members of my old congregation in particular I am resorting to use the hospitality of your columns in order to so far as possible repair this omission

Both Mrs Edwards and myself do feel keenly sensible of all the many kindnesses which have been showered upon us during the time of our residence here, and it is with anything but light hearts that we have had to face the necessity of severing ties of friendship and neighborliness, which during the course of the years, have become very dear to us

It would be quite impossible in any letter or speech to adequately acknowledge or return thanks for all the hospitality and kindness that we have received, not only here in town, but throughout the entire country, and I do want to assure every one of our friends that we are carrying away with us a vividly painted and appreciative memory of their goodness to us It is a memory that will not fade for a while, but often think of and talk over you all; and pleasant visits in various homes, friendly little parties and sathers, meetings and greetings at our monthly functions such as picnics, sports days and so on, not to mention many kindly offices of help and assistance when in difficulties by the roadside with the car, will be constantly recurring to us in our conversation and thoughts, and will bring back again friendly faces and well remembered voices and familiar scenes

If I may be permitted to refer for a moment to a painful subject, viz. the financial failure of The Link, it is in order to express our utter gratitude to the business men of this town and to the late readers of that paper for the way in which they have generously helped instead of blaming, and as stated in every way possible rather to embarrassed one by pressing their just claims, we have both been very deeply touched by this I am glad to be able to say that owing to the patience and courtesy of everyone concerned the smaller liabilities which were chiefly local ones are all cleared off and the large ones are in such a shape as to enable me, I hope, to completely clear them also in time

As most of you know, we are now living in Jasper Park; and indeed by the time these words are in print we hope to be there. It is a most exquisitely beautiful place, and the people seem very kind We feel very thankful and consider ourselves most fortunate that we have such a place to go to. We shall I hope make many friends there, but I do want you to believe that they will not take the place of, or even fill out the memory of the old ones. A large part of our hearts will always be in Vermilion and district, and we shall always be interested in everything that has to do with its welfare and progress. It has been our first and only home in the west, and no place can ever have quite the same interest in one's heart as the spot where one first settled in a new country, and which one has seen gradually become settled and grow up We both feel that we owe much to this country and its kindly people, far more than we can express, and it is our hope that we may be able to repay something of what we owe, by entertaining some of you from time to time at our new home in Jasper, where you will ever find the very warmest of welcomes.

I remain, with a very full heart
Very sincerely yours,
HAROLD A EDWARDS

Mayor Morrison Visits City Re Settlers

Mayor Morrison as secretary of the Board of Trade visited Edmonton on Wednesday in interview the Rev. Father McDonnel and D. A. Conner, who are presently in charge of the Hebridean immigrants at Red Deer, and to place before them the merits of the district of Vermilion for settlement purposes. It appears however, that the federal government in view of the fact that arrangements had been made to place these people on the land before arriving in Canada and were therefore practically stranded and becoming exceedingly dissatisfied, has taken over the matter of settling them and it proposes to do that by placing them on farms belonging to the Soldier Settlement Board that have become vacant by abandonment. Mr Morrison was assured that the district of Vermilion would receive every consideration at the hands of the officials in charge of this part of the work. A list of farms available under this arrangement with the proposed plan placed before the Board at an early date. It has been definitely decided not to bring any Russian doukhobor that offered by the Settlement Board

PAYPRUS WON ENGLISH DERBY BY LENGTH, WITH PHAROS SECOND

Epsom Downs, June 4 - Papyrus, by Tracey out of Miss Mary, owned by R. Sifich and ridden by Steve Donoghue won the classic Derby stakes run here today

The Earl of Derby's Pharos by Pharis out of Sceptre Flow, was second and M Gouida's Parth by Polymelus out of Willis, was third Nineteen horses ran

Papyrus won by a length while half a length separated Pharos and Parth at the finish

The Derby came around again today with all its traditional trappings to be the maxim that racing is the sport for kings alone and to contradict the practical people who affirm that the day of the horse is done

This is the third time in succession that Donoghue, a veteran English jockey, has won the blue ribbon of the English turf, thus becoming entitled to wear the golden spurs Donoghue repeated the prize with Tr Gris in 1921 and with Captain Cuttle the year

ART DISPLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL WAS OF HIGH CHARACTER

Many Inspect Work of Students

The art displayed at the high school last Saturday was of an exceptionally high character, the several hundred pictures exhibited showing wonderful workmanship and reflected great credit upon the ability of both the students and the Art teacher, Miss Bawden

The large school hall was crowded from the time the exhibition opened at 2 o'clock until the closing at 5.30.

Refreshments were served by the students of grades 9 and 10 under the direction of Miss Bawden

TAKE THE FAMILY TO SEE THIS AT ALL COSTS

Universal's "Hunting Big Game in Africa," which will be at the Columbia Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16th, is absolutely fascinating from the opening shots of over a million penguins filing into the ocean and whale hunters shooting harpoons into huge whales, to the close upon a real African elephant charging the camera which makes you want to get out of your seat and hunt on a

By all means see this picture and take the children For it you let they'll never forgive you if there's find out about this show

There is action in every foot in the picture. A wealth of material to enable Mr Snow to be more than generous, and when you are not materially at the astonishing animal shots you sit entranced by the picture a wealth of material out of Africa

There is comedy; the antics of a herd of giraffes provide a hearty laughing interest, the native trackers at work, drama, buzzards feasting from stricken ox, charging rhinoceri, whizzing lions, a deadly puff added in camp, the stampede of the panic stricken elephants Time and again the audience burst into applause at the wonders revealed by the camera.

Working under conditions that would discourage the most experienced photographer, Mr Snow has secured some extraordinarily beautiful pictures. There is one shot of the black bulk of an elephant seen amidst what seemed to be white dead trees that is perfect. Stunning. Working with a twelve-inch lens the young man has been able to film animals miles off or actually sitting close upon an unsuspecting beast

AMERICA LIVES IN FOOL'S PARADISE, ASSERTS SENATOR

Outlines Rural Values as Compared To Wages of New York Laborers

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—A modern Daniel come to judgment, Senator Borah of Idaho, in a speech in the senate today, declared that the United States was living in a fool's paradise, and that the country was on the verge of a financial crash unless drastic steps were taken to avert conditions. Borah said the country was facing a crisis as great as that which confronted Lincoln when he issued the emancipation proclamation.

"We are living in a fool's paradise," he declared. "We are living in a fool's paradise. We are living in a fool's paradise. We are living in a fool's paradise.

Forbidding Region Below Sea Level

Great Cities Found in Ruins in Chinese Turkestan

There is a place in Chinese Turkestan, called Lakchun, that is far below the sea level. This forbidding region is one of the most interesting in the world. Everywhere in it are found ruins of human habitation. Great cities are here, with their mines, farms and industries, dead as though time had stricken them as they stood.

When Atlantis stood high the gulf stream played on one side of it and Arctic currents on the other but there was little or no commingling of the waters. In consequence storms as they passed here were deflected down and likely, as Alaska is another comes to the United States.

But the instant there was a gate by which the Gulf Stream could enter the Arctic Ocean all this was changed. A great section whirl was set up which lifted the riparian Gulf surface into contact with the ocean and switched them into the upper air, to descend. Dry and thirsty, as Alaska is.

There is every reason to believe, however, say, that this is the true explanation, for the ruins of Atlantis and the North Sea correspond to the land formation of the deserts in Asia and Africa.

"YOUR TEETH"

EXPRESSION

By Rev. Proctor Metlen, M.D., D.D.S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

When you look at other people, your impression of them is governed very largely by the expression that you find upon their faces.

We commonly speak of "the expression of the eyes," and we have no long recognized the use of that phrase that we really think the eyes have expression. The eye proper has no expression, but the movement of the eyeball and the opening and closing of the lids, in what make the so-called expression of the eye. The upper lid has only an up-and-down motion, so that it could not be very expressive, but the lower lid can be moved upward and downward and can be governed about by the muscles of the face so as to make a series of pleasant-looking wrinkles about the corner of the eye.

More than seventy-five per cent of facial expression is due to the muscles of mastication. These are supported upon the teeth and the bones surrounding the teeth that depend for their shape upon the stability of the teeth. We are therefore forced to say that the great majority of all facial expression, either pleasant or otherwise, is due to the region that is dependent for its support, and, consequently, its appearance, upon the teeth.

In addition to the movement of the muscles of the face, the appearance of the teeth themselves is a very large element of expression. If you look at a mouth full of clean, pearly, well-shaped, healthy teeth surrounded by natural pink gums, you get immediately a pleasing effect that is one of all proportion to the general beauty of the face. In fact it is even that are more unpleasing than when in repose, are extremely attractive when they smile, because of a splendid dental equipment. If a more beautiful woman ever, when she smiles, either an irregular, as a decayed, or a stained set of teeth, she had better not smile, because her reputation for beauty disappears at the first glance.

[illegible] personality presence in appearance, and [illegible] when he opened his mouth, showed a collection of dental wrecks, he would immediately lose the psychological advantage that he had gained by his first appearance.

In order to be beautiful to others people, and to create a good impression upon other people, it is necessary not only to have beautiful teeth, but also to have them well cared for. And if you are going to have your best, your teeth must be in good order.

English Girls Investigate Canadian Farm Methods

Four Farmerettes Are Making a Tour of the Country

Four English farmerettes, winners of scholarships offered by the Imperial Colonization Committee of the National Railway, have arrived in Canada. They are: Miss Joan Wood, Leicestershire; Miss Ivy Townsend, Surrey; Miss Mildred White, Devonshire, and Miss Emma Absolon, Middlesex. All the girls are experts in farming. They are being chaperoned by Miss Stella Wolfe Murray, a well-known English newspaper woman and a near relation of General Wolfe.

They will remain in Canada for about four months and during this time every opportunity will be given the girls to study Canadian agriculture under the most favorable conditions and to visit the various provinces in which they have been accepted for farm service. Miss Wood will go to Manitoba, Miss Absolon to take a course at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, while Mi - Townsend and Miss White will attend the Macdonald Agricultural College at Winnipeg.

WHOLLY DISTILLED OIL CUTS DOWN CARBON

Tioned oil, lubrication experts say, is the cause of carbon prevention which is worth all the "carbon" theories, because "raw" is expensive when carbon is the disease.

Any old burns, it cannot help it an dor the best of your motor's combustion. And when oil or gasoline burns carbon is formed—true carbon; soot, fluffy soot. You get about as much of it with good oil as with bad; but true carbon is not injurious. Unless it is baked in the cylinder. It blows out through the exhaust. It is not the hard flinty stuff that has to be burned or chipped off—the familiar carbon deposit which causes so much loss of power, engine knocks, trouble and expense.

Carbon deposit is composed mainly of dust embedded in the gummy residue left by the burning of the oil's lighter ends. You can see that your oil contains carbon deposits in that way. Pour the engine kerosene into it and run a pure "straight-run" oil—prevents them.

For years it has been the practice of refiners to put the crude oil at a high a yield as possible of gasoline and naturally two types of light fuel-raising oils. The experienced motorist knows these two types as shown "Light" and "Medium"—they are both those kinds in varying proportions with "cylinder stock."

"Cylinder stock" is not a good motor lubricant. It is full of paraffin. It's the heavy residuum that remains after the running motor an oil containing "cylinder stock" decomposes. The light oil burns off, leaving a tarry mixture of "cylinder stock" on valves, pistons and cylinder walls. This sticky residue collects carbon dust, particles of metal and road dust which comes in with the air through the carburetor. It quickly hardens into the kind of your full fledged carbon deposit. Presto! ignition, sticking valves and loss of power are only part of the penalty the "cylinder stock" in your oil can exacts you.

Your repair bills usually vary with the quality of oil you use. Poor oil sooner or later will cost you money. For the best results you need a proper oil properly refined. It is possible to procure an oil which offers so many as five or six types of absolutely pure wholly distilled lubricants not compounded with "cylinder stock." It is such an oil that you should look for. No other oil can do the work as well because no other oil is absolutely pure in all types.

Oil makes or breaks a motor, engineers say; lengthens or shortens its life. When the motor coughs and stops, when it knocks and "won't pull the load off your hook"; won't climb over little hills and balks at starting, especially on cold mornings—we have only to look to the oil you are using in the motor when all the time we were probably at fault. Test to one the trouble would be to pour oil or the wrong type or old.

We are particular about putting distilled water in our batteries, yet we drive up to filling stations—most of us—and say, "Let me have two quarts of oil." Why do we not insist on distilled oil for our motors as the lubrication is the most important requirement of a motor?

A pure, wholly distilled oil especially in film over cylinder and piston eliminating friction. It seals up the space between cylinder wall and piston ring, keeping compression and gas where they belong. And absorbs heat from cylinder walls and piston ring, keeping compression and gas where they belong. And absorbs heat from cylinder walls and piston, due to gasher dust and soot and form carbon.

Be sure then, that you pick a good oil of the right type for your motor, and then stick to it. It is your motor life insurance, repair insurance and general satisfaction insurance. You will never regret the care used to make sure of getting a good lubricant.

LANDONVILLE
(From Our Own Correspondent)

Our local sluggers went to Vermilion Sports day—and came back ruefully-fallen because they only hit-1 2nd place in the baseball tournament instead of first, as planned.

We think they did very well though, winning as they did every game they played except one, and that by default to Vermilion, which was easily the most formidable opponent. Sperry pitched a good game for the Sports, but work of our star twirler, "Cannon Ball McKinnon" and "Blue Streak" Cousineau, left forgetting the guy who did the drawing.

Will Deery has obtained a flock of ewes and two sows, and has just planted in a specially prepared field, surrounded by scare-crows to keep wild birds and other common varieties from mixing with the high-toned poultry.

Road work has started in our neighborhood, and Mr. A. Semple has obtained a grader and we manage to predict that before many years, our roads will be almost fit to use in the province, as nearly five miles of the main thoroughfare has been graded this week.

We hear much talk of our railroad these days. Jack Landon says its coming, and Landonville became his store platform would make such a nice station landing, and Mr. Mead claims no commission. Dad Lake, because the scenery is so much more beautiful that way. We hope they are both right.

O. Whitson has had engine trouble added to his list of woes. Jim says it won't run on water, Otis says it will but all that either are sure of is that it won't run

HOW ABOUT THAT FIRE, LIFE OR ACCIDENT POLICY?

Canada's Newsprint Industry Has Made Important Strides In The Past Few Years

In March last a new record was established by the newsprint industry of Canada, not only in manufacture but in exports. For the first time the monthly record exceeded in each case the 100,000-ton mark. The output of the Canadian mills in March was 104,-361 tons, while the exports were 113,150 tons, a portion of the latter being shipped from stock. In May last a previous record was made, when production reached the 99,000-ton mark; the increased output in the past eleven months, therefore, represents a substantial advance.

New paper making machines are being installed in many mills, and in three also Canada is establishing records. Until within two years ago no paper making machine had been built in Canada. The growth of the pulp and paper industry in the country was, however, assuming such proportions as to warrant the dominion Engineering Company in undertaking the testing upon the construction of these mammoth machines. Their first unit, made for the Laurentide Pulp and Paper Company, produces a sheet of paper 166 inches in width. What is remarkable about the machine is, however, apart from it being the first constructed in Canada, the fact that it is also the fastest running newsprint machine yet built, producing up to 1,850 feet per minute of 100-inch paper.

Machines of record width have been installed by the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company and a number of other companies are installing these mammoths. These have a paper width of 132 inches, and run at the rate of 900 feet per minute, producing from 80 to 90 tons of newsprint per day. This width immediately will be understood when it represents a strip of paper seven feet six inches wide, on which three automobiles could drive abreast The output of this latter machine in one minute of running time would produce 2.7 sheets of paper equal in size to a [illegible] with ordinary newspaper.

Canadians with the development of the newsprint industry and the introduction of these mammoth machines in the forests and pulp mills have before them a splendid opportunity of [illegible] pulpwood supply of Canada. If our resources in pulpwood could be assured and depleted only by industrial needs, a greater attention being given to selective forestry methods and replanting by the pulp and paper companies, the pressures are good for a continuous supply of this raw material, such as the Royal Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior is attempting this in part to-day. Forest fires are taking a tremendous toll not only of the tree which is of pulpwood size to-day, but of the young trees which would produce the pulpwood supply of ten twenty or more years hence the young growth and seedlings are destroyed and the ground left barren

Many other industries benefit through the development of the pulp and paper industry The engineering trades supply large quantities of machinery for the pulp and paper mills and for the water power developments usually associated with them. [illegible] in the pulp and paper industry for the pulpwood are required large quantities of wire [illegible] and woodpulp can attain one of the large sources of export During the year ending March 31st last the exports of pulpwood were 1,035,000 cords while merchant pulp to the value of $23,000,000 and newsprint to the value of $42,000,000 [illegible]

The [illegible] of export industry to Canada, in export trade alone for the same period, represented [illegible] and $122,534,999, $72,667,926 of this being accounted for by newsprint. $35,-424,948 by wood pulp. What this represents in employment in shown by the 1921 report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of the industry, which gives the number of employees as 23,521, with wages and salaries at $14,199,497.

When it is realized that this is but one of the many industries dependent upon the forests for its existence, Canada has good cause to be alarmed over the tremendous inroads which forest fires are making upon this natural resource.

Alberta Coal In Toronto

Easterners Find That It Will Really Burn and Produces Heat Too

The committee appointed by the Ontario Government to try out Alberta coal reported that the best grades of Alberta coal would be a satisfactory substitute for United States hard coal. The committee was J. A. Ellis, fuel commissioner; C. H. Mitchell, of the University of Toronto; and R. P. Fairbairn, deputy minister of public works. The committee states that it would be desirable, if there were importation, that only the best grades be brought in.

Importation, in the minds of the committee, would not be satisfactory unless Alberta coal could be delivered in Toronto at $12.50 a ton, as compared with $15.50 for United States anthracite. A ton of Alberta coal will not last as long as anthracite and it takes 1½ to 1¾ tons to equal a ton of the hard coal. The tests in private houses showed that there was little smoke and that no good coal was found in the ashes, and with a few exceptions there were no clinkers or slate. It was agreed by all who tested it that the coal gave immense heat and responded quickly to draft It must be remembered, however, that the coal was used in comparatively mild weather About the only difficulty reported was that some had trouble in keeping the fire low until the draft was properly regulated.

The Wireworm

A Serious Pest of the Farm and Garden

The wireworm is a slender yellow fish-brown worm about an inch in length when full grown. The insects live in the ground, where they feed, thrive and multiply on decaying vegetable matter and on the roots of growing plants, their smooth, wiry cylindrical bodies allowing them to move freely through the soil. Potatoes, beans, beets and other garden vegetables are commonly attacked, and the losses caused are sometimes very great. Decaying vegetation, produced by the ploughing down of sod land in the spring or autumn, provides ample food for the young wireworms for a year or more.

While fully grown, the wireworm transforms into a pupa. This is the resting stage of the insect and takes place in a small earthen cell in the furrow below the surface of the ground. [illegible] Three years are supplied by the Alberta Provincial Entomologist Branch, Mr. R. C. Treherne, in his report on "Injurious Insects and Wireworm Control." Methods of control are fully discussed In the wheat growing districts of the prairie provinces, says the writer, relief from wireworm will be obtained by intensive summer-fallowing, commencing in early June Insecticides birds at this season of the year also play an important part in [illegible]

Extension of Pottery Industry is Looked For

Investigations are now being made by British interests which are likely to lead to further important developments of the well known clay of this province. On behalf of these interests the Saskatchewan Government is supervising the work, and the results of the principal deposits of clay are to obtaining comparatively small samples which will be sent to the principal centres of our pottery industry in Canada and the United States for [illegible] Satisfactory results will probably lead to the erection [illegible] of one or more pottery industries in Western Canada.

Progress Of Cow Testing

Increasing Number of Farmers Taking Advantage of Systems

Year by year the number of farmers who take advantage of the cow testing system conducted by the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch increases In 1922 there were eight hundred and twenty six more cows recorded in eight months or over than in the previous year, and the average production of milk and fat was greater, the test being 3.6 in per centage compared with 3.69 in 1921. Quebec stands ahead of all the provinces in the number of herds and cows tested, the numbers being 2 043 herds and 22,257 cows Ontario comes second with 782 herds and 10,241 cows Nova Scotia is third with 264 herds and 3,326 cows In the average test per cow, Nova Scotia ranks first with 4.22 and Quebec second with 3.9 New Brunswick's test in 1922 was 3.84 and Ontario's 3.69 The totals in 1922 for all the provinces, excluding Saskatchewan, which conducts its own testing were 3,124 herds and 36,304 cows compared with 3,191 herds and 37,925 cows in 1921 In Quebec there were 487 testing centres and in Nova Scotia 37 Ontario Alberta has the best average for milk and fat, in 111 herds with 3,161 cows averaging 7,222 lbs of milk and 280.6 lb. fat, the test being 3.64 Saskatchewan's average milk production per cow under test in 1922 was 7,039 lbs and fat 247.6

What's wrong in this community?

Well it's well you. There are too darn many bachelors. Now we will prove it. Let's start down in the S.E. corner and take a circle round. First we have Dan Shea with half a section of land, then D J A MacPie with a section. Art Wharry on half a section; Jack Tucker with three-quarters, Norm Tucker with a quarter, Bill Peachy with three-quarters, Harry Llewellyn with two sections, Bill Graves with a quarter section.

There now we have nine men or couples 25 quarter sections of land, or approximately 4000 acres. But we are not done yet, there are still a few living with some one else. These are Jim Naismith, Howard Kirkpatrick and Walt Parsalle. Now are these fellows doing their duty, first by their selves second by their neighbors and third to their country. Well say they are not and we'll tell you why. Dan first let's compare these first nine lonesome guys with the 1000 acres of land to a few married men with families. Let's see now, we have Bill William's on a quarter section when Bill buys a pair of shoes, he buys eight pair. Gord Dunsmore has seven hats to buy off his 160 acres while Bill Peachy buys one pack of cards the rest acres. When the cold weather comes Percy Willis has to dig down and get a few pairs of pyjamas out of his low cover while Harvey Llewellyn walks in, buys one pair and walks out again. Fourth duty made much on a dint in his 1280 acres.

But let's go back to the duty these fellows are neglecting. First, to the native. No man has a right to keep from another any good thing that rightly belongs to that other. Neither have these fellows the right to deny themselves the joys and blessings of motherhood. And we believe there is no greater blessing given to man on this earth than the pride and joy of rearing children grow up around him. Now their duty to their neighbors lies likewise briefly. Right down here where the Armore school and Mr Collins are a few rich men who are too far from a school, and have schools convenient in that district. But right here we have four bachelors all in a bunch contemptibly to get a school district. Why, we'll be in here a few children as there are not enough there as present to fill the two schools now in that district. Are they doing their duty to their country? We should say not. We hope none of those fellows are looking for government aid for new schools. Immigrants into the country because in a land that is fairly teeming for population, what are these guys doing toward their share of the natural increase? Since earliest history in every country it has been the duty of men to marry and propagate the kind. Now why are these fellows rides-roipcate this duty? It can't be poverty when you consider that 6000 acres of land for nine men, while the three couples we mentioned get three with twenty-two members on 480 acres of land. So far as we can see there is no excuse for this bunch, they are all old enough now so that they can go to bed and sleep without moth- er having to get up and tuck the quilt around them and kiss them good-night.

Now, girls, let's tell you something. There is going to be a whale of a life at Claysmore this Friday night, June 15th. Jim Cameron is bringing up his bunch of turkeys to take a fall out of Slim Naismith's fowse in a ball game and right after the game there is a ball dance in the school where we now have a piano and the Stetlerville orchestra is going to perform. Now for a clinch all of those bachelors are going to be there. What say, girls, let's all go and see what kind of a defence these gents put up. Mind you, we have nothing against those fellows except the duty which they are neglecting. We feel sure all darn good fellows in their way, only they don't see it.

"Another Reader" in a recent issue of the Standard appeared to advocate birth control. We will say help another who the dickens it would benefit in this community

We consider the Vermilion Athletic Association would be well advised if most your at their sports day they put on prizes for a popular queen contest. Why we'd be willing to vote for any one or all of those girls who represented ourself and family in the parade on sports day.

PASTOR RAPS "DRY" PLEDGE

Total Abstinence Plan for Church Borders on Blasphemy, He Asserts

NEW YORK, June 8. — Rev. Dr. Henry Vandyke preaching this morning in the Bryck Presbyterian church of which he has been pastor for more than 20 years, declared that the recent Presbyterian general assembly at Indianapolis has made three mistakes. He blamed these in a large measure on William Jennings Bryan although he never once called the commoner by name instead, Dr Vandyke referred to Mr Bryan as "the gentleman from Florida late from Nebraska."

Dr Vandyke declared the first of these mistakes was "to declare war between religion and science by denouncing and condemning the evolutionary hypothesis of man's physical nature as 'anti-scriptural and atheistic'."

OTHER "ERRORS"

The clergyman stated the second mistake" was the attempt to impose upon the Presbyterian church five new "tests of orthodoxy."

The third mistake which is being made in the attempt to impose on the Presbyterian church a pledge of total abstinence from wine," said Dr Vandyke

Understand this has nothing to do with the question of prohibition," continued Dr Vandyke "That is a matter of national policy to finally settled on grounds of prudence, economy, social welfare and the best interests of the republic.

"But to say that the use of wine is 'per se' sinful is to tell a lie and contradict the Bible. Those who did St Paul write to Timothy 'Be no longer a drinker of water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake?' Had he could Christ not only use wine but make it?"

"BORDERS ON BLASPHEMY"

"For a state to say, 'The saloon must go', is doubtless wise, certainly law ful. To add, 'There must be no more wine,' is also lawful, but for a church can only be tasted by experience But for a Christian church to impose a pledge which would have excluded Jesus Christ from its ministry and membership is inexcusably absurd as to border on the blasphemous.

"Any man who chooses for good reasons to adopt total abstinence as a rule of his life may do so with wisdom and propriety But I would never demean myself to sign such pledge. I were forced upon me by a church bearing the name of Christ while condemning his conduct

THE BUSINESS TAX BYLAW.

It was intimated sometime ago in this paper that the Town Council when sitting as a Court of Revision would in all likelihood recognize some of the grievances allowed in the different appeals and make such adjustments as would be necessary to make the tax as equitable as would be possible under the circumstances in fact the Mayor made a general appeal against the assessment for this very purpose The bylaw was passed on April 9th last, shortly after an appeal for revision was made to the courts to have the assessment quashed and until this application was decided there was little or nothing the council could do to bring about the desired adjustment in the meantime the legislature passed an amendment to the Town Act whereby towns were precluded from amending or repealing a bylaw passed under the section governing the business tax until the year following. The Mayor took the matter up at once with the department and had an interview with the officials there. It was agreed to refer the question to the attorney-general's department for a ruling, the Mayor contending that the amendment was not retroactive The ruling of the attorney-general was read to the meeting of the council held on Monday evening holding that this amendment was effective and that the bylaw in question could not be amended or repealed until next year and that at a regular meeting held before May 1st.

To us the amendment looks like an unwarranted and unrealized interference with the rights of a town with regard to their rights to local government in any event the decision of the department being accepted as such left the Council found itself powerless to make any adjustments of the schedules and the assessment depending upon these schedules little or no changes could be effected and these only were changes made be made in the area

The decision of the city fathers to provide some "tying up" conveniences for farmers' teams in a central location is to be commended. Sentimentality has been with which the town was pregnant a few years back, caused the old familiar tiepoles, turned teams into the livery barns or else on tale-chasers tied around the streets of the town The most objectionable feature however in this action would appear to have been the utter lack of consideration for the farmer which it is well known engendered a spirit of antagonism and acted against the sentiment of co-operation which should feature all dealings between town and country People coming in for a few hour's shopping, a distance of three or four miles, do not feel constrained to put their horses up at a barn but they have had no place to tie them to. Others coming from a distance have to bring their own feed and in ordinary weather and when properly looked after, a few hours tie up in the open has nothing to condemn it.

The Border Cities Star a few weeks ago contained an appeal to Western Ontario farmers, which is applicable to the whole of Canada and is here reproduced "Farmers of Western Ontario, plow your furrows straight; sow in faith, that you may harvest with rejoicings and thanksgiving to God; be proud, that harvest it may be, for the seed is very sugar. Prepare to you the outlook may seem dark. Perhaps it would appear that the day of acceptance is done, and that the city offers the chance to the future. But that is not so; nor can it be. A home, banked on shifting sands will not endure, neither can any civilization that is not founded on the prosperity and contentment of the farmer. Agriculture is more than a basic industry. Boots, steel or chemicals or coal it is the "basic industry—the mother of the all."

ASK FOR INFORMATION.

The request of the Alberta weekly newspaper editors for information as to the meaning of the four questions to be voted on in the Bigger referendum next November has not yet been had the attorney-general, except in the form of press dispatches from the recent editors' meeting at Jasper The resolution reads as follow.

"Whereas this annual convention of the Alberta Press Association is persuaded that there is a sincere and widespread difference of opinion that as to the manner as to the real effect of certain of the questions on the ballot of the forthcoming Bigger referendum, and whereas it is found necessary by Dr F C Middleton, Deputy Minister of Forward Movement department that the secretary of Alberta be respectfully requested to issue an official statement as to interpretation of the effect of each question on the ballot paper, and in connection with such question a clear explanation of the kind of legislation it proposes to introduce in the legislature in the event of each question being carried."

We understand that the matter has been placed in competent hands and that the information will be given out in due time. The government is extremely desirous that the coming vote be an intelligent one and to that end we shall do its part to facilitate the matter. The question has not yet been taken up in cabinet as to how much will be spent in the campaign of enlightenment about to be launched.

VEGREVILLE, Alta June 11 In other of the early morning hours Vegreville's business district was visited by fire which completely destroyed the clinic of Dr Dr [illegible] and the adjoining building occupied by Mr [illegible] as a residence. The fire was discovered by Mr [illegible] who was passing by on his way to work at the Vegreville Flour Mills. The alarm was given and the fire brigade was soon on the scene, but the flames had gained such headway that the buildings were doomed before the hose could be brought into action. The fire was confined to the two buildings mentioned, however, and the adjoining buildings were saved. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $35,000, with insurance of $15,000 on the buildings and $2,000 on the contents of the clinic. Dr [illegible] carried no insurance on his property.

TRAINS DELAYED DUE TO SWARMS OF CATERPILLARS

Poplar Trees in Edmonton District Being Stripped By Pest

Caterpillars are causing a great deal of trouble in Edmonton and district and on all sides poplar trees are being attacked and stripped of their leaves. Caterpillars are to be found everywhere and travelling rapidly in search of their favorite food.

The pest has caused a great worry and discomfort to everyone more especially to motorists and to those living in the suburbs. Many trains have been delayed through swarms covering the metals, thus causing the wheels of the engines to slip and no power could be obtained and used. Particularly is this the case in the Viking Alliance and Edgerton districts.

The caterpillar which is one of the Tent variety (Clisiocampa spira) is found in the form of large webs in the trees in the Edmonton district. Neglected trees are being stripped of their leaves and if the damage is severe they will die.

What the Heavy Rainfall Means

In this favored year, when Alberta is receiving great rainfalls at the season when the rain is so beneficial to growing crops, a few figures as to what the rainfall means in gallons and pounds may be interesting. In a number of sections rainfall exceeding two inches in depth, have been frequent. One inch of rainfall on one square mile is equal to 2 323,200 cubic feet of water

One cubic foot of water is equal to 6 23 imperial gallons

These figures are taken from the Dominion figures used in the Hydrometric Surveys in the Province of Alberta

Protection of Trees of Vital Importance to Every Canadian

Q.—Is there any company in Canada planting a tree for every one they cut down?

A.—No, for the reason that no considerable amount of trees planting can keep pace with the destruction of trees caused by, car pets and smokers. One mis-sulfuric stump fire may easily destroy in a day, more young trees than a corporation or green forest could plant in a month. Until the forest fire menace is conquered Canada will not see wholesale reforestation by the planting process. The risk is too great.

Q.—What are the common causes of forest fires?

A.—Unextinguished camp and coal fires, lighted cigarettes and matches. The woods are destroyed usually by the people who are always near the fisherman the camper and other pleasure seekers.

California Man Claims to Have Obtained Photographs of Thoughts

Vincent Johns, Vice President of the California Psychical Research Society, announced that he had been successful in obtaining actual photographs of his thoughts. He exhibited what he said was a thought photograph of a tree, secured by using an ordinary photographic plate which was wrapped in an opaque black paper sealed in an envelope and so pended inches before the eyes of the experimenter who then concentrated on a tree for ten minutes.

Mr. Jones stated that another way to obtain a thought picture was to get a person to hold strips of film against their foreheads for about fifteen minutes while they concentrated on the thing they wished to photograph.

Kitchen Range As Incubator

Something new in electric ranges was discovered by a Stratford housewife who had left on a range a Chick. When the chicks began picking the shell she conceived the idea of taking them to her stove again, and placing them in the warming department of the electric range. Growth of Canada

That Canada was gradually becoming more and more of an industrial country, and that Canadians themselves were not truly aware of the fact was the opinion expressed before the Winnipeg Rotary Club by Prof. R. C. Wallace of the University of Manitoba. He stated that during the past 25 years the population of Canada had increased 80 per cent, the railway mileage 120 per cent, while the industrial life of the country increased 700 per cent.

The Jersey City policeman who has resigned his job to go back to bricklaying is in tune with the times. Lay ing bricks is truthfully remarks, to make as profitable as patrolling a beat, and about half as beer-some—indeed should a man stay on a police force at $2 000 a year when he can make $6,000 as a mason? A generation ago there were about 5,000 policemen in the United States and the brick and stone masons numbered 150,000. Now there are 82,000 policemen and only 124,000 brick and stone masons. Since 1890 the ranks of the police have gained 35,000 and the ranks of the masons have lost 25,000. It is not so very easy to get good policemen, but it is much harder to get bricklayers.—New York Herald.

Members of Loyal Lodge No. [illegible] A. F. & A. M. are invited to attend a special meeting to be held [illegible] Visiting brethren cordially welcome.

Mr. Scott, manager of Lumsden Limited creameries, departed for Edmonton, writes the Standard in the effect that the last of the Mannville Creameries were going strong. In so many words he says that due to the fact that one of our people R. G. Sample came to the front and shut down a fine supply of good water with his well-drilling machine—and all in the short space of a week. In connection Mr. Scott says: I have never been in Vermilion but it all indications come up to the height of efficiency it must be a fine place." If this gentleman should visit our town in the spring time he will be duly given the favorable opinion formed by him.

The ground selected by the public works committee of the town council for the lifting posts it was decided to put in at last night's meeting, is the old market square back of the town hall. This should prove a most convenient location, besides being a source of gratification to the farmers who formerly had charge of the work, will be now completed.

A heavy electric storm passed over the town Friday evening accompanied by a steady fall of a couple of hours duration. A bolt struck the Mel Gulf Oil station making a hole in the roof and knocking off some plaster.

Captain Harrison, Inspector of the A.F.P. with headquarters at Edmonton was in town Tuesday afternoon. The Inspector is on a tour of inspection of the several detachments along the line and north beating here in a motor car for the St. Paul route. During his stop in Vermilion Captain Harrison was renewing old acquaintances with W. P. Sutton with whom he went overseas in 1911 as a member of the 19th Alberta Dragoons.

The Vermilion Fire Brigade answered the call on Sunday afternoon to the E. C. Creamery at the foot of the big hill. The fire was in an old bulkhead at the head of the stairs and signer not to have its origin between the floor. The brigade was on the spot promptly and all means and purposes the fire was completely extinguished. It was only a short time later that the second alarm was sent in from the same building, the outbreak this time being several feet up the floor and over a large number of butter boxes. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

JUNE 27TH BOUND TO BE A FINE DAY

It has come to our ears that the Upwards Creek Stampede association have protected themselves against rain the day of the big stampede, Wednesday June 27th.

Insurance has been taken out to the amount of $5,000 with the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. This means that if the ladies have new their fashionable frocks because it would be no use to the weather man to call a rain against the association.

I hope we are running a long fine spell since this another 1.75 year.

1ST VERMILION TROOP BOY SCOUTS

Well Scouts, it's all over! What? Why, our C.O.L.T. evening of fun, and although the rain dampened our clothes, I don't think it dampened our enthusiasm. The "Treasure Hunt" resulted in a win for Miss Beatrice Stacey, who received the prize donated by Lusk's Drug Store. Miss Gilremindely came a close second. The boy's prize of a scout knife donated by the Northern Hardware, was won by Charles Benson with Grant Sanderson second.

We wish to thank Craig's Dept Store for Gramophone; Stephens Ltd for records and Mrs. J.A.M. Craig and Mrs. Hodgson for help to make the evening a success.

Bertie Hicks Robinson deserves special mention for releasing and decorating Hall entirely unaided, thereby showing a true scout spirit of helpfulness. By the way, Miss Margaret Brockbrough carried off the C.O.L.T. prize for the best story and it really was a good one.

The Troop will meet as usual Friday evening at 7:15 p.m. and a good attendance is requested as matters of policy organization and rules are to come up for discussion.

Please bring all equipment held by individual scouts belonging to the Troop.

The following accounts have been paid Mr. Hayward, Sch. GOLDEN AGE? NO, TINSEL! GIVE US HELL-FIRE, IS PLEA

Colorado Springs, Col., June 17 — Francis J. Sibriel of Mountain View, California, speaking at the education al convention of the Seventh Day Adventists here today declared that our Anglo-Saxon ancestors should return to earth today and see the bobbed hair flappers and green eyed lounge lizards that infest the land, they would disown them as their children.

Because of what I saw I drive a day and wear silk shirts and have a private bath in our house doesn't make that my God, and moreover I am not a benighted ancestor, continued Mr Sibriel.

When people tell me that there is no public sin, I can't keep from thinking of the old adage: Lazy fishing and drivers is not good. That is the street car.

What the world needs is more Wesleys and Wilberforces who will teach Christ instead of our present social welfare twaddle.

How you can get the best oil

All motor oils look alike; but the're not. And poor oils cause most of your motor troubles. Poor oils don't lubricate as well; and usually cause hard carbon deposits.

SUNOCO THE DISTILLED OIL

is just pure lubricant. It contains no "dead stock." Because it's free from carbon troubles, and other troubles it makes it retains its lubricating qualities. You could test Sunoco for 1000 miles, and then not find a trace of carbon in the engine.

Many mechanics say Sunoco is the best oil they ever used.

We made careful tests of Sunoco and found it Sunoco.

There are six types of Sunoco, distilled. One of them is best for your car. Ask us. Or write us for a booklet, "What's Happening Inside Your Motor." It will tell a number of facts you ought to know.

Mrs. Purcell was as keenly alive as ever to the hope that the young ranch owner didn't come on that visit. But her little girl was also sensitive and to the impression which the first bullie had made upon her. Her fire with Mr. Hough had not brought many luxuries and perhaps she was resolved that her sweet child in the future should not be subjected to such tense moments. Mrs. Rexhill's most imposing young woman was not to be the impeccability of the world-to-do. Her heart was still warmed by the memory of the courtesy with which she had been treated by the octogenarian banker, and was but without the gratification of being the first to hand him a gift when he got out of bed. She had told Dorothy afterward of her frank approach to Miss Rexhill and how she had said that further days on her own situation.

"I'm sure that Miss Rexhill treated us as a lady should," she said to Dorothy. "She acted more like one than you did, if I do have to say so. She was as kind and sweet as could be. She's a dreadful nice girl. I could see that when she sat and gave me that blotter, just because I admired it. But it reminded me of your childhood."

"Oh, that old blotter. I suppose I'm ashamed to admit it," Dorothy confessed, "but I did it for a reason. You talk as though it were something to be proud of. I'm not going to be so petty as to let that her mother now stands in the way of love for her."

"I'm not saying that it's of any value, Dorothy, except to me, but it was kind of her, to have remembered what I wanted it."

"It wasn't kind of her; she just did it to get rid of me because we hated her," Dorothy explained. "Mother told about the Rexhills, why not admit it and be done with it? What's the use? They're perfect, but I tell you they're not—they're bad! They've done their blind all our troubles here. They've—"

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E.Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Whiting, Ala. — "From the time I was 16 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. That kept the family doctor busy. I tried lots of pills on the factor as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. At one time I would have to wake the floor. I suffered on like this as a friend of mine advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I find like a different person now that I don't have those troubles."—Mrs. Otto Holmberg, Box 93, Whiting, Ala.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or habit forming drugs and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

B. K. L. 2474

"You will please pardon me, but I do not care to receive you," she said grimly.

This beginning, natural enough from Helen's standpoint, after what her father had told her in Mrean's office, convinced Dorothy that she had read the writing on the blotter correctly. She held her ground, aggressively, between Miss Rexhill and the door.

"You must hear what I have to say to you," she declared quietly. "I have not come here to make a recital call."

"Isn't it enough for me to tell you that I do not wish to talk to you?" Helen lifted her brows and shrugged her shoulders impatiently. "That is enough. Will you please stand aside so that I may go to my room?"

"No, I won't," Dorothy said, "until you've heard what I've got to say." Stung by the arrogance of the young woman, and realizing that the situation had put her at a certain disadvantage, Dorothy forced an aggressive tone into her voice. "I insist on it."

"Very well!" Miss Rexhill sharp ened her eyes dangerously, and then resumed her seat. "We must not disturb the servants now. Since I must listen to you, I must, but at least I need not talk to you, and I won't. I—"

"You know that Gordon Wade has disappeared!" Dorothy made no response to this, and Dorothy hit her lip in anger. "I know that you know it," she continued. "You must tell me now where he is."

"Perhaps, have," Helen replied, "but you don't think that I'm in danger. If you tell me where he is, I shall not tell you."

"The low throaty note of anger in her voice betrayed a quiver of the flash into the eyes of the other contact, but no other sign.

"Miss Rexhill, Dorothy went on, almost pleadingly, "you and Mr. Wade were friends once. If you are not now, perhaps you don't realize just how serious the situation is here this town, where nearly everybody likes him, and I am afraid that you and your father, if I told what I know about you, would be in danger. If you tell me where he is, I shall not tell you. Will you tell me?"

Selling Eggs By Color Of Shells

Uniformity of Color in Same Package Is of Most Importance

(By Seth W. Shoemaker, Director School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.)

Every little while the time honored discussion that the quality of an egg may be told in a certain extent by the color of the shell, is revived. So far as the intrinsic value of the egg is concerned there is no basis for such a belief but so far as market conditions are concerned there is sometimes a real value to support such an idea.

Almost every poultryman knows, for example, that New York City will pay a higher price for white shelled eggs while the Boston market will pay a higher price for brown shelled eggs and that frequently there is a difference of two cents a dozen in favor of the color preferred in the various markets. In other markets the matter of the color of the shell is a matter of small importance and in the markets of [illegible] cities, towns and villages, [illegible] prefer the freshness and [illegible] they do on the color

Grain Eggs by Color

One important rule in packing eggs for market, however, is to keep the color the egg colors in the package uniform so that the eggs will not look like a mixed lot. White eggs will usually sell better if packed by themselves, and likewise brown eggs will do the same. Some poultrymen, especially those who pack eggs by their trade, deem it advisable to crate eggs of various shades of brown so that all the eggs in the package will look very much alike.

Fowls of European origin lay white shelled eggs and those of Asiatic origin, as a rule, lay darker shelled eggs. Eggs of different varieties of the same breed may vary slightly in color. For example, the eggs of dark plumaged fowls usually have darker colored shells. A cross between two breeds, one of which lays brown shelled eggs and the other white shelled eggs, usually results in fowls that lay eggs of a color intermediate of the brown and white.

There is also a noticeable variation in the color of eggs from different hens of the same variety. The color eggs laid first thus those laid early in the season.

Dark Eggs From Asiatics

The more Asiatic blood a fowl has in its veins the darker will be the color of the egg shell. The eggs with the darkest colored shell are laid by Langshans. The color of eggs also is produced by the most popular egg producers is given in the list below:

White Shells	Brown Shells
Ancona	Brahma
Andalusian	Cochin
Crevecoeurs	Dorkings
Campines	Dominiques
Games (some are [illegible] tinted)	Favorelles
Hamburgs	Indian Games
Houdans	Javas
Leghorns	Langshans
La Fleche	Orpingtons
Minorcas	Plymouth Rock
Polish	Rhode Island Reds
Redcaps	Wyandottes

Many poultry breeders making a specialty of eggs believe that one of the most desirable points is to keep the producing eggs of uniform color. Hence, the color of the eggs they desire they try to keep as pure as possible. For example, the Plymouth Rock Rhode Island Red or a Plymouth Rock or any other pure bred fowls are crossed with any other fowls they usually produce off color eggs.

Sometimes, even a pure bred tool will begin to show some reversion to an old ancestor and lay eggs that are not true to the color of her variety. Careful poultrymen usually cull out such hens from the breeding flock because if they are used in breeding the flock will be probably reproduce poor.

Although the color of the eggs is considered to be more or less of a fancy by most poultrymen, yet most men will usually agree that it pays to have a uniform color, and this should be considered by the breeder who wants to get the most money for his product.

You may be sure of one thing—that you can't be too sure of anything.

The Heart's Marvel

Tremendous Work Accomplished By the Heart During the Average Lifetime

The heart of one man in a lifetime pumps as much blood through the body as the blood weight of the ten million men killed during the war, according to Dr. J. Uesch, a professor in the Berlin Medical School, an authority on blood circulation, and the first man to perfect a system of measuring the blood content of the human body. "The heart of a man weighing 125 pounds and living sixty years," he says "pumps during the course of his life 147,500,000 quarts of blood. The world war cost ten million lives. Estimating the average weight of a man's body at 123 pounds, and the weight of the blood content at 7 per cent of the total, some 21,480,000 quarts of blood were shed during the war." Prof. Uesch's work is illustration to show how much more powerful is this marvel of nature than the destruction which mankind with the most ingenious instruments of warfare, was able to inflict upon itself in five years of desperate effort.

Arab Independence

King of the Hedjaz Signs Treaty With Great Britain

King Hussein of Hedjaz has signed the treaty between his Government and Great Britain. The Government recognizes Arab independence and regards Palestine as within the Arab sphere, but it does not modify the present form of Government in the Holy Land.

The treaty provides for perpetual peace between the contracting parties and for settlement of frontier questions by friendly negotiations or, if deals, among other things, in detailed fashion, with the status of pilgrims and pilgrims and provides special arrangements for travel to Mecca.

Both contracting undertake not to enter into any agreement with a third party antagonistic to the interests of the two governments concerned.

Marriage Register Of Westminster Abbey

Contains Names of Humble People As Well As Famous Ones

The marriage register of the Abbey and the Collegiate Church of St. Margaret, Westminster—which the Duke of York and his bride signed on their wedding day is a record of curious and unexpected contrasts. It contains, for example, many names of the famous and the great, but also almost equally numerous signatures of those of humbler rank. This is due largely to the fact that not only members of the body collegiate, but their servants can claim the right to an abbey wedding. As the privilege of an abbey ceremony is not one that is too readily accessed, it may easily arise that fewer fail to secure it, while the fascination of one of the collegiate clergy and her bridegroom may be such that they are willing to forego the magnificence of one of the collegiate churches and her bridegroom may be satisfied to be arranging their nuptials in the central church of the Empire.

Spectacular Motor Route

New Chapter Added to Romance of Modern Engineering

The building of the new motor highway through the Canadian Rockies and the linking up of the 4,000 miles system known as the "Grand Circle Tour," adds one more thrilling chapter to the romance of modern engineering. The Banff-Windermere road is not only a motor road across the Central Rockies, but the connecting link in what will probably be the most spectacular motor route in the world. For the past two years motorists in both the United States and Canada have awaited the completion of this road.

Hence, the color of the eggs they desire they try to keep as pure as possible. Maidstone Has Jail School

Teachers Give Voluntary Service For Education of Prisoners

Classes in French, shorthand and bookkeeping have already been organized by the director of education for the county at the request of the prison chaplain-governor. There are 14 prisoners in the French class, 17 in the shorthand and seven in the bookkeeping class.

Additional classes in engineering and Spanish are being formed, the teachers giving their services voluntarily.

The Ocean Rivers

The oceans have their rivers just like the land. The best known of these is the Gulf Stream, but the greatest is the "Kuro Siwo," or the Black Stream, which runs from Japan due east toward the American coast, and so wonderfully modifies the climate that in summer humming birds are found in Southern Alaska.

How to Prepare Soil for Lawns

Sand and Humus Added to the Soil Is of Great Benefit

A deep loamy soil is easily made suitable for sowing a lawn, since it already possesses a good texture. If lacking in fertility it can be enriched by the addition of barnyard manure or, if this is not available, an application of 20 pounds of bone meal for an area of a thousand square feet may be substituted. Or either case the material should be well incorporated with the soil.

Stiff clay soils require both sand and vegetable matter before they are really suitable for the production of a good turf. There is little danger of using too much of either of these materials. A quantity of sand equivalent to a surface layer of one inch in depth, if worked into the clay, produces a permanent improvement in the texture. A somewhat smaller quantity is helpful, while much more can be used advantageously. On the average clay soil laid down in turf will continue in their economic importance," as the dairy industry almost more than any other makes use of the roughage that would otherwise be wasted and that cattle find so appetizing and relishes." Its greatest importance lies, however, in the food thus made available for human consumption. During the winter Miss Campbell was engaged in delivering lectures on the value of milk in a number of centres. One point where addresses were given, the city council offered a prize of cash and a medal by the school children, and the work done was surprisingly good.

Common Superstition About Two-Dollar Bill

Origin of Belief of Evil Influence Not Known

Do you know that there is a common superstition that a two-dollar bill is "unlucky?" Gamblers do not like to take one or to include one in a bet, and a good many persons who find them in their possession manifest them, in the belief that they can in this way dispel what is supposed to be the bills evil—a strange fancy, the origin of which we cannot learn. This fact was brought to light when it was discovered that the treasury officials are talking of doing away with the two-dollar bill, because of the superstition connected with it but because they think it an unnecessary piece of money. The two-dollar bill was to follow the two-cent piece into oblivion and for the same reason.—Young's Companion.

Anything But That

A timid country editor was taking her first railroad journey when the conductor came to her and said, "Tickets, please," she flushed in her confusion, and several embarrassment. Soon after the train boy entered her car and said, "Chewing gum, with a sigh she said, "Oh, goodness; do I have to give that up, too?"

Are Using More Dairy Products

Economic Value of Dairy Foods Has Been Proved

The educational work being carried on by the Canadian Dairy and Cold Storage Branch is progressing apace, and there is the best of reasons to believe it is having its effect in an increased domestic consumption of dairy products. The consumption of cheese, butter and especially milk is greater per capita in Canada today than it has ever been before, that is, at least, since there has been opportunity to obtain the facts.

Miss Helen G. Campbell, demonstrator and lecturer of the branch, who has recently been engaged in outlining the services of women's institutes, throughout Canada and Western Ontario generally, in the campaign of education in the value to health and prosperity of dairy products, points out that beyond their commercial importance in their economic importance, "as the dairy industry almost more than any other makes use of the roughage that would otherwise be wasted and that cattle find so appetizing and relishes." Its greatest importance lies, however, in the food thus made available for human consumption. During the winter Miss Campbell was engaged in delivering lectures on the value of milk in a number of centres. Wants to Purchase Queen's Doll's House

Twenty Thousand Pounds Is Offer Received From American

An enterprising American is said to have offered £20,000 for the wonderful doll's house designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens for the Queen, to be exhibited by her after the benefit of the hospitals. The doll's house contains all sorts of marvelous things in miniature, pictures by famous artists, beautifully bound little books by eminent authors, reproductions of historic pieces of period furniture, etc. It is felt that as a work of art this remarkable little structure with its contents should remain in England.

Mining Coal Under Ocean

Nova Scotia Has Largest Undersea Workings in World

Engineers in time will be able to take coal and iron ore from under the sea at distances of five miles or more from shore, according to F. W. Gray, an executive of the British Empire Steel Corporation. Workings already extend two and a quarter miles to sea at Sydney mines, and 70 per cent. of the coal produced in Nova Scotia comes from beneath the ocean. The cost of bringing deposits to the surface rather than failure of the seams, will place a limit on submarine mining operations, Mr. Gray thinks.

Although coal is being taken from under the sea at several points in Great Britain, Australia, Japan and China, the Nova Scotia coal areas and the iron mines at Wabana, Newfoundland, are the scenes of the largest undersea mining workings in the world. According to Mr. Gray, there are capable of indefinite expansion, some of the Wabana seams being 25 feet thick.

Ventilation is the greatest danger added to the usual hazards of land operations. Engineering skill, however, has reduced the number of these accidents, the chief of which occurred at the Tahanlima colliery in Japan, where 687 men lost their lives, and at the Cumberland coast in England in 1914, where 36 men were drowned.

The Earliest Maps

Fairly Good Ones Made By Savages in Some Cases

Mapmaking goes back to the earliest known time. It was a branch of the primary picture writing practiced by savages. In Tahiti, for instance, the natives were able to make fairly good maps for the guidance of explorers. Maps with raised lines were in use in Peru before the Conquest.

The oldest known map is that of the Egyptian gold mines, dating from the time of Seti-on I, the father of Rameses II., long before the time of Abraham and his bronze tablet, on which were inscribed the circuit of the earth and all the seas and rivers then known.

A Welcome Sound

He raced through the jungle, and heards something slouched into a native village. He crouched in the darkness beside the wall of a native hut, almost afraid to breathe lest he emit from within the but came the sound of a voice:

"Hell and fire!" You damned idiot! You ought to have doubled [illegible]."

Babies and Civilization

The population of Egypt is supposed to have remained stationary during the last three or four thousand years, despite a large birth rate. Modern conditions have explained the failure of the population to grow by the fact that three out of every four babies born are soon killed by unfavorable conditions. This prodigious waste of human life seems to the dirty and poverty-stricken Egyptian to be the will of Allah.—New York Globe.

The Battle of Gettysburg was the greatest battle of the civil war, the killed, wounded and missing, totalled 23,000.

Maternity Benefits

Provision for Women Engaged in Industry is a Necessity

A comparative study of maternal mortality rates in various countries on both sides of the Atlantic resulted in the recent discovery that one Canadian rate of maternal mortality is abnormally high. There was no fewer than eighteen nations whose rates are lower than ours, and the average rate of these cases tre rate is very much lower than ours.

Is Canada's rate so high?" people have frequently asked. There are many different answers to the question. Some point out the fact that many of our women live in remote districts where it is very difficult to secure medical or nursing service. Others lay a great deal of the blame on uncertified midwives who are often ignorant of fundamentals of the progress. - Still others assert that the mortality rate among mothers would be lowered if more physicians were to be placed on the study of obstetrics and gynaecology in our medical colleges. Some point out the fact that [illegible] were to be given longer experience in maternity nursing than is at present the case.

There is considerable force in these and similar statements. But before arriving at any definite conclusion on the subject some study should be given to the methods adopted by those countries where the infant mortality rate is lower than in Canada.

It is interesting to note that in no fewer than seventeen countries of Europe legislation has been enacted to meet this problem. For fifty years providing maternity benefits for necessitous women. Another significant fact is that in 1911 there was but one country of Europe repealed legislation of this sort once it has been placed in force. Similar legislation has been made in the original statute it has been for the purpose of extending its scope.

The advantages of schemes for maternity protection and benefit have been recognized in the British International Labor Conference two years ago decided special attention to the matter. Since that time a convention was adopted for the purpose of guaranteeing protection to all women engaged in commercial and industrial undertakings. In the following year the International Labor Conference considered a model law stating that confinement will take place within six weeks.

(a) The right to benefit sufficient for the full and healthy maintenance for herself and the child during those two periods, and for the care provided out of public funds or by a system of insurance.

(c) The right to a period of half an hour twice a day during working hours for the purpose of suckling her child.

Canada was represented at the Washington Conference by Sir Joseph Flavelle, who acted legislation even partially covering the points given above. It is to be hoped that the time is not far distant when the other provincial legislatures will realize the need for conservation of life in some such way as that outlined by the Draft Convention.

Honey In Saskatchewan

Estimated Production for 1922 Approximately Twelve Tons

A substantial increase in the production of honey in Saskatchewan is anticipated this year, according to officials of the markets and co-operation branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

At present there are nearly 100 beekeepers in Saskatchewan. Fourteen of them produced a total of 9,622 pounds of honey last year, making an average yield of 688 pounds for each apiary. The remaining apiaries yielded an average of about 200 pounds each, and it is estimated the 1922 production of honey in Saskatchewan will approximately 12 tons. One Wynyard apiarist produced about a ton.

Government Intimates Work On H. B. Road Will Be Carried Out

Ottawa.—Pleas for more branch lines for the Canadian National, particularly in the Province of Maritimes, were made in the House.

The House is considering a recommendation covering the Canadian National construction, a resolution was adopted, and a bill based thereon was given first reading. During the discussion, Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, said that bills by the promises of the Government: Parliament in regard to the Hudson Bay Railway should be carried out, he would consider including it in the supplementary estimates in this connection.

There was a long, and, at times, vigorous discussion, in the House over the resolution introduced by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to provide for the control of grain rates on the lake boats. The resolution is one of the results of the Royal Commission on that subject, and the members of the commission came in for criticism.

The resolution provided for control of grain freight rates by the Board of Grain Commissioners, which Hon. H. Stevens (Conservative, Vancouver Centre), asked the minister why the grain commissioners had been asked to take care of this matter rather than the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners.

Hon. J. A. Robb said it was felt that the grain commissioners, at the head of the board, conversant with the grain trade, were better fitted to handle the matter intelligently than a board of railways, far from the scene of operations.

Mr. Stevens expressed the opinion that the commission had acted wisely to frame a law which purported to do something which it did not do at all. He thought that the law as it was still would be to heighten rates. The Government could provide against unreasonable rates by a three-fold application of suspension of the coastal laws.

Mr. Robb said the Minister of Marine and Fisheries was pro ding for an amendment which would give the Government power to suspend the coastal laws. It was felt, however, that the Government would have two levers with which to control rates on grain.

Trotzky Hurls Threat At Great Britain

Bolshevist Leader Directs Hate Toward British and Italians

Moscow.—An attack on Great Britain, hints of a Russo-French rapprochement and a plea for "more lustful in our national character," marked an address by Leon Trotzky, Soviet War Minister, before the all-Russian congress of metal workers. "If an ultimatum is presented to us," he exclaimed, referring to the recent Genoa note, "we can create a detachment of airplanes. If a loan is not secure in Bulgaria, let us build an other detachment of airplanes, and if there is a coup d'etat in Persia build more 'planes.

Mr. Trotzky said Great Britain and Italy had, according to information at hand, assisted in the coup d'etat in Persia, and the British had aided in the nationalist overthrow in Persia. Declaring that Russia's losses in the world war were relatively much greater than Britain's, Trotzky added, "It was our this purpose, perhaps, that we were not sufficiently enough to deliver us his ten-day ultimatum.

Destruction Spread In Thickly Populated Area By Eruption Of Mt. Etna

Catania.—The smiling, fruitful and thickly populated slopes of Mount Etna and the surrounding country are, the correspondent of the Associated Press says in part, but a memory because, with ghastly completeness, the "land of dreadful night."

Through the thick darkness, which can almost be felt, glows the crimson of the lava fire flowing from the broken lips of the craters, extending for miles and gradually growing darker as the molten mass cools and hardens, until cracks and crevices appear on the surface through which gas escapes, bubbling up the boiling lava.

The fields of Piano, Preddo, Daina and Chiancbiano, once green and beautiful, now covered with heavy deposits of dust and cinders, tremble and heave beneath the feet, while the roaring sounds accompanying the eruption mingle with the rumblings of buried thunder, the darkness carrying away the refugees and their possessions from the doomed villages.

Approaching the volcano masses of deep material thrown up from the smaller craters can be seen, the fruitful slopes down the mountain side, and above them are dense clouds of smoke and vapor. Now by odd, the splendid houses and villas are overborne and destroyed. Vineyards and orchards are buried and finally crumbled down into grim darkness.

At daybreak the inhabitants issue in their homes, collecting and packing their possessions, though doubtful even of those must be abandoned along the road.

Manitoba Theatres and Stores Cannot Open on Lord's Day

Winnipeg.—Despite the decision of Sir Hugh John Macdonald that the Lord's Day Act is of no effect in Manitoba, theatres and places of business will not be permitted to open Sunday, in the opinion of Hon. R. W. Craig, attorney-general.

WANT MORE POWER?
SELECT YOUR OIL!

When your motor gets sleepy or starts to knock, and seems to have lost its old pep and nerviness, it is time to think about using a different motor oil.

Possibly it never occurred to you that your different motor oil might give your motor more power. Most of us think of power as a matter of engine design and fuel. Yet it is a fact that oil has a great deal to do with power. Lubrication experts say that almost any motor is well enough designed to handle ordinary hills, provided that motor has not been abused by improper lubrication.

Just how motor oil influences motor power is very simple. An important function of lubricating oil is to fill up the spaces between the cylinder wall and the piston rings. If this seal is perfect there can be no loss of compression. No power escapes past the rings.

A proper piston seal is also important as to prevent raw gasoline getting into the crankcase and diluting the oil. Oil dilution is dangerous. Too much dilution seriously affects the oil's lubricating qualities, and serious damage such as burned out bearings, scored cylinders, and so on, may result. Avoid oil dilution by getting an oil able through your oil pressure gauge.

The great value of a wholly distilled oil is that it makes it possible to keep a heavier oil than you otherwise could use. It minimizes the danger of oil dilution because it can stand more dilution. It keeps a better seal there between the cylinder wall and piston ring, and a more lasting seal because a wholly distilled lubricant does not break down as quickly as a compounded oil.

An interesting experience which illustrates this point is that of a driver of a two-year-old Buick car. The car lacked pep and wouldn't climb even small hills. The dealer from whom it was purchased the car told the owner that he needed new rings and named a price for putting the rings in place. A second dealer said that new pistons and rings were needed and named a higher price. A third said that the cylinders were undoubtedly in bad shape, that new pistons and rings were needed and named a still higher price. He then consulted a fourth man, who happened to deal in a straight-run wholly distilled motor oil. He told the driver about this oil. The crankcase was drained and refilled with new oil and the car has not only gone no further trouble, but the oil had restored all its original pep and speed-ability.

Study lubrication. Appreciate the fact that proper lubrication is the very life of your motor. Find the character of the oil you use makes or breaks the motor, and that good oil will not only increase power, but save you a lot of money in gas consumption and repair bills. If your motor is perfectly lubricated it will run forever. Mean! Get the best oil you can.

WHEN EGYPTIANS RULED PALESTINE

London, June 16.—The mission excavating for the University of Pennsylvania at Beisan, Palestine, the Bethshan of the Old Testament, has unearthed, according to a Times dispatch from Jerusalem, substantial Egyptian buildings with evidences of five centuries occupation and two large clear monumental inscriptions of Seti I and Rameses II respectively.

Beisan is a small town near the Jordan, fifty-five miles north-northeast of Jerusalem. Seti I was king of Egypt in the nineteenth dynasty, about 1366 B.C. He was the father of Rameses II.

THE POWER OF SUGGESTION

Travelling is becoming more and more of a fine art. Formerly it was regarded simply as a process to get from one place to another—most tiresome but unavoidable. Now it is looked upon as a joyful undertaking, a delightful interlude in the regular routine of life, especially when the journey is over the lines of the Canadian National Railways. The keynote of the Canadian National Railways is service. That service seems to make the passenger as comfortable as possible and to raise him every bit as much above the level of mere material effort. Patrons of the Dining Car Service will now find themselves served after a fashion by a raised chorus at the little dodges that is distributed throughout the counties on all lines on which Dining Car Services are attached. Upon the dodger, which is printed in both English and French are several suggestions that are suitable combinations of dishes for the coming meal. Prices for a complete menu for Breakfast, Dinner and Supper ranges from 35 cents to 1.25. The traveller merely needs to decide what he wishes to pay, and upon entering the Dining Car he will find himself served quickly and satisfactorily as to wound in any well-appointed home.

CALM JUDGMENT NOW RIGHT POLICY IN HOG MARKETING

For months past marketings in Denmark have been heavy. Reports there as in the United States, show the number of light hogs sold to have been unusually large, indicating in both cases liquidation of hogs. This is because of the advancing price of corn, on which, since the cutting off of Russian supplies, the Danish farmer has been largely dependent. Marketings reached their peak in the week ending May 31 when 72,000 hogs were slaughtered. This record followed a run of 57,000 a week for the preceding eight weeks. Naturally the English market failed to absorb the extra supply and there was a drop of over 20 shillings a hundredweight in Danish Wiltshires, with, of course, competitive supplies down all round—but not to the same extent as Danish.

Yet an encouraging conclusion can be drawn from the bacon market in the last few months. In spite of the fact that American bacon could have been bought at 40 shillings a hundredweight ($8.00 per hog) less than Danish, English consumers continued to show the preference to the higher quality bacons and still continue to do so, although the jump of 16,000 hogs in one week has overshot consuming demand. The record again proves that bacon from the right type hog of proper weight is sure in demand and can be more relied upon in the export market than lower qualities. It also shows that the Danes cannot attempt to "hog" the whole market without facing such a drop in prices as to make the relative cost of production between them and their competitors, such as Canada, the chief factor in the case, as to which shall eventually remain in the business.

The present is a big challenge to Canada on bacon hog men, by good fortune, at the low level of seasonal supply. Hence the present opportunity. The danger point it is precisely in this that Canadian packers trust to avoid repeating the Danish error. The drop in the price of our bacon, following the Danish "slump", must necessarily mean lower hog prices which will continue for a few months but will have its consequent reaction. Danish prices have fallen faster than Canadian due to rushing the Danish hogs on the market too fast. It will not do in Canada to appreciate the present situation by similar action.

The best advice to the producer at present is to keep cool and not allow excessive liquidation in Denmark and the United States, especially as the quantity of feed in the country is ample and feeders are not dependent upon imported feeds, but to keep all good type bacon-breeding stock intact, to avoid a "rush" of light weights and to market oncoming hogs only as they get to the right weight and finish.

SOUND REASONING

POLAND NOW IN THE FIELD

Poland, the largest of the new European countries created after the war, is apparently making a bid for the British bacon market. According to Mr. Dennis, the special representative of the U. S. Department of Commerce, inquiring into market conditions in Europe, a large packing concern near Warsaw has begun to specialize in producing a type of lean, mild-cured bacon which it hopes to place in favorable competition with the Danish, Canadian and American bacon on the British market. Mr. Dennis believes that "Poland is about to become a factor in international trade in hog products, as the hog population of the war-born country has increased over five million since pre-war days."

Poland today has a population of 30 millions, exactly ten times that of Denmark but, being much larger, is not nearly so densely populated as the latter. Agricultural exports have always been a feature of the area. In 1913 the number of hogs in the portions of Russia, Austria and Germany that now form Poland was about 800,000, and the exports during 1921 the total had grown to 3,161,000 hogs, due to rearrangement, no doubt, of frontiers and counter interests. This compares with 4,000,000 hogs in Canada in that year. What Polish export possibilities are to make the after the large home population has been supplied remains to be seen in the next few years but it is the opportunity of several countries near Denmark, including Sweden, Holland and Poland, seem to be trying for a share of the British bacon market.

Three additional posts of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will be established this year in the Northwest Territories. One will be at Cumberland Gulf on Baffin Island, one at Cape Sabine on more there on Ellesmere Island and one at a point on Lancaster Sound.

In addition to this, the posts established last year will be re-supplied with stores and a judicial party will be taken to Pond's Inlet for the trial of the Eskimos who are accused to have killed the trader, James, in the spring of 1922.

It is hoped to have a naturalist or geologist on each with the ship to remain on at least one year. It is thought that much valuable information may be obtained regarding the economic possibilities of the north.

A new steamship, The Franklin, has been especially suitable for the annual inspection trip. Supplies for men and judicial parties has been purchased and will be used on the ship's return trip.

GIRLS AND WOMEN HELD BY ANAEMIA

Rich, Red Blood Needed to Restore Their Health

There are thousands of young girls and women in Canada who are pale, anaemic or anaemic should be suspected. Pallor indicates a lack of blood elements in the blood. The symptoms are: Headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, twitching of the muscles, specks before the eyes, heart palpitation, shortness of breath on slight exertion, indigestion, constipation, sallow complexion, and in bad cases, fainting spells. To restore health to girls and women who suffer from these troubles, they must have rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood and that is why they bring back health and strength to girls and women who suffer from any of the troubles due to poor blood. They are not a purgative medicine and do not weaken by forcing the organs to do their work. They simply make new, rich blood which strengthens the nerves and every organ of the body. Mrs. Wm. Hall, Lower Wolfville, N.S., says: "I was pale and weak and had no appetite. I had headaches and dizzy spells and was very much run down. I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after using a few boxes I felt much better. I continued the use of the pills for some time and am now in good health. I am pleased to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all girls and women who are pale and weak." You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Accidents in London Traffic

More Killed By Accidents Than On All Railways In Britain

More persons are killed by traffic accidents in the streets of London in a year than passengers on the whole of the railways in Great Britain in a similar period. During the last year 1,000 persons in London were killed by automobiles and motor trucks, 61 by motor omnibuses, 59 by horse-drawn vehicles, 32 by trolley cars and 22 by bicycles.

The major number of accidents do not occur at congested points, such as Trafalgar Square, Oxford Circus or the Bank, where traffic is specially regulated.

They take place more frequently in the main arteries reward the outer suburbs, where motor drivers are inclined to be less cautious in negotiating crossings and corners, and where pedestrians, particularly children, are less vigilant in crossing roads.

Rest Pressure Is Life

The pressure of the blood in the arteries depends on the state of the muscles. The arteries are living tissues and are sensitive. If it does not receive the proper amount of blood it loses its tone and its elasticity. Then the blood pressure rises. Nervousness is the usual result of adding to excessive blood pressure.

Keep Bees In Northern Manitoba

Reasons of The Pas Successfully Keep Bees Over Winter

Bees are wintering the northwest section of the province of Manitoba, writes J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Manitoba, when commenting on the report of E. T. Floyd, Provincial Apiarist, that the residents of The Pas had been successful in their bees during the winter. This is the farthest north that Manitobans have been able to keep bees so far as known, said Mr. Evans.

Bees are caused by the presence of "nosema" in the stomach and can be told by which time when no simple is given, as Hillcrest Corn Remover is available.

JUNE AND EARLY JULY BEEF PRICES

Over a term of several years Beef Prices in nearly every case have reached their peak for the year around May 15th to June 10th, due to lower receipts on the markets and a better finished class of stock offered for sale.

The most of early grass cattle is poor quality; they do not ship well, are subject to heavy shrinks, and will very often bring low prices. If your cattle are not fat we advise holding for the early fall market when prices will be better and stock in better condition to ship and sell. ✓

R. H. Brennan on the "Brick Farm" (the old Bryden homestead) a mile and a half west of town made us interesting report to the Standard Saturday, bearing upon the Hungarian partridge. It will be recollected that a number of these edible birds were liberated in parts of the West which were considered suitable to their mode of life, sometime ago by the Fisheries and Game department of the dominion government and reports from different areas would indicate that the birds were rapidly multiplying. Mr. Brennan discovered a nest on his farm containing the remarkable number of 22 eggs. The nest is located in the ground near a tree in the bush and resembles a hatcher in shape. So tame was the mother bird that Mr. Brennan was able to place his hand on her. On the brother's farm lying directly north of his place two nests of the Hungarian partridge have been discovered.

The report received here this Wednesday of the death at an Edmonton hospital that morning of Miss Gowanlock was the cause of general regret and sorrow. Information to hand is meagre but the deceased was taken to the hospital on Monday and apparently suffered a complete collapse. Miss Gowanlock formerly taught in the deaf institute at Belleville, Ont.

It was said during the Great War of a certain type of citizen and soldier, who were quite willing to let others do the fighting and working while they saved their precious skins, that they were "slackers". It is certainly a title which the Boy Scouts during the war never merited, and which their proud record shows was never even hinted at; but, it has to be surprisingly admitted that the 1st Vermilion Troop has unfortunately a good many "slackers" at present to merit this title. A week ago when a social evening was held providing "eats" prizes and a good time, every Scout to a man was present! This last week twelve were present (three of whom are not yet Scouts) out of a possible nineteen! If this is all the Scouts of Vermilion think of the Boy Scout Movement, then let it be unhesitatingly and fearlessly admitted that we are far off the ideal of a true Scout. Rain is no excuse when a dry hall is the rendezvous, and Canada never once let rain in France or Flanders be the means of giving up and saying "What's the use, we'll get stirred in the mud." No, a thousand times, NO; in the words of General Currie "The Canadians never lost a gun or an objective, no matter what the odds or difficulties." Scouts! you are the sons and brothers of these men; your blood is their blood; are you going to strike the green flag of "Preparedness" so early in the fight? Are you willing to grow up without love of country, King and reputation? Just pleasure seekers, money-grabbers and selfish men? God forbid!

Next Sunday is Dominion Day and we wish and want every Scout to turn out to Church Parade at the Presbyterian Church. Meet at Headquarters at 7.00 P.M. PROMPT. Full attendance requested at next parade Friday at 7.15 p.m.
